“BHUSD Property Tax Rate”

If you received a property tax bill this past week from the County of Los Angeles like I did, you probably noticed a dramatic increase in the portion collected by the BHUSD as compared to last year. This year’s tax, a supposed “one time increase” to pay for Measure E bonds, is 233% of the amount for 2012.

We should all ask what we have gotten in exchange for the promises of Measure E. Let’s see - a scandal involving former school officials that led to criminal proceedings, millions of dollars wasted on legal fees and fraud, money in the pockets of consultants, and ABSOLUTELY

NOTHING CONCRETE TO SHOW FOR IT. As the old saying goes, “Your tax dollars at work!”

“Historic Preservation”

Two weeks ago our community lost the Ira Gershwin house to demolition on North Roxbury Drive due to a mistake at the municipal level. This week, the Wallace Neff designed home at 805 North Linden Drive is on the chopping block, its outcome, yet to be determined. In these last couple of weeks, I have also seen the demise of two 1930s multifamily residential structures on Reeves Drive and a wildly mundane remodel of a master architect designed, S. Charles Lee building on the corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Clark Drive.

I am disheartened by the speed at which the architectural landscape of this community is changing. Parts of Beverly Hills are starting to look like Agoura Hills. Is this what this community really wants? As a community are we still so apathetic to preservation? While the Beverly Hills Cultural Heritage Commission is doing a great job at landmarking many important structures in our city, there is still something greatly lacking at both the municipal level and with the public at large to prevent these kinds of losses from happening and changing the cultural heritage of this city forever.

California Governor signs legislation regulating controversial school bonds

Governor Jerry Brown

Governor Jerry Brown signed legislation last week that imposes restrictions on capital appreciation bonds (CABs), which will affect future bond sales made by the Beverly Hills

Unified School District.

Capital appreciation bonds are bonds that defer interest and principal payments until the bond's maturity. School districts may issue current interest bonds, in which interest and principal is paid semi-annually and capital appreciation bonds to complete construction projects. The capital appreciation bonds have been considered risky when misused and resulted in public scrutiny.

A notorious case in Poway Unified School District will result in total costs to taxpayers of almost nine times what was initially borrowed.

The two most restricting regulations imposed by the bill include a repayment ratio of no more than $4 for every dollar borrowed and a maximum maturity of 25 years. Currently, districts are allowed to issue 40 year notes.

The law, which will take effect Jan. 1, limits the maximum interest rate for CABs to eight percent. The law requires public analysis if bond financing uses CABs.

Critics say the law denies school districts the flexibility in financing that they would need to fund construction.

Superintendent Gary Woods sent a letter on behalf of the district to the Senate Education Committee Chair Carol Liu (D-La Cañada) on June 6 in opposition of the measure.

In the letter, Woods wrote that the BHUSD opposes AB 182 because it puts a retroactive penalty on districts that have already passed bonds, it would constrict bond funding making it impossible for major renovation, and that it will result in decaying schools all over the state.

The BHUSD currently has $60.5 million in capital appreciation bonds, about $60 million of which came from the first series of Measure E bonds, according to Keygent Managing Director Tony Hsieh. The first series of bonds issued by Measure E was a total of $72 million.

The CABs issued by BHUSD have a maturity of 24.5 years and a repayment ratio of $3.4 to $1, which is within the legal limitations of the new regulations.

Though the law does not apply to the current year, the Board of Education authorized a bond sale of $45 million, which would comply with the new law.

BHUSD to sell $45 million in bonds

The Board of Education authorized the sale of $45 million bonds at the Board of Education formal meeting on Oct. 8. Board of Education member Brian Goldberg dissented.

Forty-five million dollars is expected to cover the rest of the construction costs at Horace Mann School as well as some deferred maintenance around the district. The first series of Measure E was for $72 million.

At the Board of Education's Sept. 24 meeting, district staff estimated that about $40 million was left of the initial $72 million.

Beverly Hills property owners saw their tax rate rise in their bills this week due to the Board's decision to accelerate the Measure E bond for the current year, allowing the board to accommodate this year's bond sales.

Having approved the resolution on Tuesday, the Board is expected to receive proceeds from the bond sales by the end of December, according to Keygent Advisor's Chet Wang.

In a presentation given to the BHUSD on Sept. 24, Keygent's Tony Hsieh provided possible scenarios for the Board of Education. Hsieh presented a $45 million issuance scenario that would have an estimated repayment ratio of $3.36 to every dollar borrowed. This series of bonds would be 26 percent current interest bonds and 74 percent capital appreciation bonds. This scenario assumed annual assessed value growth rates would be three percent in 2014 to 2015 and four percent in 2015 to 2016 and 4.25 percent afterward. This scenario would also be compliant with AB 182, a bill regulating school bonds that was signed by the governor last week, even though the law will not officially take effect until Jan. 1.

On June 25, the Board directed staff to provide the County of Los Angeles a notice of intent to issue bonds in the 2013 to 2014 year, accelerating the tax rate for the current fiscal year to the maximum amount allowed. After months of speculation and discussion on whether the Board would accelerate the Measure E tax rate, the Board decided it would accelerate the rate for one year and offer a new bond election to take the place of Measure E, allowing the community to be a part of the discussion.

The resolution was approved 4-1 with little discussion. The Board previously directed staff to draft a resolution on Sept. 24. At that time, Goldberg said he could not support the issuance of bonds until the voters had their say at the ballot box.

Goldberg is the only current board member who was on the board when Measure E passed in 2008.

The next step is to secure the district's credit ratings, which are currently the highest in the state, Wang said.

Jones Hall, bond counsel, will draft a document, which will be finalized by the end of October, with sales occurring by the end of November.

failed to reach a recommendation on a zone modification for the 300 block of El Camino Drive, splitting on a 2-2 vote on two separate motions.

The zone modification was discussed at the commission's Oct. 3 meeting.

A resident initiated petition requesting a new zone for the 300 block of El Camino Drive, presently part of "Zone C," received signatures from 62 percent of single family homes on the block.

Myra Demeter, the lead petitioner, said she had observed misuse of permits on the 300 block, including instances of business employees using C permits and walking to South Beverly Drive.

The block is currently a part of Zone C, which includes the 200 and 300 blocks of Linden Drive to Rodeo Drive. Zone C was established in 1979. Zone D, on the 200 block of El Camino Drive, was also created at that time, according to Transportation Planner Martha Eros.

The 300 block of El Camino Drive is no parking anytime except by permit C between Gregory Way and the south property lines at 312 and 313 South El Camino Drive and No Parking 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday except by Permit C between the south property lines at 312 and 313 South El Camino Drive and the east-west alleyway immediately north of Olympic Boulevard, according to the city's staff report.

The petition had asked for a separate zone for the 300 block. Staff had proposed the block be included into Zone D, currently only comprised of the 200 block of El Camino.

Eight residents of the 300 block of El Camino appeared at the Traffic and Parking Commission. All said they would not support inclusion into "Zone D." The commissioners did not support this option.

Most who did not support the inclusion into Zone D said that the 200 block has very little available parking, especially on street cleaning days. Many shared the concern that including the 300 block in Zone D would allow 200 block residents to legally park on the 300 block on street cleaning days.

Three speakers said they supported establishing a new zone for the block. Five speakers favored keeping the block as is.

According to the staff report, staff conducted counts on the block at 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. on Sept. 19. Of 25 vehicles recorded, 12 vehicles displayed Zone "C" permits assigned to the 300 block of South El Camino and two displayed C permits assigned within the C quadrant. Three disabled, five work/service trucks, and three vehicles without permits were parked.

Commissioners split 2-2 on two motions: one that would have established a new zone "BT" on the 300 block of El Camino and one that would have kept the 300 block as part of Zone C.

Commission Chair Alan Grushcow and Commissioner Julie Steinberg supported keeping the block in Zone C. Vice Chair Andy Licht and Commissioner Lester Friedman supported establishing a new zone. Commissioner Jeff Levine was not present for the discussion.

The ultimate decision will be made by the city council. The council is expected to discuss the possible zone modification on Nov. 19.

Cultural Heritage Commission initiates landmark proceedings on Wallace Neff House

The Cultural Heritage Commission initiated yesterday nomination proceedings for a Master Architect Wallace Neff-designed house whose owners have applied for demolition permits.

"If a house is by a master architect and in this case, Wallace Neff is the master architect who designed the home, there's an automatic 30 day hold put in place before anyone can demolish," said City Urban Designer William Crouch. "The current owners want to demolish. In that 30 days, what happens is the city councilmembers and the members of the cultural heritage commission are advised."

Crouch sent a memorandum dated Sept. 24 to the City Council and the Cultural Heritage Commission regarding the application of a demolition permit at 805 N. Linden Drive, a Spanish Revival style residence by Wallace Neff.

The owners are also required to put a notice on the home to inform the public of a pending demolition.

The Landmark Nomination Advisory Committee, composed of Cultural Heritage Chair Rich Waldow and Commissioner Noah Furie, suggested the property go before the commission for possible nomination consideration.

Now that the commission has initiated proceedings, City staff and the city's historical consultant will provide a detailed report, which will be presented at a future meeting. Upon reviewing the report, the commission will decide whether or not to recommend nomination to the city council, which will make the final decision.

The Community Development Department is reviewing an application to demolish the house. Pursuant to Beverly Hills Municipal Code, structures that are over 45 years old and designed by a Master Architect require a 30-day holding period prior to the issuance of a permit. The 30 days begins from the day the owners post the notice on the site. The issuance of a permit can be put on hold if a majority of either the city council or cultural heritage commission initiates landmark designation proceedings prior to Oct. 25.

Howard Hughes crashed his plane into the home on July 7, 1946, which was recreated in Martin Scorsese's movie, The Aviator.

Former Mayor Richard A. Stone owned the home for many years, and recently sold it.

On June 25, the Board of Education authorized acceleration of the Measure E bond for one year. At the same time, the Board authorized the Superintendent to prepare for a new bond measure to take the place of Measure E.

When Measure E was passed in 2008, voters were assured that the tax rate would remain unchanged. The current board has said that the promise was based on false assumptions that would not facilitate needed upgrades at the individual schools.

The new proposed bond measure will be proposed to the community to replace

Vicki's Vision

With the Wallis Annenberg Center for Performing Arts opening next Thursday, former Mayor Vicki Reynolds discusses how she turned her vision of a cultural center in Beverly Hills into reality.

You were instrumental in purchasing the Beverly Hills Post office. How did this happen?

Well, the [U.S. Postal Service] said that they were going to build a new modern [post office] on Maple and that they were going to deaccession the historic post office because it was underutilized property. I've had a long time interest in developing cultural programs for the city and it was a wonderful opportunity to preserve this magnificent, historic building. We proposed that to the city council and they said, "Well, what do you want to do with it?" I told them that was my dream and then it took a long time to build community support, to negotiate with the post office, and to get people involved. Now, the community is going to have an absolutely magnificent facility.

During your negotiations, was the Beverly Hills Post Office already on the National Register of Historic Places?

Yes.

Did that pose any challenges in acquiring the property?

That was an incentive to purchase the property--that it was a civic treasure. We wanted to preserve and adapt it for reuse as a cultural venue and a community gathering place.

When you were on the Beverly Hills City Council in the late 1990's, how did you first get the idea for a Beverly Hills cultural center?

During the time that I had been on the council before that -- I was on three terms [1988-2001] -- I promoted cultural programs. We had many. We had children's artwork in the Civic Center plaza. We had ice skating in the plaza. We had dancing from Latin American troops and African American troops. This went on all the time. As a matter of fact, I had been a proponent of that when I was on the school board. It was always an interest of mine because I know how culture and the arts have opened up my life through the years and I wanted to bring that to the community. The historic post office presented a wonderful opportunity.

Was there opposition to the project?

We had to justify to the community why we wanted to do it, of course. So, there's always healthy opposition and that's part of the dialogue in getting something accomplished.

It seems now that its set to open there is very little opposition. What were some of the things you were hearing at the time?

The justification for that kind of facility [and] for purchasing the building. "What kind of impact would it have?" The same kinds of questions that come up with every new development. This was not development necessarily, but we were going to expand the use of a public facility, which we thought was a plus.

What are some of the challenges you faced in acquiring the property?

Well, the negotiations went on for a long time. The challenges were to deal with the U.S. Postal Service, which is an enormous bureaucracy. We dealt with three postmaster generals and in the end, Sen. Dianne Feinstein was instrumental in having the then-current postmaster general call me and we had the authority. Somebody came out and we made the purchase.

The city then leased it to the foundation for $1?

It was leased at that time for a dollar. Now, it's $100 a year.

How did this become a passion of yours?

I grew up here. I moved here when I was 15 years old and the post office was a place where we went to buy stamps and to mail letters and to sometimes see friends. There was a wonderful, wonderful blind man who sat at the newsstand and he knew us by our voices and our step. He was very warm. He sat there for years dispensing newspapers and candy and sundries. A lot of us have a personal history [with the historic post office.]

How did the Annenbergs get involved?

Actually, she raised her children here. [City National Bank CEO] Bram Goldsmith had a relationship with her and brought her to the table. We all sat together and she stepped forward in the most magnanimous way to name the center.

You mentioned Bram Goldsmith [after whom the Goldsmith Theater is named]. How did he get involved?

I approached him. He became our chair and became involved on a daily basis, which we never anticipated. He was just absolutely magnificent.

Why did it take 14 years to open?

We had to interview architects. We had to go through planning departments. We had to go through city councils. We had to raise the money. When we couldn't put the theater and everything we wanted in to the historic building, the architects pointed out that we really needed to have an additional building for the theater.

Was it difficult to secure funding for the project?

Well, it's been a long time coming, but a lot of very generous people have stepped forward, and the community is grateful to them, as we all are. We also recognize and appreciate the phenomenal dedication of all the members of the Board of Directors.

In hindsight, is there anything you would have done differently with the project?

Only if I could have speeded it up. No, I mean it just had to go through a process.

How do you feel now that the center will be opening next week?

I am excited and look forward to many happy years ahead for the community to enjoy this wonderful facility.

What do you think of the inaugural season?

After Gershwin home demolition, Cultural Heritage Commission discusses new procedures

Due to the recent demolition of the former home of Ira Gershwin, Cultural Heritage Commission Chair Richard Waldow requested a discussion of the City's procedures in providing historic clearance for projects.

"We want to make sure that our procedures for alerting the commission to request for demolition of a property, designed or remodeled, by an architect or list of master architects is complete and thorough," said Waldow.

According to a staff report, City staff was not aware of Gershwin's connection to the property or the remodel done thirty years after the property's construction by Master Architect John Wolfe at the time of the demolition.

Under the city's preservation ordinance, Wolfe's involvement in the house would

SIGN OF SUPPORT

A crowd filled the Board of Education formal meeting Tuesday night in support of Beverly High Principal Carter Paysinger
by Andrea Aldana

A group of over 50 people attended the Board of Education meeting Tuesday night in support of Beverly High Principal Carter Paysinger.

"We are the silent majority who are no longer willing to remain silent on this important topic," said former Beverly Hills Education Foundation President Jonathan Prince, who spoke on behalf of the supporters.

Prince, with former Board President Steven Fenton at his side, read a prepared statement.

"In his first year as principal, [Paysinger] rallied the flagging spirits of many faculty and staff members, as well as the academic ambitions of many of his students – in fact, in that year, he helped the students and teachers deliver the highest test scores in our school's history," Prince said.

At the beginning of his statement, Prince asked those who attended the meeting in support of Paysinger to stand. Over 50 people who filled the seats and stood against the back wall in Beverly High's Science and Technology Center stood.

"Currently, Paysinger, as well as [coaches] Mr. Newman and Mr. Edelman, are caught in the middle of an examination that is taking away precious resources of money and time that our district can ill afford to give away," Prince said. "This examination has taken and is taking these educators' time away from the over 1700 students, our children, our grandchildren, who deserve full time attention as they attend our school," said Prince.

Attendees included former Board of Education Presidents Lillian Raffel and Dana Tomarken, former Superintendent Dick Douglas, members of the Beverly High PTA, and BHUSD Principals Steve Kessler and Dave Hoffman.

"I stand before you tonight in support of my friend and colleague, Carter Paysinger," said Kessler, who said he could no longer stay silent on the issue.

Kessler first met Paysinger 33 years ago as young football coaches at Beverly High.

Kessler said he had witnessed firsthand Paysinger's dedication and had not been surprised to see Beverly High's API score jump 34 points in Paysinger's first year as principal.

"Carter stepped up again when asked by our district to lead a summer school program for those students wanting to enrich their athletic experiences at Beverly Hills High School," said Kessler. "That decision has come back to haunt him and his moral character has been called into question because of it."

Board of Education President Jake Manaster read a letter aloud by Monique Gibbons in support of Paysinger.

Judie Fenton, the last speaker to address the board during public comments, said she had "sacrificed" two members of her family -- her husband, Frank Fenton, and her son, Steven Fenton -- to the Board of Education.

"If my husband were here tonight he would have said, board members are elected to set policy. They don't micro-manage. They leave that to the superintendent," Fenton said. "I'm sort of appalled that this board decided to hire an attorney to go to investigate a personnel issue and not left it up to the superintendent."

Following a Los Angeles Times article that reported that Paysinger is the owner of a summer training camp for Beverly High athletes operating on BHUSD's campus, the Board of Education authorized in closed session an independent review of the summer camp.

Former Board of Education President Steven Fenton believes that current Board Member Lewis Hall is behind the investigation into Paysinger.

"This is what happens when very few people in the community step up to run," Fenton said. "You get a guy who gets swept into office with a dazzling 979 votes."

RESIDENTS QUESTION INFINITI PROCESS

City Council to bring up project at an upcoming study session
by Andrea Aldana

The Beverly Hills City Council directed staff to place concerns surrounding the Infiniti Project on a future study session when over 10 residents from the Southeast area of the city spoke at the formal meeting on Oct. 9.

Speakers said they felt they had not been included in the process.

"Failure to involve the southeast homeowners in a redevelopment plan, master or general, particularly along Olympic Boulevard and specifically considering the highest and best use of the subject properties, involved herein, prior to the Infiniti project is an opportunity wasted," said resident Craig Davis.

David Peyman said he had requested a Public Records Act request on items regarding the Infiniti dealership, which he argued exhibited a lack of transparency.

Peyman read from documents he obtained from the city including a statement from the planning department, in which the entrance on _____ to the site at 9031 Olympic would "likely to cause a queueing on Olympic, which is undesirable."

Peyman said he reached out to City Manager Jeff Kolin with concerns who responded that the preferred solution had been adopted.

Peyman also read from a document dated March 28 where City Engineer Bijan Vaziri said he disagreed with Infiniti's traffic consultants in their discussion and conclusion for the conditional use permit. Peyman said this was never brought to the council's attention. Additionally, Peyman said he and other neighbors conducted an independent traffic study that yielded different numbers than the city's studies.

"There's not only good cause. There's substantial cause to stay the process, do a comprehensive review and investigation by the city council into what's been going on and provide the residents an opportunity to provide feedback," said Peyman.

Because the item was not on last Thursday's agenda, Mirisch proposed the discussion be put on a future study session.

Murray Fischer, who represents Infiniti, said in a phone interview that he had not had the opportunity to review the city council meeting, but had been informed by others who had seen the meeting. Fischer said he was shocked because they had had a meeting with residents after the approvals had been granted. Fischer said all residents had been invited to a meeting with Infiniti at City Hall. Fischer said only Bradley Gibbons and David Peyman showed up.

"At that particular time they expressed some concerns, we agreed to implement those concerns in our plans and project and we are going forward with that," said Fischer, who said some of the concerns included additional landscaping and signage. "I'm shocked that they are raising other issues at this particular time without calling us or asking us if there's an issue."

Following a decision by the Planning Commission granting a conditional use permit for 9031 Olympic Boulevard, Mayor John Mirisch proposed the council review the decision. The council decided 4-1, Mirisch dissenting, to uphold the Planning Commission's decision on April 11.

Mirisch said he had requested the review because he had been concerned with the "failings of process" having himself only read about the project in the newspaper. Mirisch lives in the southeast area of the city and chairs the southeast task force. He said many residents had not been made aware of the project.

Infiniti will occupy four separate locations in the City. The main dealership will be located on Wilshire Boulevard, at the site formerly occupied by BMW. The other three sites will be located on Olympic Boulevard. Three of the four locations were previously granted with conditional use permits to allow vehicle sale and servicing. The 9031 Olympic Boulevard location was the only location that needed to go before the Planning Commission for approval of a conditional use permit.

The Planning Commission approved the permit unanimously on a 3-0 vote on March 28. Chair Craig Corman and Vice Chair Brian Rosenstein did not attend the meeting.

BHHS Football Team Loses to South Pasadena

Normans to open Ocean League play Friday in Inglewood

By Steven Herbert

The Beverly High offense “did some good things” and its defense “did a great job” in the first half of a 41-7 loss at South Pasadena in a nonleague football game Friday night, coach Charlie Stansbury said.

Beverly Hills had an apparent touchdown nullified and lost a first-and-goal from the Tigers 3-yard-line because of penalties “we usually don’t have,” Stansbury said.

“Going into halftime, we felt pretty good with where we were,” said Stansbury, whose team trailed 13-0 at halftime.

The Tigers (3-2) made some offensive adjustments at halftime, Stansbury said.

In a second half Stansbury called disappointing “we had the opportunity to make plays, and didn’t make the plays,” he said.

Beverly Hills turned the ball over on its first possession of the second half and “gave up a couple of big plays on defense,” Stansbury said.

The Normans were hurt “a little bit” by their lack of depth, Stansbury said.

“Every game we always have a lack of depth,” Stansbury said.

Damiyon Brown scored for Beverly Hills (0-5) on a two-yard run in the fourth quarter to culminate a long drive.

Sophomore cornerback Lucas Brito made an interception, Sebastian Torres “had some nice runs” in the first half, receiver-safety Harry Green “did a nice job, playing both offense and defense” and Eli Sachs “made some big catches,” said Stansbury, who also praised offensive lineman Austin Greer for his consistency.

What’s Next?

The Normans are scheduled to open Ocean League play Friday night by facing Inglewood at Coleman Stadium. The opening kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

The Sentinels (2-3) operate a run-oriented pro-style offense, Stansbury said.

“Their best weapon on offense is the athletes they have, Stansbury said. “They’ve struggled at times with penalties and turnovers.”

Defensively, Inglewood will blitz “a little more than the teams we’ve played,” Stansbury said.

Beverly Hills lost to the Sentinels, 41-7, last season, its fifth loss to Inglewood in the last seven games between the two teams. Inglewood had a 14-game winning streak over the Normans from 1985 to 2005.

Beverly Hills has lost nine of its last 11 Ocean League games dating back to 2010, with both victories coming against Hawthorne.

The high school football website Calpreps.com projects the Sentinels will win 48-0.

Girls’ Tennis

Beverly Hills 16, Marlborough 2

The Normans No. 1 singles player Martina Bocchi was a 6-2, 6-0, 6-0 winner and Beverly Hills No. 2 and No. 3 doubles teams of Paula Alexe and Yevgine Zatikian and Emily Dekhtyar and Nikole Okhman both won all three of their sets in a nonleague match Sept. 24 at Beverly Hills.

Beverly Hills No.1 doubles team of Miriam Binman and Charlotte Frank was a 6-3, 6-3 winner in its two sets before being replaced by substitutes.

Katarina Stefanovic was a 6-2, 6-1 winner at No. 2 singles for the Normans before being replaced by a substitute.

Beverly Hills No. 3 singles player Louta Gorbacheva was a 6-2, 6-2 winner before being replaced by a substitute. The Normans were credited with a forfeit victory at No. 3 singles in the third round.

Boys’ Water Polo

Crespi 11, Beverly Hills 10

David Kotlarenko scored with 34 seconds to play to pull the Normans within one, but they were unable to re-tie the score in a nonleague game at Pierce College Sept. 24.

The Celts took the lead for good by scoring with 1:04 left in the third quarter. Crespi scored the first two goals of the fourth quarter, increasing its lead to 11-8 with 3:38 remaining. Mason Segal scored for Beverly Hills with 2:29 remaining, cutting the deficit to 11-9.

The Normans led 6-5 at halftime, then allowed the first two goals of the third quarter. Beverly Hills regained the lead on goals by Kotlarenko and Justin Kim. The Celts the score with 2:18 left in the quarter.

Beverly Hills trailed 3-2 at the end of the first quarter getting goals from Michael Nassirzadeh and Kim.

Kotlarenko, Nassirzadeh, Josh Louis and Segal scored for the Normans in the second quarter.

Beverly Hills goalkeeper Hans Tercek made four saves.

Brentwood 14, Beverly Hills 8

Kotlarenko scored five goals and Segal three in a nonleague game at Brentwood Sept. 26.

Beverly Hills (6-4) never led, trailing 4-1 at the end of the first quarter, 7-3 at halftime and 11-6 entering the fourth quarter.

Tercek made eight saves.

Brentwood was ranked first in the Southern Section Division 7 poll released Monday.

Girls’ Cross Country

Santa Monica 15, Culver City 51, Beverly Hills 70, Hawthorne 115

Sophomore Sydney Hanover was Beverly Hills’ top finisher, finishing eighth in the Ocean League meet Sept. 26 at Rancho Park.

Hanover completed the three-mile course in 20 minutes, 58 seconds, 22 seconds behind the seventh-place finisher, Culver City senior Sage Sims-Blazer.

Santa Monica junior Dani Shapiro won in 19:40.

Boys’ Cross Country

Santa Monica 15, Culver City 57, Environmental Charter 76, Morningside 97, Beverly Hills No Score, Hawthorne No Score

Senior Aaron Wolfe was Beverly Hills’ top finisher, finishing sixth in the Ocean League meet Sept. 26 at Rancho Park.

Wolfe completed the three-mile course in 15 minutes, 58 seconds, two seconds behind the fifth-place finisher, Clint Nicholson of Santa Monica.

Senior Arden Lassalle of Santa Monica won in 15:37 as the Vikings swept the top five places.

The Normans did not receive a team score as two of their runners were disqualified for running off the course keeping Beverly Hills from having the minimum five finishers needed for a team score, Coach Dwayne Washington said.

have caused a 30-day holding period before the demolition permit was issued where either the city Council or Cultural Heritage Commission could decide whether to initiate landmark proceedings.

When a master architect designs a house, a 30-day hold is automatically placed on the property and the commission and council are both alerted.

Waldow said they wanted to make sure that the procedures would include remodels by master architects as well.

To be designated a landmark, at least three of the City’s landmark criteria must be met.

The staff report also notes that determining landmark designation would have been difficult due to the multiple renovations on the property. However, staff has adopted new procedures such as reviewing all building permits, including remodels, and conducting internet searches on the property.

The property, located at 1021 North

Roxbury Drive, was constructed in 1927 by D.M. Mason, an architect not listed on the City’s list of architects.

Beverly High Teacher awarded by U.S. Department of State Grant Program

Julie Goler

Beverly High English Teacher Julie Goler has been selected to participate in the Teachers for Global Classrooms Program. The program is funded by the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the U.S. Department of State.

Goler, one of 72 teachers chosen to participate, has taught English at Beverly High for 20 years and has specialized in cultural opportunities for Beverly High students including having designed a senior ethnic literature course. Goler hopes to revise the course for the next fall.

The program begins with an eight week online professional development course, beginning in October and November of this year, which is aimed at globalizing pedagogy in U.S. classrooms.

Next February, Goler will be invited to attend a 2-day Global Education Symposium in Washington, D.C., which is followed by two or three weeks of international experience in Ghana, India, Indonesia, Kazakhstan, Morocco or Ukraine.

Applicants interview for Citizen’s Oversight Committee

The Board of Education interviewed seven applicants for the Citizen’s Oversight Committee during an open afternoon session on Oct. 8. Board of Education member Lisa Korbatov did not attend the interviews.

Applicants included incumbent COC members Woodrow Clark, Joe Safier, Steve Hendry, and Shirley Zaragoza, and new applicants Chris Kiper, Jerid Maybaum, Mathew Mokhtarzadeh, and Alejandra Thorpe.

Hendry was unable to make the interviews. Thorpe left before the interviews had concluded.

Mokhtarzadeh is a Beverly High senior and will be the first student to serve on the COC. The Board will formally vote on Oct. 22 to select COC members, but verbally favored accepting the six applicants who completed the interview.

The selection process has not yet been completed.

There are currently three COC members: Fran Cohen, Craig Davis, and Fred Fenster. The committee is required to have a minimum of seven people.

Case No. CV 12-05738-R (PJWx)

[HONORABLE MANUEL L. REAL COURTROOM 8]

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA FALLEN STAR, LLC, Plaintiff,

v. STAR NEWS BUILDING, LP, a California limited partnership; STAR NEWS BUILDING LLC, a California limited liability company; MICHAEL KAMEN, an individual; GERSON I. FOX, an individual; and ALL OTHERS, KNOWN OR UNKNOWN CLAIMING ANY LEGAL OR EQUITABLE RIGHT, TITLE, ESTATE, LIEN OR INTEREST IN OR TO THE PROPERTY DESCRIBED IN THE COMPLAINT ADVERSE TO PLAINTIFF'S TITLE, OR ANY CLOUD ON PLAINTIFF'S TITLE THERETO; and DOES 1 through 100, Inclusive, Defendants.

Plaintiff/Judgment Creditor Fallen Star, LLC's ("Judgment Creditor") Motion For Order Charging Judgment Debtor Gerson I. Fox's ("Judgment Debtor"), individually and as trustee of the Gerson and Gertrude Fox Family Trust dated July 27, 2006 (the "Revocable Trust"), Additional Partnership And Membership Interests To Satisfy Judgment And For Foreclosure Sale ("Motion") came on regularly for hearing on September 16, 2013, before the Honorable Manuel L. Real, Judge Presiding, in Department 8 of the above-entitled court, with appearances by Ronald Richards on behalf of Judgment Creditor and Jeff Coyner behalf of Judgment Debtor. The Court having considered all papers and evidence filed in support of and in opposition to the Motion, all matters subject to judicial notice, having received argument of counsel, and good cause appearing, finds as follows:

Judgment Creditor complied with and satisfied the requirements of United States District Court, Central District of California, Local Rule 7-3 prior to filing the Motion. Judgment Debtor did not oppose the Motion on the merits. United States District Court, Central District of California, Local Rule 7-12.

Pursuant to California Corporations Code, sections 16504 and 17302, a plaintiff may request the Court to enter a charging order against a judgment debtor's personal property interest in a partnership or limited liability company. This Motion is proper as it is brought pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 69(a)(1) and the relevant California Code of Civil Procedure, section 708.310. Here, Judgment Creditor has requested the Court make two separate orders. First, a charging order levying execution of the money judgment in the amount of $15,160,540.35 1, of which the amount of $12,660,540.35 remains unsatisfied, against Judgment Debtor's additional partnership and limited liability company interests. Second, an order permitting Judgment Creditor to foreclose upon those interests.

Where, as here, a valid judgment remains unsatisfied, the Court may issue a charging order on a defendant's various corporate, partnership, and limited liability interests. Notably, the issuance of a charging order is not dependent upon approval by other partners or members of the respective businesses. Hellman v. Anderson, 233 Cal. App.3d 840 (1991). In this case, Judgment Creditor has adequately demonstrated that the judgment remains unsatisfied and, therefore, the Court believes a charging order is appropriate with respect to each of the partnership and limited liability company interests listed by Judgment Creditor in the Declaration of Ronald Richards filed in support of the Motion.

A second issue the Court must decide is whether foreclosure on Judgment Debtor's now-charged interests is appropriate. Subsequent to issuing a charging order, the Court may, at any time, order a foreclosure on the interests. (Cal. Corp. Code, §§ 16504, 17302; see also Hellman, 233 Cal.App.3d at 848-50.) There appears to be some split of authority in the California courts as to whether prior approval of the other partners/members of the partnership or limited liability company is required before the Court may order a foreclosure. Compare Hellman, 233 Cal.App.3d 840 with Crocker National Bank v. Perroton, 208 Cal.App.3d 1 (1989). After reviewing the cases and relevant statutes, the Court believes the better approach is that taken by the appellate court in Hellman. Under Hellman, no prior approval or consent of the other partners or members is necessary before ordering foreclosure on a charging order.

Moreover, here no objection has been filed or made by the partnerships, other partners or other members to entry of a charging order or entry of a foreclosure order. To provide recourse to those other partners or members in cases where there are objections to the sale of a judgment debtor's interest, though no objections were made here, courts are instructed to consider whether the sale will unduly interfere with the business of the partnership or limited liability company. Of course, in order to consider whether the business of the partnership or limited liability company will be unduly interfered with, the Court must be presented with evidence on the issue. The burden of producing such evidence lies with the judgment debtor and other partnership partners or limited liability company members. Hellman, 233 Cal.App.3d at 652-53. Defendant has not presented any evidence to satisfy his burden on this issue.

For the foregoing reasons, Judgment Creditor's Motion is granted. IT IS ORDERED: 1. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, rule 69(a)(1), California Code of Civil Procedure, sections 708.310, 708.320, and California Corporations Code, sections 16504(a), 17302(a), the partnership and membership interests of Judgment Debtor, individually and as trustee of the Revocable Trust, in the following partnerships and limited liability companies are hereby charged with the unpaid balance of the judgment entered in the above-captioned action in favor of Judgment Creditor against Judgment Debtor on April 18, 2013, in the current unpaid amount of $12,660,540.35, plus post-judgment interest thereon from April 18, 2013 and any additional amounts and attorneys' fees added thereto by further order of this Court:

(c) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall serve written notice of public sale by personal delivery, federal express ground, or registered or certified mail at their last known addresses, on the Judgment Debtor, on each of the charged partnerships and limited liability companies, via their general partner, manager, or agent for service of process or trustee, and other persons who the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee has reasonable cause to believe, after diligent inquiry, have a substantial interest in the sale property.

(d) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall attempt to sell all of the charged property as a single lot in order to avoid unnecessary expense and resources.

(e) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee may postpone the sale from time to time by continuing the required posting or publication of notice until the date to which the sale is postponed, and appending, at the foot of each such notice, the following: "The above sale is postponed until the ____day of _____, 2013, at ____ o'clock __.M., _____, Judgment Creditor, by _____, Attorney for the Judgment Creditor, dated _____."

(f) All bidders at the auction shall register, in writing, in advance of the auction on a registration sheet. No undisclosed buyer's agents are allowed, and no undisclosed principals shall be recognized as bidders or successful bidders. Full disclosure and transparency of bidder's identity and agency is required. Once that relationship is disclosed, the bidder shall not be allowed to change it. All bidders shall be required to show cashier's checks made payable to the Law Offices of Ronald Richards & Associates, A.P.C., Attorney Client Trust Account before the bidding starts. They shall be allowed to bid up to the amount they have disclosed to the auctioneer which shall be noted on a registration sheet. No credit bidding other than the judgment creditor shall be allowed.

(g) A bidder at the sale, other than Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee on a credit bid, shall be required to pay 100% of the sale price proposed before the bid is accepted.

(h) Any successful bidder must present evidence of cash, cashier's check written out to the Law Offices of Ronald Richards & Associates, A.P.C., Attorney Client Trust Account or a wire to the same trust account in advance of the bidding which shall be refunded if the bidder who wired funds in advance is not the winning bidder. Failure to comply with this provision shall nullify the winning bid, and the bidding shall not conclude.

(i) The winning bidder at the sale, other than Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee on a credit bid, shall be required to pay 100% of the funds due on the purchase price on the same day and at the conclusion of the auction.

(j) Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall be permitted to credit bid at the foreclosure sale for the charged property up to the amount of the Judgment.

(k) If the terms of the sale are not complied with by the successful bidder, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall proceed to sell the charged property again on the same day if there is sufficient time. If there is insufficient time, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall schedule and notice a subsequent sale of the charged property as provided for herein.

(l) If the charged property is sold pursuant hereto and the successful bidder complies with the terms of the sale, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall execute and deliver all documents necessary to transfer to the successful bidder, without warranty, all the rights, titles, interests, and claims of the Judgment Debtor in the charged property. In addition to any other documents necessary to effect said transfer, such documentary transfer of ownership shall take the form similar to the document attached hereto as Exhibit "A."
(m) Upon completion of the foreclosure sale, the Judgment Creditor shall report to the Court the outcome of the sale and if any credits are due on the Judgment.

(n) If the successful bidder dies before execution and delivery of the documents needed to transfer ownership, the Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee shall execute and deliver them to the successful bidder's estate. Such delivery to the estate shall have the same effect as if accomplished during the lifetime of the purchaser.

(o) The purchaser of the charged property shall be deemed to be an innocent purchaser without notice if the purchaser would have been considered an innocent purchaser without notice had the sale been made voluntarily and in person by the Judgment Debtor.

(p) A successful bidder at the foreclosure sale who fails to comply with the terms of the sale shall forfeit to the Judgment Creditor the cash deposit or, at the election of the Judgment Creditor, shall be liable to the Judgment Creditor, on a subsequent sale of the charged property, for all net losses incurred by the Judgment Creditor as a result of such failure.

(q) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee may conduct the foreclosure sale pursuant to the provisions of California Commercial Code, sections 9612 to 9617, as a secured creditor of the Judgment Debtor's charged partnership and membership interests in the above referenced entities in paragraph 1(a) through 1(l).

(r) The Judgment Creditor, appointed agent, or trustee, is hereby ordered to complete the transfer document in a form similar to that attached hereto as Exhibit "A" upon the completion of the foreclosure sale, and execute the transfer document and note the sales price and any credit to the Judgment Debtor after the costs of the sale are deducted. Upon receipt by the purchaser at the time of the foreclosure sale of the transfer document, this Court hereby orders the title of any interests transferred without impairment, further order of the Court, or any additional consent by any party including the entity in which the Judgment Debtor's interest was foreclosed upon.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

(This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. ORDINANCE NO. 13-O-2648

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING SECTIONS 10-2-804 AND 10-2-805 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE REGARDING LOT LINE ADJUSTMENTS FOR LEGALLY NONCONFORMING LOTS.

WHEREAS, on August 12, 2013 the Planning Commission conducted a duly noticed public hearing to consider a proposed amendment to the standards for Lot Line Adjustments as set forth in the Beverly Hills Municipal Code and recommended that the City Council approve the proposed amendment.

WHEREAS, on September 24, 2013, the City Council conducted a duly noticed public hearing to consider proposed amendments to the standards for Lot Line Adjustments and introduced the Ordinance.

WHEREAS, the City Council hereby finds and concludes that the Amendment has been environmentally reviewed pursuant to the provisions of the California Environmental Quality Act (Public Resources Code Sections 21000, et seq. ("CEQA"), the State CEQA Guidelines (California Code of Regulations, Title 14, Sections 15000, et seq.), and the City's Local CEQA Guidelines (hereafter the "Guidelines"), and that the project is exempt from CEQA pursuant to Article 5, Section 15061 (b)(3) of the Guidelines, which states that CEQA applies only to projects which have the potential for causing a significant effect on the environment. The exemption is applicable because the proposed Zone Text Amendment and Lot Line Adjustment would not result in physical changes to the subject properties other than the relocation of property lines, and no potential for causing a significant effect on the environment exists.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Subsection 10-2-804 (Compliance With Minimum Requirements) of Article 8 of Chapter 2 of Title 10 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

"10-2-804: COMPLIANCE WITH MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS:

Section 2. Subsection 10-2-805 (Approval of Lot Line Adjustments) of Article 8 of Chapter 2 of Title 10 of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code is amended to read as follows:

"10-2-805: APPROVAL OF LOT LINE ADJUSTMENTS:

Upon receipt of the map, the planning director shall examine it to see whether it complies with all the requirements of this article and whether:

- The proposed lot line adjustments will not deny access to any parcel;
- The proposed lot line adjustment will not result in a conflict with any public or private easement; and
- The proposed lot configurations meet all standards of the zoning, subdivision, and building ordinance provisions, except that existing, legally nonconforming lots need not meet all standards of the zoning, subdivision, and building ordinance provisions, provided that the proposed lot line adjustment will result in either a decrease or no change in the degree of any existing nonconformity, and will not create a new nonconformity.

If the planning director makes these findings, the planning director shall approve the adjustment. The planning director may forward the application to the planning commission for its review."

Section 3. The City Council hereby approves this Ordinance and authorizes the Mayor to execute the Ordinance on behalf of the City.

Section 4. Publication. The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the City within fifteen (15) days after its passage in accordance with Section 36933 of the Government Code, shall certify to the adoption of this Ordinance and shall cause this Ordinance and his certification, together with proof of publication, to be entered in the Book of Ordinances of the Council of this City."

Section 5. Effective Date. This Ordinance shall go into effect and be in full force and effect at 12:01 a.m. on the thirty-first (31st) day after its passage.

Adopted: October 3, 2013

Don't sell your life insurance policy until you know the rules!

Alan L. Kaye, CLU, ChFC
President

ALAN
AGENCY

Most people over the age of 70, who want to sell their old insurance policies for more than their cash surrender value, are not getting the most money from their assets.

AVOID RISKS OF INSURANCE FINANCING STRATEGIES

Others, who expect to create “something from nothing”, participate in insurance financing plans without having full knowledge of the chances they are taking. You can avoid these risks by becoming informed of established procedures and you won't make costly mistakes.

Alan Kaye Insurance Agency is a leader in the field of insurance and estate planning with over 40 years of experience. We work with most of the major life insurance companies and have access to their resources to be able to provide the latest in planning strategies.

THREE ESSENTIAL RULES THAT CAN PREVENT YOU FROM MAKING COSTLY DECISIONS

- Provide full and accurate descriptions of all offers relating to the sale of your policy.
- Acquire at least five offers from unrelated insurance purchasing companies.
- Complete background checks on potential purchasers to make sure they are financially and commercially acceptable firms to do business with.

ARE YOU COMPLETING A LIFE INSURANCE SETTLEMENT OR JUST SETTLING?

What kind of insurance professional is helping you sell your old life insurance policy? Are you dealing with a life settlement specialist? Are you represented by a licensed professional with E&O Insurance that covers life settlements? Has your agent explained the risks involved in financing your life insurance?

Call us today to find out what your insurance is really worth and we will help you decide whether to sell, surrender, keep or replace your old insurance policy.
