Last minute AYSO donation keeps library open during furloughs

Nancy Hunt-Coffey

Thanks to a last-minute $14,600 donation from AYSO Region 76 and a $4,000 donation from Friends of the Library, the Beverly Hills public library will stay open while the rest of City services are on furlough next week.

The library will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. from Monday December 27 until Thursday December 30, offering basic services such as check out, check in and the reference desk.

AYSO Region 76 approached City Manager Jeff Kolin last week about donating the necessary money to the library. AYSO, Kolin, the library and the librarian unions worked together to make the needed arrangements to fund and staff the library. Head Librarian Nancy Hunt-Coffey said that once a big organization makes a decision, such as furloughing the library, it is incredibly difficult to change.

"It's not easy to turn the ship around once you're in a direction and this took agreement by the bargaining units in the City, the unions," Hunt-Coffey said. "They had to make a very quick decision because they could have said no we're not going to work. They stepped up and supported us and some of the credit goes to them for saying yes it's important and we support it."

AYSO Region 76 Board of Directors member Rick Wolfen said AYSO does not normally make donations, however they had a one-time surplus of funds that they felt should be given back to the community.

The one-time surplus of funds comes from money budgeted for fees associated with the 2009 City Council ordinance to establish field usage fees for all youth sports.

"We budgeted for those fees as established in that ordinance," Wolfen said. "In July of 2010 the Beverly Hills City Council amended the field usage fees and reduced them a bit but by that time we had collected over 90 percent of our registration fees. As a result of that, when we got to the end of the year we had a one-time increase in our revenue, so we wanted to find something that would benefit all the residents of Beverly Hills and the community."

Since the money was originally earmarked to go to the City through field usage fees, Wolfen said, it was only natural to spend it in a way that would benefit Beverly Hills residents.

"The public library is central to any City and there's lots of kids that need to get in there and residents who need access to it over the holidays," Wolfen said. "Kids have to have a place to work on reports, college students are home; it seemed like the library was the great way to reach the most members of the community and keeping it open during that week seemed like the best way to benefit the greatest number of residents."

Hunt-Coffey said that she had never seen any other community raise funds in this manner for a library.

"It's just amazing," Hunt-Coffey said. "It shows the value this community has for its library."

City Council passes ordinance to limit medical usage

The City Council passed an amendment to the medical use ordinance to restrict new medical development Tuesday, 4-1 with Mayor Jimmy Delshad, Vice Mayor Barry Brucker and Councilmembers John Mirisch and Willie Brien voting for and Councilmember Nancy Krasne voting against.

Under the amended ordinance, pharmacies on the first floor are required to hold their prescription medicine at least 30 feet back from the store front, the amount of office space allowed to be converted in buildings that already have some medical use was limited at 6,000 square feet and new surgery centers are prohibited, a new surgery center would either need to occupy an existing surgery center or could be reviewed through an application for a medical overlay zone.

"I think that the ordinance will do what it sets out to do, protect the balance of use in the City and to stop medical uses from getting out of hand," Mirisch said. "We already have over 21 percent of our limited commercial space devoted to medical, that is a significant amount. In addition to the obvious positive benefits, there are negative impacts which include traffic and parking problems, loss of revenue to the City and perhaps most importantly, the impact on community character. We're vibrant, exciting and a glamorous community and while doctors play a role in all of that, we're not and don't want to be a City of syringes."

Hubbard and Christiansen arraignment postponed

The arraignment of former BHUSD Superintendent Jeff Hubbard and former Facilities Manager and Strategic Concepts CEO Karen Christiansen has been postponed until Monday December 27 at 9:30 a.m. in the Beverly Hills Superior Court House. The arraignment has been postponed due to court scheduling conflicts, said LA District Attorney's Office spokesperson Jane Robison.

Jeff Hubbard

The arraignment was originally scheduled for Monday, December 20. It has been rescheduled twice due to scheduling conflicts with both the lawyers and the courts. Since both Hubbard and Christiansen were named in the same complaint, they have to be arraigned at the same time.

Christiansen and Hubbard are being charged with two counts of misappropriation of funds and Christiansen was charged with six counts of conflict of interest, Thursday December 9 said Deputy District Attorney of the Public Integrity Division Juliet Schmidt.

According to the felony complaint filed by the Los Angeles County District Attorney, Hubbard allegedly gave Christiansen a $20,000 stipend and increased her auto allowance in 2006. The discovery of the alleged misuse of funds was made in 2009 by Assistant Superintendent of Business Services Alex Cherniss. Christiansen, while director of Planning and Facilities for the BHUSD, committed six acts of conflict of interest between April of 2006 and August of 2008.

Hubbard has served as Newport-Mesa Unified School District Superintendent since 2006. The NMUSD Board of Education decided last Monday to take no action against him until the criminal charges have been resolved. Bail for Hubbard is set at $50,000

Christiansen, who currently lives in Las Vegas, will be surrendering on December 27 in place of extradition. Bail for Christiansen is set at $2 million.

Final report on 9.02.10 Taste of Beverly Hills shows City money was spent

Due to the unanticipated expenses, the 9.02.10 Taste of Beverly Hills cost $24,812 more than what was raised from private funds. According to the staff report prepared by Deputy City Manager Cheryl Friedling, the total cost of the weekend was $287,822. Private donations and corporate sponsorships only accounted for $263,010.

The additional $24,812 has mainly been paid out of the Tourism and Marketing budget for special events and holiday décor, which is funded by Transient Occupancy Taxes (TOT). Extra trash pickup, transportation and security were needed due to a higher attendance than originally anticipated. Additionally, the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce received $15,000 in revenue and $3,255 in food services to compensate for the relocation of its annual "Evening with the Mayor" fundraiser.

Along with other spending, the 9.02.10 event spent $1,000 on hair and makeup for the Kardashians, $10,000 for R&B singer Ne Yo to perform and $104,000 for Natasha Bedingfield to perform.

Although Friedling said in the staff report, "It should be noted that the Tourism and Marketing TOT Revenue is distinct from the City's General Fund," the revenue collected from the TOT does go directly into the general fund.

"We had three times as many people as we expected to show up," Mayor Jimmy Delshad said at the City Council study session Tuesday. "Otherwise I would have raised the rest of the money [in the beginning]. This was one of the most successful events we had, even if the costs were only for that night."

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY of DRAFT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT REPORT and NOTICE of PUBLIC HEARING

DATE: January 13, 2011

TIME: 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard

LOCATION: Council Meeting Room 280 A
Beverly Hills City Hall
455 North Rexford Drive
Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The City of Beverly Hills has prepared a Draft Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for a proposed new 44-unit condominium building (Residences at Saks Fifth Avenue), and the Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on the Project and Draft EIR on January 13, 2011 at 1:30 PM or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard. The purpose of this meeting is to review the adequacy of the Draft EIR. The merits of the project will not be discussed at this meeting, and no decisions will be made with regard to project approval or denial.

A separate, noticed public hearing will be held at a future date to review the merits of the project before any final decisions are made by the Planning Commission.

The project site is located between the 100 blocks of South Camden and South Peck Drives, immediately south of the commercially-zoned properties fronting on Wilshire Boulevard. The project site is identified as 125 South Camden Drive, and occupies six lots totaling approximately 1.12 acres in size.

The proposed project would result in the demolition of the existing surface parking lot located behind the Barney's retail store, and permanent vacation of a portion of the north-south alley that runs through the center of the project site. The new structure would be a six-story, 44-unit residential building with a two-level subterranean parking garage with 127 parking spaces. The net floor area of the proposed building would be 118,840 square feet, which results in a net floor-to-area ratio (FAR) of 2.44 to 1. The project includes approximately 16,220 square feet of communal and private open space that would be provided in the form of courtyards and terraces. The proposed project would be 66-feet and six stories in height at the northern portion of the site, adjacent to the 85-foot tall Barney's retail building to the north of the project site. The project would then step down to 55-feet and five stories in the middle portion of the site. In the southern portion of the site, the project would step down to 45-feet and four stories, adjacent to the existing multi-family residential development to the south.

Of the six lots proposed for development under the project, the four northern lots are currently zoned R-4-P (Residential Parking Zone) and the two southern lots are zoned R-4X2 (Multiple Residential Zone). The R-4-P zone allows for either multi-family residential development or commercial parking facilities (but not both within the same project), and the R-4X2 zone allows for multi-family residential development. The project consists strictly of multi-family residential development, and is therefore compatible with the permitted uses for the project site. The height limit for the two northern lots is 55-feet or five stories, and the height limit for the four southern lots is 45-feet or four stories. Proposed development on the two southern lots complies with the established height limits, but development on the four northern lots exceeds the established height limits.

Approval of the project requires approval of: a Vesting Tentative Map, a Zone Change to amend the Municipal Code to establish a new overlay zone (which allows for increased height and building length), the Multiple Residential Planned Development Overlay Zone (MR-PD); a General Plan Amendment to reflect the proposed overlay zone and to exceed the 60-foot height limit identified in the General Plan; a Development Plan Review to construct the project; and an amendment to the City's Streets Master Plan to allow for an alley vacation for a portion of a public alley that bisects the project site.

The Draft EIR analyzes the following potentially significant environmental effects of the project:

- Aesthetics
- Air Quality
- Greenhouse Gas Emissions
- Land Use and Planning
- Noise
- Transportation and Circulation

PUBLIC REVIEW AND COMMENT ON DRAFT EIR

The Draft EIR is being circulated for a 60-day public review period, from November 15, 2010 to January 15, 2011. During the public review period, written comments concerning the adequacy of the document may be submitted by any interested person and/or affected agency. Following the public review period, written responses will be prepared for inclusion in the Final EIR.

pointment. Since new Planning Commissioner Brian Rosenstein said he was going to have to recuse himself from the Lexus Project because his father's company, New Pacific, purchased the neighboring lot 9200 Wilshire for $16.8 million, the council felt it was appropriate to keep Furie on as a Planning Commissioner.

Councilmember Nancy Krasne expressed concern about Planning Commissioner Lili Bosse's ability to serve on the Lexus Project if she is elected to the City Council. City Attorney Larry Wiener said even if Planning Chair Lili Bosse is elected to the City Council, because the final votes won't be tallied by the next Lexus Project hearing, with Furie there will still be five people to make the decision.

"If she were elected, she won't be formally appointed to the City council, I sincerely doubt we will have a certified vote count by March 10," Wiener said. "As a practical matter, if it appears from the vote count on election day she's been elected to the City council, it will be up to her if she will want to participate on the planning commission level."

The Lexus project will be heard by the Planning Commission at the March 10 meeting.

No-bid contract with Crown Disposal official

The City Council approved a no-bid contract with Crown Disposal on Tuesday. Crown Disposal has been the City's waste refuse company since 2003. In 2009, the City agreed to exercise the option in the original agreement to extend services until March 21, 2012 and has now agreed to an additional six years, to a contract ending in 2018.

As a part of the amended contract, the City was able to negotiate for cost savings in many areas including a waive of the next scheduled commercial solid waste fee increase and collecting street receptacles for no additional charge. The annual purchase order to Crown Disposal ranges from $5.5 million to $7.2 million annually.

When Crown Disposal started in 2004, Beverly Hills had a 50 percent diversion rate. An increase in diversion means that Crown is diverting waste from the landfill and recycling it for the City. In 2009, Beverly Hills had a 73 percent diversion rate. This is in compliance with a California mandate, which said that each City must have at least a 50 percent diversion rate by 2000.

Based on the current deal points the Public Works Commission was able to negotiate, Beverly Hills will be saving approximately $663,700 in the first year and approximately $3,982,198 over the six year period.

Beverly Vista plans to feed the hungry

On Christmas Eve, Beverly Vista will be holding "Feed The Hungry." All members of the community are invited to go to Beverly Vista School starting at 10 a.m. to make lunches with peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, pudding, fresh apples, chips, candy canes, juice boxes and a homemade card.

"We're hoping to make a minimum of 1,000 lunches for the Westside Food Coalition," Beverly Vista PTA President Laurie Okum said. "I think it will be a great experience for families to be able to participate in this. The feeling of helping others during the holiday season and recognizing that there are those less fortunate and coming together to help. We would love everyone to be there."

Roxbury Park seniors give back for Christmas

This Christmas, the Roxbury Park Senior Active Adult Club made Santa Clause stockings to give to needy children through Good Shepherd Church. The club made 12 handmade stockings complete with combs, brushes, hand creams, shampoo, tooth brushes, tooth paste, apples, oranges and toys.

Beverly Hills awarded for administrative excellence

The City of Beverly Hills Administrative Services was given the an award of achievement for excellent financial reporting by the Government Finance Officers Association.

"It's the highest form of recognition in the government accounting," Assistant Director of Administrative Services and Finance Noel Marquis said. "It's quite an accomplishment and it represents the highest in standards."

"Everybody who has seen the stockings has raved about them," Roxbury Park Senior Active Adult Club member Donna Goldstein said. "The work we're doing is great for seniors. I think that it's wonderful that seniors who are in their 80's and 90's are doing this kind of work for other people. We're paying back."

Beverly Hills City Council Identifies Priorities for 2011-2012

At a recent strategic planning session, the Beverly Hills City Council identified goals and objectives for the coming fiscal year. Working with City staff, councilmembers identified 26 priority initiatives and projects that will best meet the community's needs. Most of those projects are planned for start and/or completion by the end of fiscal year 2011-12.

"With the budget challenges we face, it is essential that we prioritize our commitments and spending," said Mayor Jimmy Delshad. "Every dollar the City spends must go toward maintaining our brand and quality of life, upholding our commitment to being one of the safest and smartest cities in America and meeting our goals of economic and environmental sustainability."

Among the items that Council identified for priority focus are exploring opportunities to expand and enhance the Beverly Hills brand, using Smart City technologies to address traffic problems in the City, supporting the subway extension and Beverly Hills preferred route, revitalizing southeast Beverly Hills and continued development of regional partnerships to enhance public safety.

At any given time, the City has hundreds of ongoing programs, all of which maintain and enhance the quality of life for residents, businesses and visitors to Beverly Hills. The planning session is an annual City Council exercise that helps City staff set priorities as they create their work plans and identify the necessary resources as part of the budget process for the coming fiscal year.

A list of the Council's 26 priority are posted at the City's website, www.beverlyhills.org.

Branding the village?

The real beauty of Beverly

By Rudy Cole

Somehow, Beverly Hills has a new slogan that is supposed to help define who we are, "The Smart City." Obvious question: If we're so smart, why are we shutting down city hall from December 24 to January 2?

First, some feel good news. Thanks to the community minded youth sports group, AYSO, our award winning library will not be closed for the entire furlough period. (See brief on pg 2)

The soccer moms and dads, once challenged by the city council for not limiting members to Beverly Hills residents, have made a generous contribution to the Friends of the Library making it possible to open the library during part of the furlough period.

Librarian Nancy Hunt-Coffey had quite a challenge, putting together a deal with all kinds of players. First, the employee association (union) had to agree to staff the library; the Friends had to accept the gift and the City Council approve the whole package.

Tuesday, the council gave the final nod and, for at least part of the holiday period, a time when many students normally use the library, it will indeed reopen from December 27 to December 30.

A vote of appreciation to AYSO, Friends of the Library, the employee associations, Hunt-Coffey and other library administrators, and City Manager Jeff Kolin who helped broker the deal.

As for city priorities, the council needs a reality check. Don't want to rain on the parade, Rose that is, however when there is some relative calm and before we do this again, some careful examination of priorities and benefits needs to be made. The balanced voice of reason throughout has been Councilmember Dr. Willie Brien.

A word about priorities and community values, and how that relates to tourism:

What really attracts tourists to Beverly Hills? We do not have magnificent beaches, majestic vistas, a world class museum or a performing arts center (at least not yet, as we anticipate the opening of the Annenberg) and we definitely don't have a mammoth amusement park. However, Beverly Hills is still among the top two or three tourist attractions in Southern California.

So, why do they come? Mostly, experts will explain, it is a concept of exclusivity and the ingredients of that are Rodeo Drive, world class hotels and restaurants, a chance to spot a celebrity and, of course beautiful homes, parks and safe streets.

What is really ludicrous – ask any advertising professional, is the assumption that we must promote "the brand." Beverly Hills is one of the most famous cities in the world, identification is not our problem. As a perceptive independent marketing committee once suggested: diversifying the reasons people visit the city, and enhancing events and programs are more important than publicity promoting the name (or brand.) That committee included Fred Hayman, Richard Rosenzweig, Ali Kasicki, Jerry Magnin, among others.

Reality check: How many cities have movies using their names? We probably lead the list from London, Paris, Moscow, San Francisco, Tokyo and certainly, Pasadena, or have you forgotten "Down and Out in Beverly Hills?"

One night of the Golden Globes at the Beverly Hilton gives us more of the right kind of exposure than all the parades in the world – and thanks Beny Alagem for spending all that money on upgrading the banquet facilities to make sure the Foreign Press Association stays in our village.

Is there a link between employee furloughs, closing city hall and the city's image? Yes, and it isn't all that nebulous.

Too often, we take our uniqueness for granted, assume it will always be there and have no sense of the historical reasons for why we are so different.

But the comparisons to the look and feel of communities all around us is indeed striking. Some few examples: We have tough, stringent sign laws. No gaudy, oversized monstrosities that fill store windows and we also ban signage on sidewalks, curbs or even banners on buildings. This control even extends to logo uses on structures, strictly monitored by the Architectural Commission.

For many new merchants, these restrictions are cumbersome and it takes constant education and code enforcement to maintain the rules. So, what happens during furlough periods? Real estate agents, and they are certainly not the only violators, will get a pass for placing a sign about an open house condo on a city owned tree to pole. A drugstore will slip a sign advertising a new makeup product on the sidewalk and the opening or sale by a pawn shop, and we have a few, will try a banner on their window. Not earth shattering, but an erosion of what we expect in the commercial zones.

We can also thank past city councils for our ban on billboards. When people use Westwood or West Hollywood as examples of what we don't want to happen to Beverly Hills, the massive, intrusive boards are either consciously or unconsciously part of the equation.

Furloughs, and even more important, cuts in staffing could lead to serious diminution of enforcements of our esthetic rules. Of course, when we think about cuts in services, we most always mean police, fire and schools, and those really are our value priorities, but the mostly unseen services coming from city hall have enormous impacts on our quality of life and, yes, how the world perceives us.

What tourists want and their reasons for visiting are not quite the same as the reasons most people give for wanting to live in Beverly Hills. People simply don't buy expensive homes in the flats because they want to be able to walk to Rodeo Drive in the hopes of spotting Christina Aguilera.

Years ago, it was schools first, but now there are far fewer families with school age children living in our most expensive homes and condos so public safety ranks ahead, with schools second, followed closely by a sense of community, excellent shopping and world class restaurants – think Spago.

We are also a pedestrian friendly city. A broader issue is economic sustainability. There is an understandable gap in understanding the diverse views in our city: those who oppose growth and further congestion, and city government that cannot provide expected city services without continued business improvements and even expansion.

But back to immediate quality of life challenges: Name branding efforts and expenditures must always be secondary to supporting first class city services. Furloughs, staff cuts, reduction in library hours and more may not immediately change the Beverly Hills world, but eventually, it will. Even tourists may decide to visit Fostoria instead of Beverly Hills if our streets are not clean, signs become intrusive and offensive and fast food stores explode on Wilshire Boulevard.

One side bar: Many years ago, one of the Chamber of Commerce's yearly awards for excellence went to a small retailer just outside the triangle.

The owner, in a great display of appreciation, decided to use his moment of fame, in accepting the award at a civic luncheon, by attacking city staff for "not being friendly to business."

In the pre- Zuzman Eddy and Walsh era, and with city officials sitting stunned by the emotional outburst, and not knowing how to respond, I thought what an important example of one segment of our community not grasping why we have strict rules: What upset the owner was his inability to obtain a permit for a special kind of electric sign for his window.

(I was also surprised that no Chamber leader stepped forward to defend city staff.)

As for the Rose Bowl, quick tell me the names of the competing schools? Hint: One is famous for Cheese and the other has a religious name. I opted for Boise State last night.

Final side note, and although the debate continues, again thanks to Councilmember Dr. Brien for his rational, measured discussion on event expenditures.

Holiday time always reminds me of an earlier battle led by silent film star Corrine Griffith to try, mostly futile then, to bring Christmas decorations to South Beverly Drive.

Griffith, who built one of the first commercial structures on South Beverly, The Four Corners at Charleville, had a running war with the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council on fair expenditures on holiday adornments on "her street."

The tribute to the film industry statuette at Beverwill and Olympic was her contribution to obtaining recognition for "the South." But her battle with city government was so contentious that on the day of the unveiling, the city council decided to hold its own reception at city hall, boycotting the Griffith party at Alfred Kralsen's apartment on South Rodeo even though Corrine funded all costs for the tribute.

It took almost 40 years before South Beverly merchants won the war of obtaining par on holiday decorations, thanks mostly to the South Beverly Drive Association and Anita Zuzman Eddy, economic director of the Chamber.

Speaking of the holidays, our great churches will have, as usual, special programs. Check out the one being presented, not on Church Row,

If there was a joke for best of the year, this one might easily win:

A pinochle club in Tel Aviv, mostly with elderly gentlemen following a day of cards and wine, decided to take some action on their own. The club leader placed a call to the president of Iran:

"Listen, Mr. President," he said. "We are tired of your threats and stupid comments about the holocaust and we are going to declare war."

The Iranian leader shouted back: "We have nuclear weapons and we will destroy you."

"I will call you right back," the Tel Aviv card player said.

YOUR TAX DOLLARS AT WORK

Five former Mayors speak out against taxpayer subsidy for the Rose Parade float

By Marla Schevker

Five former mayors blasted the City Council at Tuesday's study session for authorizing taxpayer funds for a grant to be given to the Tournament of Roses Parade Float Committee.

Former Mayors Les Bronte, Steve Webb, Linda Briskman, MeraLee Goldman and Mark Egerman spoke against the City Council changing the Tournament of Roses Committee $50,000 loan to a $40,000 grant and a $10,000 loan Tuesday. The Council approved the change, 3-1-1 with Councilmember John Mirisch, Vice Mayor Barry Brucker and Mayor Jimmy Delshad in favor, Councilmember Willie Brien against and Councilmember Nancy Krasne abstaining.

The Tournament of Roses Committee originally asked for a $50,000 loan at the November 16 City Council Study Session, however the Tournament of Roses Committee never followed through in returning the loan documents to the City Attorney.

Next week all non-essential city services will be going on furlough, a reflection of the City's current financial troubles. Several of the former mayors cited the furloughs as a reason to not give away the money.

Smith: couldn't raise the money

"For you to agree to collateralize a loan, not a problem," Briskman said. "But to give a grant in light of all of the financial cuts you've made, I don't see how you could justify this."

Webb said he felt that because the Council said no taxpayer funds were going to be used towards the committee, it was something they should follow through with to maintain community trust.

"The integrity of the Council is important and the integrity of those on the committee is important," Webb said. "A promise was made to this Council in the beginning that no city funds would be utilized in connection with this project. I believe regardless of the circumstance you must hold the committee to that promise and commitment. How do you expect the community in the future to trust this council and others in similar circumstances?"

According to a fact sheet passed out at the November 15 Tournament of Roses community meeting at the Hilton, The committee needed $250,000 to build the float, approximately $7,500 in tournament entry fees and approximately $40,000 for additional expenses totaling in approximately $300,000. The staff report for the December 21 study session said the committee will need $250,000 to build the float, approximately $10,000 in tournament entry fees and approximately $10,000 in volunteer support.

At the study session, Courier Publisher and Tournament of Roses Committee Director Clif Smith said $20,000 is needed for volunteer support, including volunteer t-shirts and pins. Why "volunteer support" would be so expensive, when workers are ostensibly donating their time, was not clarified by Smith at the study session.

The Tournament of Roses Committee is a 501c(3) non-profit corporation. The volunteer committee, appointed by the City Council, consists of Former Rotary Club President Robbie Anderson, Fred Hayman, Smith and Planning Commissioner Brian Rosenstein.

According to the study session staff report, the committee has raised $140,000 and expects another $50,000 in pending donations.

"What is most disappointing to me is for the Mayor and Vice Mayor to attempt to publicly embarrass speakers and in this case former elected officials who came to express their opinion in the appropriate way, it borders on a type of harassment that threatens the very heart of free speech."

- Former Mayor Linda Briskman

"The integrity of the Council is important and the integrity of those on the committee is important. A promise was made to this Council in the beginning that no city funds would be utilized in connection with this project. I believe regardless of the circumstance you must hold the committee to that promise and commitment."

- Former Mayor Steve Webb

and Parks," Assistant Director of Finance Noel Marquis said. "All those good things that are paid for by tax dollars, TOT contributes to. It is in the general fund. All the promotional activities the City supports through the Chamber, Visitors Bureau and other organizations, that's all part of the general fund. It's all a part of the general governmental services the City provides."

CVB money is supposed to be used to support and advertise the Beverly Hills brand. It cannot be allocated for anything else. The Council gives the CVB approximately 2 percent of the TOT or about $2 million annually.

"While these dollars [are from] the TOT money, it's for marketing," Brien said. "The TOT money is allocated and left there by this Council and this council may take those monies and use them for general fund expenditures if necessary. They are not restricted dollars but we put them in the TOT account because we do want to support our businesses."

The money for the grant is going to be coming out of the 2010 Tourism and Marketing $400,000 budget for special events and holiday décor, Delshad said, which is derived from the TOT. So far, the City Council has spent $250,000 for holiday decorations and an additional $25,000 for Snow 90210. In the past, the City has spent upwards of $700,000 in holiday decorations.

"This is marketing money," Delshad said at the City Council Study Session. "I am going to suggest the reason we didn't have the float for 23 years or more was because it was on the shoulders of the residents and other people [to raise the money]. It will not happen. You are not going to get $250,000 from other people, especially when the Rose Parade will not allow you to even put one idea or one name or one logo on that, so what are the people going to give money for? This money is marketing money and I encourage you next year in the very beginning to put that money aside from the TOT, all of it or at least half of it should come from the City."

Brien said he could not support the grant because of the City's current economic challenges.

"At a time when our local business and residents are economically challenged and will likely see further reductions over the next year and at a time when this council over the next year will need to make sever reductions, that will impact our residents further, our businesses further," Brien said. "As much as I love the idea of the float, there is no way I can support or will I support the conversion of the loan to a grant. At the end of the day I have to look at all of the other constituents and my core values.

Brucker said he felt the comments made by the mayors were spiteful against proponents of the grant.

“I think this is a very telling moment and I’m very disappointed to see former mayors who have given so much of their sweat equity to the city come in and in what I believe is a very punitive and vindictive act suggest to the council that these monies are being taken away from police, fire, citizens, library, maple center and the furloughing of our precious employees,” Brucker said at the study session. “Where you all know this is coming out of our TOT budget which is our City’s advertising and marketing budget. One former mayor says we took $25,000 from the CVB budget, the City gives the CVB $2 million a year. Here we’re asking for $40,000 and we’re going to get probably a billion media hits and we’re giving $2 million to the CVB. I don’t think they can even come close to that number of hits in comparison to what we will be getting on New Year’s Eve let alone the possibility of hits we might get if we win an award, and that float is also printed in papers all across the country.”

Briskman said she felt like both Delshad and Brucker’s behavior came close to crossing the line.

“It was quite troublesome to see Mayor Delshad and Vice Mayor Brucker show such disrespect to the former Mayors that came in good faith to the City Council Study Session,” Briskman said. “Their claims that our show of support for caution in granting this funding was somehow a personal attack on them was just irrational. What is most disappointing to me is for the Mayor and Vice Mayor to attempt to publicly embarrass speakers and in this case former elected officials who came to express their opinion in the appropriate, way it borders on a type of harassment that threatens the very heart of free speech.”

Some cities are able to raise the money necessary for their float privately and build their float without the assistance of any commercial float-building company. The volunteer-run, non-profit Sierra Madre Rose Float Association raises $50,000 through fundraisers, appeal letters and membership dues and builds their float completely by hand.
