NOTICE OF INTENT TO PREPARE AN ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

TH

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT 455 N. Rexford Drive 310.285.1123 Beverly Hills, CA 90210-4817 FAX: 310.858.5966

NOTICE OF INTENT TO PREPARE AN ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT NOTICE OF PUBLIC SCOPING MEETING

Date:	Tuesday, January 16, 2007
Location:	City Council Chambers Beverly Hills City Hall 455 North Rexford Drive Beverly Hills, California
Time:	7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.
Project:	Beverly Hills Cultural Center & Public Parking Facility 469 North Crescent Drive (Former Beverly Hills Post Office)

The City of Beverly Hills is preparing an Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the proposed Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts - Beverly Hills and public parking facility as more fully described below. The public is invited to attend a preliminary "scoping" meeting to comment on environmental issues which should be addressed in the EIR.

Project Location: The project is located just west of Beverly Hills City Hall, bounded on the north and south by the North and South Roadways of Santa Monica Boulevard, and on the west by Canon Drive. The project site is the location of the former Main Post Office of Beverly Hills.

Project Description: The proposed cultural center involves the adaptive reuse of the former Post Office building into a performing arts facility and includes the addition of a new wing where the postal truck loading area used to be. The cultural center would include:

- A 500-seat auditorium
- A rehearsal hall for up to 150 occupants
- Three classrooms (up to 60 occupants altogether)
- A 3,400 square-foot lobby area

Administrative offices

- A 750 square-foot café (plus outdoor seating)
- Sculpture gardens, landscaped walkways, and open space

The Post Office building would be adapted from a former mail-handling facility to cultural center functions including classrooms, studio/rehearsal hall, dressing rooms, theater support space, café, and administrative offices. All work will comply with the Secretary of the Interior Standards for Treatment of Historic Properties. The project also proposes a new wing which would include the 500-seat performing arts theater. The wing would be located southeast of the Post Office building and have a height #### of approximately 44? feet.

The project will also include a subterranean public parking facility which would be located between the former Post Office and City Hall as well as underneath the Crescent Drive. The facility is proposed to house between 280 and 300 parking spaces in two subterranean levels, with access from Little Santa Monica Boulevard and a secondary Canon Drive access through the existing parking lot (proposed as a motor court) north of the post office building.

The former post office is owned by the City of Beverly Hills and is leased to the Beverly Hills Cultural Center Foundation for use as a cultural center. The project as proposed would require amendments to the lease as well as City approval of the parking facility. The Planning Commission would also review the project through its Development Plan Review process.

Purpose of the Scoping Meeting: The purpose of the scoping meeting is to present the project in a public setting and provide an opportunity for a full airing of the environmental issues that are important to the community. The meeting will include a presentation of the proposal and the basic elements to be analyzed in the EIR will be described. Following the presentation, interested agencies, organizations, and members of the public will be encouraged to present views concerning what environmental issues should be included in the EIR. The oral and written comments made during the scoping meeting will provide an inventory of potential environmental effects of the project to be addressed by the EIR, such as noise, traffic, parking, air quality, and land use.

The City also invites written comments. These should be addressed to:

City of Beverly Hills Department of Community Development 455 North Rexford Drive, Room G40 Beverly Hills, CA 90210 Attention: Donna Jerex, Senior Planner

Electronic mail messages will also be accepted at: culturalcentercomments@beverlyhills.org

To ensure that the Environmental Impact Report addresses any specific concerns that the public may have, comments should be submitted as early as possible, and no later than January 31, 2007.

After the Draft Environmental Impact Report has been prepared, the Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on the EIR and on the project through the City's Development Plan Review process. The City Council will also review the EIR and the project since full implementation of the project will require amendments to the lease as well as approval of the public parking facility within the public right-of-way. Notices of the availability of the Draft EIR and of the hearings on the project will be released at later dates. The case file on this project, which includes the plans and applications, is available for public review at the Planning Division, 455 North Rexford Drive, Room G40, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. Copies of the checklist of initial environmental issues (initial study) to be addressed by the EIR are also available in the Planning Division at City Hall. If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact us at 310.285.1123.

New Year's Eve Fire Injures None

A fire broke out at approximately on the fourth floor of the building 133 N. Swall Dr. in Beverly Hills on the morning New Year's Eve, according to the Beverly Hills Fire Department. After evacuating all residents of the four-story building, Beverly Hills fire fighters extinguished the fire and reported no injuries.

The fire broke out at 10:18 a.m. Fire companies from Beverly Hills, Los Angeles County and the City of Los Angeles responded and, with the help of Beverly Hills police officers, safely evacuated approximately 50-70 residents of the building. An exotic parrot was taken to the roof to escape the smoke and heat. Firefighters moved personnel and equipment to the fire quickly and were able to confine the fire to the one apartment unit.

The cause of the fire is under investigation, Battalion Chief of the Beverly Hills Fire Department John Karns Jr. said, but preliminary evidence shows that it may have been caused by heat from charcoals igniting furniture on the fourth-floor patio.

Ben Stein Remembers Ford's Courage, Values

Beverly Hills resident Ben Stein remembered former President Gerald R. Ford, whom he wrote speeches for and who died Dec. 26 at the age of 93, as "a small-town guy" with "no pretence at all," "but guts."

Analysts cite Ford's pardon of his predecessor, Richard M. Nixon, one month after taking office on Aug. 9, 1974 as a key reason for his defeat by Jimmy Carter in the 1976 presidential election.

"Wow did he have guts to pardon Nixon when the liberal media were screaming for his blood," Stein, who was also a speech writer for Nixon, said on "CBS Sunday Morning," "to spare the nation that agony, and to deprive the media of the circus they wanted."

"We are the sum of all those visionaries who came before us and protected our city from overdevelopment. Together, we can move Beverly Hills into the future without compromising our historic quality of life."

Slow And Carefull On T Lots Developement Or Parking Lots?

By Rudy Cole

Do you want the T Zone lots west and east of the intersections of Santa Monica and Wilshire Boulevards used for commercial development? Do you even care

Planning is like the weather, to paraphrase Will Rogers, one of our more illustrious early settlers, everybody has a complaint but no one has any real idea on how to make it better.

We know that without a thoughtful planning process, our city would suffer and lose many of its unique characteristics. Communities and even entire cities can and do deteriorate and their quality of life change inexorably.

The problem is that deterioration and negative changes do not happen suddenly and are almost always the result of citizen disinterest, neglect and an inability to impact governmental decision making when it most matters.

We owe much to our early city leadership, and to the visionaries who dreamed of ideas that preserved and improved the quality of life in both residential and commercial areas - although some horrendous errors were made such as too narrow streets in multi-family areas.

Much of the single family zones are so well protected, they can never be changed. We did need and still do, more uniform rules on design and style that could have slowed down mansionization.

The business area was forever changed by the property owners of Rodeo Drive, a definitive amelioration that continues to help define our city.

What we assume are our entitlements didn't just happen. Excellent schools, first rate fire and police protection with response times that are the envy of the less well served all around us, fiscally sound money management and so much more including, impressive residential areas are products of involved citizens and enlightened leaders.

Knee-jerk reactions to change are just as destructive as unrestricted growth. To argue that we can't stand in the way of progress is as irresponsible as viewing every proposed development with fear. Reasonable people need to be heard in the planning process so that we continue to improve and encourage fiscally important, economically beneficial changes without catering to the greed of some property investors. Open dialogue and early involvement of homeowner groups with elected officials and city planners could help avoid the contentious battles of the past. And we desperately need that process now as we consider a new general plan, one that will effect our quality of life for several generations.

But back to the T Lots, those parcels between Little and Big Santa Monica Boulevards. Historically, the lots were part of our railroad system. We had both passenger and freight trains and, yes, we had an industrial area dependent on rail service.

When the Southern Pacific abandoned the lines, they hoped to develop and sell the land, but the city refused to change the zoning for one very important reason: They did not want to drive up property values on land the city hoped would be used for a proposed Beverly Hills Freeway.

There is a somewhat amusing side bar to the story. One of our pioneer realtors did own or acquire property in the T zone at Canon between the two Santa Monica Boulevards. He developed the building that is the only commercial structure in the zone, but not without some agony. After the building was completed, he made the supposedly routine request for an occupancy permit. It wasn't until this moment that some alert city official discovered that the building was not legal, having been built on restricted T Zone land.

A panicked Elkins appealed to the then City Council, sometime in the late 1950s, for a variance and recognition of an existing condition, despite the zoning.

Mayor Hugh Darling was not inclined to grant the variance. He told Elkins it was inconceivable that he, Elkins, could not have known of the zoning laws.

"Mr. Elkins, you are a city commissioner," Darling said at the hearing. "You know or should have known what you were doing was illegal."

Elkins, not easily flustered, responded with: "What do you suggest I do with my building?"

"Tearing it down one brick at a time occurs to me," Mayor Darling responded.

However, a council majority gave Elkins a now for then ruling permitting occupan-

Digestion Problems? "Free Report Reveals The Shocking Truth

About the "secret" Treatment Your Doctor Probably Doesn't Know...And Likely Hopes You Never Learn..."

BEVERLY HILLS – A new, free report has recently been released that reveals the "untold story" behind digestion problems. Digestion Problems misdiagnosis and mistreatment is rampant and leads to countless years of unnecessary suffering. This free report reveals a natural procedure that is giving digestion problem sufferers their "lives back." - with "miraculous" results for many. was so ugly it led to the creation of the Architectural Review Commission.

Now, back to the present. What should be done with the remaining T Zone lots? Should they be developed? Certainly, that whole area of the city is less than up to Beverly Hills standards - face it, this is a civic eye sore.

But before we rush to permitting commercial or even mixed use on the lots, we should, as former Mayor Allan Alexander has proposed, consider acquiring the property for public parking.

The Santa Monica and Wilshire intersection is one of the busiest in our city.

The surrounding property can be a conduit to relieve parking demand, provide a safe overpass for southwest students attending El Rodeo and open up transit plans linking us to Century City - but not likely if the zoning is change permitting development.

However, no final plans should be adopted without a serious dialogue with the "stake holders" in the area. The Southwest Homeowners, the Peninsula, the Hilton, school officials and the retailers on Little Santa Monica, all should have a voice in the planning process.

Finally, a good word about cooperative interplay. The 9900 Wilshire project is a classroom example of how to use the planning and community self interest process. What has evolved is a first ever green building with enormous areas of open space. We are willing to approve greater heights because it avoids bulk. In other words, there will be fewer condo units, greater open land because the proposed structure will very likely have increased heights and not density. The proposed use even has a renter benefit, and the support of CTR's Herm Shultz, because it creates condos on commercial property reducing the pressure to demolish affordable housing.

Did all this planning agony make you hungry? There is a new, unique eatery in the city, and one of the few available on Rodeo Drive. It just opened, but early patrons, including secular and the more devout, are raving about Prime Grill, a kosher steak house in the Rodeo Collection. The owners have had great success with the concept back east and are, so far, winning fans in our community. Gigi, the former owner of Caffe Roma and one of our more perceptive experts on restaurants, and he is clearly not a member of Beth Jacob, told me he thinks the concept will be successful. So far, they are only open for dinner, but lunch may be served soon. Aside from the food, it is a wonderful venue.

Coverstory LAST CHANCE FOR DUTTON'S?

Mayor Steve Webb calls a special closed session meeting to discuss the situation with Dutton's Books and possibly reconsider its fate on North Canon Drive. By Ryan Vaillancourt

After three years in its Beverly Hills location, and six months of continuous missed rent payments, the city has pulled the plug on Dutton's Books.

As the only major book store in the city, its sudden departure is considered by many to be a major loss to the community. But owner Doug Dutton isn't packing up yet.

The store officially closed for business on Tuesday, but a conversation between Dutton and Mayor Steve Webb last Thursday left at least some hope for the store. Webb called a special closed session council meeting last night to discuss the issue and to determine "what the city can and is willing to do."

One solution could be to shrink the store. Currently, it has 7,300 square feet of floor space.

"I think the space is too big for Dutton's to be able to potentially support," Webb said. "One of the things that we are at least looking at is whether or not [Dutton] can operate a book store in half the space. That would allow him to cut his rent in half and maybe make this thing financially successful for him."

Could a smaller store work for Dutton?

"Sure, but only if there could also be a renegotiated rent," he said. "I'm still in a growth mode and I'll still have a landlord insisting on rent at a certain rate. I have no idea if I'd be able to make it or not."

Instead, Dutton would prefer to negotiate a rent based on a percentage of gross income, at least until the store grows enough to survive at the current rent price. But that could take three more years, Dutton said, and in the age of "Amazon" no estimate can be certain.

The city may be unlikely to bend for Dutton's, as any sort of renegotiated rent would lighten a lease price that is already beneath market value. The city had to reduce the rent because, in response to widespread community support, it was committed to bringing in a book store back in 2003. The 7,300 square foot site was likely too small for the likes of Barnes and Noble, yet at that size and at in that prime Beverly Hills commercial location, it would have also come with market value price tag too high for smaller book stores.

At $2.20 per square foot, Dutton's rate is at least a dollar less than what is paid by the city's other tenants in the same building, according to Webb, and less than half the going rate for retail space in that area of the city.

"These days on North Canon drive, for retail space you're looking at a minimum rate of $6 per square foot," said Houman Mahboubi, a commercial real-estate consultant in Beverly Hills.

But still, rent plus the utilities and property taxes have proved too much for the slowly growing book store. "[Those in] the community who have shopped here have been very supportive," Dutton said. "Do we need more customers? Yes. But I believe that given sufficient time, that would come."

A Dutton's employee loading boxes

Dutton said that he penned a letter to the City in June, the last month he allegedly paid rent, indicating that his business was not growing enough to continue. It was not his intention to close the store though, Dutton said, he only hoped to negotiate a new agreement with his landlord that would work toward the mutual goal of keeping a branch of the Brentwood-born store in Beverly Hills.

"I was willing to talk about anything but the city really turned us down flat," Dutton said. "I withheld rent to see if I could get the city to at least talk about it because if they weren't going to talk about it, the business couldn't succeed."

Webb said that he had not received call from Dutton before last week and that he would have been "happy" to talk with him

Disappointed customers learn of Dutton's closure and read an open letter to the community posted in the door.

prior to that. "For him to withhold the rent was inappropriate," Webb said. Asked whether or not the city would consider negotiating a new lease agreement based on a percentage of gross income, as Dutton is hoping for, Webb was not sure.

"I don't think anybody is opposed in concept to a percentage rent, but the 'devil's in the details'," Webb said. "I still think that the city is going to be hard put to give him a percentage rent that would result in his only paying half the rent he's paying today."

Some critics of the city's decision, however, wonder why the city as a landlord would be hard put to do whatever it takes to save the city's only book store.

"They're the landlord, they can do whatever they want," said Fran Berger, owner of the Farm restaurant, which is on North Beverly Drive. "The City of Beverly Hills should not be in the real-estate business."

The City released a statement regarding Dutton's saying that it could not legally subsidize a for-profit business. To do so, according to City Attorney Larry Wiener, would be an illegal gift of public funds.

And while there may be no legal bind that would prohibit the city from offering a lower rent price, the six months of rent payments owed by Dutton – he has paid property taxes and utilities – "cannot be forgiven," Webb said.

Dutton still owes about $100,000 and he said that his security deposit will go toward paying his debt. The rest will be paid over time, but the specific arrangements with the city were not disclosed. He remains hopeful though that yesterday's closed session meeting and the ongoing discussions that will arise from it will result in a viable way for the store to stay.

In the meantime, the city has directed its commercial real-estate brokers to find another book tenant for the space. That is perhaps the only bright spot for those who are dismayed by Dutton's departure.

"How could Beverly Hills not have a book store?" Berger said. "It's really ridiculous."

CAN YOU TURN YOUR $1 MILLION IRA INTO $10 MILLION?

If you are over 70 and have accumulated more money in your IRAs and Pensions than you need to live on, Alan Kaye can show you how to create more money for your heirs and favorite charities than you ever anticipated! At age  $70^{1/2}$ , people who have IRAs, Pensions and 401k plans are required to take minimum annual distributions that are subject to ordinary income tax. If you don't spend or give that money away, it could be subject to estate taxes as well. After income and estate taxes, those in the highestbrackets could be leaving their families less than 1/3 of what they anticipated.

Why bother to make "wise" investments when it is likely that more than half of your accumulated wealth will go to the government instead of your family?

Simple Solutions!

If you have a large amount of money in your IRA, you can gift your annual distribution to your family, using that money to buy a life insurance policy that would create tax-free money for your heirs. In many cases, using the money to buy life insurance could give your heirs more than they would receive after-tax, by continuing to accumulate the funds in their retirement plans.

Assuming that your retirement plan earns a return of 5% annually, you could withdraw that amount without diminishing the principal. One client with a $1million IRA used his annual distribution to buy $3 million of life insurance to benefit his family. If he doesn't spend the principal, his plan is to leave the balance of his IRA to his own charitable foundation.

Under current law, without life insurance, his $1 million IRA would have to grow to more than $10 million, so that after income and estate taxes, his family could get the same $3 million that life insurance would pay tax-free. What's more, he can now leave more money to charity than he ever expected to. Why wait for your $1 million retirement plan to grow to $10 million? As president of the Alan Kaye Insurance Agency and vice president of Barry Kaye Associates, Alan Kaye has helped thousands of people meet their goals by creating insurance plans that best satisfy their needs.

If you are over 70 years old and not maximizing the use of your assets, find out how life insurance can provide you with the opportunity to leave more tax-free money for both your heirs and charities. Call for a free consultation and be sure to ask when Alan Kaye's next free seminar will be held in your area.
