"Roxbury Park Master Plan leans towards Plan B"

As a 68 year resident of Beverly Hills, 48 of them next to Roxbury Park on Spalding Drive, I am horrified at the city's persistent plans to destroy the park. I have been to five meetings, attended by the consultant, at each of which he produced basically the same plan. To destroy the natural park of trees, grass and plants where people can read or sunbathe, or just sit, and stuff in all the programmed athletic activities the residents turned down in the planned athletic facility in the industrial zone.

This is the only park left in Beverly Hills and was designated a Memorial Park, not a Municipal Athletic facility with all space designated to an organized use. We do not need a two story 365 car garage spewing out families into the total residential area. Every resident who spoke at the meetings wanted the natural park preserved and measures taken to repair and renovate what needed repair and renovation. Such as the leaking roofs of the buildings, the floor of the auditorium, and the repulsive bathrooms and electric wiring of the community center.

The building is fine if it is fixed up and maintained. We do not need a new multistory building. All the surrounding residents agree there should be a plan put forward to fulfill these purposes instead of the boondoggle so far presented.

The consultant says that he has been forbidden by the Council to do this. Seeing as they are supposed to save us, and we don't want $150 million desecration, I suggest that they reconsider.

Brian Goldberg to run for Board of Education

Former Maple Counseling Center CEO says background will aid school district By Abbey Hood

Brian David Goldbern

Former Maple
Counseling Center
CEO Brian David
Goldberg filed papers on July 23 to run for a seat on the Board of Education
election November

"Beverly Hills Unified School

District is the crown jewel of schools districts," said Goldberg. "This is why I want to get involved in the school district that is ranked sixth in the state. It is a phenomenal district."

Golberg, a political science professor at the American Jewish University and CEO of the non-profit organization, Casa De La Familia, has been a resident of Beverly Hills for two years.

Casa De La Familia, a non-profit group sponsored by the state to help victims of crime, is one of many non-profit agencies Goldberg has served on. Goldberg previously worked at the Jewish Federation of the Greater San Jose, Anti-Defamation League and the Women's Commission for Addiction. Goldberg completed his doctoral dissertation on Proposition 140, studying the impact of term limits on the California Assembly.

The South La Peer Drive resident has been active in the city as a coach for the Beverly Hills' basketball league, AYSO soccer, and is the former CEO for the Maple Counseling Center. His daughter Sophia,6, will enter second grade next year at Horace Mann, his daughter Esther,4, and son Ari,2, are future Horace Mann students.

As a professor at the university for three years and a current CEO of a non profit, Goldberg said he thought his background as an educator and leader of non-profits would aid the Board of Education.

"I thought with my background as an educator and CEO of a non-profit I could help the board move forward to be the best possible board it can be," said Goldberg.

Goldberg said he can help implement engaging curriculum for students.

Involvement with the Maple Counseling Center three years ago allowed Goldberg to work one-on-one with the school district, said Goldberg. Stating the experience gave him better insight to Beverly Hills' schools.

After about a year, Goldberg said he left the Maple Counseling Center because he "I think [Goldberg's election aspirations] is excellent," said Step Jones, who served with Goldberg on the Maple Counseling Center Board from 2004-05. "Brian is a very good leader. He thinks out of the box. Brian and I worked closely together to further the Maple Counseling Center. Brian came up with different ways to raise money for the center like corporate sponsorships."

The Weekly spoke to other members of

"With my background I feel like I can marry the two: public and private."

Former Maple Counseling Center CEO Brian David Goldberg

and then-newly appointed president Les Bronte had a different vision for the center. Also, at the time Goldberg said he was offered other opportunities and felt it was the appropriate time to move forward.

"We had a set of goals for Brian to achieve over a time table and he did not meet those goals," said Bronte. "At the time he did have some liaison to the school district, but it did not represent a lot of time and skill. The BHUSD is a very demanding and complex organization requiring high levels of expertise, commitment and a history with the schools and their needs."

Other former members of the Maple Counseling Center Board said they thought Goldberg would be an excellent candidate for the board. the Maple Center Board who worked with Goldberg, including Tom Korey. Korey would not comment.

Goldberg has been following the board meetings for the past year. If elected he plans to address the concern of prejudices that have been raised, he said.

The issuing of permits is something Goldberg said he would also like to look further into if elected, he said. Goldberg said he is not opposed to permits, but would like to look into the reasons why Beverly Hills residents are leaving the public education system.

"With my background I feel like I can marry the two: public and private," said Goldberg.

Sucia Curtic

Susie Curtis to depart BHUSD after 28 years

Coming to Beverly High as a new special education teacher in 1979 from El Segundo, Susie Curtis has worked with some of the BHUSD's "greats" during her time in the district. Dr. Nancy Wolf, former Beverly High principal Ben Bushman and Tanis Harris are among the people Curtis said she enjoyed working closely with and have instilled in her encouragement and support. After 28 years of working with BHUSD, Curtis leaves for the Las Virgenes Unified School District.

Curtis's fondest memories are of faculty, families and students at the high school before she took her administrative role.

"Working with the staff members and the families [are Curtis' best memories]," said Curtis. "I have a lot of families I have known for many years. A lot of the staff members were my previous aides. It was nice," said Curtis.

In 2001, Curtis was selected to oversee all the special education for the district as special education coordinator. Her involvement with the program allowed her to see many changes that occurred in special education from the early 1980s until now.

"Special education has become much more visible," said Curtis. "Staff and families have been much more open to students with special needs, and willing to help them. We are always changing things as needs change. We have made adjustments at all the school sites as numbers have changed and students needs have changed."

On August 1, Curtis will start as the director of pupil services in the Las Virgenes School District. With approximately 12,000 students, Las Virgenes is over twice the size of BHUSD, said Curtis. There are three high schools, three middle schools and seven elementary schools to oversee from a district office in Calabasas. This will present new challenges for Curtis.

"I am going to have a lot of new staff and families to be working with," said Curtis. "Here I am so familiar with everybody. I know the names of everybody. They have some interesting challenges out there that I will have to brush up on. It is a much larger special education program, but they apparently have some wonderful programs in operation."

Harold Kapelovitz passes

Beverly Hills resident Harold Kapelovitz passed away on Sunday July 22. Harold is survived by his wife Lee Kapelovitz, brothers; Sam Kappe, Leonard Kapelovitz, Gerald Kapelovitz, sister; Loraine Gitis and sisterin-law Susie Kapelovitz.

"Harold and Lee were longtime friends of my wife and myself," said Former Mayor Richard Stone. "Harold was an active and involved man in the community, particularly devoted to the Maple Center. A warm-hearted generous soul, he will be sorely missed by all of us who cared for him so much."

Harold was well known in the men's clothing business, real estate, and philanthropic circles. He was also a member of the Cedars-typical in a day of the life of the 2003 Beverly High graduate after his July 19 graduation from the Berklee College of Music.

It was approaching the end of his college career, when Karlin got a phone call from 2001 Beverly High graduate Alex Carpenter. Carpenter needed a drummer for his band, The Remus Lupins. The band, an eclectic indie rock band named for one of the Harry Potter characters, was set to go on a national tour called "Fight Evil Read Books." Karlin a musician "jack of all trades" joined Carpenter to play drums and saxophone.

June 19, Karlin and Carpenter departed to play 56 performances in 24 states. Because the tour's objective is to use music to promote literacy, a lot of the shows are performed in libraries or book stores. On the day of the Harry Potter book release, The Remus Lupins performed at the Harry Potter book premier at the Barnes and Noble at the Grove.

The audience showed up dressed as characters from the book, said Karlin. The energy from the Harry Potter fanatics is indescribable, he said.

The drummer developed a great passion for music around the age of 8 or 9, he began playing the saxophone and furthering his intense interest for jazz music, said his mother Fiona Karlin. The interest led to his pursuit of music, enrolling in Berklee College after high school.

"Berklee was the perfect school for Toby," said Fiona.

The tour is half way over; Karlin will set out to travel to the East Coast for the last half of his tour. The Remus Lupins will be back in Los Angeles to play at The Knitting Factoy on August 24. For more information on the tour and the Remus Lupins go to the website fightevilreadbooks.com.

More Hotel Notes

Two in Board Challenge By Rudy Cole

It really says something about the importance we attach to hotels, and especially the Peninsula, when the resignation of a hotel managing director last week makes more news than the city council.

Ali Kasikci is not exactly your average hotelier. In the years he has been with the Peninsula, he has emerged as one of the most highly regarded people in the hospitality industry – and far beyond our borders. It is only natural that his future plans should make news and bring speculation on where he might finally land.

As reported here last week, one of the most persistent rumors we heard, inside and outside the city, was that he would become manager of the Montage Hotel and Gardens of Beverly Hills. Neither the Montage management or Kasikci confirmed the story or were our sources.

Kasikci is likely to remain at the Peninsula through this year and has undoubtedly received many offers. When he says that he is exploring many options, we should take him at his word.

Another newspaper erred in describing the owners of the hotel as the Hong Kong company that manages the Peninsula's. It was that company which brought Ali to Beverly Hills, but the owners are very local – the Zarnegin family and their company, Probity.

This column also missed one element of the story. Although John Rucci, the Peninsula's resident manager, is also leaving, he has not signed with the Montage. According to our sources, Rucci will become general manager of the Santa Monica Fairmont. He will reportedly take over there this week.

Interesting historical paradox: In the late 1970s, the Swig family, the legendary owners of the San Francisco Fairmont, explored the possibility of coming to Beverly Hills. Where? At almost the same site that has become the Peninsula.

Two years ago, not one possible candidate emerged to challenge two candidates for school board, and the election was cancelled. There was one incumbent, Myra Demeter, and Nooshin Meshkaty, who had been an El Rodeo PTA leader, but was not exactly well known, or someone with an educational agenda that defined her interest in serving. She had been supported and encouraged to run by now vice mayor Barry Brucker, a former board president who left the board to run for council.

As for Demeter, her four years on the board had not been without some controversy, including her often confrontational style, and issues she had with some school administrators. Although her educational credentials are impressive, it was somewhat surprising that no candidates emerged to challenge either her or Meshkaty.

This year will be very different. With three incumbents seeking reelection and no "open" seat, there will be at least two challengers with both name recognition and community support. Myra Lurie and John Milan are running for a second term and Alissa Roston for a third. They will face Steven Fenton and Brian David Goldberg (see page 3), who filed early this week.

Fenton has the advantage of having one of the most familiar names in Beverly Hills. His father Frank has been president and member of the school board, an elected city treasurer and now member of the City Council. He has always been a formidable candidate. Judie Fenton is a long-time political activist and a well known consultant with clients that have included the police and fire associations and a number of charities. Her firm, FTA, specialized in event planning, but it has grown beyond that to include community outreach projects.

The younger Fenton has his own credentials and school involvement, including a support group for high school athletic programs. He has defined some problems he feels need fixing and has said his campaign will be on issues and not just who can muster the most impressive list of endorsements, although his early backers included some very high profile civic leaders.

Having a prominent political name has advantages and some draw backs. Inevitably, any possible problems the Fenton's have had on issues or government process will have some effect on Steven. As an example, Zev Yaroslavsky is probably the most popular elected official on the west side, winning elections to the L.A. City Council and the Board of Supervisors easily and often without opposition. But when he gave up his Fifth District council seat to run for retiring Ed Edelman's spot on the County Board, his popular wife Barbara was not able to win election to succeed him on the council, losing to Mike Feuer, then making his first try for public office.

Although Fenton said he is not targeting any one of the three incumbents and is running on his own credentials and his plans for making the schools better, the third term issue will have some bearing on Roston's campaign, as will her involvement in the departure of a school principal in her own elementary school area.

Even Fenton agrees that the strongest of the three incumbents is Myra Lurie, who served with great distinction as board president during a very difficult period, including the departure of many school administrators. Lurie is an attorney, and for the first time in my memory, the only lawyer to hold any elected office in our city. We have had as many as three lawyers on the City Council at one time, and some on our board, but now, none on the Council.

This would be Lurie's second term and while she has her own service filled resume, she also benefits from her marriage into one of the city's best known leadership families. Her mother-in-law is the legendary Sooky Goldman. Lurie has also gathered endorsements from many who had not supported her four years ago and who backed the losing incumbent, Virginia Maas.

Milan is a strong consensus builder and is very non-controversial or confrontational. He too has a strong community oriented family, by marriage and has built a good reputation as a quiet leader, especially on construction matters, a resource he brings to the board from his professional experience in school building.

There have been few issues that have divided this board, unlike past boards that were often locked in personality conflicts and education program disputes.

There are some very interesting differences between Board of Education and City Council elections. First, board candidates need only file their notice of intent and are not required to even secure a minimum number of signatures on nominating petitions — just their own signature. Second, the campaigns have no spending limits and no rules on contributions, except those governed by state law. City elections have individual limits and a cap on spending.

The candidates may set some voluntary rules on campaigning. There may be a proposal to abandon lawn signs. How effective they are is questionable. In the last City Council election, then Mayor Steve Webb probably had the most, and yet lost, and Nancy Krasne the least, but ran first. On the other hand, lawn signs do alert voters to an upcoming election and in our traditionally low voter turn out, any tool that stimulates interest might be worth keeping. But they are an ugly eyesore.

All three incumbents will have to work hard and not take the election as a walk. Fenton is a vigorous contender and is very likely to walk the whole city – something that doesn't always happen in board races.

There are issues: The problems articulated by the Beverly Hills Education Association – the teacher's union, have resonated in the city and school community. The union will undoubtedly play a significant role in the election, which is their absolute right. There is also concern about the turnover of administrators, and most important, the out of district registration program.

The out of district issue could become important, but it needs to be put in perspective. One parent told us recently that she resented having to pay taxes for children who come to Beverly Hills for a better education, but live elsewhere. Not exactly the facts or the reality. Our taxes pay only a small percentage of school funding, and we receive state money based on school population, or ADA, average daily attendance. We could not survive without out of district students and certainly not have the means to keep class size at current levels. Remember, school population does not necessarily effect numbers of administrators and other non-class room professionals needed to maintain the highest levels of educational services.

Are the Beverly Vista parents still angered by the departure of their principal, Irene Stern? The main target of their angst was the then school superintendent Jeff Hubbard who has left for greener, in every sense, pastures in Orange County.

As for the second non-incumbent candidate, he has made a very late entry into an election where the one challenger and three incumbents have been hustling for endorsements and even starting their walking efforts.

Brian David Goldberg, the latest contender, is not, however, new to civic affairs. He served for some time as executive director of the Maple Counseling Center, leaving after a disagreement with his board on a public policy matter, not related to his talents as an administrator. The Maple board is a powerful group of city leaders—it will be interesting to see if Goldberg obtains their support.

The city lost another generous and admired city leader with the passing of Harold Kapelovitz (see page 4), who had been ill for many months. It was always wonderful to see Harold and his wife Lee together – they were so obviously dependent on and devoted to each other – they were really a couple. I had the pleasure of serving for many years with Lee on the Greystone Foundation board. She and I were among the original members appointed by the City Council.

Harold was a modest person, but a generous one and he cared for our community. He will be missed.

Rudy Cole served for eight years as a member and chair of the city's Recreation & Parks Commission. He was also President of the Greystone Foundation and served on three other city committees. Rudy can be reached at: Rudy@bhweeklv.com.

COVERSTORY BHUSD'S NEXT-GEN WOMEN

Newly appointed BHUSD PTA presidents discuss their lives and goals for their schools

By Abbey Hood

Jennifer Schwartz Co-President Beverly Vista

Not many people can say they have known their best friends since kindergarten. Jennifer Schwartz can, and part of it is due to the foundation that was set for her by growing up attending Beverly Hills' public schools, she said

A 1978 Beverly Vista graduate and former B.V. student body president herself, Schwartz progressed through the Beverly Hills' school system and graduated Beverly High in 1982. After, Schwartz was accepted to the University of California Berkeley. Upon graduation, she pursued a career in pharmaceuticals and returned to Beverly Hills.

Schwartz said it was her education in Beverly Hills that gave her the opportunity to graduate college and pursue her career, but be able to return to her home town. She wanted more than anything to be able to give her two children the same experience and this opportunity she had growing up in Beverly.

There was no better way to do this than by joining the PTA when her son started first grade at her alma mater in 1999. First joining the PTA as a member of the Site Council, Schwartz initially became involved with curriculum and allocating funds for needed programs. From there, Schwartz began heading the largest fundraiser at the school, "BV Pride", with now co-president Susie Roberts. BV Pride is Beverly Vista's fund-raising campaign, contributions supplement state funding for Beverly Vista.

Schwartz said her job is made easier because of her on- one- on interaction with Principal Erik Warren and Vice Principal Cherryne Lue-Sang.

Such support allows for Schwartz to be able to move forward with her ambitions for the upcoming school year like the opening of the new building, the implementation of new programs and reaching to achieve 100 percent involvement from parents for fundraising events for the school.

More than anything, it is important to Schwartz to be a part of Beverly Vista because being on the PTA means having the chance to make a difference in her child's education, she said.

Susie Roberts Co-President Beverly Vista

Around this time next year, Susie Roberts will be attending her daughter's graduation from Beverly High and celebrating her own milestone with the school district. Next year, Roberts will have been involved with the PTA in the district from her daughter's first day at kindergarten until her last day at Beverly.

Roberts, a registered nurse, is a California native. She grew up in Sherman Oaks and moved to her husband Paul's hometown of Beverly Hills after they were married. Paul is a Horace Mann and Beverly High graduate.

It was important to Roberts' to stay plugged into her children's education, and PTA was the way to do it. Roberts started as a volunteer on the hospitality committee when her daughter started at Beverly Vista because she had the time and knows it is important to be active in her child's education. It was a way to know what was going on, she said. Roberts said being on the PTA allowed her to get to know the staff at the school and the families at the school. It gave her more knowledge about her child's education and the more you know the better, she said.

Roberts ended up gaining more than insight to the district's education by joining the PTA years ago. Through the council, Roberts has made life-long friends. The biggest gift is the friendships she has made, said Roberts. One of those friendships is with her co-president Jennifer Schwartz. By heading the "BV Pride" fundraiser together, Roberts said she and Schwartz realized quickly they worked well together. When the chance came for the two to work together as co-presidents on the PTA, Roberts didn't hesitate.

Not only did she gain friendships from the PTA, Robert's children benefited too, she said. It was special for her children to see she and Paul, who is also involved with the school, on campus, said Roberts. By seeing their parents involved in their education and their school it sets a good example, she said.

Cindy Dubin Co-President El Rodeo

As a part-time attorney and a mother of four, Cindy Dubin finds the time in her active schedule to embark on her 14th year as a volunteer for the PTA at El Rodeo. Making it work means you have to have a supportive family that believes in the importance of being active in education, said Dubin.

Dubin is a second generation Beverly High graduate. Her mother Marlene Zimmerman graduated from Horace Mann and Beverly High in 1950. Dubin and her three siblings grew up with their parents volunteering in Beverly Hills schools, she said. This schools include Dubin's former elementary school Beverly Vista and Beverly High. She graduated Beverly High in 1980, attended UC Berkeley then the University of Chicago for law school. For two years, she worked for a law firm on Wall Street before returning to Los Angles in 1989. In Los Angeles, Dubin worked for a large law firm in Century City until 2001. Dubin now works part-time.

Starting her journey as a volunteer for the Site Council at the school, Dubin wanted to be on this council that helped align a school plan with curriculum. Curriculum development in education has always fascinated the attorney who said education was her second career choice.

After being active on the El Rodeo Site Council, Dubin became involved in the GATE program at the school. In addition, she and her husband Mark started a monthly reading program that was later spread throughout the district. Dubin also oversees the Science Olympia Program that competes in regional and national competitions.

Being surrounded by incredibly motivated, energetic and enthusiastic people who believe in public education make Dubin want to be involved with the PTA at her school, she said.

Also, it is having a partner in a co-president, as Dubin has in co-president Ronit Stone. Stone, also an attorney, will enter her second term as co-president for El Rodeo. Dubin said the team has worked together in previous years to expand outdoor education to the 6th and 7th graders. The dynamic duo also founded the public relations committee at Beverly High for the PTSA.

Annette Saleh Co-President Hawthorne

Annette Saleh's family is a "Hawthorne School family." Her husband Marc, himself started Hawthorne in kindergarten, and was the first dad to become a PTA president three years ago. That was around the same time Annette started to volunteer with the PTA. When Marc's term was over, it seemed only natural that his wife Annette, who volunteers with Team Beverly Hills, BHEF and Friends of the Public Library, would be asked to take over when a seat became available.

With her son entering the seventh grade, Annette succeeded Jeny Melamed to become Hawthorne's co-president with Debbie Issacman. Issacman was one of the reasons Annette said yes.

During her time on the PTA, Saleh said one of her fondest memories was when the school collected 5,000 books to donate to a school in South Central, Los Angeles. Saleh took the fourth graders on a bus down to 95th Street Preparatory School in South Central. Here, the Hawthorne students donated the books and spent a day reading to pre-schoolers. 95th Street welcomed Hawthorne with a banner, lunch and open arms. It was one of her most rewarding experiences, said Saleh

For the upcoming school year, Saleh hopes to get more parents involved with the great programs that are already in place at Hawthorne, she said. At Hawthorne there are very strong programs and strong programs for students with special needs, this is one of the reasons why Saleh said she and her husband are strong supporters of public education in Beverly Hills.

Debbie Issacman Co-President Hawthorne

Balancing doctor appointments, planning bar-mitzvahs and taking her 12-year-old triplets to all their extra-curricular activities is a typical day in the life of Debbie Issacman, who was once in administration for the Secret Service. After the Secret Service, Issacman became base manager of flight attendants for the west coast for US Air. But, 12 years ago, Issacman gave birth to triplets Aubrey, Alison and David and decided to become a stay at home mom.

The family lived in Westwood and moved to Beverly Hills three years ago. Issacman's husband Alan is an attorney in Beverly Hills. The five Issacmans moved to the city because of the public schools, she said. Immediatley, the former secret service employee, fell in love with Hawthorne and decided this area was where she and her husband would buy a house. It was an easy transition, the kids made friends easily, and Issacman instantly fell in love with the parents, teachers and staff at the school, she said.

Aubrey, Alison and David can walk to school, just like Issacman did as a child, she said.

Being close to the school isn't a bad thing for Issacman who spends a lot of time working one on one with the principal, vice-principal and co-president Annette Saleh. Issacman was at the school twice already this week.

Issacman first became involved in the PTA at Hawthorne because of Saleh's participation. The more and more Issacman was involved with the council, who initially became involved with the PTA with community services, said the more she loved it.

Next year, Issacman's objective is to gain 100 percent of participation. Issacman hopes to receive support from all Hawthorne families either through volunteering in the PTA, helping with fundraisers or participating in any event in an effort to raise awareness about the school.

Amy Phillips President Horace Mann

When Amy Phillips' daughter entered kindergarten five years ago, Phillips thought the most important thing to dedicate her extra time to was something that greatly impacted her daughter's life. And nothing could be more important than her education, so Phillips decided to get involved in the PTA.

This came after Phillips' career in entertainment publicity. Phillips grew up in suburban New York and moved to Miami while in college, graduating from Florida State University with a Masters of Fine Art. After, Phillips moved to Los Angeles and started her career in entertainment, and since has opened her own custom design scrapbook company: The Photo Fairy.

As her second year as Horace Mann's president, Phillips said the PTA has helped Horace Mann improve communication between the parent teacher council and parents. Communication with parents has always been a challenge, said Phillips. But, through sending out a weekly e-mail, using the district-wide PACE telephone system Phillips said the gap has become much smaller. Greater communication allows for parents to know exactly where the money they donate to the PTA last year was allocated-like the new laptops or after school programs.

Through more communication, Phillips said the council was able to recruit more blood to volunteer. Last year, there was a greater effort to recruit the parents from the younger grades to the council.

It is not always the big things that Phillips is rewarded by. For the mother and volunteer, it is little things that make her sit back and say, "This is why we do this." Like when a kindergarten class put together a thank you booklet for the PTA. These are the things that mean the most to Phillips.

Kathi Rothner Co- President Beverly Hills High School

Kathi Rothner first thought about joining the PTA when her tennis club dared her on the courts to join; Rothner got more than she bargained for when she found the commitment that originally started as a dare became her passion for the next 14 years.

Starting at El Rodeo, Rothner transitioned to high school when her now 19-year-old daughter started as a freshman at Beverly High. This was a way to know what was going on in her child's life at the high school, said Rothner. It is different at the high school level, there are no Wednesday packets(informing parents about what was going on at the school). Being on the PTA and PTSA are ways to stay involved in your child's life, she said

Two years ago, Rothner succeeded Sue Brucker and became co-president at Beverly High. Nobody wants to follow in Sue's footsteps, said Rothner. Rothner said Brucker was the absolute "master of fundraising."

Coming in as president, Rothner worked with then new principal J. Guidetti. Her goals include supporting the new science and technology center which is scheduled to open in September, providing additional funding for almost all athletics, bringing in guest speakers, aiding math programs and funding approximately 35 different areas for the school. These areas are target areas that parents can directly fund at the high school. This way parents can allocate their donated dollars to directly support their children's passions.

Seeing students passions fulfilled in performing arts, athletics or any club funded by the PTSA is one of the most rewarding aspects of being involved, said Rothner. Now that Rothner is older, she said it is wonderful to see students pursuing their interests in college or after college that they first started at Beverly High.

Rothner's co-president is Cindy Burrows, a rodeo queen from Illinois who made a career move to Los Angeles years ago, said Rothner. The two work side by side to accomplish the ever growing tasks of allocating funds for the school. Rothner said the last four years have expanded the job of the PTSA at the high school, allowing the presidents to have a say where money is spent.

Rothner also serves on the Recreation and Parks Commission.

PTA and PTSA presidents who we could not reach include: Ronit Stone (co-president of El Rodeo) Cindy Burrows (co-president of Beverly High)

Whereas, on May 8, 2007, I, MARK J. SALADINO, Treasurer and Tax Collector, was directed by the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County, State of California, to sell at public auction certain Tax-Defaulted properties which are Subject to the Power of Sale. Public notice is hereby given that unless said properties are redeemed prior thereto, I will, on August 20 and 21, 2007, at the hour of 9:00 a.m. at the Fairplex Los Angeles County Fairgrounds, 1101 W. McKinley Avenue, Building 5, Pomona, California, offer for sale and sell said properties at public auction to the highest bidder for cash or cashier's check in lawful money of the United States for not less than the minimum bid. If no bids are received on a parcel, it will be re-offered at the end of the auction at a reduced minimum price.

The minimum bid for each parcel is the total amount necessary to redeem, plus costs, as required by Section 3698.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

Prospective bidders should obtain detailed information of this sale from the County Tax Collector. Pre-registration and a $5,000 deposit in the form of cash, cashier's check or bank issued money order is required at the time of registration. No personal checks, two-party checks or business checks will be accepted for registration. Registration will be from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., starting, Monday, July 16, 2007, at the Treasurer and Tax Collector's Office, located at 225 North Hill Street, Room 130, Los Angeles, California and will end on Friday, August 10, 2007, at 5:00 p.m.

If the property is sold, parties of interest, as defined by Section 4675 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, have a right to file a claim with the County for any proceeds from the sale, which are in excess of the liens and costs required to be paid from the proceeds. If excess proceeds result from the sale, notice will be given to parties of interest, pursuant to law.

All information concerning redemption, provided the right to redeem has not previously been terminated, will upon request be furnished by MARK J. SALADINO, Treasurer and Tax Collector.

If redemption of the property is not made according to the law before 5:00 p.m. on Friday, August 17, 2007, which is the last business day prior to the first day of auction, the right of redemption will cease.

The Assessor's Identification Number (AIN) in this publication refers to the Assessor's Map Book, the Map Page, and the individual Parcel Number on the Map Page. If a change in the Assessor's Identification Number occurred, both prior and current Assessor's Identification Numbers are shown.
