City Council to vote on $7500 one-time compensation for City Manager

Jeff Kolin

The Beverly Hills City Council will vote today on a resolution that will provide for a one-time compensation to City Manager Jeff Kolin of $7,500.

The council will vote at the formal meeting at 7 p.m. The resolution, if agreed upon, would approve a one-time compensation enhancement that will not alter Kolin's original agreement with the City or his base salary.

Kolin's contract provides for an annual performance and salary review, but does not require the council to automatically consider or approve cost-of-living or any other types of salary enhancements.

Kolin's salary is $294,220. In 2012, Kolin was paid $313,300 in total compensation.

The resolution was tabled on April 2 so that newly-elected Councilmember Nancy Krasne would have the opportunity to discuss the item in closed session.

Mirisch brings Westside Subway Extension resolution to rest of council

Moments after being installed as the City's mayor, John Mirisch promised he would bring forth a resolution to the rest of the City Council that stated the City would support the Westside Subway Extension only if it did not route under Beverly High.

The council will vote on adopting the resolution today at the formal meeting at 7 p.m.

If adopted, the council would declare "that the City Council's continued support of the Westside Subway Extension is contingent upon the route's not running under Beverly Hills High School."

The resolution also asks Metro to pursue alternatives to its current planned route, mentioning that construction of phase two, which passes through Beverly Hills and into Century City, is not scheduled to begin until 2019 giving time for Metro, the City of Beverly Hills and the BHUSD to engage in discussions.

The resolution states "the City Council hereby resolves to reach out to Metro and invite all parties to immediately meet in good faith and begin candid discussions with the goal of finding an alternative to the unacceptable current Westside Subway Extension route."

Class action lawsuit filed against Doheny Glatt Kosher Meat Market

Raymond Zolekhian

A class action lawsuit has been filed against Doheny Glatt Kosher Meat Market and owner Michael Engelman on April 2, joining others in allegations that the market is falsely labeling its meats as kosher. Raymond Zolekhian is the lead attorney on the case.

“As a member of the Jewish community in Los Angeles, I was just as outraged as everyone else when I heard about these allegations,” said Zolekhian. “Basically what we’re trying to do is uncover the extent of the wrongdoing and represent everyone who purchased meat from there under the impression that it was Glatt Kosher and may not have necessarily received that product.”

The complaint alleges fraud, violation of the California Unfair Competition Law, violation of California False Advertising Law, violation of California Consumer Legal Remedies Act, breach of contract, breach of warranty, breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, negligent infliction of emotional distress, intentional infliction of emotional distress and battery.

On March 24, a video taken by a private investigator, that later aired on KTLA-TV, seemingly showed workers carrying boxes of meat into the store late at night without the supervision of a mashgiach, or inspector who supervises the kosher status of a kosher establishment, as required.

Following the controversy around the video, the Rabbinical Council of California pulled Doheny’s kosher certification and said they would possibly pursue legal action in a statement released March 29.

The complaint claims that the video showing the unloading of boxes without the mashgiach was not an isolated influence but common practice to command higher prices from consumers.

The complaint alleges that the defendants have caused plaintiffs “severe emotional distress” and have done so intentionally.

“In addition to the financial harm that people suffered, this was very personal to the clients that I’m representing,” said Zolekhian. “We’re hoping that this lawsuit will bring to the forefront that these types of personal beliefs are not something that should be exploited for the purpose of additional profits. Hopefully, fully exposing what happened and obtaining a monetary settlement for my clients will not only help make them whole in some way, but prevent something like this from happening in the future.”

The United States Department of Agriculture has launched an investigation in to the market.

The plaintiff has alleged battery, as customers “were offended by touching, consuming, and bringing non-kosher meat in their kitchens.”

Los Angeles businessman Shlomo Rechnitz has purchased Doheny Glatt Kosher Meat Market. Rechnitz announced his purchase on March 31, according to reports by the Jewish Journal.

The Weekly made repeated calls to the market, but could not reach Engelman for comment.

Planning Commission unanimously approves amendments to Lexus dealership project

The Planning Commission unanimously approved amendments to a previously approved conditional use permit authorizing the construction of a new Lexus dealership at 9230 Wilshire Boulevard on Tuesday.

Vice Chair Brian Rosenstein did not attend the meeting.

The original project, approved by the Planning Commission in 2011 and upheld on appeal by the City Council in 2012, authorizes the demolition of the existing Jim Falk Lexus dealership and the construction of a new one.

The original project was for vehicle sales, service and parking. It included four levels with rooftop parking and two levels of subterranean service bays -- 70 in total.

The applicants have proposed to reduce the number of service bays from 70 to 49, and moving 16 to the second floor.

The applicant needed an amendment to the CUP because all service bays are required to be underground per the previously approved CUP.

Moving the 16 bays to the second floor would eliminate one level of subterranean construction. Total parking would reduce from 351 to 319.

Staff found that the reduction in service bays did not negatively impact traffic and resulted in less vehicle trips to the property.

Nancy Pelosi endorses Greuel at Beverly Hills event

House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-San Francisco) endorsed Los Angeles Mayoral Candidate Wendy Greuel at an event hosted by the Feminist Majority Foundation offices in Beverly Hills on Thursday.

“If you wanted to put together a resume of someone who would be the mayor of Los Angeles, it would automatically point to Wendy,” said Pelosi. “She has public and private sector experience. That’s very important because job creation is really the life blood of making a City succeed.”

Pelosi said she was proud to join California Sen. Barbara Boxer and U.S. Representatives Janice Hahn (D-San Pedro) and Judy Chu (D-Monterey Park) in supporting Greuel’s election. Pelosi said Greuel, the mother of a 9.5 year old, would resonate with all different types of women.

“There’s somebody not only with a seat at the table, but a seat at the head of the table that understands the challenges of working families, moms with children who are working, even women who are not working understand that a woman is there,” said Pelosi.

Staff was concerned with noise associated with moving the service bays to the second floor. The applicant will install acoustic paneling to mitigate noise. Previously, the second floor would have contained openings to allow natural ventilation, but will be fitted to mitigate noise impacts.

The Planning Commission asked during the meeting to maintain jurisdiction over noise issues associated with the project. The commission required installation of sound absorbing material on the vehicle ramp connecting the second to the third floor. The commission also reserves the right to require acoustical windows on the third floor should noise issues arise.

The Planning Commission will review the project a year after the dealership begins operations.

Traffic and Parking Commission recommends permit parking on Heath

The Traffic and Parking Commission unanimously recommended a preferential parking zone be established on the east side of Heath Avenue adjacent to the homes between 477 and 545 Hillgreen Drive. Heath Avenue is located on the southwest tip of the Beverly Hills city limits, immediately north of Pico Boulevard in Los Angeles.

“The businesses which are on Pico in L.A. take advantage of that situation. People who visit those office buildings found out that Heath is not restricted so they’ve been parking all day there and going to the businesses, which has been a serious dislocation for the residents,” said Traffic and Parking Commission Chair Alan Gruschcow.

The request is for one-hour parking from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday without weekend and evening restrictions. The request was resident-initiated. The east side is part of Beverly Hills. The west side is part of the City of Los Angeles. The Los Angeles side of the street has “No Parking Anytime” signs in place.

This area of Heath from the cul-de-sac north of Pico Boulevard to Olympic Boulevard has “alleyway” characteristics, according to the staff report, in that no homes face the street.

The rear of the 17 houses located on the west side of Hillgreen Drive face Heath Avenue. 13 of the 17 homes signed a petition requesting the City look into parking obstruction of nonresidents.

"[The residents] tried to work with the businesses on Pico to get this resolved, but the Pico businesses were unresponsive, so the residents decided to vote on requesting a permit parking zone, so it was brought to us and we agreed with them 100 percent," said Grushcow.

The commission also received a staff presentation about the installment of a crosswalk in front of the Audi dealership on Wilshire.

The dealership, which opened in January of 2012, approached City staff about installing a crosswalk in front of their main showroom at 8850 Wilshire Boulevard to facilitate access to an additional showroom and service center directly across the street.

Staff recommends installation for a signalized pedestrian crosswalk on Wilshire between the blocks of Swall and Clark Drives. Audi Beverly Hills has agreed to contribute half of the total costs. Staff estimated total cost to be $150,000 according to the staff report.

Staff is expected to present this item to the City Council at the study session today, if time allows. Staff is preparing to send the project to bid and will return to the council with a contract award in May or June with project completion expected 150 days after the contract is awarded, according to the staff report.

The City will also soon be transitioning the Senior Taxi Coupon Program from paper coupons to electronic swipe cards.

"Essentially, seniors will be able to load this card [and] get rid of having to deal with all this paper," said Grushcow. "It provides a lot of management information to the city; [it's] easily auditable and takes away all of the administrative hassle that the taxi drivers and the residents have to face in order to make this system work, so it's really a win-win for everybody."

The coupon program currently provides discounted taxi fare coupons for residents age 62 and older as well as qualifying disabled persons of any age.

CHIRLA to honor Alejandro Mayorkas

Alejandro Mayorkas

The Coalition for Humane Immigrant Rights of Los Angeles (CHIRLA) will honor 1977 Beverly High Graduate Alejandro Mayorkas at the organization's annual spring gala on April 18.

Mayorkas was nominated by President Obama and confirmed unanimously by the Senate in 2009, as the director of United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). In his role, Mayorkas is responsible for an 18,000-member workforce in 200 offices and oversees a $3 billion budget annually.

Mayorkas is a former U.S. Attorney for the City of Los Angeles. In 1998, he was recommended by Sen. Dianne Feinstein for U.S. attorney for the Central District of California. He was nominated by President Bill Clinton and confirmed by the Senate. He was the youngest U.S. Attorney in the country at the time.

CHIRLA will honor him for his leadership around the implementation of the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals Program and the Family Unity Waiver, and his support for citizenship, according to a release.

The theme for the 2013 gala is "Families Fighting for Reform." The event will be held at the Park Plaza Hotel on April 18 at 6 p.m.

Board discusses reintroducing GATE program

The GATE (Gifted and Talented Education) program in the BHUSD has been on hold for the last school year.

The board tabled the program in May 2012 when staff informed the board that the estimated cost of a year-long GATE program would cost $500,000.

Four Board members supported providing students who qualify as GATE with additional programs. Board of Education member Lewis Hall said it was important to put this program back in place if the funds allow.

Board of Education President Jake Manaster said that though he felt it was important to provide additional programs, he did not agree GATE was the appropriate way to do so.

Manaster said that other school districts BHUSD compete with do not have GATE programs and it was important not to alienate 95 percent of the students.

"STEM (Science Technology Education Mathematics) [Education] is directly tied to a lot of what GATE parents are interested in seeing," said Manaster. "I'd encourage everybody to just consider that there may be a way to apply this at the elementary and middle school in the same way that the high school does and in that way everybody gets exposed to it."

Board of Education Vice President Noah Margo said that teachers are often teaching three classes at once and it was important for programs that address children with special needs to be put in place. Margo said he was concerned that the GATE students were identified with a multiple choice test. He said it was important the district recognize it was a label.

"We should provide opportunities to students who desire, want and deserve it more than just those who score high on one test," said Margo.

The Board of Education brought the item for discussion only. Four GATE parents addressed the Board of Education during the public hearing period of the meeting urging Board members to put the program back in place.

Chief Academic Officer Jennifer Tedford led the discussion. In recent years, the district provided a 12 week spring program for students who qualified as GATE students. The smaller program had cost the district

Caroline Kennedy visits Horace Mann School

Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the late President John F. Kennedy, visited Horace Mann School on Tuesday in honor of National Library Week.

"We were so honored to have Caroline Kennedy come to our school today on so many different levels. We have so much respect for her and the fact that she champions libraries throughout the United States," said Horace Mann Principal Steve Kessler.

Kennedy as honorary chair of National Library Week is visiting school libraries throughout the country. April is National Poetry Month and National Library Week is from April 14 to 20.

Kennedy spoke with fourth graders in Heather Woodring's class about the importance of literature and poetry. She shared a poem from her newest anthology with students.

"I want to mention how ultra proud their principal was of the fourth grade class who came to share their ideas of literacy with Ms. Kennedy. Their comments to her when she talked about poetry and books in general: fiction, nonfiction, biographies, etc. were just so thoughtful and highly intelligent that it just made for a wonderful interaction with Ms. Kennedy," said Kessler.

Horace Mann librarian Sheryl Grabow-Weiss arranged the visit with Kennedy.

"It was through the efforts of Sheryl Grabow-Weiss that we were able to get this and she worked tirelessly through the vacation period to solidify Miss Kennedy visiting our school and we're all so very appreciative," said Kessler.

Grabow-Weiss was one of two teacher-librarians hired last year to cover the four elementary schools. She was a teacher librarian and teacher at Las Virgenes Unified School District after almost 15 years.

about $35,000.

The state of California requires all students be tested for GATE at the end of third grade. The GATE program is open to fourth through eighth grade students. The state requires that students be identified as GATE, but does not necessarily require a program for these students be in place.

Board of Education member Brian Goldberg said identifying students as GATE without providing a gate program was a "missed opportunity." Goldberg said the Board needed to have this conversation in the context of a priority-based budget because restoring a program would lead to cuts in another. Goldberg said it would be on his list of priorities when the Board addresses the budget in May.

"I'm just wondering if I've already seen this fence in place," said Board of Education member Brian Goldberg.

Goldberg's three children attend Horace Mann School.

"In an effort to secure the campus, this work was done in order to not leave the campus open," said Chief Administrative Officer Dawnalyn Murakawa-Leopard.

Board of Education President Jake Manaster and Goldberg said they understood staff is overworked but they abstained to show their disapproval of the process.

The proposal came before the board to limit access to the campus. The particular area is located at the north corner of the auditorium along Hamel Drive. Two proposals came before the Board for $2,250 and the second for $3,700, but the fence installation had been completed for the lower price.

Board of Education member Lisa Korbatov questioned the disparity of prices before knowing the installation had already taken place.

"We understand that we've put the staff in a situation of being understaffed by [two] personnel and you guys have a lot on your plate but it shouldn't come to us this way," said Goldberg. "If it's already been done, it needs to be brought out."

Goldberg urged the staff to be as transparent as possible.

"I cannot emphasize enough that Measure E, given the history of bonds in this district; we need to be really upfront and transparent in everything we do," he said.

Margo said he would support the approval because he was happy the fence was there and had it not been, the district would have other issues, but would not like to see this happen again.

The High Cost of Free Parking*

By Linda Briskman and Steve Webb

The first in an occasional series from the former mayors.

“Free Parking” is rarely really free. Someone always has to pay for it. In Beverly Hills, because of the two hour free parking, the resulting revenues don’t come close to meeting the annual maintenance costs of the City’s parking structures, let alone capital and deferred maintenance expenses. These shortfalls are in the millions and mounting. Many of our residents don’t understand that while free parking in City-owned lots may seem resident friendly, it isn’t. The money has to come from somewhere. We can either let the facilities fall into further disrepair or take funds from our general operating budget, which will result in corresponding cuts to other programs that may be of greater importance to the majority of the community.

From its inception in November of 1984, the impacts of the free parking program were felt. Not only did parking revenues decrease by 25 percent in the first year, sales tax was flat indicating that the very reason given by the then-City Council to create the program wasn’t being justified. Instead of abandoning the idea, the Council retained the program and even proposed it be extended to three hours free for the holidays. This new idea was strongly opposed by staff and even the Chamber of Commerce as a potential for abuse and thankfully was not granted.

Historically, the Parking Enterprise Fund was established to be a self sustaining fund to finance the construction, operations, maintenance, repairs and improvements of the City’s off street parking facilities. It also was set up to allow for the planning and acquisition of additional parking resources for under-served areas of the City. Today that entity has morphed into a Parking Authority made up of the City Council members as its Directors. That entity now pays the City to manage its parking. Based on the City’s current rate structure, only roughly 30 percent of the users pay to park.

In 2011, the voters approved Measure P precluding the City from reducing the two hour free parking in any City lot with the exception of The Montage and any future city structures. Measure P was funded by owners of the medical office buildings on Bedford Drive to allow for their Tenants’ patients to have two hour free parking in the Bedford lot. Naturally the surrounding business owners would benefit greatly from being able to refer their patients to the City’s free lots rather than have to pay for validations. The City’s analysis highlighted these users as the “hit and run” patrons who came to town for their appointments and left without contributing to the city’s tax base by shopping and dining.

Subsequently, the Superior Court ruled and Measure P was invalidated. The owners of the medical office buildings appealed and ultimately a settlement was reached that precluded the City from modifying the two hour free parking for a period of time in the Bedford Drive parking structure. That time period expires in October of 2017.

Urban planning professor (and a personal hero) Donald Shoup has written extensively about the hidden costs of free parking; namely that it subsidizes urban sprawl and feeds our ever growing car culture instead of pushing developers and cities to come up with a more economical and environmentally-friendly way to do their planning. Shoup claims that free parking is at the root of many urban ills: congestion, sprawl, wasteful energy use, and air pollution. We couldn’t agree more.

One of the most compelling arguments to retain this program has always been the need to match our surrounding retail centers like Beverly Center and Century City. Over time the Beverly Center started to charge every car a minimum of $1 for three hours. They now charge $1 per hour for the first 4 hours. As of February 1, 2013, Century City now charges $1 for three hours -- a new policy that judging by their peak period parking numbers already has shown it has not and will not cost them any business and has significantly improved the bottom line. It is time for Beverly Hills to rethink its parking policies.

It will take courage to evaluate this issue without prejudice and give it a fair review based on the facts. Sometimes what appears to put the residents first really hurts them with unintended consequences in the long run.

Linda Briskman and Steve Webb are former mayors of Beverly Hills.

Comedy writer Mickey Rose passes

Mickey Rose

Mickey Rose, a comedy writer for television and motion pictures, whose life and career were bound to his friend Woody Allen, died of cancer in Beverly Hills on April 7. He was 77.

Born Michael Rose in Brooklyn, New York on May 20, 1935, his first professional writing job was for ventriloquist Shari Lewis, creating jokes for her sock puppet, Lamb Chop. But it was his childhood friendship with Allan Stewart Konigsberg, who would become Woody Allen that led to a successful screenwriting career. As youths, they cut school together to catch Ingmar Bergman movies; as adults, they collaborated on the screenplays of Allen’s early films “Take the Money & Run,” and “Bananas,” as well as on some of Allen’s television specials.

Mickey Rose’s television credits include “The Sid Caesar Show,” “The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson,” “The Dean Martin Comedy Hour,” “The Smothers Brothers,” “Taxi,” “All in the Family,” “The Odd Couple” including “The Sleepwalker” episode. He also wrote for Dick Van Dyke and Rodney Dangerfield. Mickey Rose’s solo feature film writing credits include the comedies “I Wonder Who’s Killing Her Now,” and “Student Bodies,” which he also directed.

Mickey Rose is survived by his son, Quincy Benjamin Rose; his daughter Jennifer Dina Rose; and two grandchildren, Madeline Rose Weisberg and Noah Luca Weisberg.

His late wife Judy Rose, who passed away 10 years ago, was a teacher at El Rodeo School.

The family asks that in lieu flowers, a donation be made to the ASPCA or the American Cancer Society.

INSIDE THE MAGBIT FOUNDATION

The Weekly's interview with founder Parviz Nazarian

By Andrea Aldana

The Magbit Foundation of Greater Los Angeles was established in 1990 to promote education in Israel. The foundation provides interest-free loans for needy and qualified students. The Weekly sat down with Nazarian and his daughter, Dora Kadisha, who is also a member of the Magbit Board.

How did you get involved with the Magbit Foundation?

Parviz: Magbit was a good plan for getting donations from people and providing to the students who didn't have enough financing money to study in university.

After I finished the army, I decided to go to Technion to study, but my mother was there and my brother was there. I left them and I [went] to Technion, I found it was not the way to leave them alone, and I [went] to the university, but I don't have enough money to get my day by day expenses. Then, I said I'm going to leave the university and go into a job or business, making money to support my mother and my brother. It was a good decision at that time and I started to work in Israel and become very successful and I said, if I have a chance to work and make money, many other children in the Iranian country need this idea. As a matter of fact, it works very well because the organization, which we have here, Magbit, I established that and I said we could raise money and provide it to the students to study at the university. We loan money. I'm very happy to tell you that up until now, during the last few years, we already have 12,000 students who receive a loan and they study and they return back the money to our office in Tel Aviv.

Dora: The story is that in 1948, my father went to Israel to fight for the country for the independence war. After the war, he was trying to go to school to Technion as he mentioned and it was very difficult. Those were very difficult times. He had to support himself, his mother and his brother. Without having financial means, it was very difficult, so he had to work at night and during the day, in the classroom, he would fall asleep. He decided he could not continue like that and he went into business. He started working. He always wanted to go back to school and he always had that sense of loss that he did not continue his education, so years later when he became successful, he decided to make sure all those in his position years before would not have that problem and if they want to study they would have the means to go to school. And that's how we went to the president of Tel Aviv University and he shared his views. Being good friends he told him, you're an Israeli, who do you think is going to get money and return it to you without any guarantees? And my father said that we are not going to send the police men after them and today we see that 97 percent of all of those students who go to school, and finish their education, they all return the money. This is the money that he put in and the vision he had to promote higher education and get the students to go to school. It started first with soldiers and new immigrants and now its open for scholarships as well as interest free loans. We often get to meet here, often just by coincidence, students who have studied and benefited from Magbit's loans and scholarships and they're established in life in different fields.

Are the loans only for students in Israel?

Dora: We have some schools in the Los Angeles area, Jewish schools, who receive some nominal fees but mainly it's for higher education in Israel.

How do students qualify for the loans?

Dora: The students file an application and the universities themselves go through the process of choosing them and making sure that they are full time students and they are eligible in keeping up with the standards of grades and all that.

Parviz: We have an office in Tel Aviv University. This office [handles] our entire transactions and activity in Israel.

You are on the Board of Directors.

What kind of work does the board do?

Dora: The board of Magbit – after the initial few years, that my father was the initiator – has become a community outreach. It strengthens the ties between the community here in Los Angeles and Israel, so bringing in the support of the community has become a number one priority, so that we bring not only bigger funds for this matter but also getting people closer to students and making connections between them, getting to know them and getting the bond between the community here and the Israeli schools so that they become more interested, they become themselves owners to schools and adopt different projects.

Parviz: We're raising the money here from the people to send to our office in Tel Aviv.

This year, you are being honored with the foundation's humanitarian award. How does it feel to receive this honor?

Parviz: Very good.

Dora: I think for him being involved in so many charitable organizations and starting his philanthropic work back in Iran,

“Everyone asks me, how did you get this idea? Because I went to the university and I was not able to carry on. I left and went to work on feeding my mother. Now, I am here working, formed a community group here, have an opportunity to raise money, send to Israel and give it to them.”

--Magbit founder Parviz Nazarian

where it was, being a Muslim country, not being able to announce it or do it wide in the open, philanthropy has not been something that just came up new. Ever since he was a 17-year-old boy in Iran, he used to help the community. He was part of the Zionist Youth Group in Iran and I think it sort of becomes [part of] the DNA without thinking about being honored or any expectations.

What other charitable organizations is your family involved with?

Dora: I think CECI (Citizens' Empowerment Center in Israel) is the most important right now. We have two arms – the political plan, in which we empower the politicians and we bring them alternatives for a better system of government, and the educational plan. As you see, most of charitable work that my father is involved with is in education and the educational part of CECI are initiatives for high school students and awareness for grassroots. That is more for leadership projects, volunteerism.

You're also a business owner in the community. Tell us about your business.

Parviz: I come to work in the early morning, drink my first cup of tea, call a few people. [laughs]

Dora: He's involved in a variety of different businesses. Mostly, he started with a tool and dying company with Precision Tool and Dying in Los Angeles. That's 30 years ago that he started it.

Parviz: [The company] made parts for the space shuttle.

Dora: In that company, they made precision parts for aviation and the navy.

And there's also Omnet, right?

Dora: Omnet is involved in venture capital, so they are involved in a variety of start ups, real estate, both in the U.S., and overseas. He was also one of the founders of the hi-tech company, Qualcomm.

Tell us about your family.

Parviz: I have four children [Dora, Dalia, Daphna and Benjamin] and 14 grandchildren. [His wife, Pouran Nazarian, is the gala chair.]

Why is the work that Magbit does so important?

Dora: I think the most important thing about Magbit for him is that it was to fulfill the dream that he never went to school, so it's fulfilling that dream of finishing school for other young people in Israel. One of the reasons that my father is so involved in education is that he believes that one of our highest resources is education and our youth, the younger generation. Our youth are our resources, so we have to make sure that they get the best education to take us through the 21st century.

Can you tell us some details about the gala on April 21st?

Dora: On this one, he wouldn't know that much because he is the honoree, but we are expecting about 800 people that evening. It's a black-tie event at the Beverly Hilton and they're planning a big entertainment program for him and the rest he's going to see there. They don't do fundraising that evening. However these are the supporters of Magbit who would typically donate and purchase tables and donate to different funds and scholarships and adopt students.

Anything else?

Parviz: I want to thank people for supporting the Magbit Foundation for helping the education of [the youth]. It's very important. Everyone asks me, how did you get this idea? Because I went to the university and I was not able to carry on. I left and went to work on feeding my mother. Now, I am here working, formed a community group here, have an opportunity to raise money, send to Israel and give it to them. The funny thing is the people who [receive the loans] are paying back the money without any pressure. [They get] the money, study, after they get out, they even support [the foundation]. It's very important in teaching people how to work together.

The Magbit Foundation will hold its 24th annual Gala celebrating Israel's 65 years of Independence on Sunday, April 21 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. For tickets, call (310) 273-2233.

ORDINANCE NO. 13-O-2640

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE SECTION 10-8-106 REGARDING TROUSDALE VIEW RESTORATION PERMIT PROCEDURES AND AMENDING BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE SECTION 10-3-2616 REGARDING DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS FOR WALLS, FENCES AND HEDGES IN THE TROUSDALE ESTATES AREA OF THE CITY

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS HEREBY ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City Council considered this Ordinance at a duly noticed public hearing on February 19, 2013 and, at the conclusion of the hearing, introduced this Ordinance. Evidence, both written and oral, was presented during the hearing.

Section 2. The Ordinance has previously been environmentally reviewed pursuant to the provisions of the California Environmental Quality Act (Public Resources Code Sections 21000, et seq. ("CEQA")), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000, et seq.), and the City's Local CEQA Guidelines. Based on the initial study, the adopted negative declaration, the comments received thereon, and the record before the Planning Commission, the Planning Commission found there were no substantial changes to the Ordinance or the environment that would require the preparation of a subsequent negative declaration. The Ordinance has been revised by the City Council subsequent to the Planning Commission review because the City Council found that minor technical changes or additions were necessary to achieve the goal of the ordinance to assist Trousdale property owners to restore and maintain views; however, none of the conditions described in CEQA Guidelines Section 15162 calling for the preparation of a subsequent negative declaration have occurred. An addendum to the negative declaration has been prepared pursuant to Section 15164 of the CEQA Guidelines. This allows for the lead agency to prepare an addendum to an adopted negative declaration if only minor technical changes or additions are necessary or none of the conditions described in CEQA Guidelines Section 15162 calling for the preparation of a subsequent EIR or negative declaration have occurred: there are no changed circumstances or new information, which were not known at the time the negative declaration was adopted, that would require the preparation of a subsequent negative declaration or major revisions to the adopted negative declaration. Therefore, the negative declaration and addendum represent the independent judgment of the City and there is no substantial evidence that the approval of the Ordinance, as modified, may have a significant effect on the environment. The City Council hereby adopts the addendum to the negative declaration. The documents and other material which constitute the record on which this decision is based are on file with the City's Community Development Department, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, California, 90210. The custodian of records is the Director of Community Development.

Section 3. The City Council hereby amends Section 106 L of Chapter 8 of Title 10, and adds Section 106 M of Chapter 8 of Title 10 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code to read as follows:

"L. Indemnification: View Owner shall defend, indemnify and hold harmless the City, its agents, officers, attorneys and employees from any claim, action or proceeding brought by a party other than the view owner against the City or its agents, officers, attorneys or employees to attack, set aside, void or annul the entitlements that may be granted by the City through issuance of a View Restoration Permit or that otherwise challenges, or seeks damages resulting from, the issuance, defense, implementation, or enforcement of a View Restoration Permit (collectively "action").

The View Owner shall fulfill this obligation by depositing with the City an amount established by City Council resolution and allowing that amount to be drawn upon by the City to reimburse the City for (i) its actual costs to defend any action and (ii) any damages or penalties assessed to the City as a result of the action (collectively, the "city costs"). Alternatively, the View Owner may deposit with the City security, satisfactory in form and content to the City Attorney, guaranteeing reimbursement to the City of the city costs up to the amount established by City Council resolution. The City shall not draw upon such deposit or otherwise be reimbursed for any city costs attributable solely to defending the legality of the provisions of Title 10, Chapter 8. Nothing in this reimbursement obligation shall provide to the View Owner any control over decisions made by the City in connection with an action.

M. Enforcement Costs: View Owner shall also be responsible for reimbursing the City for any and all costs incurred in enforcing a View Restoration Permit through the judicial process, except for those costs of enforcement as the City may recover from a Foliage Owner. View Owner shall not be responsible for reimbursing the City for any costs incurred prior to the initiation of a judicial process. The View Owner shall fulfill this obligation by depositing with the City an amount established by City Council resolution and allowing that amount to be drawn upon by the City to reimburse the City for its actual costs of enforcement. Alternatively, the View Owner may deposit with the City security, satisfactory in form and content to the City Attorney, guaranteeing reimbursement to the City of its enforcement costs up to the amount established by City Council resolution. Nothing in this reimbursement obligation shall provide to the View Owner any control over decisions made by the City or the City Prosecutor in connection with the enforcement process. Additionally, nothing in this section is intended to modify the provisions of Title 10, Chapter 8, Section 108."

Section 4. The City Council hereby amends Subsection 2 of Section 2616 F "Hedges" and adds subsection 3 to Section 2616 F of Chapter 3 of Title 10 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code to read as follows:

"2. Hedges: Except as permitted by an agreement between adjacent downslope and upslope neighbors, hedges planted outside of the front yard setback on a slope between adjacent downslope and upslope properties where the upslope property faces the Los Angeles Area Basin shall not extend above the higher of:

- i. The finished grade of the level pad on the upslope property; or,
 - ii. Fourteen feet (14') from the level pad of the downslope property.
- For purposes of this paragraph F, downslope and upslope properties separated by a public street shall be deemed to be adjacent. If the City determines that two or more plants have become a hedge and violated the provisions of this section on three separate occasions within a two year period, then the plants shall be removed by the Foliage Owner.

3. Definitions:

'Hedge', as used in this paragraph F, shall be defined as growth of vegetation taller than twelve inches (12"), consisting of two (2) or more individual plants, including without limitation trees, that are cultivated or maintained in such a manner so that the horizontal distance between the nearest points of two plants is less than eight feet (8').

'Located in a line of sight from the upslope property to the Los Angeles Area Basin', as used in this Paragraph F, means that the plane established by the fence or hedge, either at the height of the fence or hedge or if extended upward, would intersect a sight line from the upslope property to the Los Angeles Area Basin."

Section 5. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause, phrase, or portion of this Ordinance or the application thereof to any person or place, is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional by the final decision of any court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of this Ordinance shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 6. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the City within fifteen (15) days after its passage in accordance with Section 36933 of the Government Code, shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance, and shall cause this Ordinance and his certification, together with proof of publication, to be entered in the Book of Ordinances of the Council of this City.

Section 7. This Ordinance shall go into effect and be in full force and effect at 12:01 a.m. on the thirty-first (31st) day after its passage.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS HEREBY ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Section 1505.1 of the 2010 edition of the California Building Code as set forth in Section 9-1-202 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code is hereby amended as follows:

"1505.1 General. Except as otherwise provided in this section, roof coverings or roof assemblies on any structure regulated by this code shall be a fire-retardant roof covering or roof assembly that is listed as a Class A assembly in accordance with ASTM E 108 or UL 790. In addition, no wood shall be used as a roof covering material. Noncombustible non-wood roof coverings may be applied in accordance with the manufacturer's requirements in lieu of a fire-retardant roofing assembly.

Exception: Roof repairs of less than 10 percent of the total roof area on existing structures in any one year period may be repaired with a roof covering that meets the same fire retardant standard as the existing roof."

Section 2. Sections 1505.1.1, 1505.1.2 and 1505.1.3 in the 2010 edition of the California Building Code and as set forth in Section 9-1-202 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code are hereby deleted in their entirety.

Section 3. Section 1505.1.5 of the 2010 edition of the California Building Code as set forth in Section 9-1-202 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code is hereby amended as follows:

"1505.1.5 Class A Roof Covering Requirement. Notwithstanding any other requirement of the Beverly Hills municipal code, no later than July 1, 2014, all wood roof coverings in the City of Beverly Hills shall be either: (1) fire retardant Class A; or (2) treated with a fire retardant spray in accordance with Section 1505.1.6 and Section 1505.1.7.

Exceptions:

1. Demolition or Renovation Permit. Property owners with a non-Class A wood roof that, as of July 1, 2014, have applied for or possess a demolition permit or renovation permit involving a reroofing or an alteration or addition to the roof, shall have until December 31, 2014 to commence such demolition or renovation and remove the non-Class A wood roof; provided however, that such property owner shall submit a signed affidavit, on a form provided by the City, representing that the non-Class A wood roof will be removed by December 31, 2014.

2. Qualified Historical Building or Property. A Qualified Historical Building or Property, as defined in the California Historical Building Code adopted by reference into the Beverly Hills Municipal Code, shall comply with the requirements set forth in the California

Historical Building Code, as adopted and amended by the City of Beverly Hills."

Section 1505.1.6 is hereby added to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code as set forth in Section 9-1-202 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code to read as follows:

"1505.1.6 Fire Retardant Spray for Non-Class A Wood Roofs. If a fire retardant spray is applied on a non-Class A wood roof pursuant to Section 1505.1.5 above, such fire retardant spray shall comply with the current standards of the California State Fire Marshall, including but not limited to ASTM E-84, NFPA 255 and UL 723, and shall be applied by a certified applicator holding a general applicator license as evidenced by a Certificate of Registration from the California State Fire Marshall. The property owner and certified applicator shall submit a signed affidavit on a form provided by the City indicating the manufacturer's recommended effectiveness period and the certified applicator's warranty period. The fire retardant spray shall be repeated before the end of the manufacturer's recommended effectiveness period or the certified applicator's certification warranty, whichever is shorter; provided, however, that the fire retardant spray need not be repeated if, before the end of the manufacturer's recommended effectiveness period or certified applicator's warranty period, whichever is earlier, a property owner has applied for or possesses a demolition permit or renovation permit involving a reroofing or an alteration or addition to the roof, and commences such demolition or renovation and removes the non-Class A wood roof within 180 days from the expiration of such effectiveness or warranty period; provided further however, that the property owner shall submit a signed affidavit, on a form provided by the City, representing that such property owner is not repeating the fire retardant spray because the non-Class A wood roof will be removed within 180 days from the expiration of the manufacturer's recommended effectiveness period or certified applicator's warranty period, whichever is earlier, of the existing spray."

Section 5. Section 1505.1.7 is hereby added to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code as set forth in Section 9-1-202 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code to read as follows:

The permit shall state the name of the certified applicator, the approved fire retardant spray material and the permit expiration date. Before a property owner repeats the fire retardant spray in accordance with Section 1505.1.6, such property owner shall renew the permit obtained pursuant to this section."

Section 6. Section 1505.1.8 is hereby added to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code as set forth in Section 9-1-202 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Building Code to read as follows:

"1505.1.8 Replacement of Non-Class A Wood Roofs upon Sale or Transfer. Notwithstanding Section 1505.1.5 of the Beverly Hills municipal code, effective after July 1, 2014, all existing non-Class A wood roofs shall be replaced with a fire retardant Class A non-wood roof before the sale or transfer of such property for monetary consideration.

Exceptions:

1. Buyer Assumes Responsibility. If the Seller and the Buyer agree that the Buyer shall assume responsibility to replace the wood roof and an application for a demolition permit or renovation permit involving a reroofing or an alteration or addition to the roof will be submitted, and such demolition or renovation will commence, and such non-Class A wood roof will be removed, within 180 days from the date of title transfer, then the non-Class A wood roof need not be replaced before the sale or transfer of such property, but shall be removed by the Buyer within the 180 day period from the date of title transfer; provided further, that the Seller and Buyer of such property shall submit a signed affidavit, on a form provided by the City, representing that the Buyer will remove the non-Class A wood roof within 180 days from the date of title transfer.

2. Qualified Historical Building or Property. Before a property owner repeats the fire retardant spray in accordance with Section R902.1.6, such property owner shall renew the permit obtained pursuant to this section."

Section 12. Section R902.1.8 is hereby added to the 2010 edition of the California Residential Code as set forth in Section 9-1-2A02 of Article 2 of Chapter 1 of Title 9 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding amendments and additions to the 2010 edition of the California Residential Code to read as follows:

"R902.1.8 Replacement of Non-Class

A Wood Roofs upon Sale or Transfer. Notwithstanding Section R902.1.5 of the Beverly Hills municipal code, effective after July 1, 2014, all existing non-Class A wood roofs shall be replaced with a fire retardant Class A non-wood roof before the sale or transfer of such property for monetary consideration.

Exceptions:

1. Buyer Assumes Responsibility. If the Seller and the Buyer agree that the Buyer shall assume responsibility to replace the wood roof and an application for a demolition permit or renovation permit involving a reroofing or an alteration or addition to the roof will be submitted, and such demolition or renovation will commence, and such non-Class A wood roof will be removed, within 180 days from the date of title transfer, then the non-Class A wood roof need not be replaced before the sale or transfer of such property, but shall be removed by the Buyer within the 180 day period from the date of title transfer; provided further, that the Seller and Buyer of such property shall submit a signed affidavit, on a form provided by the City, representing that the Buyer will remove the non-Class A wood roof within 180 days from the date of title transfer.

2. Qualified Historical Building or Property. A Qualified Historical Building or Property, as defined in the California Historical Building Code adopted by reference into the Beverly Hills Municipal Code, shall comply with the requirements set forth in the California Historical Building Code, as adopted and amended by the City of Beverly Hills."

Section 13. Health and Safety Code Findings. Pursuant to Health & Safety Code Section 17958.5, the City may make modifications to the California Building Code that are reasonably necessary because of local climatic, geological and topographical conditions. In particular, the modifications to the Building Code as set forth herein are reasonably necessary because of the local climate which is characterized by hot dry summers, followed by strong Santa Ana winds which make structures particularly vulnerable to rapidly spreading, wind-driven fires. Geographically, the City is located in Southern California in Los Angeles County. Much of the City is located among steeply sloping, hilly areas, which can create hazardous building and fire conditions. Furthermore, the City is located near and over historic and active earthquake faults, which require that special safety precautions be taken against earth movement and resulting fire hazards. Finally, the city's zoning ordinances promote the preservation of natural canyon shrubbery in addition to a great deal of landscaping. Canyon fires and other brush fires are a frequent and natural part of the Southern California ecosystem. Thus structures located in the City require additional protection against ignition from flying embers.

These local climatic, geological and topographical conditions affect the acceleration, intensity and size of fires in the community. Times of little or no rainfall, of low humidity, and high temperatures create extremely hazardous conditions, particularly as they relate to wood shake and shingle roof fires and conflagrations. The winds experienced in this area can have a tremendous impact upon structure fires of buildings in close proximity to one other. During wood shake and shingle roof fires, or exposure fires, winds can carry sparks and burning brands to other structures, thus spreading the fire and causing conflagrations. In building fires, winds can literally force fires back into the building and create a blowtorch effect in addition to preventing "natural" ventilation and cross-ventilation efforts.

The fire danger of wood shake and shingle roofs has been well documented. Specifically, on April 12, 2007, a two-acre brush fire began in neighboring City of Los Angeles in the Franklin Canyon area. High wind, in excess of 50 miles per hour, drove the fire through the dry brush with lightning speed. The wind driven embers spread throughout the community and ignited the roofs of three large homes in the City of Beverly Hills near Beverly Drive and Hillcrest Drive causing extensive damage to two of them and moderate damage to the other. Although none of the burned homes were threatened directly by the fire that began in Franklin Canyon, the three homes were clad with wood shake roofs allowing the wind driven embers to embed and ignite the homes causing extensive damage. The fire ultimately expanded to 15 acres and the cause of the fire was determined to be wires downed in the wind that ignited the brush. As stated above, the local climatic, geological and topographical conditions exacerbate this fire danger. Therefore, because the City Council wishes to reduce the potential threat of fire damage within the City, the City Council finds that it is reasonably necessary to change and modify the International Building Code, as amended by the California Building Code, and the International Residential Code, as amended by the California Residential Code, in order to mitigate the effects of the above conditions.

Section 14. CEQA Findings. The City Council hereby finds that it can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the adoption and implementation of this Ordinance may have a significant effect on the environment. The Ordinance does not authorize new construction and, in fact, imposes greater restrictions on certain development in order to protect the public health, safety and general welfare. The Ordinance is therefore exempt from the environmental review requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act pursuant to Section 15061(b)(3) of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations.

Section 15. Severability. If any section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause, phrase, or portion of this Ordinance or the application thereof to any person or place, is for any reason held to be invalid or unconstitutional by the decision of any court of competent jurisdiction, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remainder of this Ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have adopted this Ordinance, and each and every section, subsection, subdivision, sentence, clause, phrase, or portion thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, subdivisions, sentences, clauses, phrases, or portions thereof be declared invalid or unconstitutional.

Section 16. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the City within fifteen (15) days after its passage, in accordance with Section 36933 of the Government Code; shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance and shall cause this Ordinance and his certification, together with proof of publication, to be entered in the Book of Ordinances of the Council of this City.

Section 17. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall go into effect and be in full force and effect at 12:01 a.m. on the thirty-first (31st) day after its passage.
