Delshad comments on publicist Ronni Chasen's murder

Rudy,
I was surprised to see the comments of our distinguished mayor in the Los Angeles Times regarding the unfortunate shooting which occurred on Whittier Drive the other night. I thought these interviews are normally handled by our very fine police department. Is this something that the mayor should be involved in or is this better left to the police department?

I would appreciate your comments.

Deputy City Manager contradicts Mayor in publicist's murder

After publicist's Ronni Chasen's murder Tuesday November 16, Mayor Jimmy Delshad held a press conference Thursday November 18 in which he said he believed the shooting appeared to be a planned attack from an SUV.

Cheryl Friedling

CNN stated that although Delshad said he had gotten his information from the police, Delshad backed away from his comments Friday morning after a call from Beverly Hills Police Chief David Snowden.

Deputy City Manager Cheryl Friedling told CNN that "it would be wise not to go with the mayor's speculation." Later Friedling told the Weekly the mayor should be commended for his actions.

"The Mayor is to be praised for his leadership in reassuring the community that this was a rare incident and that Beverly Hills is one of the safest cities in America," Friedling said.

Friedling would not comment on the statement she made to CNN.

BHPD Spokesperson Lt. Tony Lee said the police aren't disclosing any aspects of the investigation.

"It's basically making sure we don't compromise any part of the investigation," Lee said. "If we're telling all these folks, yes we found a gun or we found bullets or we found video surveillance on one of the residents, the bad guys are listening too and they could be checking us out."

BHPD Sergeant Lincoln Hoshino said that while people have their own theories about Chasen's murder, it's just speculation.

"There's so much speculation out there, it's turned into a media storm," Hoshino said. "We have to stick to the basics and facts."

Chasen, 64, was found in her car at approximately 12:30 a.m. on November 16 in the 800 block of North Whittier Drive near Sunset Blvd. Police received information at approximately 12:28 a.m. that shots were heard and shortly after a collision was reported in the same area. Chasen was found shot five times in her Mercedes-Benz E350, which had crashed into a light pole. She was later taken to Cedars-Sinai hospital where she died.

She had been promoting Michael Douglas for Best Supporting Actor for Wall Street: Money Never Sleeps, as well as Alice In Wonderland 3D for Best Picture, according to Deadline Hollywood.

The Los Angeles Times reported that on Nov. 15, Chasen attended the red-carpet premiere of Burlesque, starring Cher and Christina Aguilera. She had apparently attended an after-party and was on her way home to Westwood when she was shot.

Tuesday, the BHPD searched Chasen's Westwood apartment and confiscated computer drives, discs and other records belonging to Chasen in the search for suspects and possible motives.

"As a standard operating procedure, there were search warrants conducted at her place of residence and place of business," Hoshino said. Some items were recovered and whether it has any evidentiary value at all, I don't know."

Hoshino said an investigation like this has no time limit and can go on for quite a while.

"There is a tremendous amount of canvas that needs to go on and evidence that needs to be reviewed," Hoshino said. "Looking at all aspects of this, it is quite an expensive and daunting task."

Lee said he thinks Beverly Hills is a safe community and the BHPD is doing all they can to find the perpetrators.

"[Chasen's murder] was something that was very isolated," Lee said. "We have a team of detectives working on this thing 24/7."

The investigation is still in the preliminary stage. At this time, there is no suspect information or motive for the crime, Hoshino said, but the BHPD is asking for public assistance if anyone saw or heard anything that could help the investigation.

The Palm Springs International Award Gala and Film Festival is offering a $100,000 reward for information that leads to the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for Chasen's death. Anyone with information should call the detective hotline at (310) 288-2656.

This is the third homicide in Beverly Hills in 2010. There were no homicides in 2009.

Delshad declined to comment.

BHUSD Finance Committee recommends special audit

The recently formed Finance Committee will be making recommendations regarding the budget to the Board of Education at the November 30 meeting. Among the recommendations, Committee Chair and former Board of Education member Herb Young said, include partnering with the city to utilize their multi-use copy machines and hiring a part-time CPA to conduct audits and help the district manage their finances.

"We are reviewing special education, which has a [$9 million a year] budget," Young said. "Some of the members of the committee are recommending the Board of Education hire an internal auditor. The district has a $60 million budget. A number of senior staff positions in the district have been in their positions a very short period of time. We believe an internal auditor could be of a great assistance to the district, the business staff and the school board itself."

Superintendent Dick Douglas said special education regulations are dictated by state and federal laws.

"The expenditures relate a great deal to the individual programs set up for students, who many times have advocates or certainly parents who are very knowledgeable about what they are entitled to," Douglas said. "The sad thing is that we are mandated by these laws and the government does not support the mandates with funding. It's the reason there is an encroachment upon the general fund."

The Finance Committee formed in early October and began meeting biweekly October 18. The committee is made up of five Board of Education appointees: former Board of Education members Mel Spitz (1971-1979), Herb Young (1971-1975) and appointee AJ Willmer (1991- 1997); and CPA's Damien Bean and Robert Sternshein; Executive Director of Budget and Food Services Mary Anne McCabe and Assistant Superintendent of Business Services Alex Cherniss. Board appointees serve two-year terms.

Although there are CPA's on the finance committee, Young said there is not an official CPA working for the district. The committee thinks a part-time retired CPA and auditor should be hired.

"We believe that someone who recently retired will have the extensive experience to fill the position that we visualize," Young said. "An auditor would review and analyze the books and the records, the systems and procedures, and the district's finances to make certain the $60 million is being properly spent, efficiently and honestly. We have some concerns that in certain areas that might not be the case. We suspect that there is more money being spent in Special Ed than is necessary, but this is not the only area that needs to be reviewed."

Assistant Superintendent of Business Services Alex Cherniss said he believes the committee is will be bringing a lot to the Board of Education for them to consider.

"I think that this committee is looking for ways to support staff and support the day-to-day operations of the district," Cherniss said. "[Auditing is] definitely an idea that could be used by the district effectively."

Young said the committee has also taken the copy machines throughout the district into

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the City of Beverly Hills, at its meeting to be held on Tuesday, November 30, 2010, at 7:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, in the Council Chambers of the City Hall, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210, will hold a public hearing to consider:

ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING THE BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE TO LIMIT NEW OR EXPANDED MEDICAL USES IN COMMERCIAL ZONES AND ADOPTING A MEDICAL USE OVERLAY ZONE.

If adopted, the ordinance would allow continued operation of existing, legal medical uses but new medical use and most conversion to medical use would no longer be permitted by-right. The ordinance would adopt a new overlay zone which, if applied to a particular property, would permit medical uses on that property, provided other entitlements for medical use are also obtained. There would be limited exceptions for small expansions of medical uses in buildings already containing some medical use and providing parking pursuant to Code.

Staff finds that it can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the adoption and implementation of this Ordinance would have a significant effect on the environment. This Ordinance does not authorize construction and, in fact, imposes greater restrictions on certain development in order to protect the public health, safety and general welfare. This Ordinance is therefore exempt from the environmental review requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) pursuant to Section 15061(b)(3) of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations. Further, the proposed ordinance is exempt from CEQA on the separate and independent ground that it is an action of a regulatory agency (the City) for protection of the environment because it will protect residential neighborhoods from impacts associated with uncontrolled intensification of commercial areas with medical land uses, and thus qualifies as a Class 8 exemption pursuant to Section 15308 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations.

At the public hearing, the City Council will hear and consider all comments, and may introduce the ordinance. All interested persons are invited to attend and speak on this matter. Written comments may also be submitted and should be addressed to the City Council, c/o City Clerk, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. The comments should be received prior to the hearing date.

Please note that if you challenge the Council's action in regards to this matter in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Michele McGrath, Senior Planner in the Beverly Hills Community Development Department at 310.285.1135. A copy of the proposed ordinance and related documents are on file in the Community Development Department and can be reviewed by any interested person at 455 N. consideration. They are outdated and constantly breaking down. The committee will recommend the administration meet with the city of Beverly Hills, who currently operates machines that can copy, scan, fax and e mail documents in real time.

"We believe utilizing their equipment would save us between 20 and 30 percent a year in expenses," Young said. "That's going to require a different approach of the schools and the administration and how they duplicate information and how they transmit it but it will be significantly better. The system is currently used but it's not as efficient as it could be and it's more expensive than need be."

The committee has a number of things on their list to review, Young said. They are looking to extend the meeting length from an hour and a half every other week to two hours.

"We're asking for information from the assistant superintendent of business services and this information is forthcoming," Young said. "But we have to take some time to review it and that leads to other questions. It's a slower process than we would like but it's necessary and we are making progress."

Douglas said he believes the input from the finance committee will be beneficial to the district.

"We have some experts, they have a great deal of expertise and are really dedicated former board members and people who are very interested in seeing the district be fiscally sound," Douglas said. "So I think that their input will be greatly appreciated and we'll go through the whole process and see what the board has to say about it."

Board of Education president Steven Fenton said he is looking forward to hearing the recommendations at the November 30 board meeting.

"I know they have all be working hard and I'm very appreciative," Fenton said

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council of the City of Beverly Hills, at its meeting to be held on Tuesday, November 30, 2010, at 7:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard, in the Council Chambers of the City Hall, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210, will hold a public hearing to consider:

ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING THE BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE TO PERMIT SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL LOTS LOCATED ON THE EAST SIDE OF SPALDING DRIVE SOUTH OF OLYMPIC BOULEVARD AND WEST OF ROXBURY DRIVE THAT MEET CERTAIN STANDARDS TO APPLY FOR CENTRAL R-1 PERMITS REGARDING SECOND UNITS AS SET FORTH IN SECTION 10-3-409 OF THE BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE.

The proposed ordinance would allow owners of certain Spalding Drive properties to request a Central R-1 Permit for second units over fourteen feet (14') in height or located above the ground floor, consistent with the existing process and regulations that allow additional height for accessory structures in the same area.

This project has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines, and the environmental regulations of the City. Staff has determined that the proposed ordinance is exempt from CEQA review requirements pursuant to Section 15282(h) of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations that exempts by statute an ordinance that designates areas within the city where second units may be permitted. Staff has further determined that construction of a second unit in a residential zone is exempt from CEQA requirements pursuant to Section 15303(a) (new construction of a second unit).

At the public hearing, the City Council will hear and consider all comments, and may introduce the ordinance. All interested persons are invited to attend and speak on this matter. Structure fire on Reeves

A fire broke out at 120 South Reeves Drive Friday. Units were dispatched at approximately 9:20 a.m. to the three-story apartment building under construction.

"Upon arrival, we saw smoke showing and units saw fire on the second and first floors," Battalion Chief Ed Snyder said.

The fire was located in a shaft that had a kitchen hood duct, HVAC ducts and electrical wiring. The fire is determined to have been accidental.

Police shut down Reeves from Charleville to Wilshire. There were more than seven fire engines as well as four emergency vehicles and several police units on scene.

The Reeves Hotel has been vacant for several years, undergoing reconstruction. Navarj Singh, agent for service of process for building owner Sir Taj LLC, could not be reached for comment.

Strategic Concepts trial postponed

The final status conference in the BHUSD versus Strategic Concepts case was continued until December 10 and the trial date pushed back to December 13.

The BHUSD asked the judge to look at limiting damages on the grounds that an issue of contractual interpretation will determine the scope of relief and should be tried first in front of a judge.

Judge Lewis Lavin ruled this decision would be a part of the jury trial.

"It's a practical position," Strategic Concepts attorney Philip Kaufler said. "The judge wants everything to go to the jury. If he has to make legal decisions later, he'll make them. But, he doesn't want to have two separate trials."

As reported by The Weekly in issue #516, the district severed all ties with Christiansen and Strategic Concepts in August of 2009 after contractual irregularities were found. Christiansen sued the district for wages she was allegedly owed. The BHUSD countersued

Family tradition provides business opportunity for two El Rodeo teachers

When El Rodeo art teacher F.E. Young's daughter was little, Young was a single mother who didn't have a lot of money.

"A little had to go a long way," Young said. "So for Hanukkah, I made her a set of eight boxes stacked together. Each had a drawing on it and I bounded them together with a colorful piece of blue paper. During Hanukkah, I would put some little treat in each of the [four by four by four] boxes so each night after we lit the candles she could open a box."

El Rodeo third grade teacher Gena Schmidt and Young eat lunch together every day. Schmidt is a former attorney and in addition to Young's experience as an artist, she spent a lot of time as a business administrator. They decided they had a good skill set to market Young's Hanukkah boxes and officially started A Perfect Gift company in February.

"It's been quite a fascinating adventure," Young said. "Everything that could possibly go wrong went wrong, right down to the dog eating toys."

Amidst all of the kinks of starting a business, Young said the gifts, called "Hanukkah surprises... One for Each Night," are being well received. Young and Schmidt decided to keep their business small this year, set everything up and get their feet wet. Next year, they plan to expand.

"We've mostly gone to fundraiser settings like the Hanukkah boutiques at the synagogues," Young said. "It's in a couple of gift shops and in the Skirball [Cultural Center]. We put an ad in Hadassah Magazine. Their readership is largely older women and a lot of the grandmothers are tired of having to send a check."

The Skirball, who is carrying the boxes in their gift shops, also donated tickets as gifts.

"One of the boxes has animal silly bands in it," Young said. "In that box, there is a ticket for two to go to the Skirball and Noah's Ark."

"Hanukkah Surprises... One for Each Night is $39.99 complete with gifts or $19.99 without gifts. The gifts are available for purchase at www.aperfectgiftcompany.com or at (310) 384-2999.

for alleged damages caused by Christiansen's construction throughout the district and on Measure K.

The trial was postponed due to scheduling conflicts for the judge.

The BHUSD lawyer Michael Lifrak declined to comment on anything regarding the BHUSD versus Strategic Concepts, except the trial date.

Discussion for superintendent search to begin in closed session

At Board member Brian Goldberg's request, the BHUSD will begin the discussion on qualifications for a new superintendent in closed session November 30. Last year's superintendent search started late in the year and the BHUSD was not able to find an appropriate superintendent for the district. This year, Goldberg said he believes the district needs to start early to find the best applicant.

"[Last year], we went out and we hired a firm that was not an expert in school district searches and that did not work out well for us," Goldberg said. "In addition, we went out at the wrong time when people had already made commitments to other districts. We kind of missed the boat."

Goldberg said his ideal superintendent would have experience with budgets and law.

"There's a lot of compliance issues and legal issues, maybe someone with a legal background and legal training would be the appropriate person to bring in as superintendent to manage our district from a more compliance legal status," Goldberg said. "We have to decide if we're looking for someone who's been a superintendent in another district or are we really looking for someone who has a different skill set."

The district is in a position to take their time and evaluate their options, Goldberg said.

"We have a solid acting superintendent now in Dick Douglas and he's committed to us through the year," Goldberg said. "We can take our time, we don't have to jump at whoever is before us because we feel desperate."

Superintendent Dick Douglas said if asked, it would be possible he would stay in the job.

"I have been honored to have been asked to serve for this year and I have a great affection for this district and have a desire to see it be the best it can be,"

Douglas said.

Board of Education president Steven Fenton said there are many interim positions, such as superintendent and Beverly Vista principal, that need to be filled. The closed-session discussion on Tuesday will be the beginning

"I'm very much looking forward to starting that dialogue," Fenton said. "We're going to start talking about and putting a plan in place for all of the searches. We've got to put a timeline in place and I'm looking forward to starting dialogue on all of these positions."

Lisa Korbatov is expected to become Board President on December 7.

BHHS Football Team Routed in First-Round Playoff Game

A season that began with Beverly High football coach Donald Paysinger saying he believed his team could contend for a Southern Section championship ended Friday night with a 48-7 loss at Gardena Serra in a Western Division first-round playoff game.

The top-seeded Cavaliers (11-0) took a 14-0 lead in the first quarter on Conner Preston's nine-yard touchdown pass to George Farmer and Shaquille Richard's 23-yard touchdown run.

Serra increased its lead to 35-0 at halftime as Preston threw a 13-yard touchdown pass to Marqise Lee and Richard's 51- and 19-yard touchdown runs in the second quarter.

Preston threw a six-yard touchdown pass to Lee and Anterio Bateman ran 13 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter.

Josh Newman threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Willie Green in the fourth quarter for the Normans (6-5).

The victory extended the Cavaliers' winning streak to 26 games. Serra, the defending CIF Division III state champion, has lost once in its last 40 games and twice in its past 48 games dating back to Oct. 5, 2007. Both losses came to Westlake Village Oaks Christian in Southern Section divisional championship games.

Beverly Hills is 2-8 in Southern Section football playoff games since 2001, including one-point losses in first-round games in both 2006 and 2007. The Normans have never reached a Southern Section football championship game.

Lessing Gold is a long time resident and a highly regarded corporate lawyer not prone to far out opinions, but his questions (See Letters & Email pg 2) about our mayor's media appearances on the investigation of the murder of Ronni Chasen reflect the opinions of many people in our community.

Why is the mayor expressing theories on the motives or possible suspects for this tragic crime? Equally important, why hasn't our public affairs office intervened to assure that accurate information flow comes only from our police department?

Give our most visible mayor ever the benefit of the doubt: Maybe his motives were to assure the community and the rest of the world that the city was indeed safe and that our police department was both competent and sufficiently resourced to handle the investigation.

Mayor Jimmy Delshad has probably become the best-known mayor in our city's history, long before his involvement in this crime report that has drawn international attention and, mostly, for the benefit of the city.

However, this is one time he should have avoided the cameras. It seems he speculated that this might have been a contract "hit" as it seemed he was doing on "Geraldo," or giving "technical" opinions on the number of shots fired, in other interviews.

Clearly, not his role. We have a highly trained and regarded police department led by Chief David Snowden, a top professional who has broad experience in law enforcement and who is respected in our community, as is the investigative team working on the case.

Yes, in some cities, when there is a major crime, the spokesperson could be the mayor, but not in our city. Why? We have a city manager form of government and the police department reports to the city manager, not the mayor or the city council. It might have been helpful if our new city manager, Jeff Kolin, also did an intervention and kept the proper lines of authority in place.

Mayor Delshad and other members of the city council have a right to express their opinions, but not to become sources on any crime investigation.

What is equally distressing is the totally overblown reporting on this crime and much of the misinformation being used. First, despite some scary headlines in the Los Angeles Times, usually a most careful source of news, this community is NOT in a state of "unease." Other media have said that residents are "fearful" of their safety. Complete nonsense. We remain one of the safest cities in the world and can only wish that other communities were as well protected.

"Geraldo", and other media reports, said that Ms. Chasen was going to her Beverly Hills residence. No, she does not live in Beverly Hills and was driving through the city when she was murdered. Even our competitor erred when reporting she had an office in Beverly Hills. Her company is in Los Angeles, some blocks from our borders near Robertson.

Actually, the murder happened just a few yards inside our city and had absolutely nothing to do with Beverly Hills aside from that.

Even more incredible was a comment on a local television station last night by a "private investigator" who said the Beverly Hills Police Chief is probably not sleeping very well and that if this murder is not quickly solved, it could cost him (Chief Snowden) his job.

First, our police have an incredibly excellent record for solving major crimes, as anyone in law enforcement, even this "private eye expert," should know. Second, Snowden is a city favorite and, equally important, has the respect of the troops.

Anytime you watch an interview of neighbors of a crime scene, you can depend on one of them to exclaim: "We don't expect that kind of thing in this community." More true here because of how well we are served and protected. Hopefully, this horrendous murder of the highly talented and respected Ms. Chasen will be solved. But we are not in a crime wave, we are a safe city and we need to have our city manager restore communications order.

For the Record: Beverly Hills has about one murder each year. The last four have all been solved, and the most recent, within 24 hours!

THOUGHTS ON THE DAY, AND AN APPEAL FOR HELP

While we are expressing our appreciation today for all the blessings of living in a free society, we should remember, and we are a most giving community, others in need. Also, there is a local non-profit that fills a most important role in public service: The Maple Counseling Center. Suggestion: Instead of some fruit cake or a bottle of wine, why not make a contribution in a friend's name to TMCC? Not yet time to panic, but our best social service agency, as are many other non-profits in this economy, is feeling a big pinch. You can send your checks to 9107 Wilshire Blvd, (LL) Beverly Hills, CA 90210 and mark it "Year End Appeal."

Thanksgiving is also a time to be very appreciative of the failure of the American Indians in not having tough border enforcement. When they sat down with Pilgrims for a feast of peace and friendship, none of their agents were checking for "green cards."

PATting DOWN, SAFETY FIRST.

Have we become a nation of whiners? This hysterical reaction by some travelers to the "patting down" security checks at airports is ludicrous. Whatever it takes to make us and airlines safer, needs to come ahead of personal discomfort. True, the feds could be doing a more effective job in explaining why this is necessary and airport private security workers should be more customer friendly, not just with the new requirements, but in every contact with passengers, but safety should come first, always.

Flying and airports are not very pleasant experiences, now. But we live in a very different world since 9/11. However, if I am examined very intensely, I would suggest a martini first and then some flowers.

STOP FURLOUGHS, CHECK PRIORITIES

What a time of the year to place many of our city staff on furloughs. Have we checked our priorities, first?

One of the reasons we have such a high level of civic services is the dedication our staff brings to the job. We respect their work, and they love our city. These furloughs, and they seem not to have been needed in neighboring communities, diminishes that very special relationship and impairs our commitment to excellence in everything from street maintenance to library services.

We need to keep the faith. Placing so many people who work for us on furloughs is, no matter the causes, impacting their lives, their confidence in our commitment to excellence and, equally important, helps diminish our ability to preserve high standards of civic life.

At a time when students would actually have more time to use our library, in another cost savings move, our library will be closed for an extended holiday period.

All of this because of a reduction of tax revenues, but without a responsible examination of spending for non-essentials in every level of city government.

I don't want to rain on anyone's parade, but is this really the right year to expend even a minimal amount of staff time or city dollars on a Rose Parade? Yes, we should appreciate all the hard work that has gone into this effort and we will watch with interest when our float briefly comes on a television program seen by millions around the world.

But how do you justify this to a veteran city staffer whose pay was just cut by furlough?

Supposedly, no city money will be used? Next month we should have a report, but even if done by private donations, that money could have gone into a general fund or in support of a critical private non-profit - Maple Center and BHEF are two that come to mind.

It's hard to understand the basic rationalization for our city promoting a float. A cursory examination of the cities with floats finds missing some other tourist designations. Santa Monica, a beach city with loads of hotels and restaurants, does not have an entry. Nor do any other western Los Angeles communities.

On the other hand, Beverly Hills is always listed as one of the top tourist attractions of Southern California, only slightly behind Disneyland. And we do that each year without a float.

(Many Valley communities and cities around Pasadena are entered as are Trader Joe's, Farmer's Insurance and the City of Los Angeles, the big sister that surrounds us.)

On budget problems: Congrats to City Treasurer Eliot Finkel and the new Budget Review Committee. Other members include former mayor Ed Brown, Abner Goldstine, Jim Jahant, Offer Nissenbaum, Kathy Reims, Richard Rosenzweig and former city treasurer, Joan Seidel.

We could use something more: How about a small Hoover Commission to really look at city staff priorities? Retiring Planning Commissioner Noah Furie would make an excellent chair.

Want to make your small step in increasing city revenues? Eat in Beverly Hills. The Belvedere at the Peninsula continues as one of the most comfortable and mature eateries in our state. Two of our best, here and anywhere, are Spago and the Grill in the Alley. For the best Italian, try any Drago family owned venues and Caffe Roma.

Final, not so happy note: Shame on our city for not thanking departing Chamber of Commerce CEO and President Dan Walsh for his real contributions to the business sector and our community. Some of the scurrilous other media reports are just not Beverly Hills.

Dan made the Chamber better and more effective and should have been given expressions of appreciation and not below the belt blame for problems that were not really his doing.

Thanks Dan and good luck. Most of us are glad you were here.

Rudy Cole served for eight years as a member and chair of the city's Recreation & Parks Commission. He was also President of the Greystone Foundation and served on three other city committees. Rudy can be reached at: Rudy@bhweekly.com.

strophic events. This is not a service TMCC charges for.

"That means we have to go out and get grants to cover the cost for the coordinator as well as the lead supervisors," TMCC CEO Marcy Kaplan said. "The funding we receive on an annual basis only covers about $40,000 total. The program costs us close to $90,000 a year to run. All the personnel costs, [being] about $45,000 annually, have to come from other funds that we simply don't have."

TMCC is also having to cut their Mindful Parenting support groups. It's a group for parents with children ranging from newborn to five years old to assist new mothers is developing a bond with their child when they otherwise would have trouble. Although TMCC is continuing to do this work on an individual basis, Sommers said it is not as effective.

"What's important is to help [the mother] learn how to make that attachment a secure one so these children grow up healthy," Sommers said. "In a group format, other mothers can learn from one another. They see other women also being challenged in this way. They will still receive these services from us, but they won't have the opportunity to experience these things in a group format."

TMCC has been applying for grants to provide additional funding.

"Part of the difficulty with the economic downturn is twofold when you talk about grants," Kaplan said. "More and more non-profits are greatly in need of funds because we're all having a difficult time obtaining it through fundraising efforts. The other piece to all of this is foundations who have grant giving programs have less money to distribute."

The budget for TMCC will be reduced by close to $40,000 for the upcoming fiscal year. Applying for grants cannot guarantee that TMCC will receive money and they are actively asking for donations.

"We want the community to know we need their support because of the vital services we provide to the broad range of the community," Sommers said. "This is the state of the art agency and it deserves their mindful support and we encourage them to give at this time."

BHHS Runner Advances to Southern Section Finals

Beverly High junior Brianna Simmons finished 23rd in the Southern Section girls' Division 2 cross country finals Saturday at Mount San Antonio College in Walnut.

Simmons completed the 3.1-mile course in 19 minutes six seconds, one second behind 20th-place finisher Melanie Joerger of Thousand Oaks, the final qualifier for the state meet. Savannah Pio of Manhattan Beach Mira Costa won in 18:07.

Simmons was the first Norman to compete in a Southern Section girls' cross country final since 1980, according to longtime team record-keeper Simon Langer.

Simmons qualified for the finals by finishing fifth in a heat of the Southern Section Division 2 prelims at Mt. San Antonio College Nov. 13, completing a different 3-mile course in 18:37, the same time as fourth-place finisher Hannah Munyan of Hesperia Sultana.

GIVING THANKS

A man gets his life and leg back

By Marla Schevker

People say that if you can avoid having back surgery, you should do it at all costs. Paul Guerin is a key example of why. Guerin has had 12 surgeries in his neck, thoracic spine and lumbar spine in the last 10 years.

"It just seemed like one [surgery] led to another led to another," Guerin said.

It was Labor Day weekend in 1999 when Guerin first hurt his back. Guerin and his wife Vera were vacationing at their Malibu beach house when their housekeeper called to say there was a flood in their house.

"Vera and I got in the car, flew home and got the water turned off," Guerin said. "We tried to get as much furniture out of the family room as we could and blocked the water from going into the living room. Lifting the area rug was the final straw for my spine."

Guerin started having tremendous pain in his lower back soon after the flood. He went to see Dr. Ted Goldstein at Cedars-Sinai Hospital who verified that Guerin's lowest disc was ruptured and would need to be surgically removed and fused together, to help the bones grow across what was formerly the disc space.

Over the next seven years, Guerin had nine more surgeries involving his thoracic spine and neck.

"I would try to avoid surgery and then the pain would get so bad in other areas that I had no choice," Guerin said. "[The recovery] was impossible. It was 10 days in the hospital; it was three to five weeks in bed when I got home and more drugs. Every time I was [beginning to feel better], something would manifest itself which led to another surgery making it impossible to stay off the drugs for years."

Guerin, who worked for Shapell Homes, was able to work from home during the time that he was recovering. The company, Shapell Homes Inc, has been building homes since 1955.

Guerin had his first 10 surgeries at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center. Guerin was introduced to Cedars by father-in-law Nathan Shapell, who had been a major financial supporter of Cedars for years and had donated a research grant for Dr. P.K. Shaw. Years later Dr. Shaw helped Mr. Shapell recover from a debilitating stroke.

Shapell was not the only family member of the Guerin's that Cedars was able to help. Guerin's 8-month-old grandson, Jacob, went in for a routine check up when they realized his skull had increased too much in size and that he had developed hydrocephalus. They met Dr. Moise Danielpour, who performed successful life saving surgery when Jacob was nine months old.

"The brain is like a motor" Guerin said. "It needs to be lubricated constantly. In order to accomplish this there are ventricles that release the fluid so there is a constant flow of lubrication. Jacob's ventricles were closed so the fluid was unable to drain. This caused his skull to abnormally grow. [Jacob was] a month away from him having severe brain damage."

Over the next few months the Guerins and Danielpour bonded.

The Guerins became involved at UCLA with a research program in Autism headed by Dr. Dan Geschwind. Paul began to experience sharp pains in his lower back and down his left leg. He had an MRI which indicated the need for a discectomy at L4/5. A doctor at UCLA performed the surgery and within a week, Guerin knew the discectomy had failed.

"I was back on the drugs, the pain was terrible," Guerin said. "In the meantime, Vera had lunch with Dr. Danielpour. She mentioned to him that I had had a recent discectomy and I was still in excruciating pain. Dr. Danielpour said, 'let me arrange an MRI for him and, depending upon the results, I want to introduce him to one of the other doctors in my division.' That's when I met [Neurosurgeon] Dr. Frank Acosta. He took one look at the MRI and within two weeks I was back in surgery [at Cedars]."

Guerin needed a full fusion. The surgery at UCLA left broken pieces of the calcified disc, that were imbedded in the main nerve at the L4/5, which affected the use of his left leg. If the surgery had been postponed even two more weeks, Guerin would have had permanent nerve damage in his left leg.

"His disc was putting pressure on his nerve in several places," Acosta said. "We did a fusion taking off the pressure on the spinal canal which freed up the nerve, ending Mr. Guerin's pain once and for all."

As soon as the surgery was over, Guerin said he knew that Acosta had fixed the majority of his pain.

"When I woke up from that surgery I knew he had gotten it," Guerin said. "He Pio also won the prelim race in 18:21.

Beverly Hills finished fifth in the team competition with 148 points, 46 more than fourth-place Claremont, the final team in the 13-team heat to advance to the finals. Mira Costa won with 23.

The boys' team's season ended with a 10th-place finish in its 14-team heat in the Southern Section Division 2 prelims at Mt. San Antonio College Nov. 13.

The Normans had 258 points, one more than Lakewood Mayfair, the ninth-place finisher. Camarillo won the heat with 32 points. Chino Hills Ayala finished fourth to be the last team to advance to the Southern Section Finals with 115 points.

Junior Josh Galen was the top Beverly Hills finisher, finishing 33rd in 16:30, the same time as Newhall Hart junior Gerardo Grandos, who finished 29th. Brandon Taylor of Mayfair won in 15:31.

In both the boys' and girls' races in the prelims, the top four teams and six individual finishers advanced to the finals.

Hacker teaches students identification card technology

Horace Mann parent Adi Hacker has started an identification card technology class to give back to the school that first got him interested in computers. The class started at Horace Mann last Friday and will continue every other Friday, after school for one hour, until the end of the school year. The class is open to sixth through eighth grade.

"The first class went well, The students started learning about the Basic aspects of ID cards. How they are produced and how they are used. As time goes on, they will learn the full functionality of an ID card," Hacker said.

Hacker said he hopes his class will get students who are interested in a unique use of computer technology might be interested in the security ID business and if not, at least learn something new.

"After hearing how well the robotics class is doing, I thought why not learn a different aspect of current technology for students who would want to try something different," Hacker said. "They would have an edge in the field of security and access control."

Hacker is going to be teaching students both the creative aspects of identification card design and the practical aspects of identification card creation. Some aspects include gift cards, advertising cards, promotional cards and then onto ID cards and Access Control, which involves using cards to unlock doors and register the guest entering.

"The need for creating for efficient means of communication and transactions is a growing need in a world where everything needs to be done quickly," Hacker said.

Although Hacker said he plans to teach students about the identification card process from start to finish, he does not worry that the students will be using the knowledge for dishonest purposes.

Firemen give back to seniors for Thanksgiving

The Beverly Hills Firemen's Association has served the Seniors at Roxbury Park their annual Thanksgiving Luncheon Monday. This year there were over 200 seniors in attendance.

"All technology that has been created in the past and future can be used negatively," Hacker said. "But I would hope that creating something of your own and seeing that creation used by others would make that individual proud of their application that they he/she created and would avoid having to divert to negative uses."

Principal Steve Kessler asked Hacker if his students could make ID cards for the Spartans. Hacker said he would try to find other projects for his students to work on and other ID cards for them to make.

"The kids will make cards for [the Spartans]," Hacker said. "They're going to design it and [the Spartans] will then have the cards as an identification card so people will know who they are. [My students] will actually create something that will be used at the school and I will try to find other projects that can be used as well. If they have a sports team or a chess club, I'm sure people will find things for us to do."

had released the nerve, stabilized the entire area and I was out of pain. My leg is perfectly normal today.”

When Guerin first went to see Acosta, he was in excruciating pain.

“He was literally in tears in my clinic,” Acosta said. “After the surgery, he really felt better with regards to his leg pain. He had the expected post operative surgical pain and that made it tough to treat him because of his history with pain medication.”

Guerin had been on pain pills for approximately 10 years. He had taken Norco, oxycontin, oxycodone and at one point was on fentanyl patches, which they give to cancer patients for pain.

Guerin’s life began to revolve around what had become an addiction.

“Whenever I left my home, I had to make sure I had enough pain medication in my pocket,” Guerin said. “I had to think, I’m going to be out of the house for two hours but what if I’m out for four hours? My whole life revolved around pills and it was because, after all [the] surgeries, my body couldn’t help but get addicted to them.”

After realizing that he couldn’t get off of the medication by himself, Guerin checked himself into a detox program at Promises in Malibu. Guerin had, what he hopes to be, his last surgery a few weeks ago and said he took himself off of the pain medication before his body could get re-addicted to the

Guerin’s last surgery was to fix damage that had occurred due to his first surgery.

“About 10 years ago, I had a double fusion [in my neck], and over time, the double fusion was very destructive, unfortunately, to this disc above it and so I had to have that disc fused as well,” Guerin said.

Guerin moved to Beverly Hills in July of 2009. Guerin has three children and four grandchildren. 40-year-old Lisa, her husband Tim Ryan and 20-month-old Jacob live in Brentwood; 38-year-old Dana, 8-year-old twins Samantha and Alexis, and five-year-old Katelyn live in Santa Monica; and 30-year-old Michael and his wife, Rachelle Guerin, will be moving into their new home in the Westwood area next year.

Guerin said this year, like every other year, the family will gather at his house for Thanksgiving. They have a family tradition where the family goes around the table and shares what they are thankful for. He said this tradition brings up the gratitude they feel for each other.

“I’m thankful for everything,” Guerin said. “I’m thankful for getting out of pain. I’m thankful for my grandson’s health and well being. I’m thankful for my family because we are so close. I’m thankful for my friends, who have stood by me through these last 10 years and 12 surgeries. But most of all, I’m thankful for my wife, who has seen me through the worst of times and still loves me.”

Thanksgiving is a time when Guerin and his family can spend time together without interruptions.

“It gives all of us, without telephones or interference from the outside, time to just shut those doors to the dining room,” Guerin said “So many families don’t have these kinds of relationships so that makes, what we have together, even more amazing.”

Guerin said he hopes the surgery on his neck will be the last one.

“I’m counting on the fact that [this surgery is the last surgery],” Guerin said. “I feel very complete now. I think my surgical days are over and now I can start enjoying my life again.”

Update on past participants:

Jacques Muow, featured in last year’s Thanksgiving issue #530, said he is doing better than ever, even though his doctors don’t understand why he’s still alive.

“They consider it a miracle,” Muow said. “I think I am one of the only surviving metastatic renal cancer patients on record. There are very few on record that survive more than 18 months. It’s been four years.”

Since making a full recovery, Muow has expanded his jewelry business to include an Amazon store, two eBay stores and a line of watches called “Jacques Muow, Beverly Hills Watches.”

“[I started the line of watches] to be creative,” Muow said. “I flew to Hong Kong, to China, to Japan and I decided it was a good idea. I started them exactly a year ago and that’s been going better than anything else.”

Although Muow traveled before his illness, he has started to travel more frequently, mainly for work.

“When you fly to Thailand, it’s 18 hours on a plane and you’re totally isolated from everything and everyone,” Muow said. “I find it very relaxing to be on a plane. With the economy as it is, you have to become more active and you have to think of ways of making money.”

This Thanksgiving, Muow said, is going to be very simple.

“I’m going to have my parents over, who celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary last week, I’m going to have all my kids and my grandchildren at my house,” Muow said. “And, I am going to do the cooking.”

Muow said while he is thankful for everything, after traveling he realized the bureaucracy in America is worse than anywhere else in the world and life is tougher than it should be.

“The good news is, this too shall pass, and it’s just a matter of time when people realize that things will get better,” Muow said. “The economy will start bouncing back and the real estate market will start coming back and I will be there to enjoy it.”

James Brubaker, profiled in Thanksgiving issue #373, says his biggest problem these days is being bored in Havre de Grace, Maryland. In 2007, Brubaker moved from Beverly Hills, where entertainment is never more than five minutes away, to Havre de Grace, where the closest movie theater is 40 minutes away. The culture shock has been enormous and Brubaker said he now knows how much he took for granted in Beverly Hills.

However, from a health standpoint, he’s doing great.

“My doctors are telling me that if they didn’t know that I had a transplant four years ago, when they reviewed my blood test they could never tell,” Brubaker said. “I’m doing that well.”

Brubaker said his doctors think he has a long future ahead of him. Prior to having his kidney and liver transplants in 2006, Brubaker was down to his last 30 days.

“The difference between how badly I felt then and how great I feel now has just been enormous,” Brubaker said. “I owe [Cedars-Sinai chief of surgical team Dr. Andy Klein and chief hepatologist Dr. Fred Poodad]

In January, Brubaker’s wife Joy had a stroke. Brubaker and his grandson Brian are alternating taking care of her.

“She has some memory and speech problems and some physical problems,” Brubaker said. “She’s requiring more and more attention as we go. Slowly but surely she’s getting better too. They expect her to make recovery back in the 75 to 80 percent range.”

This Thanksgiving Brubaker, Joy and Brian will be going to Joy’s sister’s house, who lives just a few miles down the road.

“We all get together in the holidays, generally at their house because they have an old 18th century farm house they live in,” Brubaker said. “I help with the cooking. We all get together and that’s fun.”

Elaine Lerner Schreiber, featured in Thanksgiving issue #217, just finished her six ovarian cancer walk called “Run for Her,” a non-profit through Cedars Sinai Hospital. After being diagnosed with stage-three ovarian cancer in 2001, Schreiber said she feels awareness, in addition to raising money for research, is a key component to the walks.

“It puts out there the symptoms of ovarian cancer on everything they have,” Schreiber said. “They publish and they put out ‘please be aware of things changing in your body’ and they give the different symptoms. Most women don’t realize there could be something wrong with them.”

Schreiber has celebrated her ninth year cancer free.

“That, to me, is amazing,” Schreiber said. “I feel really blessed that I’m here. Statistically, [things were] not in my favor and I’m here so I feel very blessed. I had an amazing doctor [gynecological oncologist Dr. Beth Karlan] and amazing support system. My family and kids have been fabulous. I couldn’t have gotten through it without my husband, who is gone now. He was amazing, he was my caretaker.”

Three years after her husband, Arthur’s, death, Schreiber said it’s getting a little easier.

“You don’t ever forget, you don’t ever stop missing the person but of course it gets easier,” Schreiber said. “It’s healthy for that to happen. You can’t stay in that mourning period forever, that’s not healthy. Would I change it, I’d have him back in a heartbeat but I can’t and that’s reality.”

Schreiber spends time with her grandchildren, Maya and Hudson are 8 year old twins and Ava is 5. If she is ever feeling sad, she visits with them and they make her smile.

“When I need to get a pick me up and a feel good moment, I’ll go and see them,” Schreiber said. “Ava lives in the valley and the twins live here in the city, so I split my time between going to see them. Getting hugs and kisses [from my grandchildren] always makes me feel good.”

This Thanksgiving, Schreiber is going to celebrate with family and friends. She said she is thankful for being alive and being healthy, which she celebrates often.

“I celebrate everything,” Schreiber said. “I celebrate life, all the time. I’m so grateful to be able to do it. I just try to look at the positive side of things.”

Turn your old life policies into assets for your heirs and favorite charities.

If you are over age 70 and own an old life insurance policy, you may be able to make large gifts to charity and increase the legacy you leave for your heirs. Without ever writing another check!

You may believe your old policy is worthless or has very little cash value left. You may think your policy is too old, or that it can't be improved upon because your health has changed too much. You may be wrong!

Estate tax laws have changed significantly in your favor and today's insurance plans offer many new innovations. Now you may be able to considerably improve your dated policies.

One of our clients owned $900,000 of life insurance with an equity (cash value) of over $530,000. We showed him how he could gift his policy to charity and use his tax savings to buy a new one that would provide an even greater legacy for his heirs.

An 80-year-old client did not think she could improve upon her ten-year-old preferred issue policy, because she had developed significant health challenges. With our help she sold her policy for triple its cash value! We then showed her how she could use the proceeds from the sale to buy a new policy that provided more guarantees and cost 20% less. She used her savings to make donations to her favorite charities.

Ask for a complimentary report and let us help you decide whether to keep your old insurance policies or sell, surrender, or replace them, enabling you to leave more for your heirs and favorite charities.

For a complimentary consultation and policy appraisal, by phone or in person
