Legendary choral teacher Joel Pressman passes at 63

Joel Pressman

Legendary choral director Joel Pressman passed away Monday, November 18. He was 63.

A member of the Beverly High performing arts faculty for 38 years, Pressman oversaw a nationally recognized choral program, which included the Madrigal Singers.

Many of his former students went on to great success in the entertainment industry, as well as other fields.

Earlier this year, Pressman did a lengthy cover interview with the Weekly in issue 714.

“There are choirs who sing with better pitch, better tone, better phrasing than my choirs ever do, but after 30 seconds, you go, okay, now what? And it is a rare choir who really takes each piece and makes a small drama out of it and finds that hook to give that audience something that they can connect with,” said Pressman, on what makes Adjudicated as a newspaper of general circulation for the County of Los Angeles. Case # BS065841 of the Los Angeles Superior Court, on November 30, 2000.

Beverly High's choral program unique.

"I've never had anyone come up to me after a concert and say, 'I love the way your sopranos lifted the soft palette on the ah vowel,' even though that's something we spend a lot of time with. They'll come up and they'll say, 'You brought tears to my eyes' or other things to talk about the emotion of the piece, the connection of audience and performer. That's something that we emphasize and I have had judges who have heard us at numerous festivals say, 'This is one of the special things about your choir.' It's not unique, but it is rare," Pressman said.

Pressman was the first and only K-12 educator admitted into the Beverly Hills High School Alumni Hall of Fame. Pressman was a 1967 graduate of Beverly High and held Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from USC.

Pressman had been battling cancer and retired in June.

"I want to be remembered as somebody who really cared -- sometimes, too much -- and who made a difference, whatever that is," Pressman said in the Weekly interview.

Survivors include his children, Aviva Pressman and Elijah Pressman; his parents, Rabbi Jacob Pressman, Rabbi emeritus at Temple Beth Am, and Marjorie Pressman; and siblings, Rabbi Daniel Pressman and Judith Pressman.

Funeral services are private, however a public memorial will be scheduled in the future.

City Council votes against changing permit zone on 300 block of El Camino

The Beverly Hills City Council voted unanimously not to change the preferential permit parking zone C to a separate zone BT on the 300 block of El Camino at their meeting on Tuesday.

Such a change, initiated by a petition in August 2013, aimed to mitigate potential misuse by South Beverly Drive employees and/or residents from neighboring blocks with a Zone "C" permit.

The 300 block of El Camino is one block from Beverly Drive and shares a C permit with 400 other households.

A C permit allows residents to park on the block adjacent to their home or a block adjacent to a home of another resident who resides in the same preferential parking zone who one is visiting.

In August 2013, 15 of 24 homeowners on the block signed a petition seeking to change the zone.

"We have people who come from other areas of the C zone to do their post office, coffee shop, nails, restaurants, and they park, which is much more difficult to document because they come and go and they come and go and unless you had a video camera there all day, you wouldn't be able to see the coming and going," the lead petitioner, former Board of Education member Myra Demeter, spoke at the meeting. "But I live there and I'm in and out all the time and I do see it."

A decision to change the C zone on the 300 block of El Camino went before the Traffic and Parking Commission on October 3.

Options included changing the zone to D, creating a two block zone with the 200 block of El Camino, changing the zone to BT, creating a smaller zone, or retaining the existing zone C.

According to a staff report, two Traffic and Parking commissioners voted in favor of changing the zone to BT and two against. Two voted in favor of maintaining the C zone and two against. None supported changing it to a D zone.

At the Tuesday meeting, residents of the 300 block of El Camino spoke in opposition to the change, referring to studies presented during the meeting regarding parking on the 300 block.

According to Deputy Director of Transportation Aaron Kunz, there were four citations for misuse of permit between July and September on the block. Parking counts conducted on September 19 at 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 4 p.m. found that of the 35 spaces available, there were 25 total parked vehicles identified: 12 vehicles with a zone C permit assigned to the 300 block, 2 vehicles with zone C from other blocks, 3 cars with disabled placards, 5 service/construction vehicles, and 3 with no permit.

"If occasionally a resident from the C zone parks, so be it," another 300 block resident, Jeff Berkett, spoke at the meeting. "It's not an imposition. We're neighbors. If that were a big issue you would see more than perhaps two vehicles out of the potential 35 parking spaces being an issue. It's not. The old saying is, if it ain't broke, don't fix it."

Stuart Rosen, who has lived on the 300 block for 40 years, initially signed the petition in August, but changed his mind when he considered the potential consequences of a changed zone -- not being able to park and visit a friend in the C zone.

"Where is the neighborliness and the mobility of being in the neighborhood?" Rosen said. "It's gone. We didn't spend all this money for these houses to go through this. We'd be prisoners on our own block. I came down to this area because it's a neighborhood. I want it to remain a neighborhood."

Councilmember Willie Brien expressed concern with the potential for a slippery slope, should the zone be changed.

"I struggle with having more and more individual street permits," Brien said. "Because I'm afraid we're going to go to a time where every individual street within an area has got its own permit on that street, and I think that becomes very challenging for oversight and enforcement. Having said that, right now, I would not move forward with the change."

City Council considers enlarging Public Works Commission and extending their terms

The Beverly Hills City Council voted against expanding the Public Works Commission and increasing their terms at their study session on Tuesday, instead agreeing to discuss commission reform as a whole at an upcoming meeting.

An item from Tuesday night's formal meeting regarding expanding the responsibilities and terms of the human relations commission was removed from the agenda, to be discussed later as well.

The study session item comes as follow up to the Public Works Liaison Committee's meeting on Sept. 17, in which Councilmember Nancy Krasne proposed considering enlargement of the Public Works Commission from five to seven members, an increase in Public Works Commissioner's overall term of service from six to eight years, and an extension to Public Works Commission Chair Barry Pressman's second term of service as chair -- with Mayor John Mirisch in agreement.

Barry Pressman

It was expressed at the liaison meeting that the Public Works Commission would benefit from a broad membership with diverse points-of-view, along with creative analytical and problem solving skills, according to a staff report.

"There are so many different areas we're involved in," said Public Works commission chair Barry Pressman. "We have a number of subcommittees and with a commission of only five, these multiple subcommittees are hard to staff because you can't have more than two on a subcommittee. And it could become burden to get it all done if several of us had to serve on several subcommittees."

The Public Works Commission makes recommendations to the director of public services or other staff on the planning, evaluation, and delivery of public works systems and programs such as the city's water, wastewater, storm drain, street lighting, refuse management, and other infrastructure systems.

However an expansion in the membership is in contradiction with recent efforts by the City Council to reduce commission sizes -- all of them down to five members -- for efficiency, cost savings, and consistency purposes. After a City Council meeting on January 4, 2012, The Traffic and Parking, Fine Art, Architectural, and Human Relations Commissions were reduced from seven to five members.

"If they were to decide to increase Public Works, then the question would be what other commissions should be increased?" Pressman said.

Pressman said the Public Works Commission has been experiencing a rapid rate of turnover in recent months, while there is a steep learning curve and a good deal of technical knowhow in order for commissioners to effectively participate in topics and projects involving the City's infrastructure.

A six year term may result in the loss of "advise of experienced and knowledgeable commissioners who have spent years acquiring knowledge of the City's infrastructure," according to a staff report.

To reconcile this issue, the liaison committee proposes extending the current six years to eight years, by increasing the length of second terms from four years to six years.

The liaison committee also recommends

Students celebrate reading at book fair

Beverly Hills students are browsing collections of books at their respective book fairs this week, a joint effort between each of the elementary schools and Scholastic.

Beverly Vista, El Rodeo, Hawthorne, and Horace Mann are hosting their book fairs Monday through Friday during regular school hours on campus.

Hawthorne school is clearing its library and filling the shelves with brand new selections for children and parents to peruse throughout the week.

The fairs are accompanied by visitations from different published authors speaking about their literary endeavors.

The fairs cater to the elementary schools' ongoing enthusiasm in regards to books.

"In school and in the elementary level especially, they're still reading books in class, they still have class libraries, they're still encouraging kids to read books," said Hawthorne PTA president Lorraine Eastman. "Little kids like to flip a page and see a picture. There's just something about that that may not totally go out of style just yet."

an amendment to Title 2, Chapter 2, Article 107(E) in the municipal code, allowing a commission member to serve for longer than one year as chair in their second term of service, should the first two year term of service not allow completing a full year as chair.

The article currently bars members of a commission from serving in excess of one year during any single term on the commission or committee.

Such an amendment would allow Pressman to serve as chair until September 2014, completing a second year as chair at the time of the Public Works Commission's annual rotation.

Pressman joined the Public Works Commission in April 2011 and was appointed as chair in September 2012. His first term ended in April 2013. Under the current code, Pressman would only be allowed to serve as chair until April 2014.

As a result, the likely candidates for chair are the commissioners appointed in November 2013, having gained five months experience learning the department, its processes, programs and projects.

The council agreed to discuss the needs of all the commissions in terms of size and term length at a future meeting.

"I think we have to do this in an orderly way or we're going to have every commission coming and saying, 'I'm a valuable part of the commission and I'm sure future commissioners are, and I want to stay longer,'" Councilmember Willie Brien said. "And I'm sure that they would. And we're going to be sitting here saying, 'Well we did it for that commission. We're not going to do it for this commission. And we did it for a commissioner and not this commissioner,' and I just think it puts us in the middle of some challenges."

Celebrating the centennial with 100 Chinese couples

Jimmy Delshad

The Beverly Hills City Council discussed bringing 100 Chinese couples to be married in Beverly Hills as a part of the Beverly Hills centennial celebration at their study session on Tuesday.

It would involve a ceremony at a Beverly Hills hotel, followed by a parade down Rodeo Drive – closing the street for a few hours in November 2014.

The event was proposed by former Mayor Jimmy Delshad, who had married many international couples during his mayorship.

He aims to bring 100 couples to signify a century.

"As long as we're doing a centennial, why not do it a little bit bigger and a little more international?" Delshad said. "Since I became mayor, I started a lot of relationships with China, Israel, and others. I thought

Office of Emergency Management stresses disaster preparedness training

The Beverly Hills Office of Emergency Management hosted citizen's emergency response training from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday at the Beverly Hilton Hotel – for the first time teaching business owners how to properly care for their employees and customers in the event of a disaster.

50 people attended – from hotels, schools, the medical community, the entertainment industry, and other major businesses in the Beverly Hills area, according to Director of Emergency Management Pamela Mottice Muller.

Classes were taught by Muller, members of the fire department, and community volunteers certified by FEMA as emergency response trainers.

The classes teach students how to extinguish a fire, first aid, search and rescue, how to handle a terrorist attack or an active shooter, how to organize teams, how to understand the psychology of disaster victims, among many other things.

In the event of a disaster, "Residents and businesses are reminded they need to be on their own for three to five days," Muller said. "The government cannot take care of how many millions of people. People need to take care of themselves. They need to store food. They need to store water. They need to have supplies. They need to have medication. People need to have their gas tanks above half a tank. Look at the people hit with a tornado in Illinois. Look at the people in the Philippines. The three likely disasters in the city of Beverly Hills are an earthquake, a terrorist attack, or an urban wild land fire."

Muller says there are about 250,000 people in the city of Beverly Hills during the day – a lot of people who would have needs in the event of a disaster, Muller said.

"We're trying to create a culture of preparedness," Muller said. "That earthquakes will hit, that tornados will come. And that when they do, we're a nation that's prepared. We're a state that's prepared. We're a county that's prepared. The city of Beverly Hills – we're prepared."

The Beverly Hills Office of Emergency Management plans to hold additional training for residents in the spring time, over a six week period – a two hour class each week. The dates are yet to be announced. Those interested can call (310) 281-2754.

China is growing so well and it's also opening its borders for people to come out and visit other countries and the idea came why not make this something that would be interesting for Beverlyans and would put Beverlyans also more on the circuit of being very friendly to other countries?"

Council members expressed their approval of the vision, though City Council member Nancy Krasne expressed concern with its potential resemblance to other mass weddings.

"This isn't going to look like a Moon wedding is it – Sun Myung Moon where he takes a thousand couples, puts them in a room, and marries them?" Krasne said. "I don't want it to look like we're doing a Moon wedding. So it really has to be super elegant, before I could go for this."

In response to Delshad's request for a letter of endorsement from the city of Beverly Hills so as to bring sponsors from China on board in order to fund the event, Mayor John Mirisch expressed the importance of involving the Beverly Hills Conference (CVB) and Visitors Bureau as well as the Rodeo Drive Committee for their official endorsement of the event.

"If we're endorsing something on any level, I think it's important we know who the sponsors are, especially when it comes to a country we don't know so well," Mirisch said. "I think we need some control over that. But I'm comfortable if it goes through the CVB. I believe it should go to the CVB board and the Rodeo Drive Committee as well. We should get their official endorsement of it. They should be involved. China is such an important part of the CVB's work plan these days that we need to make sure that anything we do, whether it's official, semi-official, quasi-official – dovetails into what their plans are and their entire work plan."

The City's projected expenses amount to $13,000, according to Beverly Hills Deputy City Manager Cheryl Friedling – including

Lichtenstein sculpture installed on Santa Monica Blvd.

A colorful Roy Lichtenstein sculpture lights up South Santa Monica Blvd. between North Crescent Drive and North Canon Drive, installed by the Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts on November 9.

Called Coups de Pincea, the 30 foot tall sculpture is painted and fabricated aluminum, and is on extended loan from the Roy Lichtenstein Foundation in New York.

The sculpture is part of a series of large scale brushstroke sculptures that Lichtenstein created in the last decades of his life. They are a reinvention of the generic 2-D gestural brushstrokes Lichtenstein deployed in his paintings beginning in the mid 1960s.

Fine Arts Commission Chair Fiona Chalom applauds the new addition.

"I think it's gorgeous," Chalom said. "It's a beautiful piece on that corner and really enhances the corner."

Planning Commission to assess a variety of issues

The Planning Commission will discuss a variety of issues at their meeting tonight at 7 p.m. at Beverly Hills City Hall.

A subcommittee of The Planning Commission will discuss with the commission their progress in the development of new construction guidelines for single family residences.

The new guidelines are a response to residents who have come forward, expressing displeasure with current construction standards.

The commission will also review the possible impacts on surrounding areas of a potential new concept for a newly constructed building, the Kobor Project located on the corner of Wilshire and Robertson. The building developers are seeking 45% of the space approved for medical purposes, and the rest for general office needs and retail.

The Planning Commission will assess what impacts the building, with this new plan, will have upon the flow of traffic and parking in the area, and what conditions to place on the project so as to minimize negative impact on traffic on Robertson Blvd. and negative impact on parking in the nearby residential areas.

The commission will also look into what businesses will comprise the ground floor of the building and the potential impact on Robertson Blvd.

The Beverly Hills City Council will vote on whether or not to greenlight the new concept for the building at their meeting on December 5.

The Planning Commission will also discuss the potential impacts on surrounding areas of a new concept for an apartment building at Crescent near Wilshire, originally called Crescent Apartments – now AKA Beverly Hills.

They will hear a presentation from AKA regarding their intention to convert the building into an extended stay hotel, where individuals can rent rooms for two to three weeks at a time. They will discuss conversions to the space such as bar or restaurant additions.

Waxman addresses needs of veterans and investigation of Santa Monica Airport crash

On Monday, Rep. Henry A. Waxman (D – Los Angeles) addressed two issues in separate letters to the Secretary of Veterans Affairs Eric K. Shinseki and National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) Acting Chairman Deborah Hersman.

In the letter to Shinseki, Waxman request-

Rep. Henry A. Waxman

Waxman VA Medical Center.

In the letter Waxman writes, "From Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) to mental health and substance abuse challenges to trauma from sexual assault, the veteran community has an array of complex health problems. Developing a comprehensive plan would allow the VA to become better equipped to deliver more effective, integrated care to veterans."

The West LA VA completed a master plan in 2011, which provided a loose framework of projects to be considered for the campus. The VA has not yet released a detailed blueprint for uses of underutilized buildings and other resources to serve the exclusive needs of veterans.

Waxman confirmed in his letter that he is reviewing legislative language to give the VA narrow authority to allow for public private partnerships to renovate and operate Buildings 205 and 208 for long-term therapeutic housing for chronically homeless

In a letter to Hersman, Waxman, reiterated his request for a thorough investigation of the fatal Santa Monica Airport crash on September 29.

Waxman initially requested the investigation on October 2, during the government shutdown.

Hersman's response to the October 2 letter confirms that "safety was compromised by stopping the investigation" as a result of the government shutdown, undermining the ability of the NTSB to collect evidence in a timely manner.

Ben Parnassi

World of Video and Audio President

How long has World of Video and Audio been a part of Beverly Hills?

Since 1982.

You took over the family business. How did it get started?

My father, about 30 years ago, started WOVA as an electronic super store and movie rental company in Beverly Hills. We sold high-end electronics and rented videos to the general public and celebrities in the Beverly Hills area. That business transformed into a post-production and rental business providing audio/visual and lighting equipment to all of the major hotels, agencies and production companies in the City. A few of our clients include The Beverly Hills Hotel, Sony, CAA, William Morris Endeavor, Paradigm, and The Peninsula.

Can you expand on your relationship with the hotels?

We have had a great relationship with the hotel Concierges, Directors of Special Events and Directors of Catering for over 20 years, and when their guests need anything -- including multisystem DVD players for their international guests, laptops, office equipment, or event planning consultation and execution -- they turn to us.

Can you tell us an example of how you would put on an event or provide services at the City's major hotels?

We work with the hotels to provide seamless, creative strategies to bring events to life. The hotels put us in touch with the clients, and we work with them to execute their audio visual needs. We don't only provide the newest, latest technology and audio visual equipment, but also the input and tools to create the ambiance needed for our client's events. Just in the past year, we have worked on film festivals, corporate events, award shows, galas, presentations, movie premiers, fashion shows, and even New Year celebrations. Some of the events we have done can be found on the promo video at our website, www.wova.com.

Can you give us an example of an event that you've done?

One event we recently worked on was for the promotion of the new water-proof Sony tablet, at the rooftop of the Thompson Hotel. It was a partnership with Urban Daddy and Sony. As part of the theme for that event, we brought in a high definition underwater camera to take pictures and video in their pool, and brought in a media wall that extended from beneath the water to outside the pool. At the same time, we had a live feed going to multiple LED TVs and projection on the rooftop's marble wall. There were many details involved, from different switchers, projectors, cabling and lighting, to bring that event to life.

What motivated you to take over the family business?

I've been going to work with my dad since a very young age and technology has always fascinated me. I've enjoyed learning about different gadgets and being ahead of the curve with technology and the audio/video industry in general. Being in the business at such a young age and seeing the exciting changes in this industry made me want to take over the family business.

What does your uncle do?

My uncle owns a video and audio center. They're in four different locations. They are high end electronic super store that competes directly with Best Buy.

What do you like about running the business?

I love running the different aspects of WOVA -- everything from meeting with the clientele to taking care of their needs and bringing their project to life and finding solutions to their problems. With each project, it's a different challenge. [I enjoy] bringing people together, executing the job, and making the clients happy with our services.

Tell us how World of Video and Audio is unique.

WOVA is now two different divisions. One is WOVA Media, a post-production company, which takes care of transfers, conversions, duplicating and editing. The other division is WOVA Events, which specializes in audio-visual and lighting for special events for hotels, restaurants and venues. What makes us unique is that we're the only company that exists with those two divisions under one main parent company, and we're the only company that does what we do in Beverly Hills. We are essentially a one stop shop where through our media division, we can create and edit a video presentation, and through our audio/visual rental company, present that video in the most effective way. What also makes us unique to our clients is our high level of service and attention we give them.

Do you have an example of a celebrity or someone in the industry that has used your services?

One example, in regards to our post-production division, that stands out is Mel Stuart. He's the Director of the original "Willy Wonka and the Chocolate Factory." He was referred to us by one of our other clients and came regularly to use our service, and would say "this is the best hidden secret in Beverly Hills."

What's new at World of Video and Audio?

In our post-production division, we have a new company coming out this week, called www.transferinjas.com. It's a platform we have developed so that anyone in the U.S. can log in and purchase the different services that we offer [such as] transferring home movies, audiocassettes, film, and photos to digital. They'll ship it over to us and we process their order and ship it back to them. It's all done online. Basically, it specializes in converting treasured family memories into digital formats that can be enjoyed anytime and anywhere.

What gave you the idea to move your services online and start transferinjas.com?

WOVA Media, our post-production company, serves a more professional clientele. We do a lot of editing, transfers and conversions for broadcast, talent agencies, production companies, and different companies throughout Southern California. We do, however, get a lot of clients sending their home movies and family videos from around the area to us. We said, "We're already doing this type of service. Why not put a new division with a different name that focuses on the consumers who live in the area and around the U.S.?" Going to www.transferinjas.com gives a more user friendly experience that just focuses on transferring home movies, family photos and audio recordings.

You went live this week?

Yes. WOVA has been on Groupon, Living Social, Amazon Deals and many other deal sites, so we'll also be working with them for transferinjas.com as well.

You grew up in Beverly Hills. Tell us about that.

I was born and raised here. I have three sisters: two older, one younger. I went to El Rodeo, Beverly High, USC for undergrad, and Pepperdine for my MBA.

The business has been open since 1982. Did you imagine the business would become this successful and would expand to online services?

Five years ago, I didn't know where this business would take me, but being involved every single day has opened up my eyes to different opportunities. At the end of the day, it's not what I want in business that's important, but rather finding out what our clients' needs are and making them happier by finding a solution. It's been an exciting journey so far. Just in the past five years, when I officially took over, we've rebranded, launched new websites, hired new staff, remodeled our 5,000 square foot facility and acquired a new company in 2009. We acquired Betaspotdvd.com and rebranded and re-launched it in 2010. I bought it from one of the major editors of Curious George.

What does BetaSPtodvd.com do?

BetaSPtodvd.com focuses on transferring, digitizing and converting broadcast formats to files, DVDs, and hard drives. This is also part of the WOVA Media division. Therefore under WOVA Media, we have two new companies to accommodate our different end users -- Betaspotdvd.com for the production/post production professionals, and Transferinjas.com for the general public that needs their videos digitized.

World of Video and Audio assisted in converting archives of Beverly High musicals into digital files. World of Video and Audio is located at 8717 Wilshire Blvd, Beverly Hills. They can be reached at (310) 659-5959.

investigation to make up for any impediments caused by the shutdown,” Waxman said in his letter Monday. “The community surrounding Santa Monica Airport has had long-standing concerns about the safety of the airport. They have warned that SMO is an accident waiting to happen, and I have been fighting for safety improvements for many years. The airport is located just feet from many homes, and as I noted in my previous letter, the Santa Monica Airport Commission Chairman believes that if the plane had not struck the hangar, it might have gone over an embankment and crashed into nearby residences.”

A LOVE OF LITERATURE

Andrea Grossman discusses 18 years of Writers Bloc

By Helen Zhao

Beverly Hills resident Andrea Grossman founded Writers Bloc Presents, a nonprofit literary series bringing writers and thinkers before audiences for the last 18 years.

How did Writers Bloc come to fruition?

Writers Bloc is a nonprofit literary series dedicated to bringing to LA audiences our favorite writers and thinkers to hear them talk about their ideas with somebody else who can elicit those ideas in a fun, non-canned and spontaneous way. It's really a conversation that allows for audience involvement with Q and A afterward, and can really be provocative and sometimes theatrical. I started it about eighteen years ago when I recognized a real hole in the Los Angeles cultural landscape. I had been volunteering at UCLA, bringing writers to speak, but it was to a very niche audience. I thought that I wanted a place to go that was very public where my friends and my peers would be able to go and hear the authors, the writers, the artists, the thinkers that we love and whom we want to hear, so consequently Writers Bloc was born as a reaction to what didn't yet exist in LA. Certainly the LA Public Library and a couple of large institutions had series, but they really didn't offer the kind of pop culture writers and thinkers who interested me. I love pop culture. I love mainstream fiction. I love mainstream nonfiction. Bookstores certainly would bring those writers, but bookstore readings are really different than Writers Bloc, in that Writers Bloc is a conversation between a featured author and another interesting personality.

You said that these other programs aren't incorporating pop culture. Perhaps books aren't as sexy as movies and television shows nowadays, and maybe the way to capture an audience's ### attention is to incorporate that pop culture?

But they are. See that's my response to what you're saying is – you're wrong. I can't imagine a better way to spend an evening, besides watching great TV of course or hanging out with my family and kids. I can't imagine something more engaging and fun than sitting and reading a book. My husband and I do that every night. My children do that as well. A great story is the best thing in the world. Great books lead you to great places. Don't forget – great movies and great television often spring from these great books.

I know you enjoy television and movies. But what would be your argument for storytelling in the book format as opposed to movies and television?

They put me inside a story. I can take it where I want to go. I can see what I see. I can be swept away entirely. A novelist can write and portray stuff that you don't see on television or in the movies. I'm not saying I don't appreciate TV and movies as much. I really do. I love TV now. It's the best thing going. But a great book can just absorb you in a thousand different ways. It's something I've been doing my whole life and I get such extreme pleasure from it.

How has Writers Bloc evolved over the last 18 years?

My family, my children, my husband have been incredibly supportive. There have been times when I've gotten so frustrated and as the publishing world has changed, it's of course gotten more challenging, but it's evolved in that terrific artists and thinkers want to keep Writers Bloc. It's such a pleasure when somebody great comes to Writers Bloc or a publisher calls me and says, would you like so and so? It's just so validating. That builds up the prestige factor. Year after year, that accumulates. The pantheon of people who have participated is really extraordinary. It's really humbling. I can't believe who's done it – like Justice Sonya Sotomayor – so thrilling. It was her idea to have [actress] Eva Longoria do the Q and A. And Eva Longoria was brilliant, well prepared, not to mention pretty gorgeous. It was phenomenal. She [Sotomayor] suggested it. I was surprised. But I wasn't going to argue with the United States Supreme Court justice whom I love and admire. If she wants Eva Longoria, she'll have Eva Longoria. Rachel Maddow with Bill Maher was hugely popular. Anytime Steve Martin walks into a room – he's done five Writers Bloc programs. George Carlin.

What speakers are coming up?

I have James Carville and Mary Matalin coming up in January. In December, I have James Swanson who is a bestselling author. He wrote a book called Manhunt about the search to find John Wilkes Booth after the assassination of President Lincoln. His new book is on the assassination of President Kennedy. Terrific journalist Richard Reeves is doing the program with him on Kennedy. I have a tribute to Elmore Lenoard with actors, reading from his work. I have Scott Stossel. He is an editor for the Atlantic Monthly and his new book is on fear and anxiety. I had Jared Diamond with Sandra Tsing Loh last night. That was so fun.

It seems many people don't have the patience nowadays to read books – instead indulging in shorter articles, television shows, and movies. How has your group maintained such an appreciation for books?

There are so many people I know and so many people who come to Writers Bloc – my mailing list is over 12,000 and they have all put themselves on that mailing list. I have not adapted any lists. I have not stolen any email lists or imported any email lists. Generally they're from Southern California. But I've had people fly in from the east coast, from Colorado, from Florida, to come to some of my programs. It's amazing. I remember several years ago, Julie Andrews did a Writers Bloc program. A woman flew in from Colorado. Carrie Fisher has done a number of Writers Bloc programs. A guy told me who was waiting outside of the theatre who had a ticket – he flew in from Baltimore to see this particular program because he wanted to see her interview Salman Rushdie. There are people who love and appreciate books. Many of them live in Beverly Hills and in Brentwood and in the Palisades and in Pasadena and in the South Bay. And they come in and they battle traffic. Oh my god, they fight rush hour. They fight gridlock to get to these programs. That's how I gauge how I program for Writers Bloc – would I get in the car and fight traffic to go see this particular thinker or artist? And only if I say yes, do I go for the person.

In the 1980s, you worked at the Z Channel. Tell us about that.

I was the director of film acquisitions or director of programming. I can't remember my title. My boss Jerry Harvey ran the Z Channel. It was really terrific and it was really great training. It was perfect training for Writers Bloc. I would put together film festivals. I would buy movies for the Z Channel that were quality driven, that were good movies. The Z Channel prided itself on good movies. It set the bar high just like Writers Bloc does. I loved it. I had a great time at the Z Channel. I wanted the job so badly. It was the perfect job. HBO and Showtime were little infants in the constellation of paid television and cable TV. The Z Channel was representing great quality. It was a small paid TV channel that was available in Beverly Hills, Brentwood, and the Palisades. Major players in the movie industry all had it and they all wanted their movies to be on Z because their peers would see it. It was sort of the precursor to screeners that the various guilds sent out before awards. The Z Channel would play movies that wanted to be in contention for Academy Awards. I remember Warren Beatty dropped off Reds. Warren Beatty wanted Reds to air on Z in this special screening. That was during what is now considered awards season. When that happened, other filmmakers wanted their movies to be shown on Z during awards consideration time. There would be these film festivals – we would call them – of movies that had just been released in the theatres but would air on the Z Channel for one or two times so that members of various guilds could see them at their convenience. Peter O'Toole would call the time. I just loved it when Peter O'Toole would call.

Tell us about your family.

All my kids attended Beverly Hills schools. We've lived in Beverly Hills pretty much forever. My husband Rick Grossman is general counsel for Dignity Health, which is a large hospital system in California. My son Gabe is 25 and he's in grad school at Columbia University studying screenwriting and directing. My daughter Helen is 23. She is a graduate of Carlton College and she works downtown doing social media and marketing for a very cool collaborative work space called The Hub. My daughter Lena is 20 and she's a junior at Tulane studying English. If somebody is going to be an offspring in the Grossman family, then they've got to be English majors. I went to El Rodeo and Beverly High. My kids went to Horace Mann. I jog in the morning. I know half the people on the street. I walk everywhere. After living here for so many years, one sees it's a very small town. When I went to my high school reunion a few months ago, I looked around and saw that so many of us have really never left. So many of us live in Beverly Hills still. That says an enormous amount for our community.

What is currently on your reading list?

I just finished such a great book called Mr. Penumbra's 24 Hour Bookstore. James Swanson's book, The End of Days. Anything by Michael Connelly. Anything published by Europa Press. There's nothing as satisfying as a great cop story with complex characters. There's nothing as satisfying as a spy story, because those books represent justice to me – the pursuit of justice and the pursuit of right and wrong.

What is the future for reading and Writers Bloc?

Well I hope the future of reading is really strong, and I think it always will be, whether on an e-reader or on a paper book. It doesn't matter. People will be downloading and reading. Whatever platform they use, people will be reading. And I hope Writers Bloc will be around for a long time because it's fun. I can't imagine doing anything else.

MARGULIES aka R. ADRIENNE MARGULIES aka ADRIENNE CLARK
CASE NO. BP146450

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of RUTH ADRIENNE MARGULIES aka RUTH A. MARGULIES aka RUTH MARGULIES aka ADRIENNE MARGULIES aka R. ADRIENNE MARGULIES aka ADRIENNE CLARK
A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Michael Strimling in the Superior Court of California, County of Los Angeles.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Michael Strimling be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed actions.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on December 2, 2013 at 8:30 A.M. in Dept. 9 located at: 111 N. Hill Street, Los Angeles, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF PAUL ROTH Case No. BP146931

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of PAUL ROTH

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Henry Borenstein in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Henry Borenstein be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Dec. 17, 2013 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 5 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: GEORGE ALBERT DEROY
CASE NO. BP146944

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of GEORGE ALBERT DEROY. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by CATHY EILEEN DEROY in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that CATHY EILEEN DEROY be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act . (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 12/12/13 at 8:30AM in Dept. 9 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

HYMAN, HUSBAND AND WIFE Recorded 5/29/2007 in Book N/A Page N/A Inst. # 20071287070 , of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles county, California, and pursuant to the Notice of Default and Election to Sell there under recorded 8/13/2013 in Book N/A Page N/A Inst. # 20131187618 of said Officials Records, will SELL on 12/12/2013 at 9:00 AM : Behind the fountain located in Civic Center Plaza, 400 Civic Center Plaza Pomona, CA at public auction to the highest bidder for cash (payable at time of sale in lawful money of the United States) (NOTE: CASHIER'S CHECK(S) MUST BE MADE PAYABLE TO UNIONBANCAL MORTGAGE CORPORATION) all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as: As more fully described in said Deed of Trust The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 1315 SCHUYLER ROAD BEVERLY HILLS, CALIFORNIA 90210 APN# 4352-012-022 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed, advances thereunder, with interest as provided therein, and the unpaid principal of the note secured by said deed with interest thereon as provided in said Note, fees, charges and expenses of the trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 714-573-1965 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.priorityposting.com> regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case T.S. No. 20130214. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The mortgage loan servicer, beneficiary, or authorized agent has not obtained from the commissioner a final or temporary order of exemption pursuant to Section 2923.53. The timeframe for giving notice of sale specified in subdivision (a) of Section 2923.52 has been met.
