"Smoke Out" [Issue 418]

Recently local communities have been banning smoking in public open areas. True, smoking is bad for you, but when has government been in charge of our bodies? As long as it is not in a confined area, secondhand smoke is not a risk. All this is doing is proving America is no longer a free country.

In Issue 415, former Beverly High football coach Jack Reilly's name was misspelled. The first Beverly High touchdown in its 15-15 tie was also misreported. It was scored by Ben Bradbury on a pass from Erik Munzer. In issue 417, Carousel Bayrd's interview was incorrectly transcribed with regard to the number of votes needed to be elected to the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. It should have read "over 500,000" votes. Also, Section VIII vouchers were incorrectly identified.

Plaintiffs in dismissed Beverly Hills oil well lawsuit to reimburse city and school district

Approximately 1,000 plaintiffs are advised to settle by lawyers

By Elisa Osegueda

Plaintiffs from a 2003 lawsuit against the City of Beverly Hills and the school district, who allegedly suffered health problems from an onsite oil well at Beverly High, have been advised by prosecutors to reimburse up to $450,000 to the city and school district for the cost incurred to defend the discredited lawsuit.

"We are just glad this is behind us and that we can devote our time to other more productive issues," said Board of Education President John Millan.

The settlement recommended by lawyers does not reimburse the total costs incurred by the city or school district, which according to Wiener included over a million dollars in environmental testing alone.

The city and school district will know if the plaintiffs accepted the settlement within 90 days. It is debatable if the lawyers will incur the cost of the settlement, unless they made an agreement with all the plaintiffs that the clients would be liable for the cost, it can be presumed that the lawyers will end up absorbing the cost of the settlement.

According to Beverly Hills City Attorney Larry Wiener the case was filed in 2003 and received intense media attention when environmental activist Erin Brockovich along with the late attorney Ed Masry held a press conference alleging the oil wells near Beverly High were producing dangerous emissions and generating pollution.

"They were also saying that it was causing cancer and killing students and others who lived nearby," said Wiener.

Approximately 1,000 plaintiffs came forward with claims that toxic fumes coming from the oil well caused them to develop Hodgkin's disease, non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, thyroid cancer and other types of cancer.

"The case fell apart on its lack of merit," said Millan. "The summary judgment just defeated them. The judge looked at it and said there is nothing there. Two variables helped us were the summary judgment and the different burden of proofs needed for government entities."

All 1,000 plaintiffs must agree with the court's ruling and settlement recommendation.

"Every single plaintiff has to sign off on the settlements so getting a 1,000 people to agree is often difficult but if some of them chose not to settle we will have to decide if we will go forward and press our claims on full reimbursement and that's millions of dollars," said Millan.

Weiner agrees with Millan and says certain decisions will need to be discussed further if the settlement is not accepted by all plaintiffs.

"If they accept the recommendation of their lawyers and dismiss the appeal against the city and school district then they will go on with their lives. If they don't we will have to evaluate that. We then still have the option of pursing our costs. We have spent millions of dollars having to defend the lawsuits," said Wiener.

The oil well at Beverly High is still active. Both the city and the school district agreed that environmental testing will continue.

"The community is sensitive to the issue and expects for testing to continue and it is the intention of the school district and city to continue," said Wiener.

Masry & Vititoe, who originally filed the case, could not be reached for comment.

Beverly Hills Board of Education Adopts Teacher Gift Policy

Board of Education adopted a gift policy that discourages students and parents/guardians from giving gifts to staff members, and instead encourages them to write personal notes and letters of appreciation. The policy emphasized that neither the District nor its employees shall expect or accept gifts as a condition for providing educational services to any of its students.

The policy does not restrict the acceptance of gifts or tokens of minimal value offered and accepted openly from students, parents or other persons in recognition or appreciation of service. Gift giving will only be permitted at winter holiday, staff appreciation and year-end. Gifts of cash and jewelry will not be allowed.

Red Ribbon Week—-Promoting a Drug Free Environment to BHUSD Students

"I'm Drug Free" is the theme for Red Ribbon Week this year. The District's ongoing tobacco, alcohol, and drug abuse prevenbriefs cont. on page 6

This year was another record high for total number of permits in BHUSD. During the past four years we have nearly doubled the number of permitted students in our district from 522 to 903.

The incumbents tout their success at being fiscally responsible the last four years. Their brand of fiscal responsibility comes with a high price, a nearly doubling of the number of students on permit.

Don't be fooled by the scare tactics and doom and gloom of those who tell us teachers will be let go, programs will be cut or schools will be closed. If elected I will provide a fresh perspective and new ideas for addressing the permit issue.

I will focus my time and energy on replacing revenue lost from permitted students with new revenue sources. I will develop outreach programs and a comprehensive public relations campaign to secure increased participation from Beverly Hills residents in our district. I will review our budget and find cost savings where appropriate.

With your vote for BRIAN DAVID GOLDBERG, our district can begin to focus on what we can do to reduce the number of students on permit in our district.

Former BHUSD Assistant Superintendent 2002-2005 Hemet, California

How did you first start working in Beverly Hills?

My first job was as Assistant Principal at Horace Mann from 1994 to 1996. I came back to Beverly Hills [in 2002] as the A s s i s t a n t

Superintendent of Educational Services.

Tell us about working with Dr. Art Fields?

Actually, it was cool because [former Horace Mann principal] Dr. Fields knew exactly what I needed to do. It was my first time in a K-8 school. I had been in elementary schools and middle schools but never in K-8 schools, so working in a K-8 school, where you are everything to everybody, was interesting to go into.

I felt a little nervous because [while working] in Beverly Hills, you are always thinking, "am I up to what the Beverly Hills expectations are?" But [Dr. Fields] really gave me some good opportunities to learn the system as well as the politics that are behind Beverly Hills. That is certainly a huge part of being able to work effectively in the district, knowing who your main contacts in the community are. I mean the community there is so supportive of the schools. It is just phenomenal, but you need to know how to work your systems, too.

Tell us about the people you remember from Horace Mann.

Oh, wow. I worked a lot with the middle school teachers. I remember [retired social studies teacher] Terry Brown.

What I remember the most about the [middle school] group was their dedication to the kids. Nothing was beyond the realm of possibilities. Horace Mann middle school teachers really helped me learn about middle schools because, again, I did some middle school work but master schedules and all that, I had not done anything like that.

I followed a pretty strong guy from what I remember. I remember thinking, "oh my gosh this is an icon I have to follow." [I'd] much rather follow someone who wasn't any good because then any-st thing you do is kind of cool.

But [the Horace Mann administration] didn't look at it that way. They just said let us know what you need.

Why did you decide to come back to Beverly Hills?

Roz Fleishman, she was a second grade teacher at the time, and she is one of the reasons why I ended up coming back to Beverly Hills. She called me and said "I have an interesting position for you."

I was actually blown away that they would even consider me. Again, at that point I only had K-8 experience. I did not have any high school experience and I was taken aback when I got the phone call and Roz said the Assistant Superintendent is going to retire and we remember the work that we did together.

They asked me to call [then-Assistant Superintendent] Jeff Hubbard. At that point, I was the Director of Curriculum over at Rosemead, and so I called Jeff and he said, "well apply. What's the worse scenario you can have?" It wasn't in my professional plans [to work as Assistant Superintendent for BHUSD] but I applied. The interview wasn't difficult because I had no expectations of being selected. I really didn't. I just figured I should know what types of questions they will be asking for my own growth later on.

Again, I had no expectations of being selected and when I went to the interview I walked into a room with [former Beverly Vista Principal] Irene Stern and [former Beverly High Principal] Ben Bushman. The room was filled with people, and I knew everybody except, for a couple of new teachers I had not worked with. So we began getting reacquainted.

It wasn't really nerve-racking at all. I was pretty comfortable, which that's usually when you make your mistakes because you are going in so nervous and you are trying to impress them and say just the right thing.

There where two questions that they asked [during the interview], one, "you are going to be going on a learning curve if you come here—what is the area that you would need to learn the most about?" I had to admit that it would be high school. So, in front of Ben Bushman, I was admitting that what I had to learn the most about was high school.

The second question, I found out later, was one of the reasons why Ben told me he would recommend me for the position.

He said, "what is the scariest thing you have ever done?"

And I said, "professionally or personally?" and they said, "both."

I replied, "ok professionally, coming back here and sitting in front of all of you." And personally, I had just turned 50 the year before I went there and I said to [them] that I was determined that I wasn't going to age gracefully and because of that I ran my first marathon the year I turned 50.

Ben told me later that "anybody who would do that [run a marathon] at that age, is willing to take those types of risks, I want them on my team."

I get taken aback thinking about it. You never know what you are going to say that is going to draw someone to you. He told me that the year he retired.

Describe your responsibilities as Assistant Superintendent.

You name it. We did everything. It was also during a time of budget cuts, so there were a number of directors we had to cut. I was the business director and I worked with one of the directors in charge of all the categorical money. I remember being contacted by the GATE parents, two weeks before I started [my job] they wanted to meet with me to discuss what I was going to do to make the GATE program more effective. Additionally, I did a lot of curriculum work with the teachers. This was all towards the beginning of the whole standards movement and bench mark assessments. I held monthly meetings with every grade level and different departments at the high school. It wasn't difficult work because [the teachers] were always looking for ways to improve.

What is one of your most memorable moments?

I remember the last year I was there, I found out I got my new position the day of the annual GATE program celebration.

[Horace Mann teacher] Susan Trachtenberg, she had worked on this whole thing on exploration and outer space, and she brought the kids in on the last day and I actually got the opportunity to write poetry and do a creative movement with them. But while the kids did their movement lesson, Susan came over after hearing that I had been selected to work out here and said, "quite a goodbye song isn't it?" and I just broke down and cried. But it was phenomenal with all the kids.

The STAR testing results for the 2006-2007 school year were recently released, what are some things BHUSD can do to improve its test scores?

Well, based on what I have seen since I left their test scores are going through the roof. I remember at the time [I worked there] we were having a very difficult time in math in one of the schools because we had inconsistency with some of the teachers, and we really had to figure out how we were going to create a consistent model for that school. There was no reason why those kids should not be performing but it was coming through and that all had to deal with creating what the benchmark tests were going to be and what the pacing guide was going to be.

I haven't looked at the 2007 scores, but up until now all have been in the high 800's. That's phenomenal. But when you get to be that high, it is more difficult to continue that cycle of improvement, because you really have to narrow down and target your resources more and more.

Do you think the public school system places too much emphasis on testing?

It depends on what you use the results for. If you are really using benchmark assessments to drive your instruction, then there is only one way you can let it drive your instructions and that is by doing continuous assessments.

Too many kids are being told at the end of the semester, "oh, you didn't make it. You get to start all over again," versus if I know at the end of three weeks that you didn't get this, I can go back and remediate things right then.

Technology again is the way to do things. Right now in the systems we have you should be able to administer the tests, get the results back, do a desegregation of the data and then look at the, so what? And that's when teaching comes in.

What are your responsibilities now at the Hemet Unified School District?

I am an area administrator, like an area superintendent, in LAUSD terms. The way Hemet is divided, it is divided into three families of schools, and that means we are responsible from kindergarten to 12th grade. We have three high schools and each high school has a middle school and elementary school that feed into it and so we have three area administrators.

Each one of us is in charge of one of the different families. So that means we work specifically with the schools and administrators and we deal more with the implementation of a policy. We make recommendations for policy but the Deputy Superintendent actually takes care of policies, we work with the schools to implement the policy. We are the accountability system.

I also [oversee] alternative education, and it is phenomenal. We have huge alternative programs out here, like continuation high school, independent studies, home schooling, community day school, and adult education and this year I worked with a group to write a district sponsored charter school proposal and we actually got funded and the school is now open.

A Committee Designed the Donkey

Does city government need either? By Rudy Cole

Do I have to worry? There have been many sightings of campaign buttons with my name, not only here, but in Iowa, New Hampshire and even Brooklyn.

These "RUDY" lapel ornaments are flattering, but why would anyone in Iowa care about our city council or whether I should want to serve?

Now, someone had the audacity to explain that "Rudy" really meant some other political hopeful, and not me! Hard to believe.

But on the chance that this really takes hold, becomes a movement that can not be denied, would friends really wish this on me? Do they want me to be a member of the Beverly Hills City Council? This council is very, very busy and active.

Before my creditors become too excited, the job pays $785.81 per month, the city pops for dinner twice monthly (between council meetings) there are ducats for the Academy Awards and the Golden Globes, a parking pass which has about the same benefits as a handicap (disabled person) plaque and a minimal health plan is provided, although pipe smokers are probably excluded. Question: Would a disabled councilmember have dual parking rights?

For those suggesting I volunteer, no one is ever going to believe a "draft," the job is not what it once was, and therein lies the real moral of this piece.

How did the job of councilmember evolve into a nearly full time gig? Gene Gunther, in the late 1950s, could be found behind a counter at his pharmacy on North Canon Drive and you didn't even need a prescription to talk to him when he was mayor and councilmember; the mayor and chief administrator each had a small office on the top floor of the city hall tower – now abandoned and only ornamental following the last big earthquake.

Today, each councilmember has their own spacious office on the third floor and they earn the perks.

Aside from two afternoon and two evening meetings each month, the council job has exploded into assignments on 34 ad hoc, liaison committees!

Checking with neighboring cities, not one had more than 10 committees, some none at all.

Each councilmember serves as liaison to a city commission and there are sub-committees that work with or report on everything from the Board of Education to the PTA, from technology to "branding" and "Sister City" to audit.

After conversations with a few former mayors, the reaction ranged from shock to amazement. One even questioned the propriety of a council liaison with commissions having statutory, independent legal status. The argument: Why should a councilmember discuss pending zoning issues with the planning commission, assuming that is part of the liaison role, when the commission is supposedly independent. Suppose the president, who appoints to vacancies, had a continuing relationship with the United States Supreme Court?

The mayor appoints members to these subcommittees, usually after consulting on choices. As for sharing thoughts and information, then Mayor Vicki Reynolds had an easier approach. She created a mayor's cabinet with representatives of commissions meeting monthly to update the mayor and fellow commissioners on current activities – that seemed more than sufficient.

There is another encroachment on administrative process that has changed.

When the city adopted the city manager form of government, councilmembers were prohibited, under our codes, from giving orders directly or by implication to department heads. Only the city manager, the city clerk and the city attorney reported to the council. Today, some 19 staff members provide support and information services to each of the council sub-committees. What happened to the "no contact" rule?

The spread of numbers of committee assignments for each councilmember is large. Councilmember Nancy Krasne, the newest, only has nine committees, while Vice Mayor Barry Brucker has 20, far more than Mayor Jimmy Delshad's 12. Councilmember Linda Briskman does 14, followed closely by Councilmember Frank Fenton with 13. True, some of these sub-committees are temporary, but even so, the work load of members has reached time commitments double or treble of that of their predecessors.

And does or should it take a "committee" to design the logo or the business cards for the council?

Maybe all of this activity makes for better government, but it certainly causes one to pause before committing to public service, and somehow it reminds me of the words of a little old lady at my cleaners one Friday. Looking at a waiting area filled with young people she said. "Whoever is making these yuppies must stop immediately.

Not making comparisons, because we have had some outstanding city managers including Ed Kreins and Mark Scott before Rod Wood arrived, but Rod is a strong executive who has made staff reorganization a major goal, and it seems to be working very well. Neither Scott or Kreins worked under this kind of council activism, and both guarded their responsibilities very carefully.

Another council watch note: The city has often benefited from the ties our councilmembers have with other public officials. Former Mayors Max Salter, Vicki Reynolds, Dr. Charles Aronberg, Allan Alexander, to mention a few, could pick up the phone and actually reach senators, governors, and even presidents.

I don't know why, but I am always pleasantly surprised to learn how many public figures have a direct tie to Mayor Jimmy Delshad. They don't just know him, they talk, and regularly. Some examples: County Supervisor Zev Yaroslavsky and-the-soon-to-be appointed head of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power David Nahai. Our reps in Sacramento and Washington too talk to Jimmy and he really is good at networking. Of course, he would have more time for this if he didn't have to serve on the committee for special events and decorations on Rodeo Drive.

Final thought: The fine line between administrative and legislative seems to be in jeopardy, and mostly by enlarging what has been done before. What may have begun as a few committees has exploded into labyrinth of process.

Certainly not the advice of Thomas Jefferson: "That government is best which governs least."

***

There is one problem facing any challenger in this school board election:

The issues that toppled past incumbents are no more, not that there aren't some concerns.

What cost some board members their offices? When Barry Brucker ran his successful writein campaign for school board in 1997, the school construction program had seriously stalled. The mishaps were incredible. First, the board hires consultants based on the fine presentation of their representative. What happens? As the work of fixing the school begins, this consultant leaves the company the district retained. That was only one of the many problems faced by the then board.

Brucker won, and in the process helped elect Gerald Lunn Jr., a relatively unknown who filed at almost the very last minute. In the next election in 1999, construction remained an issue as did the frequent petty squabbles of the board. They fought bitterly over who would be the next board president!

Now, this board has helped accomplish something even our city council and city manager couldn't manage during construction of the civic center. They completed a major building effort on time and under budget! Although not always in total unity, this board works without the rancor and personality conflicts of the past.

This would have been a very different election if all three incumbents ran.

With John Millan out of the race –and he would have been very hard to beat, the first challenger to file, Steven Fenton, because of his history of involvement in education, and that of his family, is really almost perceived as an incumbent, even though he is raising new issues. There is very little doubt that Myra Lurie will win a second term easily and that incumbent Alissa Roston, will be elected to a third term. It's good for the education community that Brian Goldberg is in the race so that we have an election, but he needs more time to develop a following and demonstrate a leadership role in our public schools – that simply can't begin when you run for office.

There is an issue none of the candidates has yet to address: Finding the means to make it possible for administrators, including our superintendent, and our teaching staff to actually live in our community.

Our school chief should, at the very least, have the benefits the city gives our city manager. It is important to our community that Rod Wood and his family live in Beverly Hills. The same would be true for Kari Mc Veigh.

The problem for others, and also for city staff, is affordable housing. For schools this is a very complex issue. But we can use the planning process to provide opportunities for affordable housing and it can be used for our teachers.

Equally important, and this affects the district permit issue, is increasing the school population. Here too the planning process could make a difference. Creative planning could give incentives for builders to rent or sell to people with school-age children. In fact, that could and should be part of the general plan the city will hopefully soon adopt. It should begin by bringing the school board and administration into the general plan program.

PEOPLE NOTES: Charles Kornguth, the long-time owner of Beverly Hills Pipe and Tobacco, is recovering from surgery complicated by a fall at his home. "Charlie," although a retailer of tobacco products, carried anti-smoking messages in his store's window. For many years, Kornguth attended every police and fire department event, earning him friendships with many rank and file and top brass in both departments... Joanna Herominek has been promoted by Grubb & Ellis to an Investment and Leasing Specialist position in their West Los Angeles office. Joanna is an active member of Chamber's Government Affairs the Committee.....Wells Fargo Crescent branch's Consumer Service Manager Jo Dennie C. Canappi has been reassigned to the bank's La Cienega branch...Long time resident Betty Harris, who now spends part of the year in the Lake Tahoe area, probably wishes her mountain home community also had an anti-smoking ordinance - the kind that might control the after affects of the recent fires there. Betty, who recently attended a planning commission meeting here, said the impacts of the fire are still being felt.

LOCAL HERO: Not just one, but several very alert members of our police department managed to prevent what could have been a series of home burglaries by preemptive police work resulting in a string of arrests recently. Proving the importance of Community Policing, Officer Richard Ceja spotted some suspicious activities in a residential area and his quick actions led to the arrests of two suspects about to burglarize homes in the city; for typifying some outstanding efforts to make us even safer, Officer Ceja is this weeks LOCAL HERO.

BHHS Football Team Defeats Golden Valley

Norman girls' tennis team routs Santa Monica, Inglewood

By Steven Herbert

The Beverly High football team ended its worst start since 1983 and a six-game winless streak dating back to last season with a 35-12 victory over Santa Clarita Golden Valley Friday night at Canyon High School.

Ramon Judkins ran for three touchdowns and 120 yards on 19 carries and Dex Lucci threw touchdown passes to Erik Munzer and Dominique Sandifer, completing 14 of 18 passes for 258 yards, for the Normans (1-3-1).

"We're jelling and coming together," Beverly Hills coach Carter Paysinger said.

The Normans took control of the game late in the second quarter. Lucci threw 38- and 40yard passes to Kenny Bassett and Sandifer to set up Judkins' two-yard touchdown run on a three-play, 80-yard drive.

Beverly Hills increased its lead to 21-6 on Judkins' seven-yard run, one play after Daniel Kim blocked a punt and returned the ball to the Grizzlies' seven-yard line. Lucci threw a nine-yard touchdown pass to Sandifer with 10 seconds left in the first half.

After a scoreless third quarter, Golden Valley (2-3) cut the lead to 28-12 on quarterback Najee Coleman's one-yard fourth quarter touchdown run. Lucci threw a 14-yard pass to Munzer for the game's final touchdown.

Judkins opened the scoring with a 30-yard touchdown run in the second quarter. The Grizzlies responded with Trevon Smith's oneyard touchdown run, but their extra point kick was blocked.

Linebacker Sae Bin Park, Judkins, Munzer and Sandifer drew praise for their play from Paysinger.

League game Oct. 3 at the El Segundo Plunge.

Daniel Ilinsky, Micah Smith, Mikey Lee and Jonathan Pony scored for Beverly Hills in a two-minute, 25-second span of the second quarter, giving the Normans a 6-3 lead with 2:22 left in the first half.

El Segundo scored with 1:38 to play in the half, but Benji Koltai scored with 54 seconds remaining in the half and Lee with two seconds left, giving the Normans an 8-4 lead at halftime.

The Eagles outscored the Normans, 3-2, in the third quarter, cutting the deficit to 10-7 enter the fourth quarter. An El Segundo goal with 4:14 to play, pulled the Eagles with two, 10-8. Smith scored his third goal of the game with 3:46 left, giving Beverly Hills a threegoal lead.

El Segundo scored twice to cut the deficit to 11-10 with 1:02 remaining, but was unable to get the equalizer.

Beverly Hills, ranked fifth in the Division VI poll released Oct. 1, trailed 2-1 at the end of the first quarter, with Pony scoring the first of his two goals.

Lee also scored three goals for the Normans, while Ilinsky and Pony each added two and Koltai one.

Beverly Hills goaltender Alex Rosenthal made 15 saves.

Beverly Hills 12, Santa Monica 11

After allowing the tying goal with 20 seconds to play in regulation, the Normans scored the first three goals of overtime to build enough of a cushion to win the Ocean

League game at the Swim-Gym Friday.

Pony scored the only goal of the first threeminute overtime period. Lee and Kevin Mead scored 30 seconds apart in the second overtime period, giving Beverly Hills a 12-9 lead with 1:20 left. Santa Monica scored with 1:02 and 27 seconds remaining, but was unable to get the equalizer.

Lee and Mead each scored three goals, Pony and Smith two and Ilinsky and Koltai one each.

The score was tied 3-3 at the end of the first quarter. Santa Monica led 4-3 at halftime. The Normans 7-6 at the end of the third quarter, despite allowing the quarter's final two goals. Rosenthal made 12 saves.

Girls' Volleyball Beverly Hills def. Hawthorne, 25-18, 25-16, 25-18

Alexis Goswitz had eight service aces, Nicole Winegred seven digs and four service aces, Mallory Smith five kills and Franscesca Fiaschetti four digs for the Normans in their Ocean League opener Oct. 2 at Hawthorne.

"I was pleased," Beverly Hills coach Marla Weiss said. "We're very relaxed against a team like Hawthorne, and when we're very relaxed, we're playing very much like a team."

Santa Monica def. Beverly Hills, 25-16, 25-21, 27-25

Rosen had 14 digs, Netta Rotstein five kills, Briana Smith four kills and Smith three service aces for the Normans (5-7, 1-1 in league play) in an Ocean League match last Thursday at the Swim-Gym.

'We mentally broke down," Weiss said. "My perception was the [match] was a match of unforced errors - which team would make the fewer unforced errors - and Santa Monica made fewer unforced errors. We had an enormous number of unforced errors, such that we weren't able to put the ball over the net for the last six points of the match."

The Normans held a 24-19 lead in Game 3, but the Vikings scored the final eight points to win the match in what Weiss described as a "very, very, very disappointing loss."

Barnstable (Mass.) def. Beverly Hills, 25-23, 30-28, 25-19

The Normans played "monumentally better" than against Santa Monica, but were unable to deny the Red Raiders their 110th consecutive victory in an intersectional match Saturday at the Swim-Gym.

"We really bounced back with far better ball control then we showed against Santa Monica," Weiss said. "[We made] much fewer unforced errors."

Rosen led Beverly Hills (5-8) with nine digs, while Goswitz and Winegred each had seven. Rotstein and Mallory Smith each had six kills, while sophomore Tamara Skootsky had four service aces for Beverly Hills.

COVERSIONAL CONTRACTORY ETHICS ORDINANCE TO BE REVISITED BY CITY COUNCIL

"Revolving door" provisions could be extended to 30 months

By Elisa Osegueda

The City Council will be discussing and voting on proposed amendments to the ethics ordinance next week during the Council's formal meeting on Tuesday.

The ethics ordinance was originally brought up to establish restrictions on activities by former City Officials, elected officials and planning commissioners.

According to a staff report, the ordinance established a post-employment or "revolving door" restriction, which would limit a former public official or employee on what they can do after leaving the City's service.

"It's so easy to establish incredible relations with staff that it's hard at times to turn a new leaf in that relationship because you no longer work for the City. I thought it was appropriate to bring forward a very robust ethics ordinance that puts some time between this revolving door of representation," said Beverly Hills Vice Mayor Barry Brucker.

Currently the ordinance prohibits former public officials and employees for a period of one year after leaving office from representing any person, for compensation, in any formal or informal appearance before the City. The prohibition is two years for City employees that exercise discretionary decision-making authority.

The Ethics Ordinance Ad Hoc Committee last week proposed to the City Council that the ordinance be revised. The committee suggested two proposals, which the Council will be able to vote on next week.

"The state and federal government currently has a one year [restriction] and other cities have two years. I wanted to make a statement that Beverly Hills has the toughest ethics ordinance in the state and most robust so I proposed three years in 2005. It did not pass and what was adopted was the bare minimum the state and federal government require. [Last week] I brought forward an ethics ordinance that allows for 30 months," said Brucker.

The rationale is that many development projects come before the Council and Planning Commission.

Councilmember Linda Briskman believes in a tough ethics ordinance, but disagrees with Brucker's recommendation of a 30 month prohibition.

"I think 30 months is probably too much. If they want to go to two years that makes more sense but as long as the Councilmembers that are running know the criteria and know what is expected of them, then I think it is fair," said Briskman.

Briskman believes that current Councilmembers should not be subjected to any new amendments made to the ethics ordinance.

"I do believe that it is important that the new amendment be applied to future Councilmembers and not the current council so that they can have the ability to make their decision based on the knowledge of what is required of the job," said Briskman. "As long [as amendments are] disclosed and each person who is in the council is aware of it before they run again and new people know then I don't think there is a problem. I wouldn't oppose it but I think it makes more sense to have it be two years." The second proposal made by the Ad hoc committee suggests that a former elected official be prohibited from representing, for compensation, any person on a land use matter that was voted upon by the elected official during that official's term in office.

"By the time it is fully approved it can take two to three years. So there really is that long standing relationship that goes through the pipe line in this city, so it was reasonable to do it," said Brucker. "Because we have so many developments and because there are so many officials in the business of representing developers or found a new occupation as a lobbyist for a developer, I felt it was important to make a clear and bold robust statement that ethics will be held to the highest level."

Brucker says he has the support of Mayor Jimmy Delshad, who is part of the Ad Hoc Committee, and Councilmember Nancy Krasne.

"If the [amendments to the] ethics ordinance go through, I will accept it the day of [their] passage and I believe that the majority of planning commission and other Councilmembers will accept it as well," said Krasne.

According to Briskman, having a strong ethics ordinance is important, but she continues to have reservations on the issue.

"I have no problem with Beverly Hills having an ethics ordinance that is more stringent than the state requires, but I do think there is a point where it could be too much. It could deter someone from wanting to take the position, and I also feel that an honest person stays honest, and a dishonest person stays dishonest," said Briskman.

Everything I had done before was always in a traditional system and now I am working with non-traditional systems. Our superintendent Dr. Phil Pendley is a huge proponent of finding ways to help all kids. He believes the traditional system works for about 65 percent of the kids, and there is a 35 percent that it doesn't work for. What we try and do is look for complementary ways that will help make sure those kids [that fall under the 35 percent] don't fall through the cracks and that they get the opportunity those kids in the traditional school system already have.

Tell us about the management styles of Gwen Gross versus Jeff Hubbard.

I think I can [summarize them] by explaining the way I was hired by Gwen. And this pretty much says what her style is, after my interview process and site visit, I had spoken with everyone except with her, the superintendent, your direct boss. She called me and said, "so we are ready to offer you the position are you ready to take it?" and I said, "well you know, I've had the opportunity to speak with everyone else about Beverly Hills except you."

I said, "I've heard about what you want to have happen in the district, I heard about what you think are the district challenges, I've also heard that you are in declining enrollment, had to cut $5 million in your first year, so you want all of these [improvements] to happen but how are you going to make them happen? And if I am the one that is suppose to do it; I need some idea of what you are planning."

And she said, "let me just tell you this, if I want something to happen I will find a way to make it happen."

And I thought to myself, well how can you turn that down? And so basically I adopted that as my own philosophy.

What I remember most about Gwen was that she was so accessible. There was never any time that I couldn't literally walk in [to her office] and talk to her. She held a student advisory group over at the high school every month and I don't know of any other superintendent that does that. [She sought ways of obtaining] kids perspectives on what they want out of their high school.

Jeff, he was always right there, he was someone I could depend on. Particularly in personnel-type things. He always wanted me to be on negotiations, the curricular stuff just wasn't his thing and personnel thing wasn't mine.

They were both very easy to work with.

Why did you leave Beverly Hills?

The year that I was hired as assistant superintendent I had just purchased a home in Palm Springs. I had planned in being in Riverside County; I plan on retiring in Palm Springs. I actually commuted for three years when I was in Beverly Hills. So when a position became open out here that I was qualified for, it only made sense for me to do it. That's really the only reason because I was having a great time.

Do you keep in touch with anyone from the BHUSD?

Yes, Carola Drew my secretary, we are always in touch with each other. Irene Stern, I talk with her from time to time. I see a few of the teachers occasionally. But Carola is the one I see the most, she retired a year ago.

Do you have any advice for young teachers?

Teachers who go into this profession today need to be prepared to work hard, harder than what they have ever worked in their lives. They really need to be prepared because the accountability systems that are being implemented and the federal standards that we are expected to reach now, you got to always seek new ways to teach, you need to make that teaching real for them [students] and you need to make it come to life for them. If they don't, then teachers won't be effective.

CAN YOU TURN YOUR $1 MILLION IRA INTO $10 MILLION?

If you are over 70 and have accumulated more money in your IRAs and Pensions than you need to live on, Alan Kaye can show you how to create more money for your heirs and favorite charities than you ever anticipated! At age  $70^{1/2}$ , people who have IRAs, Pensions and 401k plans are required to take minimum annual distributions that are subject to ordinary income tax. If you don't spend or give that money away, it could be subject to estate taxes as well. After income and estate taxes, those in the highestbrackets could be leaving their families less than 1/3 of what they anticipated.

Why bother to make "wise" investments when it is likely that more than half of your accumulated wealth will go to the government instead of your family?

Simple Solutions!

If you have a large amount of money in your IRA, you can gift your annual distribution to your family, using that money to buy a life insurance policy that would create tax-free money for your heirs. In many cases, using the money to buy life insurance could give your heirs more than they would receive after-tax, by continuing to accumulate the funds in their retirement plans.

Assuming that your retirement plan earns a return of 5% annually, you could withdraw that amount without diminishing the principal. One client with a $1million IRA used his annual distribution to buy $3 million of life insurance to benefit his family. If he doesn't spend the principal, his plan is to leave the balance of his IRA to his own charitable foundation.

Under current law, without life insurance, his $1 million IRA would have to grow to more than $10 million, so that after income and estate taxes, his family could get the same $3 million that life insurance would pay tax-free. What's more, he can now leave more money to charity than he ever expected to. Why wait for your $1 million retirement plan to grow to $10 million? As president of the Alan Kaye Insurance Agency and vice president of Barry Kaye Associates, Alan Kaye has helped thousands of people meet their goals by creating insurance plans that best satisfy their needs.

If you are over 70 years old and not maximizing the use of your assets, find out how life insurance can provide you with the opportunity to leave more tax-free money for both your heirs and charities. Call for a free consultation and be sure to ask when Alan Kaye's next free seminar will be held in your area.
