"BHUSD Permit Program Debated"

I very much enjoyed the informative presentation in [Issue 417] article, "BHUSD Permit Program Debated." There is, however, a profoundly misleading statement in the article. After mentioning the funding loss to the district if the permit program ended, [the reporter] goes on to say, "But this loss would be offset by a reduction of the salaries and benefits paid to extra teachers that would no longer be needed " The truth is the loss would be only partially offset. Take a kindergarten class of 20. Using salary and ADA figures derived from the article, the teacher's salary and benefits would average $66,700, but the students in that one class would generate $128,829.80 in ADA, or $62,129.80 more than the teacher for that class would cost. Even considering the cost of supplies, textbooks, and other items, those students are generating more money than is being spent on them. With a grade level staffed at 29 to 1, the discrepancy grows to $120,103.21, enough to hire almost two more teachers beyond the one needed to teach that class.

From a financial standpoint, declining enrollment is never a good thing. In addition, to the extent that declining enrollment reduces the diversity of the program and hence, the opportunities available to all students, it is never a good thing educationally.

Encouraging local residents to attend their local school is a good idea, and the article presents some good ideas for achieving this goal, but if local enrollment is insufficient, permits should be issued in sufficient numbers to keep enrollment stable.

Editor's note: In the event the BHUSD started to cut back on issuing new permits, they could hypothetically absorb (i.e. not rehire) many certificated positions and reduce sections at the elementary levels.

"City Librarian Retires, Some Shockers She Found"

If Mr. Cole is playing at investigative reporter, he has omitted salient facts and implied wrongdoing despite his disclaimer, 'not suggesting any improper activities' when disclosing the one million unspent dollars and the mysterious cash found in a library safe. [Issue # 414]

First of all, how is he privy to such information? Is this common knowledge? 'Our city library staff was complaining about budget cuts...' to who did they complain? Employees are not encouraged to talk to the press. Are city officials talking to the press? Perhaps the money allocated in the library budget was held until such time as it could be spent wisely. Of course there is a mentality in some government departments that is "spend it or lose it." If such unspent dollars revert to the general fund, it will be available for the entire city to spend. What's the crime here? And as for the mysterious money in the safe, as we used to say, "What's that got to with the tea in China?"

And insofar as damning with faint praise the attitudes and demeanor of the library staff, shame on him. Not to take anything away from the workers at City Hall who deal with residents and the business sector, these activities take place five days a week and during normal business hours.

The library is open to the public seven days a week for a total of 73 hours. The library serves not only residents but borrowers from any part of metropolitan Los Angeles and the smaller surrounding cities. The demographic is from 18 months of age to all who wish to enter. And if borrowers can't come to the library, they are serves by an Outreach Program for the home bound. All services go on despite the 'serious reduction of staff.'

If all borrowers were polled, in my opinion, the results of this would be far different from Mr. Cole's perception of staff attitude and back to the Ad Hoc committee "so that the committee can evaluate the implementation of a two-hour free parking rate for residents only and let us do our jobs and think of the fiscal soundness of these decisions."

South Canon Drive resident Paul Bernstein believes the city needs to look at alternative parking rates beyond one or two hours of parking.

"One hour free-parking helps to reduce the city's deficit but it is a very stressful experience with not enough time to shop or eat. Two-hours of free parking only for Beverly Hills residents is what we are used to; however this is very discriminatory and anyone on the fence in regards to shopping at Beverly Hills will now go elsewhere. Twohours of free parking for everyone will not restore the budget," said Bernstein.

Bernstein solution is implementing three hours of free-parking.

"I have a proposal that is a win-win situation for everyone. Three hours of free parking should be tried as a six month evaluation program starting in January. This will put us on a level playing filed with Century City and everyone will have stress free time to do shopping and eat. Sales tax revenue will more than make up for reduced parking fees," said Bernstein.

Beverly Hills Mayor Jimmy Delshad said the Council was only trying to reach a consensus.

Delshad believes in a two-hour free parking program for residents.

"I believe residents have certain privileges. If the Council allows me and I [obtain] three votes, I will send it back to the committee to come up with something where the residents will get a two-hour free parking."

Delshad would also like to look at ways to implement a system where people pay for their parking before getting to the exit and add an express lane in parking structures.

"To me it is more important that residents stay in Beverly Hills and shop then go out [of Beverly Hills]," said Delshad.

Brucker agreed with Delshad on the twohour free parking program for residents, but also acknowledged the resentment from the community.

"You elected us to make the tough decisions and we have to think with our head and heart. My heart tells me there is a good deal of anger in this room over promises that may or may not have been made from years ago and that maybe driving a good portion of the emotional decision for bringing back the two hour free parking," said Brucker.

Councilmember Nancy Krasne agreed with Councilmember Frank Fenton to send back the parking issue to the ad hoc committee, but made it clear that the parking rate issue was beyond numbers and more about trust.

"This is about government and trust," said Krasne. "Trust must be earned and tonight is our night as a Council to earn it. We may have to give up something else but with the help of this community we can make it."

Fenton agreed to allow time for the issue to be further analyzed he stressed profit margins.

"We need to keep the general fund up. It is more important to me than repainting a parking lot," said Fenton.

The parking Ad Hoc Committee will now analyze alternatives as to how to provide Beverly Hills residents with a two-hour parking rate.

BHHS Football Team Loses To Mira Costa

Norman girls' golf team defeats North Torrance twice.

By Steven Herbert

A fully healthy offense couldn't keep the Beverly High football team from avoiding its worst start since 1983.The Normans lost to Manhattan Beach Mira Costa, 30-14, Friday night in a nonleague game at Nickoll Field, falling to 0-3-1, their worst start since 1983 when they lost the first nine games of the season before defeating Culver City in their season finale.

Beverly Hills' worst previous start in Carter Paysinger's 18 seasons as coach was 0-3 in 2004.

Being 0-3-1 "is not as disappointing as people would think," Paysinger said.

"Tonight was the first night that we had all of our guys on offense healthy and ready to play," Paysinger said. "We looked at this as a first step leading into preparing for the league season."

The Normans began their season with their leading rusher from 2006, Ramon Judkins, and their leading receiver from 2006, Dominique Sandifer, both limited with hamstring injuries.

The Mustangs (2-2) scored the game's final 23 points for their seventh consecutive over Beverly Hills, which last beat Mira Costa in 1998.

Norman quarterback Dex Lucci completed 12 of 26 passes for 182 yards and one touchdown in his first action since dislocating his right shoulder in a 15-15 tie with Palos Verdes Sept. 7. Two of Lucci's passes were intercepted.

Beverly Hills was outgained 422 yards to 286. Mustang running back Adrien Dotson did most of the damage with 221 yards and two touchdowns on 33 carries. Quarterback Sean Kelly completed nine of 15 passes for 131 yards and two touchdowns.

The Normans began the game with six consecutive passing plays, but scored the first touchdown when Sandifer took an inside handoff and ran 53 yards into the end zone.

Beverly Hills threatened to take a 14-0 lead when Lucci's 20-yard pass to Sandifer put the ball inside the Mira Costa one yard line. Norman fullback Sae Bin Park was stopped for no gain on three consecutive plays and Sandifer was unable to catch Lucci's fourth down pass in the end zone.The Mustangs then drove 99 yards on 10 plays. Dotson was able to get Mira Costa out of the shadow of its own end zone with a 35-yard run. Four plays later he ran for 15 yards and scored the touchdown on a 13yard run.Beverly Hills scored on the first play of the ensuing series on Lucci's 65-yard pass to Erik Munzer, taking a 14-7 lead three minutes, 53 seconds before halftime.

Mira Costa responded with an eight-play, 72-yard drive, culminating with Kelly's 19yard touchdown pass to Stephen Bateman with 31 seconds left in the half.

Dotson ran five yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown with 2:55 left in the third quarter.

The Mustangs scored again on the final play of the quarter on Kelly's 11-yard pass to Michael Tam, six plays after Kelly, playing defensive back, intercepted a Lucci pass and returned it 28 yards, on a play the Normans were also assessed a personal foul, enabling Mira Costa to start its drive on the Beverly Hills 25-yard line.

T.J. Thormodsgaard kicked a 30-yard field goal for the Mustangs with 8:17 remaining for the only points of the fourth quarter.

"We played well in the first half," Paysinger said. "In the second half, we had some big breakdowns that took us out of the game."

Sandifer, who caught a game-high six passes for 77 yards, drew praise from Paysinger, as did Park for his play as a linebacker, along with the Norman offensive line of Jordan Adams, Caylin Hauptmann, Jon Jun, Shayad Meshkaty and Nick Urteaga.

What's Next?

The Normans are scheduled to complete the nonleague portion of their season Friday when they face Santa Clarita Golden Valley (2-2) at Canyon High School in Canyon Country beginning at 7 p.m.

Two Hour Free or Not To Be?

Other notes on battles and good work By Rudy Cole

Should two hour free parking be restored in many, but not all, of the city owned parking structures? Neither side of the hotly contested issue saw the irony in one argument made by those who want to continue one hour free:

Now that patrons can park free for one hour only, the lots have fewer cars. One supporter of one hour said this was great because he was now able to find parking spaces.

But is this a good thing? This could mean that the lots now have less in and out traffic or, and this is the real question: Does it prove Councilmember Frank Fenton's argument that the loss of two hour free shows there is a reduction of customers for the city's businesses?

This all seems very Groucho Marxist. The comic great once quipped: "No one comes to Beverly Hills anymore, it's too crowded."

As too often happens, after many, many hours of hearings and highly emotional debate, the city council decided very late Tuesday night to send the whole issue back to the drawing boards for more study.

There were some wonderful ironies Tuesday. Here was the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce strongly supporting the one hour only rule while the North Homeowners and the Municipal League demanded the return of two hour free. The Chamber is supposedly pro-business, while the resident associations have been accused of fighting commerce. Not this time.

The Chamber is sticking to its claim that most merchants support one hour free. They cite a previous survey of retailers and users who supposedly favor the rule. However, not one retailer testified in favor of one hour Tuesday—those who did appear at the hearing wanted a return to two hour free.

The hearing notice was also cited as a reason for low attendance Tuesday, and there is merit to the claim. Instead of stating in simple terms that the council was considering a return to two hour free parking, both the agenda listing and the public notices said the issue was "off street parking."

What is somewhat ingenuous is the effort to refight the Montage Hotel and Gardens referendum battle. Supporters of two hour free argue that the hotel won support because then members of the council promised this would not effect two hour free. Also cited were promises made in the more recent council race to return to two hour free. It's hard to argue that promises were not made to save two hour free- they were. However, that didn't convince the hotel opponents during the election: They continued to fight the hotel.

The hotel opponents seem to want it both ways.

As we said last week, the best arguments for keeping one hour were those presented by staff—the revenue was needed to modernize, improve and repair city lots. One part of the improvements? The installation of an automated parking collection system which would reduce revenue "leakage."

At Tuesday's hearing, Councilmember Frank Fenton, a former city treasurer and one of the strongest supporters of the Montage, also made some very telling arguments in favor of a return to two hour free, disputing many of the staff statistics on sales tax revenues.

This one is very hard to decide.

Councilmember Nancy Krasne, strongly backed by the North HOA and the Municipal League, has joined Fenton, a very pro-business councilmember, in urging a return to two hour free. Vice Mayor Barry Brucker, a frequent Chamber critic, Mayor Jimmy Delshad and Councilmember Linda Briskman oppose the return.

There are no hidden agendas here. We should give both sides credit for believing they are acting in the best interests of the city. However, Fenton made one chilling comment: We must act soon and not delay a decision because if we are actually losing shoppers, they may not return.

One suggestion, by Paul Bernstein, who often is on the side of those opposing business interests, proposed that two hour free require a receipt from a retailer proving some shopping. This or some other validation program parking might work, but it means retaining parking attendants and slowing traffic.

Some arguments that did not work: Proponents of two hour free said it was hurting doctors and dentists because it kept patients from shopping after a medical visit. Honestly, after a root canal the last thing I want to do is visit my favorite deli, Nate 'n Al's. The program was never intended for anything other than retailers: stores and restaurants.

Fortunately, I'm not a member of the city council because this one is very tough to decide. We have five lots near major retailers that are effected and, despite what the Chamber says, I don't know one merchant near these lots who isn't very upset by the loss of two hour free. For the record, some of our lots have never had two hour free including Crescent Drive.

However, with some reservations and in the hope that the council can come up with a Solomon like compromise, I believe we need to return to a modified two hour free program, and do so soon. Then maybe we can address the related problems of employee parking, enlarging parking resources and a city-wide ride sharing incentive program.

Two hour free was not the only parking issue on the agenda Tuesday. The Council also failed to act on a proposed plan to ban parking west bound on Olympic from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. What do merchants and residents do for parking during that extended hour? The let them eat cake like response is not acceptable. There are no viable alternatives for either business or residents.

The only valid reason was a possible decrease in accidents. If there are statistics that prove accidents happen because cars are parked during rush hour traffic, the plan has merit—if not, it should be abandoned. Making through traffic easier isn't a valid objective. It would simply mean more cars using Olympic instead of Pico or the Freeway—and that is not helpful for Beverly Hills.

We are often at our best when we are involved in and supportive of a city charity or organization, and last Sunday was a good example of that coming together for the community.

The first ever Beverly Hills High School

Athletic Alumni Association Hall of Fame dinner was held at the Hilton Sunday and it did have a good sense of community. Although the organization and the dinner was primarily the idea of Steven Fenton, now a candidate for school board, he very graciously recognized the contribution of two school board members, Alissa Roston and Myra Lurie, who are candidates in the same election.

In fact, one of the primary honorees at the dinner was Lurie's husband, David Goldman, class of 1965 and a standout athlete in cross country and track and field. (See photo on back page.)

On October 18, the Maple Counseling Center will host a longer running event, and one that also exemplifies the best in city values. This historic institution, coincidentally first conceived by another member of the Goldman family, Sooky, contributes mightily to the welfare of our community.

This year's dinner will honor two of our best, Gary Briskman and Councilmember Linda Briskman, both with distinguished records of community service. They will receive the organization's Community Spirit Award. Reservations may still be available. Call MPCC's Joyce Agyin at (310) 271-9999 for information.

On Nov. 5, the city will join in paying tribute to our finest: the members of the Beverly Hills Police Officer's Association. Attending is one way to show your appreciation for the outstanding work of the men and women of the finest law enforcement agency in the country. Of course, you know you are in a safer community because of Attending is not just a duty or a chore: The events are really enjoyable, community based experiences.

Letters to the Editor became a little too nasty last week and therein lies a publishing issue. The Courier and The Weekly will almost always publish letters from readers. The Weekly prefers to verify the writers are using their real names and does not print anonymous letters, but neither paper does what I think is in the interest of fairness:

If a letter makes a personal attack against anyone, the person being targeted should be allowed to answer in the same issue.

Although both papers have failed to do this in the past, last week's Courier had two letters that were examples of what I meant. One writer said that Steven Fenton should not be elected to the school board because he did not have children in our schools and that Myra Lurie also had a problem because one of her two children was in a private school.

While all issues, even those easy to refute, are fair game, these two arguments should not have gone unanswered. Some of the best board members who ever served never had children in our schools and a few never even attended our schools. As for having a child in a private school, that too has many precedents and is a very personal decision that has no relevance to a candidate's abilities or record of service.

This may surprise the letter writer, but just the opposite issue has been raised in our city and other school districts. Candidates for board came under attack precisely because they did have children in the schools. The argument being that they might well receive favorable treatment. I doubt if any Fenton or Lurie detractors have the same great history of service to public education. If they do, they too would make great candidates. Fenton and his whole family have long contributed in time, energy and resources to our schools and long before Steven decided he could serve our district. As for Lurie, colleagues and long time school activists have told me she is one of the best board members we have ever had.

Another letter was simply thoughtless, although well intended. The writer bemoaned the lack of concern for animals slaughtered to meet human needs.

Valid argument, but the writer went on to compare "animal" killing to the holocaust and that is beyond offensive and should have contained an editor's response.

But keep those letters and emails coming.

In our history, we have probably never had the plethora of development issues dumped on the table of this planning commission. From the William Morris to 9900 Wilshire to Hilton/Waldorf Astoria and much more, the five commissioners have been on overload as they wrestle with some of the most critical challenges our city has ever faced.

Under the steady gavel of chair Noah Furie and the valuable experience of two holdover members, Kathy Reims and Stacy Marks, combined with the incredibly quick learn work of Lili Bosse and Nan Cole, the Commission has made steady and highly responsible progress on their overloaded planning plates. More frequent meetings, longer hours of public hearings and an incredible amount of homework deserves our gratitude and appreciation, no matter whether we will always agree with their findings. At the same time, the city planning staff is also to be commended for handling the deluge with great professional skill.

What is missing? With our push to achieve more public understanding, why has the city failed to televise these most critical of public hearings? In other cities with public television, commission meetings are regularly aired, why not, at the very least, televise important and community changing hearings?

Smoking in restaurants with outdoor dining, including street cafes, is now banned under an "experiment" approved by the city council. (See story on page 12) As readers probably know, my pipe and I and Arnold's cigars will be impacted.

However, I hope the experiment works. I hope all those who supported the ban now will dine at restaurants with outdoor seating and prove me wrong. I especially hope to see all those health organizations professionals who came to our city to urge the ban will soon dine at Caffe Roma.

What is totally ludicrous are the ads promoting the ban. You have to have the mayor explain that the 90210 reference has some obscure relationship to the oxygen symbol, and this really means "clean air." What?

The problem is also not just questionable science or impinging on personal behavior rights, it is once again trying to use Beverly Hills as an experiment and example – at a possible loss of business.

We tried this 20 years ago, and it failed. We repealed the first ever total ban on smoking because then, as now, it was only in Beverly Hills. What is needed, in the interest of fairness, is a state-wide rule on outdoor smoking. We are far too competitive with our neighbors to do self-imposed hurts on local businesses. Even in Burbank, a city far less concerned with tourist dollars, separate outdoor sections for smokers were created.

As for the Chamber taking credit for achieving a "compromise" on the test ordinance, that's somewhat akin to the lawyer explaining to the death row client that he arranged a great final meal.

But prove me wrong, please, Visit a Beverly Hills restaurant and sit outdoors. As for my pipe, you will find me at a city hotel where smoking is legal in a small area next to the pool. Cough, cough.

COVERSTORY SMOKE OUT

Outdoor smoking ban leads to mixed emotions by local restaurants By Elisa Osegueda

The City of Beverly Hills passed a smoking ordinance that went into effect Monday prohibiting smoking in outdoor dining areas.

"Offering a fresh-air dining experience to our residents, visitors and neighbors throughout the Westside is one way that Beverly Hills can make a difference in the environment and for all who come to dine or shop in Beverly Hills," Vice Mayor Barry Brucker.

The fresh-air dining ordinance is aimed at creating a healthier atmosphere by helping to prevent the hazards of second-hand smoke particularly for families with children and senior citizens with respiratory problems. Restaurants located in hotels and within five feet of an open-air dining area will also be affected.

"What this ordinance shows is that Beverly Hills is a self conscious city. It puts health reasons above everything else," said Beverly Hills Mayor Jimmy Delshad.

The ordinance will have a three month evaluation period. The City will analyze sales tax data during the months of October, November and December. The data will be presented at a public meeting no later than May 31, 2008. At this point the City Council will decide if the ordinance should be repealed or remain in effect.

"The law has passed and we will support it, but I personally feel the ordinance interferes with people's choice of life," said Xi'an restaurant owner Vicky Mense.

According to Delshad, the government has a duty to protect other people.

"We maybe be stopping certain peoples choices, but we also need to protect the other people. We are not stopping them from smoking in their home or in the street as they walk," said Delshad.

Xi'an, located on North Canon Drive, has an outdoor patio, but according to Mense only two percent of her clients smoke. The restaurant has been open for eleven years.

"I don't think the ordinance will affect a majority of the businesses in Beverly Hills. We need to divert from the negative impact and emphasize go healthy, go green and the wellbeing of the residents and the people," said Mense. "We are not all about money or making profit. We also think about the well being of the people."

It is estimated by the World Health Organization that by 2030, tobacco will account for 10 million deaths per year in the United States, making it the greatest cause of death worldwide. It is also reported that that an estimated 38,000 deaths nationwide are caused by secondhand smoke.

"The facts have been very forceful in showing that second hand smoke is just as bad as first hand smoking," said Delshad.

For these reasons city officials say the ordinance is to provide for the public health, safety and welfare by discouraging the behavior of smoking around non-tobacco users in open air dining areas.

Frida Restaurant Manager Patricia Pavin said, "people should be allowed to smoke outside."

Pavin says she has contacted the city regarding the specifics on the ordinance, such as the type of fines that will be issued to violators but says she hasn't received the information requested.

"I called the City for clarifications and I still haven't heard back," said Pavin, whose restaurant is located on South Beverly Drive.

According Pavin, the smoking ordinance will hurt business. "We do have a lot of people that would like to sit outside and smoke over coffee or lunch so it will definitely affect our business. We will definitely have some complaints from customers," said Pavin.

Although there are mixed reviews on the ordinance, the City obtained the support of the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber CEO Dan Walsh said the Chamber supports the smoking ordinance "because of a number of adjustments that where made to the process of implementing the test." The trial period that was originally scheduled for July was moved to October, based on recommendations from the Chamber in order to line up with the tax quarter. They also asked for the trial period to be moved from the tourist season and to have ample time to inform tour operators.

Exactly how the ordinance will affect businesses is unclear.

"We don't know yet. But we did reach out to other cities that have the smoking ordinance in place. We heard [from these cities that they] have not experienced an adverse impact with their restaurant community," said Walsh.

The Chamber will be part of the information gathering process by working with restaurant owners and collecting sales tax data.

According to the 2002 Economic Census, Beverly Hills houses 107 full-service restaurants and 20 hotels.

Beverly Hills is not the first city to adopt the smoking ordinance. Calabasas, Santa Monica, and Burbank have enacted smokefree outdoor dining with favorable reaction from diners and restaurants.

Any person violating the ordinance will be fined $100 for the first violation, $200 for a second violation within one year, and $500 for each additional violation within a year. All businesses affected by the ordinance are required to post "no smoking" signs.

The marketing campaign for the ordinance had a budget of $150,000. Collateral material such as banners, window and regulatory signage, postcards, local newspaper ads, and an information booth at the Farmers' Market, were all methods taken to inform diners.

Responsive to Our Neighbors

9900 Wilshire was designed to reduce traffic at the intersections of Wilshire Blvd. and Merv Griffin Way and Santa Monica Blvd. and Merv Griffin Way as well as achieve the highest level of environmental sustainability in Beverly Hills.

Now, through an ongoing Planning Review process that includes important comments from our neighbors and the Planning Commission, we have made 9900 Wilshire even better for our community.

As recommended, we have:

- Set the Wilshire building back 63 feet from Wilshire Boulevard
- Stepped back the height of the Wilshire building to create an even lower, slimmer profile on Wilshire Boulevard
- Stepped back the height of the Lofts on Merv Griffin Way
- Modified the Santa Monica building by transferring the reduced Wilshire height to it
- Preserved our open space and the garden views into the project from Wilshire Boulevard

The positive outcome of this process has produced a project that achieves the objectives of creating landmark architecture designed by Richard Meier at our city's western gateway while minimizing traffic and maximizing open space and gardens to create a project truly worthy of Beverly Hills.

9900 Wilshire Belongs in Beverly Hills.
