Lively subway route hearing at Roxbury Park

Several Beverly Hills residents spoke out at the Metro Westside Extension Public Hearing on Monday at the Roxbury Park Auditorium. The fourth of five public hearings, this hearing allowed community members to put their concerns, questions and suggestions into public record for the Metro Board to take into consideration when compiling the final Environmental Impact Statement / Environmental Impact Report (EIS/EIR).

At their last meeting September 14, the BHUSD Board of Education unanimously voted in support of the Santa Monica Boulevard route.

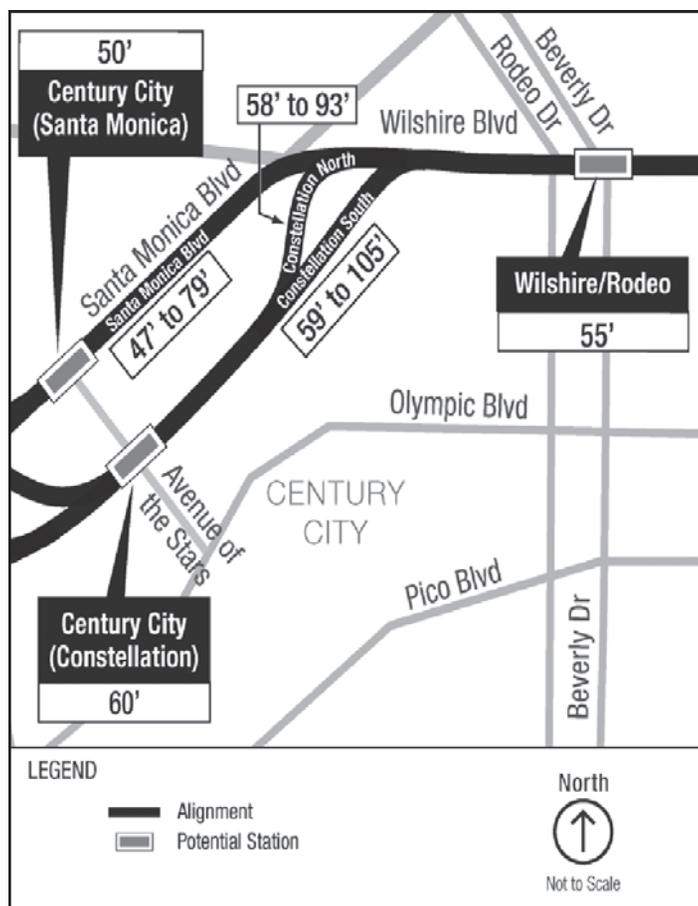

"Board members are opposed to the proposed alternative routes that would take the subway extension under Beverly Hills High School," Board of Education member Brian Goldberg said.

One purpose of the meeting was to give residents a brief overview of the draft EIS/EIR. The draft EIR/EIS proposed five rail alternatives for the subway. The purple line currently ends at Wilshire/Western and these alternatives are looking at a way to get the subway to the ocean. Alternative one is an extension of the purple line to Westwood/UCLA. Alternative two is an extension of the purple line to the VA Hospital campus. Alternative three is an extension of the purple line into Santa Monica with an end station at Wilshire/4th. Alternative four is an extension of the purple line to Westwood/VA Hospital campus plus a potential West Hollywood extension. Alternative five is an extension of the Purple Line into Santa Monica with an end station at Wilshire/4th with the potential West Hollywood Extension.

Financing for the Westside extension was not made available until taxpayers passed Measure R in November 2008. Now, half of the funding will come from Measure R and Metro will be seeking federal funds for the rest.

Most of the comments made at the hearing revolved around Beverly Hills community support for the Santa Monica Boulevard alignment. Metro has proposed the subway use Linden Drive or Lasky Drive to get from Wilshire/Rodeo into Century City. In doing so, the subway would run under residences, Beverly High and Good Shepherd Catholic school. If the Metro stuck to the original alternative, down Santa Monica Boulevard, it would not go under any residences or schools.

OUR DATA SPEAKS VOLUMES

Goldman asked the residents who thought the Santa Monica Boulevard route “was a perfectly acceptable route” to stand. All but a handful of people stood around the room stood in agreement.

“We’re here in incredible numbers from all over the city to tell you not to trade the safety of our city’s only high school, of our city’s disaster center, of Good Shepherd school and of thousands of students and teachers as well as residential property values just to enhance and enrich a few politically powerful Century City developers and just to move the subway station one block closer to their properties,” Goldman said.

Goldman said he believes the draft EIS/EIR is slanted in favor of the business developers in Century City who want the subway to be close to the Twin Towers office building project that has used the Metro Subway as a selling point in their advertising.

“Why else would [Metro] publish a seismic study of Santa Monica Boulevard and not clearly state that the frequency of the fault activity is one in every 7,000 years,” Goldman said. “[Metro] calls it active, the state of California does not.”

Due to the high volume of people who wanted to speak at the hearing, Metro Communications Manager Jody Litvak attempted to keep everyone’s comments to under two minutes. Many felt as though Litvak wasn’t paying attention to public concerns, as she was cutting people off in the middle of sentences and was too pre-occupied with organizing speakers to turn and listen. Some who were waiting to speak gave their time to allow others to finish important points.

Councilmember Nancy Krasne compared the potential disasters from the Westside extension to the 2008 Chatsworth Metrolink crash, where 25 people died and 175 were maimed. Metro and Metrolink, owned by Viola Transit, have a cap on liability insurance of $200 million. So if another incident were to occur, Metro would only take that much responsibility. There is now legislation in congress, pending approval, to take off that cap.

“Safety should be the greatest concern for the Metro placement, not money,” Krasne said. “Putting this under [Beverly High] or Good Shepherd School is unconscionable to say the least. Do you think Viola is going to stand behind [the subway tunnel] with its $200 million?”

Community members have until October 18 to submit comments for public record. Comments for public record can be mailed to David Mieger, Metro, One Gateway Plaza, MS 9-22-5, Los Angeles, CA. 90012, e mailed to westsideextension@metro.net, made on an online comment/question form at metro.net/westside or voicemail at (213) 992-6934.

Julian Gold announces candidacy for City Council

Recreation and Parks Commissioner Dr. Julian Gold has announced his candidacy for the March 2011 City Council election, Tuesday. The Weekly interviewed Gold, in Issue # 477 “Going with the flow,” when he became the chair of the Traffic and Parking Commission.

Julian Gold

Trying to become active in the Beverly Hills community, Gold participated in Team Beverly Hills.

“Shortly after, there was an opening on [the Traffic and Parking Commission],”

Gold said in the 2008 interview. “Traffic and Parking was something that obviously we all live with and I understood. Or thought I understood. I certainly understood as a user, if not as a Commissioner. So it seemed a logical place for me to get involved, and I was fortunate enough to get appointed.”

For 31 years, Gold has worked as an anesthesiologist for 31 years and currently is co-chairman of the anesthesiologist department at Cedars-Sinai.

Gold lives in Beverly Hills with his wife, Michele and daughter Rebecca who is a graduate of Hawthorne and Beverly High.

Gold did not return The Weekly’s call.

He was very surprised to find that most of our ASB class disagreed and loved the mural. So, I talked to our teacher Ms. [Loren] Newman and she said well you should start a petition then. So, I did.”

can discuss at that point in time if we want to put a mural back up. But that's a decision that will be made at a later date. Right now I'm concerned with having buildings with paint that's chipped and worn."

As of the Tuesday Board of Education meeting, the district has a policy that will dictate how and when a mural can be painted on BHUSD school. The Hawthorne mural will also potentially be painted over.

The policy states that all murals placed on an exterior wall or surface of a school site which can be viewed by the general public must be approved by the principal, superintendent and the Board of Education.

1. All plans for the painting of a mural on the exterior of a school building or structure should first be approved by the Principal.

2. Upon site approval, the Principal will send the proposal to the Superintendent.

3. The Superintendent will either approve or deny this site recommendation. If approved, the Superintendent will submit the proposal to the Board for final approval.

North Rexford Drive resident Betsy Meyers finds the Hawthorne mural to be embarrassing claiming when she has company over, they ask questions about it.

"All of the neighbors that face Hawthorne can see it from their front windows," Meyers said. "When I have company over, I've heard several comments like 'what is that thing doing in Beverly Hills'. It's embarassing to try and explain it to them. For the purpose that they say of school spirit, I really think it should be aimed more towards the students. It would seem to me that it would make sense to have it in the school where they could see it."

Another concern for Meyers is the mural brings attention to the school that may be both wanted and unwanted.

"A while back, they had these screens put up because they had a problem with outsiders coming in," Meyers said. "I think that given what the situation is these days, to call attention to an elementary school like that is another issue of many. I'd like to see the school return to its original condition, without the mural."

For several years, Meyers has been leading a campaign to have the mural removed. She circulated a petition around her neighborhood at the time the mural was constructed and got a large amount of signatures from people who were against the mural.

"The people I've talked to, even some PTA people at the time, realized it was a mistake and were afraid to speak up because of possible repercussions," Meyers said.

When talking to the ASB, Philips said Fenton mentioned the mural could ultimately be moved to another location of the school. But to move the mural would take it away from its central location in the school.

"You could put it on the football field but then it's only for football games," Philips said. "You could put it on Heath Avenue where the parking lot is but then its only where people drive by. The perfect part of the location right now is anyone can see it, its visible to anyone who passes by the high school and really shows that this is our high school, this is Norman Nation and I don't think that nay other location has the ability to do that."

Beverly High PTSA President Ronit Stone said the PTSA is in support of keeping the mural.

"It's a symbol of our Norman spirit and the PTSA supports out students and we'll do anything to help support their student spirit," Stone said. "That was the whole intention when the mural was painted to begin with, it was a school spirit item.

Fenton said he is in support of having murals, so long as the murals fit are clean looking and well maintained.

"I'm all for murals, there's a great mural inside the swim gym," Fenton said. "I'm all for having a conversation. If the community wants murals, that's fine with me as long as the murals look beautiful and don't look worn. I want whatever murals go on buildings to look new."

Indictment seemingly shakes the Iranian Jewish Community

In his first court appearance, Iranian Jewish businessman Ezri Namvar declined to enter a plea on five counts of wire fraud. After being forced into involuntary bankruptcy in 2009, Namvar was indicted on those five counts by a grand jury last Tuesday, September 21. At the request of Namvar's attorney, Judge Paul Abrams postponed the plea until Monday.

Many in the Los Angeles Iranian Jewish Community, who invested with Namvar, will not be getting their money back.

Namvar ran a company called Namco Financial Exchange, a 1031 company who holds onto money in between real estate transactions so the investor will not have to pay taxes on it while transferring the money from one property to another.

The five counts of wire fraud are based on transactions that Namvar could not complete in 2008, said Namvar's defense attorney Marc Harris.

"The allegation indictment says for five of his clients in 2008, he took money in from them after they sold their first property," Harris said. "When they found the other property, because of the financial meltdown of Namco and Ezri and all of this investments, he didn't have the money. He had taken it, put it into other things and the money wasn't there when these people called upon it and they couldn't complete the second transaction and lost their money."

Many in the Iranian Jewish community have lost their homes, said A. David Youssefyeh, a local Iranian Jewish attorney who since December 2008 has been advising nearly 20 Iranian Jewish creditors with claims against Namvar.

"People's whole trust within the community is long gone," Youssefyeh said. "People used to do stuff on a handshake and it just doesn't happen anymore. I mean here's a guy who was supposedly a leader in the community and if you can't trust him then who can you trust?"

For years before Youssefyeh took on the case against Namvar, people would come up to Youssefyeh and tell him about their problems with him.

"People had approached me for many years about issues they were having with him,” Youssefyeh said. “His reputation for being less than honest has preceded this whole event happening. So when this started happening, I saw some of the games that he was playing with his creditors and I decided to get involved because it was the right thing to do.”

Overall, Youssefyeh said he can't begin to anticipate what the outcome of Namvar's trial will be but hopes that Namvar will find a way to pay his creditors back.

“What I hope will happen is that he will repatriate the money he's been hiding overseas and use that to pay his creditors,” Youssefyeh said. “He has had extensive dealings with Israel. In fact, at the time that his company was going bankrupt, he was offering creditors a condo in one of his buildings in Israel [instead of getting their money back].”

Beverly Hills dentist Arash Hakhamian invested his life savings with the Namvar family. Hakhamian lost all of the money he had saved for his college education and had to take out student loans to pay for his education. Since then, he has become an advocate for the community against people like Namvar by protesting and otherwise speaking on behalf of the community.

“I'm doing this to bring attention to the families that are hurting,” Hakhamian said. “I really want to convey to the public and the Namvar family that it really hurt our community. More importantly, I'm carrying this stance for the next person who tries to pull this scam on our community that there are going to be individuals like myself who are going to be vocal on this issue.”

Harris said they believe Namvar did not defraud anyone and will be acquitted if the case goes to trial.

“He didn't pocket the money, he didn't steal the money from these people,” Harris said. “Yes they did lose their money and many people have sued him claiming they breached their contract with them. It's not fraud. He fully intended to have the money there for these clients and all of this clients and the fact that it didn't work out that way doesn't mean that it's criminal.”

City of Beverly Hills opens $22 million commercial building

Mahdi Aluzri

The city of Beverly Hills opened a $22 million commercial building at 3331 Foothill. The four story, 72,000 square foot building has been built to achieve a LEED silver rating, which means the building met the qualifications set out by the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design to provide an environmentally friendly building and took approximately 20 months to build. The building features low-water and little-maintenance plant materials and is the first public building in Beverly Hills with rooftop solar panels.

Currently occupying the building is the City's Cable company on part of the fourth floor and Participant Media on the entire third floor and part of the second floor. Part or entire floors are available to rent at $4 to $4.50 per square foot.

Assistant City Manager Mahdi Aluzri said the city owns several other commercial properties and parking structures in the business district including the Williams-Sonoma structure. Money made from the properties goes straight back into the community.

“Lease revenue from these properties generates funding to provide for upkeep, maintenance and replacement of public parking,” Aluzri said.

The 3331 Foothill building is located in the entertainment business district, home to companies such as AOL, Live Nation, Gibson Guitars and MySpace. Aluzri said the city hopes the new building will spark a redevelopment of the area.

“The City views this as a prime example of leveraging City assets to advance economic development opportunities in the area, particularly as the City continues to market the building to attract entertainment businesses and creative enterprises,” Aluzri said.

BHUSD looks to outsource food services after unsuccessful start for Food Service Department

After the Board of Education voted August 23 to reduce the hours of and eliminate some of Food Service Department classified positions due to lack of funds, the department this year has been a challenge to run said Mary Anne McCabe, Executive Director of Budget and Food Services.

“Our business plan has not achieved a majority of the objectives we set forward and we are continuing to do the financial monitoring,” McCabe said. “Due to absenteeism, we have had to change our focus in the department to fill numerous holes in our schedules which has delayed production and also made longer lines. We also had to spend a lot of time doing some training and make sure that all of our kitchens could be operational which is a slow process.”

Since the beginning of the school year, six of the 30 employees are on the injured reserve list and the absenteeism is as high as 30 percent of Food Service department employees on any given day. This means that there is not enough personnel to fill vending machines on a regular basis, create menus and healthy options for students and operate cash registers for students to purchase their lunch.

Board of Education member Brian Goldberg has expressed severe disappointment in the way the Food Service Department has handled the first few weeks of school.

“This is the first time, during my time as a board member, that I am profoundly disappointed in our staff,” Board of Education member Brian Goldberg said. “The only ones who suffered as a result of this action were our students and for that I am deeply disappointed. I hope the remaining staff hears that message loud and clear, I expect them to work hard and show us that food services is something that should continue to be a part of our district.”

This lack of employee support has left Chad Michaels, BHUSD Food Service Manager/Account Technician who started mid July, attempting to pull together an acceptable food service program for the BHUSD but falling short. Among other things, Michaels was responsible for filling the vending machines at all five schools yet fell short of his responsibility.

“On the second week of August, I met with lots of vendors telling them exactly what I needed for my thought of a vending machine with healthy products,” Michaels said. “When I received the news my production specialist was not going to be in, who I was going to rely on help with the menus and the lunch and the nutrition plan, I was new at it and had to take a little bit more time to try to get it right. We got most of it right, there were two instances in the last two weeks where I was not. I had to put vending machines aside [to take care of the

Pat Boone speaks at Beverly Hills Tea Party rally

In the name of conservative fiscal issues, Josephine Rescigno organized Beverly Hills first Tea Party Sunday September 26. The 35 year Beverly Hills resident, Rescigno saw the way things were going in Beverly Hills and saw the Tea Party as a way to speak out about the problems she noticed.

“I put this party together for fiscal issues,” Rescigno said. “We're concerned about taxes being raised and the Bush tax cuts not being extended. Look at everyone in Beverly Hills where there are for lease signs up, it's really sad.”

The Tea Parties of today are a throwback to the Boston Tea Party of 1773. They similarly protest high taxes and speak out about other fiscal issues. While Tea Parties have been held in cities all over the United States, this was a first for Beverly Hills.

Rescigno said she thinks the event was a success. Even the heat wave didn't keep everyone away from the Beverly Hills sign at the Beverly Gardens Park on Santa Monica Boulevard.

“The heat was so hot,” Rescigno said. “If we had 75 degrees there, the place would have been packed. There were 100 [people] or more and we were hiding under trees to stay cool.”

Never having been to a tea party, Rescigno enlisted the help of friends Pamela Hoffman and Debi Devens as well as singer, actor, writer and neighbor Pat Boone. Boone emceed the rally, where speakers came and talked about a variety of topics including fiscal and military concerns.

“Pat Boone gave his time and his loyalty and attracted his friends to come,” Rescigno said. “He was the pinnacle part of this all coming together and I really praise him for that. I really love this guy, he's an inspiration to everyone. He had the courage to come forward to speak his mind.”

Ultimately Rescigno said she hopes the rally gave other conservatives living in Beverly Hills the idea that they aren't alone and shouldn't be ashamed of their political views.

“What I hope happens is the conservatives get out to vote for the conservative people,” Rescigno said. “We need to change what's going on in this country, it's not going well right now. It's a questionable time in our lives and if we put the right people in our office things are going to change.”

menus and nutrition plan]. I thought I could take care of it all but I could not.”

During the Board of Education meeting Tuesday, Board of Education Vice President Lisa Korbatov suggested the district begin to look at outsourcing the food services.

“I'd like some proposals for outsourcing,” Korbatov said. “[We should take] 30 days to gather two or three proposals from companies. I think we have to really look at the viability of this. Clearly we're depending on people who don't want to come to work. Our kids are suffering and struggling with this.”

Board of Education President Steven Fenton said he supports Korbatov's idea of outsourcing and although he hopes the

United city speaks

And notes on events, issues

By Rudy Cole

Last Monday was a good, no great, night for Beverly Hills. Not just because the community packed Roxbury Park auditorium to fight a proposed subway under Beverly Hills High School, Good Shepherd School and many southwest homes, but because it demonstrated how we can come together when we share a common goal.

The meeting was called by the Metropolitan Transit Authority to solicit comments on a Draft Environmental Impact Report and Study.

Herb Young, Alan Kaye, Thomas White, Rose Norton, Peggy Kaus, Gloria Seiff, Virginia Maas, Lili Bosse, Noah Furie, Brian David Goldberg, Myra Lurie, Lisa Korbatov, Barry Brucker, John Mirisch, Nancy Krasne and Father Tom Welbers of Good Shepherd are just a few who spoke. They represented an incredible cross section of homeowner, business, government, educational and charitable groups in our city. They spoke with passion, but were also respectful of the process. Had you been there, you would have been proud of our village. (Mayor Jimmy Delshad, Councilmember Dr. Willie Brien, School Board President Steven Fenton and Board Member Jake Manaster have all joined the campaign too.)

As I am sure you understand, the subway route decision will be made by the MTA and there is very little our own city council or school board can do except speak out. However, funding for at least half the costs of construction for the subway will have to come from the federal government. What the MTA is putting at risk is congressional support if the voices of Beverly Hills say: No subway if it tunnels under our high school.

We may be a minor blip in the total scheme of a regional mass transit system. But this is not some few no-sayers fighting a government agency. There are simply too many risks, too many unanswered hazards in going under our only high school to assuage our concerns, and that is why we are speaking with one voice.

Nothing is yet final. We need to keep up our involvement and continue to speak out. However, I think calmer heads in the MTA leadership will hear our appeals and the route we have supported will be accepted – Wilshire and then Santa Monica.

Our special thanks to Lori and Ken Goldman for their tireless efforts and leadership.

Speaking of traffic and routes, there is another less watched effort being launched that could also have serious impacts on our community: A proposal to place a bike path along Santa Monica Boulevard.

For many weeks bike riders have been marching on city hall decrying the lack of a bike path through Beverly Hills and citing some serious safety problems for cyclists.

As much as we would want to provide for the safety, comfort and enjoyment of a bike path, there are serious side impacts that simply may not make this feasible.

Aside from the horrendous costs for any work on Santa Monica, there is an equally troubling likely impact on east-west streets north of Santa Monica during and after construction. Diversion through residential of enormous trip generation may simply be too heavy a price to pay for a bike path.

Before the city council even commits to the high costs of a feasibility study, it should take a careful look at what the possible impacts would be on one of our most heavily traveled boulevards and on north peripheral streets. Unfortunately, just saying no may be the only answer.

Had the Tea Party rally Sunday served iced tea, they just might have had more converts as nature welcomed them to Beverly Hills with the highest temperatures of the year.

Pat Boone, no stranger to right-wing politics, organized, presided and sang at the event that attracted some 400 advocates or simply the curious, although I recognized hardly anyone who lived here. Boone made a reference to the unlikely venue with “who would have thought we would have a Tea Party event in Beverly Hills?” I think I know what he really meant.

Hard to really perceive what they favor, but I got what they opposed: government. Boone decried “career politicians,” I assume he does not want government service to become a vocation. Of course, the organization also decries most forms of taxation, “illegal” immigration and a litany of the usual right-wing prayers.

It is almost amusing to hear super patriots of the right extol the historic efforts of revolutionaries, and that is really what the Boston Tea Party was all about, not just taxation without representation.

Career politicians? Who made more of a career of elected and appointive office than Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Alexander Hamilton or even Patrick Henry? Or, a more recent hero, Ronald Reagan, who devoted almost all of his time and energy to politics once he abandoned his acting career?

It is reasonable to assume that the Tea Party activists approved of some of these “careerists.”

As for Tea Party backed candidates, are they likely, if they win election, to rush to Washington or some state capitol only to make plans for quick departures from government service? Or, if they run for reelection, will their supporters denounce them as being the new political establishment?

What is really amusing, is how the right wing has co-opted some political catch phrases including “fighting the special interests.” The righties identify “unions” and environmentalists as the new culprits of power, out to destroy personal freedoms.

However, the most tricky slogan is “we need to get government off our backs.” Yes, I am sure the egg farming conglomerates in Iowa, BP in the Gulf and PG&E in Northern California are deeply offended by all those pesky governmental agencies inspecting their private domains.

Another remarkable achievement of our community is the continued success and relevance of two groups: the Beverly Hills Education Foundation and The Maple Counseling Center. Last Tuesday, BHEF delivered a $600,000 donation to the schools and reported on their remarkable support at each school site on a mix of good projects.

Next month TMCC will hold their annual fund raiser, always an enjoyable and meaningful evening, but in these days of increased stress and uncertainty, your involvement and support is almost a civic duty.

TMCC does such incredible work with our schools, police department, seniors and individual counseling that it is a civic necessity, not just another do good charity.

This year the honorees will be Andy Cohen of Gensler (the major architectural group) for Community Excellence, Peter Garland of Porto Via, where the power brokers dine, for Community Spirit and the Maple Leaf award will go to long time TMCC activist, Mel Feuer – I think it is even possible that some state assemblyman may present Mel with some recognition.

Leading the work in organizing the gala are chair Corinne Verdery of Oasis West Realty with co-chairs Gail Milan, Cedars Sinai official, and our city government’s highly regarded Sandra Olivencia.

Titled “The Haunted Crystal Ball” the dinner will be on Wednesday, October 27 at the Beverly Hilton, and that hotel really gives great banquets.

Aside from a three course dinner, the evening will include an upscale silent auction and a musical entertainment program.

Unheralded great deeds department: thanks to the effort of a family with deep roots in our community, a dangerous intersection is now safer and more usable.

When Maynard Brittan found it impossible to make a right turn from Little to Big Santa Monica Blvd. near Moreno Drive following the reconstruction of those streets, he and his family set about funding the improvement that benefits both Beverly Hills and Century City. It was completed on August 13, 2010 and was begun when the original scheme ran over budget in September, 2005.

The estimated donation/costs was in excess of $150,000.00. City traffic officials cooperated with those in Los Angeles and both agencies praised the Brittan family.

Now, when you drive west more safely, give a moment of thanks to Mickey and his family.

Beverly High Library to reopen Monday

The upgraded Beverly High library will be reopening on Monday, October 4. The project was initiated by the PTSA during the 2009/2010 school year and was completed thanks to a donation by Lili and Jon Bosse.

Karen Boyarsky

The library will offer brand new computers and new furniture. The library catalog is now completely web based, so students will be able to seek materials when they are off campus or at home. Students can place books on hold over the internet, through this new system, but will still have to go into the library to check them out.

With the new online catalog system, librarian Karen Boyarsky said she hopes students will use library resources more often.

"Our students live in the real world, where they are using internet sources for all of their information, for social networking and for reading the news," Boyarsky said. "So the more that our library resources can engage students because [the library resources] look like what they're doing on their own time, the more successful we'll be."

Lili Bosse said the Bosse family donated to the Beverly High library because they want to encourage students to use the library.

"My passion has always been books and libraries," Bosse said. "It was a natural fit for my passion and what I believe in."

Speed Doesn't Kill As BHHS Football Team Defeats Hamilton

To Beverly High football coach Donald Paysinger, Hamilton High was the Normans' first opponent of 2010 with speed, but the result was similar to their first two games.

Beverly Hills defeated the Yankees, 36-7, in an intersectional game Friday at Hamilton, the third time the Normans scored at least 29 points and the third time they allowed seven or fewer.

The Beverly Hills defense did not allow Hamilton to capitalize on its speed. The Norman first-team defense allowed 16 rushing yards on 23 carries over the first three quarters. All six of the Yankees' passes were incomplete, with Daniel Yep and Torrey Lubkin making interceptions for Beverly Hills.

What price freedom? Hopefully, the

"I was impressed with our defense," Paysinger said. "This is the first game where we've seen some type of speed and we were able to contain that."

Despite the 36 points – 14 which came off turnovers and two on a safety – the Normans "still have to clean up some stuff on offense," Paysinger said.

Frank Brown rushed for 75 yards and two touchdowns on 20 carries for Beverly Hills (3-0) and drew praise from Paysinger, along with guard Michael Gluck.

Norman quarterback Josh Newman completed six of 16 passes for 83 yards, including a 22-yard pass to Daniel Jack for a touchdown in the first quarter.

Newman "was average," with "a couple of misreads," Paysinger said.

Newman also ran one yard for a touchdown in the third quarter.

Matt Yasher ran two yards in the fourth quarter for Beverly Hills' final touchdown.

Hamilton (1-2, with its victory coming by forfeit) spoiled the Normans' bid for their second consecutive shutout when Aaron Rogers ran three yards for a touchdown with five minutes, 43 seconds to play, six plays after Sukari White's 46-yard kickoff return gave the Yankees the ball on Beverly Hills' 22-yard line.

The Normans are scheduled to play host to Canyon (3-0), who Paysinger described as "a very disciplined team," Friday at 7 p.m. in a nonleague game at Nickoll Field.

"We're going to have to be very disciplined," Paysinger said.

BHHS Boys' Water Polo Team Wins Three Tournament Games

The Beverly High boys' water polo team bounced back from a season-opening loss by winning its next three games, only to fall one victory short of winning the Malibu Tournament.

The Normans lost to host Malibu, 7-2, Saturday in their final game, where a victory would have given them the championship. Beverly Hills trailed 3-2 at halftime, but the Sharks scored twice in the third quarter and twice in the fourth to seal the victory.

The Normans opened the scoring with one minute, 51 seconds left in the first quarter on Dillon Silverstein's goal. Malibu scored the first three goals of the second quarter. Sho Emerson scored for Beverly Hills 57.8 seconds before halftime.

Norman goalkeeper Gianni Cantu made 10 saves.

Beverly Hills began play Saturday by defeating Sherman Oaks Notre Dame, 7-6, with Austin Shaheri scoring three goals, including the game-winner with 50 seconds

The Normans led 6-3 entering the fourth quarter. The Knights cut the lead to 6-4 on Jackson Dunn's goal with 3:02 remaining. Notre Dame tied the score with 1:45 left as Nils Besvold scored his second goal in 55 seconds.

Suarez scored twice in the first quarter.

Beverly Hills began pool play Friday by defeating Agoura 6-2 as Shaheri and Suarez each scored twice and Silverstein and Emerson once each.

The Normans led 1-0 at the end of the first quarter, 4-0 at halftime and 4-1 entering the fourth quarter.

Cantu made six saves and had one assist and one steal.

Beverly Hills defeated Santa Maria, 16-8, in their second pool play game Friday, as Zak Zukoski scored four goals and Shaheri and Suarez three each.

Ariel Rafalian scored twice for the Normans and Emerson, Nick Goncharov, Tyler Neman and Brandon Sadigh once each.

Beverly Hills scored the first six goals and led 6-1 at the end of the first quarter, 12-3 at halftime and 13-6 entering the fourth quarter.

Cantu made six saves and had five assists and three steals.

The Normans began the season with a 9-4 loss at Redondo in a nonleague game Sept. 21.

Shaheri scored twice and Silverstein and Suarez once each.

Beverly Hills trailed 5-2 at halftime and 7-3 entering the fourth quarter. The first quarter ended in a 1-1 tie.

Cantu made seven saves and had two assists and two steals.

The Normans is scheduled to face El Segundo Friday at 3 p.m. at El Segundo High in a first-round game of the 41st annual Henry Stuart South Bay Tournament.

If Beverly Hills wins, it would face the Brentwood-West Torrance winner at 6:20 p.m. in a championship quarterfinal. A Norman loss would relegate them to a consolation quarterfinal against the Brentwood-West Torrance loser at 8 p.m. Either game would be played at El Segundo High.

Beverly Hills is also scheduled to play two tournament games Saturday and open Ocean League play Monday at 3 p.m. against El Segundo at the Swim-Gym.

The Normans won one other doubles set by forfeit and two singles sets by forfeit.

Beverly Hills is scheduled to play host to Santa Barbara Tuesday and Peninsula Wednesday in nonleague matches beginning at 3 p.m.

Santa Barbara was ranked third in the Southern Section Division II poll released Monday and Peninsula fifth in Division I.

The Beverly High girls' golf team defeated Redondo, 269-277, last Thursday in an Ocean League match at Rancho Park Golf Course, with Lydia Choi firing a team-low three-over-par 38 for the Normans, who had lost to the Sea Hawks, 215-232 two days earlier at Alondra Golf Course in Lawndale.

Beverly Hills (1-3, 1-3 in league play) lost to Palos Verdes, 194-244, Tuesday in an Ocean League match at Rancho Park Golf Course, with Choi shooting a team-low one-over-par 36.

The Normans are scheduled to face Palos Verdes today at 2:45 p.m. at Palos Verdes Country Club and Los Angeles Marlborough Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Rancho Park Golf Course in Ocean League matches.

BEVERLY HIGH ATHLETIC ALUMNI TO BE INDUCTED INTO HALL OF FAME

Honorees discuss how sports changed their lives.

By Marla Schevker

The Beverly Hills Athletic Alumni Association will host its Fourth Annual Hall of Fame Dinner Saturday, October 16 at the Covell Commons on the UCLA campus. The association will honor five athletic alumni, one McCarthy Lifetime Achievement Award recipient and the inaugural Polis Award, which is given to an extraordinary individual who has distinguished themselves through outstanding leadership, enduring guidance and unselfish service to student athletes at the high school.

Ian Elliot
(Posthumous Honoree)
Class of 1940
Football, Basketball and Track

Football, Basketball and Track MVP Captain Ian Elliot was shot down during World War II

on his 49th mission, January 5, 1944. A B17 bomber pilot, he could have gone home after his 25th mission, but instead wrote a letter to his parents detailing his plans for helping to win the war and he stayed. After Elliot had flown 25 missions, he was eligible to come home but he didn't want to stop fighting the war until it had been won and stayed for what he planned to be an additional 25 missions.

Elliot was a four-year varsity letterman at basketball and football and three-year varsity letterman at track. He was all CIF track hurdler and captain of his basketball team. He married his high school sweetheart, 1940 Beverly High graduate Betty Stacey in 1942. He was also president of the Academic Knights Organization, an honor society for academic excellence, at Beverly High.

Elliot was chosen as an honoree by the Beverly Hills Athletic Supporters Association, also known as The Jocks. The organization was started by Justin McCarthy, whom the McCarthy award is named after, to reunite former Beverly High athletes. Spitz asked the Jocks to pick one individual who they thought deserved to be recognized and they picked Elliot.

"Ian was the number one athlete coming out of the high school," Spitz said. "He went on to serve his country and sacrifice his life. I think it's an important tribute to the City to have a person who will be recognized, particularly one who has never been recognized for what he did. The fact that it's a Beverly Hills patriot and he happened to be doing it through athletics, he's every bit as much a patriot as he was a good athlete."

Elliot's brother, Sax Elliot, was a well-known Beverly High Coach who taught at Beverly from 1935 until 1950 as well as the innovator of the swim gym and the first person to decide to put glass on the basketball hoop backboards. Sax died four years ago.

"[Sax] conceived the idea [of the swim gym] because the parents of [Beverly High] students were complaining," Spitz said. "They didn't like the idea that the swimming team had to drive to LA High School to practice because there was no pool and the basketball parents were saying the gym had no place for anyone to sit. It didn't exist so he conceived the idea to build a basketball court that divided in the middle and underneath would be a pool."

Elliot had four blanket Most Valuable Player awards and was also an all league player for three of his four years in every sport.

"He was an incredible athlete," Spitz said. "You don't get your varsity letter generally until you're a junior or so but through his freshman onto senior year, he was incredible."

Don Long
Class of 1955
Football, Basketball and Baseball

For Don Long, the support of his parents and two older sisters, Theresia and Susan, throughout his life is what has kept him going and striving for the best. Growing up involved in athletics at Beverly Vista School, it was his family that kept both Long's grades and personality in check.

After graduating from UCLA but before moving to Florida, Long went into the egg business. Long and JoAnn went to a Beverly High football awards banquet and after dinner former Beverly Hills Major C. Dean Olson approached Long about joining him and his brother in the largest privately-owned egg company in the United States. Long was in the egg business until 2000.

Long now lives in Melbourne, Florida, with his wife JoAnn. He substitute teaches at Holy Trinity Episcopal Academy and spends his spare time volunteer coaching for the Holy Trinity junior high football team. Long used the supportive lessons taught to him by his family growing up with the children he coaches, being encouraging rather than pushy.

"There are many situations that I have seen where some kid has a talent and the parents are all over them," Long said. "If they're any good at all, they're going to be pushed so hard they're going to go right through their childhood and miss all the stuff. That just drives me nuts, it's not the thing to do."

Although at Beverly Vista Long played every sport he could, when he reached Beverly High he settled on football, basketball and baseball. Long said he dreamed about playing at Beverly High and encountered many coaches that made an impact on his life such as basketball coach Steve Miletich, football coach John Morrow and baseball coach Hal Seiling. Seiling is the one who encouraged Long to try out for high school baseball during a summer athletic program at Beverly Vista.

"He was a professional baseball player and he was really good," Long said. "Before I went to high school, we were talking about what sports I might go out for. I thought I might go out for tennis but he was going to be the baseball coach and he said, 'when you go looking for a job, they want team players and tennis is individual. In a corporation that could really upset everything.' I think that may be true but he was really saying, 'you don't want to do that because I want to coach you in baseball.'"

While playing basketball at Beverly, Long convinced his older sister Theresia to come to watch him play a game. They were playing Torrance High School and Long was charged with guarding the leading scorer in the league. The player scored nine points due to fouls from Long.

"I was pumped and after the game I came running up the steps of the boys locker room and my parents and older sister were standing at the top of the stairs waiting for me," Long said. "I said, 'Theresia, how did you like that game?' She said, 'I'm not going to come to these games if all you do is foul.' She said it lovingly, [telling me not to] get too big of a head. That kind of put the whole thing in perspective."

Long said he feels the endless love of his parents and sisters were major factors in him being successful both academically and athletically.

"I was smart enough to pick my parents because obviously there were some athletic and brains in the whole gene pool," Long said. "I just had wonderful parents and wonderful sisters supporting me. That was a wonderful gift and you can't buy that kind of stuff."

Moe Hill

Class of 1972
Football, Baseball and Track

Working as an LA County Sheriff at the Long Beach Courthouse, Moe Hill uses a lot of the skills he learned and saw during his time in Beverly high athletics. Hill gives briefings to both experienced and newer deputies detailing what's right and wrong at the courthouse.

"We have rules, just like there are rules at school, rules on the field or rules for life," Hill said. "In order for us to be good at what we do, we not only have to give those rules to people and we have to make sure they abide by them, we have to live by them. I'm a teacher and at the same time I'm a coach."

Hill deals with his deputies the way that coaches dealt with him when he was in high school.

"I have to boost [my deputies], tell them they are doing a good job and how much I appreciate them," Hill said. "When they do something not right, I have to bring them in and to them about it. I can tell you, coaches said I wasn't right about things and said I did great."

Hill lives in Long Beach with his wife, Robbin. He has two children, Erin, 27, and Christopher, 24, who both graduated from Beverly High on multi-cultural permits and two step children, Brian Tucker, 23, and Bryce Tucker, 20.

Hill was part of the first multi-cultural permit program. He came to Beverly high after graduating from ninth-grade at Audobon Junior High School in the Crenshaw district. At Audobon, Hill played with a group of equally talented players. But at Beverly, Hill said there was a wide spectrum of talent.

"I don't think we had really great athletes at Beverly," Hill said. "But we had people who wanted to play, wanted to learn and wanted to be a part of a winning team. We had some good caliber young men but we didn't have as many, which meant that others had to step up their game."

Coaches such as Dick Keelor, recipient of the Polaris award, and Chuck Kloes, recipient of the McCarthy award, [both profiled page 9] made an impact on hills football experience.

"Chuck Kloes was like a father figure," Hill said. "I think it really sparkled in his eyes because he saw talent on the team and he was super excited to coach us and to lead us."

Hill was given an opportunity to learn what kind of leader he was going to be, which he would not have had if he stayed in the Crenshaw district.

"I was probably one of the better athletes on the team," Hill said. "People expected you to do certain things on the team. However, you flip that and encourage everyone else. You do your share but at the same time it makes everyone better."

To Hill, being a leader is about teaching teamwork and being inspirational. Other members from the team including Keith Ferrell, Frank Brown, Gordon Kritzer and David Engel also exhibited natural leadership.

"It has to do with setting the pattern and showing those from behind that we could succeed if we put forth effort," Hill said. "It wasn't so much of speaking it as it was living it and doing it."

Missy Birns Halperin
Class of 1982
Tennis, Basketball and Softball

If it weren't for Beverly High sports, Missy Birns Halperin might not have a job. Halperin currently works as the Senior Vice President of Talent for the Fox Network but when she started was just a temp. When Halperin joined Fox as a temp in 1989, Brad Turell, a BHAAA 2009 honoree, had recently started a co-ed baseball team at Fox and she joined it. Turell was Halperin's boss at the time and was impressed by her athletic skills.

"We won the final game," Halperin said. "I was a key part of it, I hit the game winning ball. Brad hired me the next day."

Although her mother still lives in Beverly Hills, Halperin lives in Studio City with her husband of 20 years, John, and three children, Lauren, 16, Jillian, 12 and Ryan, 9.

Halperin started playing baseball when she was 9 years old. Her mother moved her to Beverly Hills when she was 7, to a street with 12 boys and no girls.

"If I wanted to be social and play, I had to play what they were playing," Halperin said. "They were always playing baseball and basketball."

In 1976 when Halperin was 11, President Jimmy Carter said girls and boys could play sports together. At age 12, Halperin was one of two girls asked to play in the majors at Roxbury Park.

"That was a big deal at the time," Halperin said.

No matter how difficult high school was academically, Halperin always had Tuesday and Thursday game days to look forward to. Halperin said Beverly High teams the camaraderie between teammates was fulfilling and carries on the idea of teamwork to her work at Fox.

"I loved going out on those fields, playing and having fun," Halperin said. "It didn't matter if we won, we were always having fun. I feel that same way with life and my work. Whatever we're doing, it's a team of people working together."

Halperin said her mentors while in high school were tennis coach Susan Stevens and Basketball coach Jane Wortman. Halperin sees Stevens regularly for their "Monthly Starbucks" and invites Stevens to come to events Halperin holds at Fox. Halperin credits Stevens with a philosophy that still holds true today.

"[Stevens is] a great person, very inspiring and always smiling," Halperin said. "She never wanted us to double fault, or hit two balls into the net in the serve. She thought that was giving away a point and that's a metaphor for life. You have to put the ball in the court in order to be playing in it. You have to participate. If you're not participating in life, if you're not a leader and inspiring others then you're just one of those people who are letting life go by you're just wasting your time. It was her philosophy of life and I kept living that."

Bob Kay
Class of 1982
Basketball and Baseball

As a pediatric orthopedic surgeon, Bob Kay is on a team. He has to be focused, communicative and a leader.

"It's a team, just like a basketball team or a baseball team," Kay said. "It's a team of caregivers. there's a surgeon, an assistant, nurses, anesthesiologists and we need to be a part of that team. It's of paramount importance that you can work seamlessly with everyone else. It's high risk, high reward."

Teamwork, multitasking, and communication were all things that Kay learned from being involved in Beverly High athletics.

"[Being involved with athletics] helped teach me about leadership," Kay said. "How you're able to take responsibility to lead those around you. When you do that, different people have different needs. So, for some people you have to lead in a certain way and others require another way. Sometimes it's more vocal and sometimes it's through your actions."

Kay started playing basketball with his siblings in the backyard when he was five years old. Five of six children, Kay said his older brothers Greg and Steve encouraged him to play in high school, but even if they hadn't played he probably still would have found the sport.

"My dad [Jerome Kay] played basketball at Beverly in the 30's," Kay said. "I think I still would have played [basketball] but I probably wouldn't have been as passionate about it as I was having seen them participating at a high level when I was young."

Living in Beverly Hills, Kay and his wife Fori have two children who are involved in sports. 13-year-old Maddox participates in cross country and track and 10-year-old Sela is on a club basketball team. Maddox has his black belt in karate while Sela is testing for hers in the next month. Kay said he felt it was important to get his kids involved in sports.

"It's something which I think builds character, it teaches you a lot of life lessons," Kay said. "We all face adversity and it's important to learn from it. It's a lot easier if you start those lessons young instead of putting your child in bubble wrap."

Kay still keeps in touch with many people he played with at Beverly including David Kohan, Greg Reisenberg and Larry Weber.

"The person I am most in contact with is David Kohan," Kay said. "He's someone I had known even before high school but we played together on the freshman and sophomore basketball teams. He was a groomsman at my wedding."

Thanks to his parents and his involvement in athletics, Kay said he learned how to keep his priorities in check. Growing up, his parents made it clear that academics were number one, athletics were number two and social was number three on the priority list. Kay has taken this idea along in his life and now, due to his priorities, doesn't play in any local sports teams.

"I just work out for my own health and enjoyment, but I don't play any sports," Kay said. "At every stage in your life you have to set priorities and at this point my priorities are my family and my work so I don't have the spare time to devote to athletics."

Chuck Kloes
McCarthy Lifetime Achievement Award

Chuck Kloes has been coaching at Beverly since 1965. In 1965, he was initially hired to be an athletic trainer and assistant football coach while doing graduate work at UCLA and in December of 1967 he was hired as a full time world history and government teacher and the football coach. Kloes left the BHUSD once in 1986 to be an assistant principal at Mira Costa High School, returning after two years, and again in 2000 to work for UCLA. This year he is back at Beverly as assistant principal and assistant football coach. In his 45 years at Beverly, Kloes has coached football, track and cross country.

In 1966, Kloes was asked by the Beverly High administration to take the place of track coach for a year until they could find an experienced coach. Kloes had no experience with track and field and went into the position without knowing how to coach a track team.

"The learning curve was pretty steep but I found it to be a very challenging assignment and really applied myself," Kloes said. "I became really interested in becoming competent [at coaching]. After a few years, I became a reasonably good track coach. So much that in 1985, I was awarded by [the California Interscholastic Federation] as track coach of the year."

Kloes will be presented with the McCarthy Lifetime Achievement Award on October 16. Named after Justin and Joanne McCarthy, the award is given to an individual who exemplifies the McCarthy's commitment of Beverly High Athletics. Kloes said he credits the longevity of his career to the love of his wife.

"My coaching career wouldn't have lasted as long as it has if it weren't for the support I've had from my wife, Marti, and her willingness and support in the fact that she knew this is something I just love to do," Kloes said.

Tickets for the Beverly Hills Athletic Alumni Association Fourth Annual Hall of Fame dinner will be available until October 6. For more information on the dinner and to order tickets, please visit www.bhaaa.org/ticket2.html or contact Julie Steinberg at (310) 385-0679.

Dick Keelor
Polaris Award

When Dick Keelor left Long Beach Polytechnic High School, in 1966, to come to Beverly, he was told by former colleagues he was leaving to go to the "coaches graveyard." While at that point Long Beach Poly hadn't lost a league game in three years, the Beverly football team had "quite a dismal history," Keelor said.

Keelor, interviewed by the Weekly in Issue #364 "Where are they now," was asked by Walt Puffer, athletic director at Beverly in 1966, to revitalize the football program. The two were both LA County Lifeguards during the summer.

One reason Keelor accepted the position at Beverly was because he got to create his ideal coaching staff. He brought coaches Ben Bushman from Long Beach Poly and worked with Chuck Kloes, recipient of the McCarthy award, and Jerry Carpenter.

"There's no real secret to what we did," Keelor said. "We worked really hard and were able to establish the discipline and winning attitude with a well organized strength training program. We turned things around and became a serious contender for the CIF championship after a couple of years."

After coaching at Beverly for six years, in 1972 Keelor was invited to serve on as the Director of Program Development for the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports in Washington D.C., where he testified at congress hearings on matters related to the role of physical activity in health promotion and disease prevention. Keelor still lives in Washington D.C. with his wife, Carolyn.

Keelor is being awarded with the inaugural Polaris Award, given to individuals who have distinguished themselves through outstanding educational leadership, enduring guidance and unselfish service to student athletes at the high school. Keelor is excited to be receiving the award, even if he said he's not sure why he is getting it.

"Beverly Hills is a unique school and whenever I'm introduced as having taught there, I'm really proud," Keelor said. "It's a thrill to be able to get this award. I don't quite understand why I'm being given it. Although we had a lot of success, it was so long ago. But, it was enormously gratifying [to coach at Beverly]."

ORDINANCE NO. 10-O-2589

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING SECTION 10-3-2868 (C) OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE REGARDING THE MAXIMUM SEATING CAPACITY OF RESTAURANTS IN HOTELS LOCATED OUTSIDE THE BUSINESS TRIANGLE.

WHEREAS, on June 10, 2010 and July 8, 2010, the Planning Commission conducted a duly noticed public hearing to consider a proposed amendment to the maximum restaurant seating capacity of restaurants in hotels located outside the Business Triangle as set forth in the Beverly Hills Municipal Code and recommended that the City Council approve the proposed amendment.

WHEREAS, on August 3, 2010, the City Council conducted a duly noticed public hearing to consider proposed amendments to the maximum restaurant seating capacity of restaurants in hotels located outside the Business Triangle and introduced the Ordinance.

WHEREAS, on August 31, 2010, the City Council considered and re-introduced the Ordinance with certain revisions to clarify the intent that the amended provisions apply only to hotels outside of the Business Triangle that are also within commercial zones.

WHEREAS, the City Council hereby finds and concludes that the Amendment has been environmentally reviewed pursuant to the provisions of the California Environmental Quality Act (Public Resources Code Sections 21000, et seq. ("CEQA"), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000, et seq.), and the City's Local CEQA Guidelines (hereafter the "Guidelines"), and the City's environmental guidelines, and a Class 5 Categorical Exemption has been issued in accordance with the requirements of Section 15305 of the Guidelines to allow minor alterations in land use limitations. The Class 5 exemption is applicable because the changes in land use limitations would result in minor modifications to the amount of restaurant seating capacity that could be provided within hotels, and would apply in the City's commercial areas where slopes are less than 20%. Further, any increase in restaurant space within hotels is subject to discretionary review and analysis on a case-by-case basis, pursuant to the issuance of a Conditional Use Permit.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Subsection C of Section 10-3-2868 (REGULATIONS AND RESTRICTIONS APPLICABLE) of Article 28.6 of Chapter 3 of Title 10 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

"C. Hotels developed outside of that triangular area bounded by Wilshire Boulevard, South Santa Monica Boulevard, and the alley between Crescent Drive and Cañon Drive shall be restricted as follows:

1. Public assembly areas shall be prohibited.

2. The maximum capacity of any separate public meeting room shall not exceed one-third (1/3) of the number of guestrooms in the hotel.

3. The aggregate maximum capacity of all restaurants shall not exceed the number of guestrooms in the hotel, except that in commercial districts located outside of the business triangle, the aggregate maximum capacity of all restaurants shall not exceed one and one-half (1.5) times the number of guestrooms. Restaurants and dining in nonconforming hotels located in the R-4 Zone shall also be subject to the provisions set forth in BHMC Section 10-3-1207 (Dining in Nonconforming Hotels).

4. The maximum number of floors shall not exceed four (4) provided the height limitation set forth in subsection 10-3-2726A of this chapter is maintained."

Section 2. The City Council hereby approves this Ordinance and authorizes the Mayor to execute the Ordinance on behalf of the City.

Section 3. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the City within fifteen (15) days after its passage in accordance with Section 36933 of the Government Code, shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance and shall cause this Ordinance and his certification, together with proof of publication, to be entered in the Book of Ordinances of the Council of this City."

Section 4. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall go into effect and be in full force and effect at 12:01 a.m. on the thirty-first (31st) day after its passage.

Don't sell your life insurance policy until you know the rules!

Alan L. Kaye, CLU, ChFC
President

Most people over the age of 70, who want to sell their old insurance policies for more than their cash surrender value, are not getting the most money from their assets.

AVOID RISKS OF INSURANCE FINANCING STRATEGIES

Others, who expect to create “something from nothing”, participate in insurance financing plans without having full knowledge of the chances they are taking. You can avoid these risks by becoming informed of established procedures and you won't make costly mistakes.

The Alan Kaye Insurance Agency is a leader in the field of insurance and estate planning. Now, as a wholly owned subsidiary of National Financial Partners, an NYSE company, they have expanded their resources to better provide the latest planning strategies. This is a particularly important resource when performing due-diligence on life insurance settlement companies.

THREE ESSENTIAL RULES THAT CAN PREVENT YOU FROM MAKING COSTLY DECISIONS

- Provide full and accurate descriptions of all offers relating to the sale of your policy.
- Acquire at least five offers from unrelated insurance purchasing companies.
- Complete background checks on potential purchasers to make sure they are financially and commercially acceptable firms to do business with.

ARE YOU COMPLETING A LIFE INSURANCE SETTLEMENT OR JUST SETTLING?

What kind of insurance professional is helping you sell your old life insurance policy? Are you dealing with a life settlement specialist? Are you represented by a licensed professional with E&O Insurance that covers life settlements? Has your agent explained the risks involved in financing your life insurance?

Call us today to find out what your insurance is really worth and we will help you decide whether to sell, surrender, keep or replace your old insurance policy.
