“Sports Academy Controversy”

This letter was sent to the Board of Education and Superintendent:

I’m writing you with my concern regarding the story that ran in the LA Times today, focusing on our school principal. It’s no secret that I, and thousands of parents like me, are thrilled with the leadership provided for faculty and students by Carter Paysinger, and all of us join you in your desire to see a fair and intelligent examination of any accounting errors made by either Carter, or the District, in the administration of the Sports Academy. Yet rumor, innuendo, and anecdotal evidence presented by disgruntled parents have stoked the embers of this fair and intelligent analysis of the facts... and now, worse, we seem to have a leak on the Beverly Hills Board of Education, or in the Superintendent’s Office. Somehow, information is making its way to the press; information that, published without context, fans those embers into flames.

Corrections [Issue 748]

Photos used for the article “Pressman remembered at memorial tribute Sunday” should be credited to Marisa Lederman.

I strongly hope that you can find the source of this information leak, and put a stop to it as soon as you can. It’s not lost on the thousands of parents who also read the LA Times that this is beginning to have all of the attributes of a witch hunt. Perhaps, too, you might find a way to allow Board members or the Superintendent to get ahead of the situation with a stronger response than “no comment.”

I am sensitive to the legal limitations of your actions and words at this time, but hope that you are equally sensitive to the growing sense in our community that there may be an intentional lack of fair play on the part of certain Board members or the Superintendent’s office.

Independent report clears Paysinger

A Beverly Hills Sports Academy draft report, which is subject to change, summarizes a review conducted in August 2013 on the sports camp's functions.

In August 2013, the BHUSD Board of Education hired a law firm, Lozano Smith, to perform an independent review of the Academy to analyze the camp's operations.

The Board of Education conducted the review in response to Beverly High parents who were dissatisfied when former Coach Jeff Fisher's contract was not renewed last summer.

"Carter has supported the review and has cooperated completely," said Principal Carter Paysinger's attorney Reed Aljian. "Carter has not engaged in any wrongdoings or violated any rules or regulations. He has always acted with the best interests of the students and the District in mind."

The District asked Paysinger and two other coaches to run the camp approximately 15 years ago. The Board of Education approved the Academy and its use of school facilities every year since the camp has been running.

Paysinger ceased his day-to-day operations at the camp when he became principal, and his brother, Vonzie Paysinger, took over his duties for the camp, according to Aljian.

"The Beverly Hills Sports Academy is a month long summer camp run for the students' and districts' benefit," Aljian said.

Paysinger did not receive any compensation or income from the Beverly Hills Sports Academy since he's been principal, according to Aljian.

The alleged amount of $40,000 reported in the LA Times was Vonzie Paysinger's total compensation over the past four years from the Academy, which he has received in full.

According to sources, Vonzie Paysinger has reported and paid taxes on all income he received from the Academy, except for his 2013 income that will be reported in his tax returns in April.

The District refused to provide a copy of the draft report to Aljian when he requested it.

"This is a confidential matter that is being given appropriate attention," BHUSD Superintendent Gary Woods said.

BHUSD Board of Education member Brian Goldberg said that only six members in the district have access to the confidential report at Tuesday's Board meeting.

"No one has the right or authority to violate our privilege with our legal counsel when we act as a board and make a decision and determination in how we proceed," Goldberg said. "We need to be able to trust one another that we're going to abide by the rules that we have established as a board and we have to be very careful because we could put the district in peril by making foolish mistakes."

Goldberg held up a sealed envelope containing the report and said, "I was not the source of the leak."

Paysinger became principal in 2010 after many years as Beverly High football coach. He is a two time recipient of the CIF's Model Coach of the Year award.

Shooshani appointed Planning Commissioner

Farshid Joe Shoonani has been nominated as Planning Commissioner to take over Commissioner Daniel Yukelson's position whose term ends on Feb. 28.

Farshid Joe Shoonani

The interview panel, consisting of Mayor John Mirisch, Vice Mayor Lili Bosse and Planning Commission Vice Chair Howard Fisher, reconvened on Jan. 27 and unanimously nominated Farshid Joe Shooshani as Planning Commissioner.

"Not only do the property owners have rights, but all of us are in it together," Shooshani said. "Whatever has to be done, has to be something that enhances the character of Beverly Hills, and make Beverly Hills a better city. We are a very special, unique place and I hope, at least, if I don't do it better, I keep it that way."

Shooshani came to the U.S. as an Iranian foreign student at Immaculate Heart College and graduated in 1980 with a political science and history degree. Shooshani has been working at Bobco Metals since he graduated and has been living in Beverly Hills for 38 years. His son, Aaron Shooshani, is 19 and is attending Columbia, and his daughter, Diba Shooshani, is 22 and is graduating from the University of Southern California this year.

Shooshani had been Public Works Commissioner for the last six years, and will be serving as Planning Commissioner starting on Feb. 28.

"Since I love this city and it's my city and I want to make it better, I think it's a good opportunity for me to serve the whole city," Shooshani said.

After Marilyn Gallup's nomination was objected at the City Study Session on Jan. 7 by Councilmembers Julian Gold, Nancy Krasne and Willie Brien, another candidate needed to be selected for the Planning Commissioner position.

Though City Councilmembers and the interview panel agreed that Shooshani should be selected as the Planning Commissioner candidate, disagreements on Gallup's previous nomination arose between the Councilmembers on Tuesday.

"We've never discussed the politics of commission applicants before," Mirisch said. "The community has a right to know the criteria."

Krasne blocked Gallup's nomination at the Jan. 7 study session, and clarified her reasons for going against the nomination.

"I feel that you have to show you have a judicial demeanor [and] that you have an even temperament," Krasne said.

Krasne further explained she would have reevaluated the nomination if Gallup had demonstrated that she had an "open heart and an open mind" on another commission, but prejudging an issue "whether it is for 8767 [Wilshire project] or something else" does not do the community "a good service."

"Do you feel that you have a judicial demeanor, do you feel that any of us do?" Mirisch said.

Mirisch said that four out of the five candidates for the Planning Commissioner position were official supporters of Brien, and the only one who was not affiliated with Brien's campaign was Gallup. Mirisch continued to question why the position was not reopened to the community and why Brien wanted to re-select from the existing candidate pool.

"I think the graying concept of conspiracies are just silly," Brien said. "You denigrate the council when you do this kind of nonsense. We try to pick the people who we believe fit in best for the given commission [and] who will do the best for the community. [In terms of politics] some support us, some don't. At the end of the day, it's what we believe is right for the city."

Carolyn Hiller recommended as Fine Art Commissioner

The Fine Art Commission Interview Panel recommended Carolyn Hiller as Fine Art Commissioner to replace Commissioner Terri Smooke beginning on Feb. 20.

The Interview Panel included Vice Mayor Lili Bosse, Councilmember Julian Gold, Fine Arts Commission Chair Fiona Chalom, and Fine Arts Commission Chair Sandy Pressman. They conducted interviews with five candidates on Dec. 13 and the panel unanimously recommended Hiller.

Carolyn Hiller

Hiller attended San Francisco State with an emphasis in English, and left school to move to Los Angeles when she married her husband, Stephen Hiller. She has two sons; Jason, 43, is a musician and a recording engineer living in Santa Monica; and Josh, 40, is an attorney and partners in Roadstoves, a gourmet food truck company, living in Beverly Hills

Hiller has been a longtime resident of Beverly Hills for 40 years. She was a volunteer for 25 years at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and a member of The Art Museum Council of LACMA. She was involved with running the art rental and sales gallery and represented the work of about 250 local Los Angeles artists. When LACMA's volunteering program stopped last year, Hiller applied for a Fine Arts Commissioner position.

She is currently on the advisory board of the Beverly Hills Literary Society, which hosts luncheons with noted authors and brings high school students from underserved areas to meet the authors.

"I think the [Fine Arts Commission is] a terrific program of bringing fine art to a city, enhancing the city and exposing the city to art," Hiller said.

Peters' tribute held at Beverly High Sunday

Former Beverly High principal and BHUSD Superintendent Kenneth L. Peters' tribute was held at K.L. Peters auditorium at Beverly High on Sunday.

Speakers included his son Craig Peters, Former Superintendent of Las Virgenes School District Albert "Bud" Marley, Former Superintendent of Pasadena Unified School District Phillip Jordan, former Beverly High Principal and BHUSD Superintendent Sol Levine, Former Beverly Vista Principal Walther Puffer, Former El Rodeo Principal Frank Scott and Beverly High Principal Carter Paysinger.

Kenneth L. Peters

"It was really fitting to have these individuals who are really icons of the education world speak and tell us some great stories of what [Ken Peters] meant to them, [how he] inspired them and the things he did," Peters said.

The USC Marching Band performed the Spirit of Troy, Fight On, and K.L. Peters' favorite song, the National Anthem.

"It was his favorite song having served in World War II," Peters said. "His generation was extraordinarily patriotic and when he was here, the USC marching band played the national anthem before all the USC games we would go to. He would always tear up a little bit."

Paysinger announced the tentatively named Kenneth Peters Memorial Scholarship that Peters' sons, Craig and Kent Peters, formed as an endowment for the scholarship to run in perpetuity. The brothers put in a total of $25,000 to start off the scholarship.

Infiniti project prior to construction on Wilshire Blvd.

Infiniti project moving forward; Neighbors meet to discuss concerns

Residents addressed their concerns regarding the Infiniti project located at 9031 Olympic Blvd. in a resident meeting with an Infiniti representative and city planning officials on Jan. 27.

Attendees of the meeting included Vice Mayor Lili Bosse, City Planner Jonathan Lait, Senior Planner Ryan Gohlich, Senior Transportation Engineer Bijan Vaziri, Infiniti Attorney Murray Fischer, Attorney and Southeast resident David Peyman, and Southeast Beverly Hills Residents Council members David Galst, Chris Laukenmann, Jason Morgan and Maurice Pessah.

The meeting opened a discussion about potential issues from the Infiniti project, including specific traffic signage, re-routing the entrance into the customer drop off facility, and limiting Infiniti appointments to 30 a day. Residents also wanted clarification on why an environmental review was not conducted.

"It was a great opportunity to sit down and discuss what was on the residents' minds," Fischer said. "[There were] issues that had been discussed before and Infiniti continually agrees to cooperate and work with the residents to address their issues."

Fischer did not object to signage requests to implement "No Left Turn" signs heading south on Weatherly Drive for entrance to 9001 Olympic Blvd. and also on Almont Dr. facing vehicles exiting 9001 Olympic Blvd., and "Do No Block Intersection" signs on the intersections of Wetherly Dr. and Olympic Blvd. as well as Almont Dr. and Olympic Blvd.

According to the March 28, 2013 resolution for the Infiniti project, "No Left Turn" signs for the proposed streets were already included in the project plans.

Input from other city departments would be needed for decisions on specific signage requirements, which would take approximately two weeks.

City staff provided clarifications on why an Environmental Impact Report was not conducted. According to the March 28, 2013 resolution, the Infiniti project is exempt from an EIR since the project will be changing "use within an existing structure including interior or exterior alterations," pursuant to California Environmental Quality Act guidelines.

Fischer objected to other concerns raised by the community such as limits being placed on appointments. The facilities may initially have 30 appointments per day, but is expected to have 50 appointments per day, and that there were no maximum appointment limitation that was placed on the dealership, according to Fischer.

Due to the Infiniti facility's building permits, Fischer objected to re-routing the customer drop off area, which may change according to future analysis.

"We listened to [the residents] about their suggestions regarding appointments and their suggestions regarding entry, but this project has already been designed," Fischer said. "It's already been constructed and at this time in the program it's not feasible to change anything."

The City will conduct traffic reports on Wetherly Dr. and Almont Dr. between Olympic Blvd. and Gregory Way after Infiniti has been in operation for six months, and additional traffic counts may be required to measure further traffic impacts.

"Our concerns have to do with the practical impact of this project and the city has made a commitment to address those concerns if and when we raise them," Peyman said. "I can't say conclusively that we're satisfied yet because I don't know how the city is going to react when we do raise an issue, if there is an issue."

According to the March 28, 2013 resolution, the Planning Commission "reserves jurisdiction relative to traffic, parking, and noise issues and the right to impose additional traffic counts necessary to mitigate any other unanticipated impacts caused by the [Infiniti projects] as they arise."

"The city reserves the right to change the conditions of the [Conditional Use] Permit in light of any traffic, noise, or other kinds of issues," Peyman said. "[The City] made [it] clear that they have the ability to demand of Infiniti whatever they want. They said they would meet our concerns and nothing is off the table in terms of the conditions they place on Infiniti to upgrade this project."

[and] it would be a great legacy for my dad," Peters said.

Beverly High students can apply, and the criteria are for those who are in need, have a passion for education and an interest in entering the education field, including being a teacher or administrator. The first scholarship will be given out at the end of the current school year.

To donate to the scholarship, contact Craig Peters at craig.peters@cbre.com or call (818) 621-4616.

Ken Peters was a former Beverly High Principal from 1950 to 1959 before serving as BHUSD Superintendent from 1959 until his retirement in 1981.

Peters passed away on Nov. 25 at his home in Tarzana, California at the age of 98.

Beverly High revised bell schedule expected to be done by Spring

Beverly High Principal Carter Paysinger projected that a revised bell schedule should be expected by this coming Spring.

Paysinger said that the bell schedule committee polled students, parents and staff on what they are looking for in the bell schedule.

"[We will] look at all the parameters and the different bell schedules that will fit within those parameters," Principal Carter Paysinger said. "After we have three or four bell schedules that fit within those parameters that meet all of the needs of all of our different stakeholders, we will then go out to the students and parents and get more feedback at that time."

One parameter is that teachers are required to have a seven and a half hour workday, according to teacher contracts.

The seven and half hour work days is not uncommon in Los Angeles county school districts, but there is no way to verify or monitor teachers' presence on campus, according to Chief Administrative Officer Dawnalyn Murakawa-Leopard.

There is also a maximum teaching time allotted between the teachers and their students that are being considered for the bell schedule. Currently, the contact time is about 1375 minutes a week, with a maximum at 1450 minutes a week. Murakawa-Leopard looked at 25 other different school districts on their contact time, where the majority of the schools had no contact minutes cap.

WAXMAN RETIRES

Henry Waxman looks back on 40 remarkable years in Congress

By Nancy Yeang

Are you surprised by all the media coverage your retirement is getting from the Los Angeles media?

I'm pleasantly surprised by all the coverage and nice things that people are saying about me. I feel like I'm at my own funeral and I don't have to die.

You were first elected to the Assembly when you were 29 years old in 1968. Tell us about your first race against Lester McMillan.

I ran against Lester McMillan who was the Assemblyman in the district. The district was overwhelmingly Democratic so the Democratic primary was the only election that counted. I didn't think he was going to run but he decided he was going to run anyway [and] that he'd have an easy time of it.

Mainly, [my] campaign was foot leather; [me] going door-to-door and volunteers going door-to-door. We spent a relatively small sum of money. I think it was around $50,000, if that much.

[McMillan] assumed that I didn't really have much of a chance and didn't put on a campaign himself. I won that race and that was the beginning of being in public office.

I was elated that I had won, but it was also the same election where after I had found out I had won Bobby Kennedy had been assassinated. It was a night of very mixed emotions.

In 1974 you moved on to Congress and served for 40 years.

The districts had changed because the Supreme Court of California appointed a Master to draw the lines after the legislature and the governor couldn't agree on a redistricting in 1971. By '74 they just took it on because the legislature couldn't agree and drew the lines. It was a district that was without an incumbent that covered a lot of the area that I already represented and so I was able to win that seat fairly easily.

How was the House different when you first got there versus now?

I think the House I represented was a lot more collegial. People were open to bipartisan coalitions of for and against proposals. There was partisanship, but after the elections were over we concentrated on our job of legislating and solving problems but it was less partisanship as we focused in on the actual language

"[My father] said to me the powerful groups always have advocates, but you have to watch out for the people who are poor or sick or elderly and speak up for those who have no one else to speak for them."

of legislation.

Now, there's a lot more partisanship and yet there's still a possibility for bipartisan legislation. We're going through the unfortunate circumstances where Republicans who would like to work on a bipartisan basis are intimidated by the extremist of the Tea Party Republicans who believe that compromise is a dirty word and working with Democrats is like complicity with the enemy, which I think is absurd.

It's a little harder, but on some issues we have been able to work together. In fact, we've made the argument to our Republicans who are in the majority that the best way for them to get a bill passed into law is to work with us. They have passed a lot of bills through the House that I've fought against, but they haven't gotten anywhere. The only legislation that has become law is where we've [worked] together.

Even in this difficult last year or so, we've passed a bill to auction off some of the spectrum to make it easier to communicate to handheld devices and [a portion of] the money from the auction of the spectrum is going to go to setting up an inter-operable communication system for first responders in the case of an emergency, first responders such as police and fire. This is something that's long overdue [and] was a recommendation after [Sept.

11, 2001] where the evaluation was a lot of the first responders weren't able to communicate with each other.

Then we passed legislation, a bipartisan bill, to give FDA authority to police counterfeit drugs and to stop contamination of compounded drugs. Those were good bills and had almost unanimous support behind them, which often happens when Democrats and Republicans work together. Even as tough as things have been, where the Republicans as a party have been forced unanimously to vote together everything President Obama has wanted whether it was to boost the economy after the crash or to reform the healthcare system, even along the lines of Republicans in the past [who] have proposed legislation to try to regulate the banking practices that caused so much greed to force the crash in our economy. Anything else, Republicans have just voted, "No, no, no," because they don't want to give Obama any victories, which I strongly disagree with.

We have obligations to work together but they haven't been willing to work together on the big issues, the budget issues of course, even force them to close down the government. We did get a small budget agreement at the end of last year and that was welcome, but it was a small one, but it was better than closing down the government.

You've passed a number of landmark legislation, including the Clean Air Amendment in 1990, the Ryan White Care Act in 1990, and the Tobacco Control Act in 2009. Is there one that stands out to you or are you equally proud of them all?

I'm proud of all the bills that we have been able to pass. Some are more momentous than others, but I think all of them are an example of how government can do important things that help the American people. Even a bill such as requiring nutritional information on food that we purchase sounds like a no brainer, but that was a fight to get passed. I think people wouldn't know what to think if we didn't have it today because they take it for granted.

But I'm proudest of the Clean Air Act and how that now is becoming a vehicle for the President to regulate the pollutants that are causing climate change and all the other parts of that Clean Air Act dealing with toxic air pollutants and acid rain and deterioration of the upper ozone layer.

I'm proud of the Affordable Care Act and all the other bills that expanded health care for the people.

I know that if it weren't for the Ryan White Act, which is our primary approach to dealing with the HIV/AIDS epidemic here in the United States, it would be the difference between life and death if we didn't have that bill.

Then of course the Tobacco legislation is something that I feel very strongly about, and then the bill to provide generic drugs has meant lower cost drugs to millions of people who buy pharmaceuticals rather than have modern miracle drugs that people couldn't afford. We tried to create a balance so that we could give the incentive for investing and developing new breakthrough medicines but at the same time at some point to allow lower price drugs through competition which is what generic has done.

You mentioned in your retirement press release that your parents were scarred by the depression and that influenced a lot of your politics. Can you elaborate more on that?

My parents were scarred by the Depression. My father had to quit high school to go to work to help support the family. He later came back and went through a program to get a high school [education] but he never went to college. I was the first one in the family to go to college because of his emphasis on how important education is.

But he believed that what the Democrats were doing under the New Deal was exactly the kinds of things government had to do. Give people a chance and try to protect people and try to help people help themselves. Not just let the market place operation [be] based on greed, which could harm people. He strongly supported, as do I even to this day, social security, Medicare, Medi-Cal for California for low-income people. All these programs make a difference in peoples' lives and he impressed that upon me.

He said to me the powerful groups always have advocates, but you have to watch out for the people who are poor or sick or elderly and speak up for those who have no one else to speak for them.

It sounds like you carry a lot of your father's words with you while you're in Congress.

Yes. He also said to sit up straight and eat vegetables. I keep on reminding myself [and] I hear my father's voice.

Your son Michael used to live in Beverly Hills when he served on the L.A. community college board. Tell us what your family is up to now.

My son Michael [almost 40] is now living in the Washington [D.C.] area doing public relations work. He decided he didn't want to be in politics or at least in elected office.

Our daughter [Shai, 50] is ten years older and she's living in Israel and has three kids, the two oldest of whom have already served in the Israeli military because that's a requirement. I'm proud of her, she takes her Zionist views seriously and wanted to live in a Jewish community and help build it up. She's working for a lot of non-profit groups, helping them give out money where it could do the maximum amount of good for people.

My wife is married to me for almost 43 years, she's been active in a lot of different groups and causes.

How often do you get to see everyone together?

Altogether it's hard to do, but we try to do it maybe once a year.

What are your plans when you retire? Do you plan to move back to California or stay in Washington D.C.?

I have no idea what I'll do after I leave Congress in December. I'd like to have a position where I'm in Washington and Los Angeles. I just don't want to go home every weekend. I will not be a lobbyist, but I am a lawyer, so I might go back to that. It's hard to look forward to [life after Congress] until I know what it's going to be. [laughs]

But I felt that after 40 years it was time to give somebody new and younger a chance to build up seniority and to carry on the fight and I also felt for me if I'm going to have a life after Congress, I should do it now.

Did it take you a long time to decide on your retirement?

I have been mulling it over and I would rather not have to decide, but the filing for people to run for office in California is coming up starting Feb. 10 and I then I think it ends somewhere in March, so the only fair thing to do is to make a decision and to let people know about it so they could plan their future. I'm pleased to see a lot of good people are looking to run.

Are there any past or present Beverly Hills people that played a formidable role in your career?

I've always been so pleased to represent Beverly Hills. Whenever I tell anybody in Washington or anywhere around the world I always get a look of awe and it's a fabulous community. It has the aura of the entertainment industry because so many people from the industry have lived in Beverly Hills. It's a community that is in some ways a small town in the midst of the L.A. area and there's a real community spirit that I've always admired.

Were there any particular people who helped you out in your career from Beverly Hills?

Oh yeah, but I don't want to start mentioning any names because I'll forget.

What advice would you give to a young person starting off in politics today?

I think a young person starting off in politics today who might want to run for office has a harder time because of the funding that's required to run a campaign. I think that's unfortunately one of the unfinished items that we need to reform: our campaign finance system. It's gotten worse.

My opponent last time around spent $8 million of his own money. That's hard to match. There are outside groups that can spend unlimited amounts of money. I just think it's very difficult for people to contemplate running for office without the money in advance and that just means we're pricing out a lot of very talented people who could make a great contribution.

I would urge people to be involved in politics. If they have a chance to run for office, do it, but to be involved whether they run for office or not. They shouldn't let the important decisions done through the elective and legislative process be done by others without holding them accountable and being involved.

Much has been said about there being increased partisanship in the house these days, what if anything do you think could be done about this?

I think the partisanship is unfortunate and I hope we get beyond it. I think the Republicans are going through a civil war and I don't think a lot of rational, reasonable Republicans who represented the traditional business community base want to be in the situation where they refuse to work with their colleagues because they're Democrats. I think that the right wing is in for a challenge in the Republican Party and I'm hoping that people who emerge will be more reasonable to work with.

If you could do your career over again is there anything you would do differently?

I have some regrets, but they are few, and they're too few to mention, and therefore I'm not going to mention.

ANY INFORMATION OBTAINED WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF FARHAD KIOUMEHR
Case No. BP148549

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of FARHAD KIOUMEHR

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Firouz Mosharraf and Frank Omehr in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Firouz Mosharraf and Frank Omehr be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Feb. 20, 2014 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 5 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

ANY INFORMATION OBTAINED WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, this information can be obtained from one of the following three companies: LPS Agency Sales and Posting at (714) 730-2727, or visit the Internet Web site www.lpsasap.com (Registration required to search for sale information) or Priority Posting and Publishing at (714) 573-1965 or visit the Internet Web site www.priorityposting.com (Click on the link for "Advanced Search" to search for sale information), or auction.com at 1-800-280-2832 or visit the Internet Web site www.auction.com, using the Trustee Sale No. shown above. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. sociation, or savings bank specified in section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Sale will be held by the duly appointed trustee as shown below, of all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by the trustee in the hereinafter described property under and pursuant to the Deed of Trust. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. Place of Sale: BEHIND THE FOUNTAIN LOCATED IN CIVIC CENTER PLAZA, 400 CIVIC CENTER PLAZA, POMONA, CA Legal Description: LOT 21 OF TRACT NO. 20002, IN THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, AS PER MAP RECORDED IN BOOK 597 PAGES 23 TO 25 INCLUSIVE OF MAPS, IN THE OFFICE OF THE COUNTY RECORDER OF SAID COUNTY. EXCEPT THEREFROM ALL CRUDE OIL, PETROLEUM, GAS, BREA, ASPHALTUM AND ALL KINDRED SUBSTANCES AND OTHER MINERALS UNDER AND IN SAID LAND AS GRANTED TO 2025 NORTH ANGLE AVENUE, A CORPORATION, BY DEED RECORDED MAY 12, 1958 IN BOOK D97 PAGE 465 OFFICIAL RECORDS, WITHOUT RIGHT OF SURFACE ENTRY. Amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $1,065,921.39 (estimated) Street address and other common designation of the real property: 9816 MILLBORO PLACE BEVERLY HILLS, CA 90210 APN Number: 4384-025-010 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". In compliance with California Civil Code 2923.5(c) the mortgagee, trustee, beneficiary, or authorized agent declares: that it has contacted the borrower(s) to assess their financial situation and to explore options to avoid foreclosure; or that it has made efforts to contact the borrower(s) to assess their financial situation and to explore options to avoid foreclosure by one of the following methods: by telephone; by United States mail; either 1st class or certified; by overnight delivery; by personal delivery; by e-mail; by face to face meeting. DATE: 01-27-2014 ALAW, as Trustee REGINA CANTRELL, ASSISTANT SECRETARY ALAW 9200 OAKDALE AVE. - 3RD FLOOR CHATSWORTH, CA 91311 (818)435-3661 For Sales Information: www.lpsasap.com or 1-714-730-2727 www.priorityposting.com or 1-714-573-1965 www.auction.com or 1-800-280-2832 ALAW IS A DEBT COLLECTOR ATTEMPTING TO COLLECT A DEBT. ANY INFORMATION OBTAINED WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, this information can be obtained from one of the following three companies: LPS Agency Sales & Posting at (714) 730-2727, or visit the Internet Web site www.lpsasap.com (Registration required to search for sale information) or Priority Posting & Publishing at (714) 573-1965 or visit the Internet Web site www.priorityposting.com (Click on the link for "Advanced Search" to search for sale information), or auction.com at 1-800-280-2832 or visit the Internet Web site www.auction.com, using the Trustee Sale No. shown above. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. P1080368 2/6, 2/13, 02/20/2014

What you don't know about your life insurance policy could cost you a fortune!

At age 80, Norman's life insurance policy had a $5 million death benefit with a yearly payment of $66,000. Unfortunately, he didn't know that if he lived another ten years, his payment would increase to $400,000 annually!

He has helped thousands of people determine if their policies and plans really work, meet their goals and help implement creative solutions to their estate planning problems.

Until her consultation with Alan Kaye, Joyce didn't know that unless she continued making payments, her $1 million policy would be cancelled on her 87th birthday.

Don't wait until you lose your health, your life insurance and your options! If you are over 50 years old and have at least $250,000 of life insurance, ask for your complimentary consultation and policy appraisal, either on the phone or in person.

Do you know:

- Whether your policy will be cancelled if you stop making payments?
- If it's guaranteed to stay in effect for your lifetime at your current payment?
- If your policy can stay in effect beyond age ninety or even one hundred?
- If your cash value is sufficient to buy 50% more coverage than you have now?
- If you can sell your policy for more than its cash surrender value, even if it's term insurance?

Alan Kaye Insurance Agency, Inc. does not provide tax or legal advice. The case study results are for illustrative purposes and applies to this client's specific set of facts. Your results may be different. Guarantees are based on the claims-paying ability of the issuing company. Any decisions whether to implement these ideas should be made by the client in consultation with professional financial, tax and legal counsel. Investors should consult with their own professional advisor regarding the potential tax, estate, and legal considerations that may arise in connection with entering into life settlements transaction. Proceeds from a life settlement transaction may be taxable under federal or state law to the extent the proceeds exceed the cost basis. The proceeds from a life settlement transaction may be subject to claims of creditors. The receipt of proceeds from a life settlement transaction may adversely impact eligibility for government benefits and settlements. The amount received from the sale of the policy may be impacted by the circumstances of the particular purchaser of the policy, the insured's life expectancy, future premiums, the death benefit, the term of the policy, and the current market for insurance policies, among other factors. The amount received for the sale of the policy may be more or less than what others might receive for the sale of a similar policy. There may be high fees associated with a life settlement transaction. Securities and Investment Advisory Services offered through NFP Securities, a Broker/Dealer, Member FINRA/SIPC and a Federally Registered Investment Advisor.
