I couldn't agree more with Steven Spitz's [Issue #757] brilliant satirical broadside at the President of the Beverly Hills Bar Association, Diane Karpman, who was the subject of a cover feature in Beverly Hills Weekly. Our nation is one of laws and when people break our laws and "break into our country" by illegally trespassing they should not be rewarded by granting them the right to practice the Law in our country. Mrs. Karpman is misguided and deserves no special recognition.

Metro ruling slams BHUSD

Los Angeles Superior Court Judge John A. Torribio ruled on April 2 that Metro conducted adequate environmental studies and provided substantial information in choosing a Century City station location in the long-simmering dispute.

The projected nine-mile Westside subway extension will cost approximately $5.6 billion and is scheduled to open in 2035, with seven new stations between Koreatown and Westwood. Tunneling underneath Beverly High would be required for a Century City station, located a few blocks away from the high school.

The City of Beverly Hills claimed that there were alternate station locations with less impacts that would avoid tunneling underneath Beverly High, and that Metro "refused to evaluate any of them" due to increases in construction costs and delays in subway completion.

"Even if tunneling under [Beverly High] had an additional impact, which it doesn't, Metro already analyzed a reasonable range of project alternatives," Torribio wrote in his ruling. "[The] City's routes are infeasible, requiring the trains to slow to speeds of 25 mph at sharp turns, which is inconsistent with the Project's public mobility improvement goals."

BHUSD claimed that Metro did not conduct a comprehensive Environmental Impact Report (EIR) and "lacked enough information to make an informed decision about the station location." An alternate station located on Santa Monica Boulevard would avoid tunneling underneath Beverly High.

Torribio ruled that the Draft Environmental Impact Report [DEIR] was "accurate, stable, and fine" and "properly discloses" that the alternate Santa Monica station "lies within a seismically active region."

"The Court, like MTA, did not consider the facts uncovered by the seismic investigations our District and multiple owners of private properties were required by law to undertake as a result of MTA's cursory and superficial analysis," a statement released by BHUSD said. "The court's decision does not change the fact that the MTA continues to put people at risk by failing to do a thorough seismic analysis along its routes."

Additional seismic reports conducted by BHUSD were not available to Metro prior to the Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR), and the Court could not take into consideration evidence that "did not exist before Metro certified the FEIR or approved the project," according to Torribio's ruling.

In the current fiscal year from April 2013 to Dec. 2013, over $700,000 was spent on legal fees regarding the Westside subway extension tunneling underneath Beverly High.

The City of Beverly Hills and the BHUSD can still appeal the decision.

"In this case as in almost all appeals, the appealing parties here, the City of Beverly Hills and BHUSD, are going to have a difficult burden to show this basis to reverse," appellate lawyer Kent Richland from the appellate law firm Greines, Martin, Stein and Richland, LLP, who is not affiliated with the case, said.

According to Richland, the rules of review by appellate courts favor upholding whatever judgment was made below.

"It does appear that this judge went through a lot of trouble and goes through a very detailed explanation of his conclusion," Richland said. "That sort of thing usually makes an appellate court less likely to overturn a decision, than when a judge is much less careful."

BHUSD attorney Doug Evertz did not return a phone call to the Weekly prior to press time.

before coming to the high school and have now seen firsthand that things are slowly going south. The more change we have had in recent months, the more I feel that our school and our district's structure is unraveling even faster than I had previously thought. My desire for explanations led me to research our board's history and to learn more about our board's leadership and management.

My chief concern is that we are losing three quarters of our administration at once, not to mention that some board members were looking for a royal flush by letting go of Mr. Paysinger too. Our school is dependent on its administration. Our board brazenly firing two extremely qualified assistant principals only goes to show that there is little emphasis being placed on the students' well being or that of the school. It is unacceptable for our board to be the loose cannon that it's been in recent months, and failing to renew Ms. [Amy] Golden's contract while pressuring Dr. [Regina] Zurbano to resign only goes to show that our board isn't plugged into the school the way it should be, and that our board does not have the same respect for our administration that the students and staff do. To make matters worse, all these decisions have been made during closed session, with no legitimate efforts made to provide an explanation for our community. At the very least, don't we deserve to be told why? All three of our assistant principals as well as our principal form an extremely effective team greater than the sum of its parts which keeps our school running efficiently. Replacing any one of them would be challenging, but to replace all three is a daunting task that the board has clearly put very little thought into, for if it had, it wouldn't let our assistant principals go in the first place. Your students are disappointed and confused.

Another point that needs to be brought up is that of the A-G requirements. Our school makes it mandatory for all students to meet A-G requirements, or the requirements needed to be admitted into a UC letters cont. on page 9

Planning Commission moves forward plans for Condos on Burton Way

Former six-story condo rendering

Current five-story condo rendering

The Planning Commission unanimously voted on March 27 to move forward the applicant's plans for a proposed five-story condominium on Burton Way, which will be formally voted on at today's Planning Commission meeting.

The proposed 23 unit condos will be located between L'Ermitage Hotel to the west and a four-story condo to the east. The plans include demolishing existing four one- to two- story buildings. The project was first presented to the Planning Commission in Feb. 2013. The original plans proposed a six-story condominium that would have been 72 feet in height, which is above the City-code that sets a maximum height at 55 feet and five-stories. The Commission and the public addressed height concerns at a public hearing in May 2013.

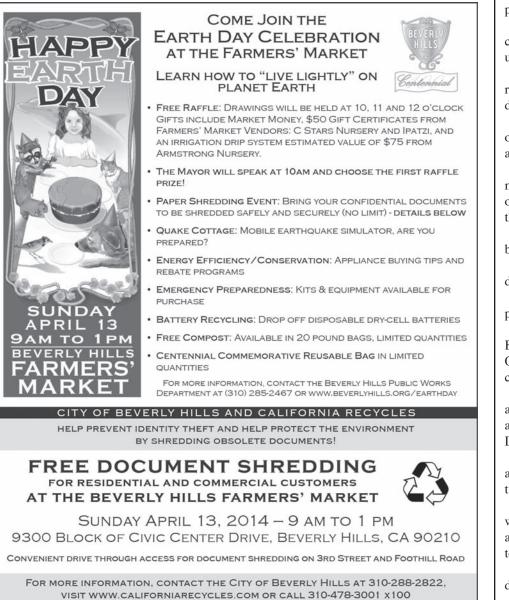

"We still feel like the six stories [are] justified based [on] the incentives," the applicant representative Craig Berbarian said. "However, based on community concerns and the City's concerns, we've adjusted our project to be five stories."

The current plans include a height compliant condominium and two subterranean garages. The applicant originally applied for a six-story structure to accommodate for a density bonus that would allow two affordable housing units and an increase in total units available in the condos.

The applicant requested development incentives, which are included with the density bonus, to have a reduced front and rear setback in order to accommodate the height loss and still have the ability to develop 23 units. The City's zoning code requires a front and rear setback of 15 feet, and the applicant is requesting a front setback of 10 feet along Burton Way and a rear setback of 13 feet six inches along the alley.

"The entire purpose of both the incentives and the waiver provisions is that jurisdictions are required to reduce to some extent their zoning regulation to allow the building with the bonus density to reasonably fit on the

Acura and O'Gara Coach as potential 8767 Wilshire tenants

Acura and O'Gara Coach were approved by the City Council on April 1 as luxury automobile dealerships to potentially occupy the Kobor project's ground floor in the newly constructed 8767 Wilshire building.

O'Gara Coach was approved with a 5-0 vote, and Acura was approved with a 4-1 vote, with Councilmember John Mirisch dissenting.

Mirisch said that in comparing the two dealerships, O'Gara Coach had "indisputable luxury brands," and requested separate votes be taken for Acura and O'Gara Coach to distinguish the luxury difference.

O'Gara Coach represents car models such as Bugatti, Bentley, Aston Martin, Rolls Royce and Lamborghini. Roundtree Automotive Group represents Acura as well as Infiniti, Chevy, Buick, Chrysler, Dodge, GMC, Jeep, Kia, and Nissan.

According to resolutions for 8767 Wilshire that were approved on Jan. 21 by the City Council with a 3-2 vote, the City Council must review and approve the ground-floor luxury automobile sales showroom tenant.

"The decision before you tonight is, is [Acura] the appropriate luxury tenant at this gateway intersection?" Community Development Director Susan Healy Keene said at the April 1 formal meeting.

Councilmembers felt that "luxury" was difficult to define and subjective to each person.

"There are probably degrees of luxury," Vice Mayor Julian Gold said. "We weren't clear in defining that we wanted the most luxurious [or] the least luxurious, so we end up in this vague middle ground of some amount of luxury."

Auto dealerships are unable to sell cars that other dealerships sell within a certain radius, according to former Mayor Tom Levyn, who represents the 8767 Wilshire developers.

"It leaves the owner with Acura, Volvo, Lincoln Mercury, and the ultra luxury brand of Rolls Royce," Levyn said. "Only Acura submitted a letter of intent that was acceptable to the owner and signed by the owner."

According to Levyn, O'Gara Coach wanted a curb cut on Wilshire Boulevard, "significant changes to the façade," a potential mezzanine, and had not submitted a letter of intent. After attempts to reach out to O'Gara Coach, there was "radio silence" and their application was withdrawn.

Acura submitted a letter of intent, and did not require the same modifications to the building.

"Acura has stepped forward and we believe Acura meets the criteria as a luxury car dealer," Levyn said.

Acura's new NSX model available for sale next year and priced at $110,000, was projected to be a competitor with Mercedes, BMW, and Lexus according to Levyn.

After Councilmember Nancy Krasne made the motion to "welcome Acura to Beverly Hills" and prior to the Councilmembers making a vote, O'Gara Coach's Operations Director Darren Richie spoke out from the audience to approach the council for comment.

According to Richie, O'Gara Coach is "ready, willing and able, and desiring to be a tenant," at 8767 Wilshire. Richie said he reached out to Levyn by phone and e-mail, and also submitted plans that did not include a curb cut to both the City Planning Department and the 8767 Wilshire owners.

"The luxury goods definition is something that is not essential, highly desired, and associated with wealthy people that [are] purchased only for self-worth, rewards, status, and for the product's craftsmanship," Richie said.

Mayor Lili Bosse said that the City Council is charged "to define what is luxury and what is not luxury." Though the City Council approved Acura and O'Gara as luxury auto dealerships, the decision for which brand occupies the ground floor will be left to the owners.

"[There is] a very thin line where we sit of telling what an applicant should do or not do in terms of filling their building," Bosse said.

site," the condominiums' architect Edward Levin said.

An issue of placing a transformer, an electrical unit, on the rear side of the building would prevent the condos from being pushed further back into the alley away from the Burton Way sidewalk.

"If you bring [the condos] closer to the street then it would appear bigger than it would," Commissioner Craig Corman said. "It's all a matter of perception of scale and mass."

Vice Chair Howard Fischer and Commissioner Alan Block agreed that they prefer the condos be pushed as far back as possible away from the sidewalk along Burton Way.

Levin estimated, based on previous projects, that Southern California Edison would require a 10-foot sphere around the transformer with no openings, such as windows, within the sphere, according to Levin. If the building were to be pushed back further into the alley, there is a possibility the building will encroach into the transformer's radius restrictions.

"The problem is that we have to design and move forward with the building before we'll have any feedback from Edison," Levin said. "Let's say we'll shove the building back 10 feet. Now we're in the middle of working drawings, we have our electrical engineering, [and then] it turns out that's not adequate clearance, what happens?"

If the project were to be adjusted to accommodate a setback request, there would be additional order costs and engineering costs, according to Levin.

Though Corwin suggested contacting Edison to see what the sphere area restrictions are for the transformer in order to see how much further back the condos can be. Levin and Senior Planner Jonathan Lait said that it is difficult to "get a response out of Edison in a timely matter."

Direction was given to city staff to contact Edison to find exact details for the transformer. If no substantial details were obtained prior to today's meeting that will affect the setbacks for the building, the project will move forward.

"I think it's time to move along," Fisher said. "Since I'm pleased with all that you've done I'm ready to move forward. I'm not getting a sense from staff [that] we could really do something that is quick and efficient."

Just 5 donates money to those in need

Just 5 is an organization started in November 2013 that donates money to individuals, couples, and families facing financial hardships.

"Just 5 is turning our pocket change into real change," President Mahyar Asher Eghbali said.

Eghbali and his Board of Directors, Omid Semino, Soheil Zarabi, Setareh Eghbali, Mushkie Peer, and Mahsa Eghbali, wanted to help their community but realized that their efforts would be greater by involving others. The organization's name comes from the idea that members can help out the most by donating just $5 a month.

"If [we] wanted to [donate] alone to people, [we] wouldn't be able to do it," Mahsa Eghbali said. "But if the community were to join together then it would be possible."

The first donation was to Pico Glatt Mart to open up an account for needy families and individuals who can't afford to purchase groceries. In December and January, donations were given to a family who were evicted from their home due to financial difficulties.

"All processing fees for credit cards [are] out of our pocket so all of [the $5 that people donate] goes straight to the people we're helping," Mahsa Eghbali said.

The Just 5 team speaks with the potential individuals, couples, and families to see where they need the money the most, and then personally distributes the donation. Visit www.j5club.org for more information and to become a member.

From Beverly High to Broadway, the Weiss triplets discuss their upcoming Temple Emanuel show

By Nancy Yeang

How did all of you get started with singing?

Lizzie

I don't think there was ever a moment where singing [or performing] wasn't a part of our lives in some way. A big factor was that we were sung to sleep every night.

Ryan

We [have] two older siblings as well, there are five of us. Our parents were worn thin a little so it was like whoever could grab the kid, get it done, and put them to sleep. Our sister [Allison Bluestein] had a beautiful voice, [and] our [Gramma] Micki [Klein] would sing, "A Bushel and a Peck," [from "Guys and Dolls"] for us to go to sleep, and she [had] a beautiful, sweet voice. Our parents would [sing] as well.

[Our] careers as singers is quite the conundrum. People ask us, "Where did that come from? It must be genetic." We always joke that our parents think that we got our talent from them, but if you really hear them sing I beg to differ. They can maybe carry a tune.

Lizze

[Our] mom's an interior designer and our dad's a podiatrist. They've definitely had very different lives than the three of us.

Sara

It's interesting because we're coming full circle from where we got our real introduction to performing and singing by being a part of our synagogue. All of us were involved in an intergenerational production with our parents, our grandparents, [and] Lizzie, [Ryan,] and I sang in [Temple Emanuel's] choir. I think that was really where it started.

Lizzie

We were very lucky that our parents brought us up with no boundaries. We [were] all encouraged to push ourselves to not be average [and] to use the God given skills. Whether it was singing or producing, these skills were encouraged from a very young age.

Cantor Yonah Kliger at Temple Emanuel truly empowered us. Whatever opportunity it was in our life, he gave us responsibility and it made us have to grow in our ability to sing at Temple [Emanuel] and our ability to be spiritual leaders at a younger age.

Sara

[Rabbi Laura Geller, Rabbi Jonathan Aaron, and Cantor Yonah Kliger] were really instrumental parts, especially for Lizzie and I, [to decide] what we're doing to become clergy.

As 2003 graduates, you all were active in Beverly High's performing arts program. What influences did the late Joel Pressman have on each of you?

Ryan

Mr. Pressman was remarkable. I think everyone has a different relationship with him and, to honor his spirit, he wasn't an easy man to get along with. When you're in high school, that's a difficult thing to come up against. The difficult people are the people who create within us the desire, the strive, or the will to be brilliant. Mr. Pressman always had high expectations of us. We all had problems with that at the time, but that certainly gave me an insight on what it takes to go out into the world and create a profession within an industry of entertainment which is miraculously impossible in a way.

The training that I got from him, the way he expected us to be perfect, whether it was to have perfect pitch, to be perfect at sight reading, to be a thriving member of the community at Beverly within the choir and [the] Madrigals, his expectations really taught me a lot about what I was going to experience when I went out into the world. I did not like him for it at the time, but looking back, I have really great appreciation for it.

Sara

He was really good at lighting a fire under you and pushing you. At the time it felt [like], "Uh, God, why is he being so mean to me?" Looking back, he's the one person that established those expectations from us. It strove us to be the best that we could be and to do the best that we could. We've all had very different paths in terms of performing and where it's taken us, but I think that [it was this motivation that you just had to keep going.]

When he passed away, I think we all felt it. It was this light, and it didn't matter if you hadn't talked to him in years. You knew that he [wanted] to know what was going on and the fact that Lizzie and I are becoming Cantors, I think was really special to him as well.

Lizzie

"The difficult people"

are the people who create within us the desire, the strive,

or the will to be brilliant."

- Ryan Weiss

I think it was in the video celebrating him, they talked about one of the highlights of his career was [about] 17 years ago at Lincoln Center when the judges said to him, "high school students aren't supposed to be so musical, they're not supposed to be so vulnerable in their singing." We were a part of that group that was singing. That trip was very unique because all three of us got into Madrigals when we were in tenth grade; the majority of [the Madrigal Singers] were in eleventh and twelfth grade. So in tenth grade the three of us went to New York City and saw our first Broadway show. None of us had ever been and Mr. Pressman [pushed] for this trip that gave us all that itch to want to be on Broadway. I think that he also trusted his students and gave us a different type of freedom [that] most teachers wouldn't allow 15 and 16 year olds at that time. He really encouraged his students to grow not just as singers, but as good people. He knew the value that those expe- riences would have on us maturing.

Ryan

I was a dancer, [and] Janet Roston used to run Dance Company [where] we got to put on dance programs that brought in world-renowned choreographers to work with us and we got to choreograph on our own. From that experience, she taught me so much.

If we were facing a challenge while we were creating a piece she would always say, "Remember Ryan, dance is malleable, you can change anything." My life now is committed to helping people remember that. She is someone who gave us full range to be as creative as possible. There weren't a lot of, "no's." There were a lot of, "Yah, that's your idea?" and then help you to create that.

People who talked about their high school experiences go, "Ugh, I hated school, I don't understand how we went through high school." I think back to high school, and about how much I loved my experience at Beverly [High] and that was truly because of the performing arts department. It let us seasonally work, explore what we want to do to get creative, get our hands dirty, mess up, and thrive. Jane was a big part of that for me.

Lizzie

[Drama teacher Herb] Hall, who is retiring this year, used to say to me, "Lizzie! Are you going to perform or are you just going to sing?" [He kept] challenging me that you can't just rely on God's given voice in this world. In addition, [Former drama teacher] Katie Grant Shalin who means so much to us, directed the three of us in, "Once on This Island," in eleventh grade where we played three out of the four Gods. She challenged us in our acting abilities to a great degree.

Tell us more about what you do now.

Lizzie

I went to [the University of California] Irvine, graduated in two years and a quarter [and then] moved to New York. Within a few months I was cast [as Martha Cox] in the world premiere of [Disney's ] "High School Musical." I was on the Broadway's national tour of "High School Musical" for about three years [and] then I did "High School Musical II." Then I moved back to L.A. to have a breather and I had been doing High Holiday services at Temple Emanuel for many years. One thing led to another and I decided that I would start Cantorial School. Sara and I are both being ordained as Cantors in May 2015 although we're both at two different schools; I'm at [the] Academy for Jewish Religion of California.

Sara

While I was in college I started with musical theatre and then I transferred into the music business and entertainment industries major, and got a Bachelor's in music. It was all about the inner workings of the music industry in every different place [such as] form, vocal[s], instrumental[s], down to accounting, and I loved it. I also thankfully established myself as a performer at Miami and was able to continue to perform in all the main stage productions.

I moved to New York. I was auditioning [and] started working at Ellen Stardust Diner, which is a big diner that has singing wait staff. I always say that I did end up on Broadway, but the street, not in a show. The restaurant was on Broadway.

After that my then boyfriend now husband, [and I] moved back to Los Angeles and [I] decided that I wanted to become a Cantor and took a couple years to prepare for school. Now [I] will be going into my fifth and last year at Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion in New York City.

I went to [the College-Conservatory of Music] at the University of Cincinnati [with a musical theatre major]. I left my sophomore year to do the musical, "Wicked," and I performed in that for [four] years, one year in Chicago and three years in New York.

I loved choreographing [and] I loved being behind the stage so I moved to L.A. because I thought I [was] going to produce. I worked at a company that was at the time called Endeavor, which is a talent and literary agency that now is WME [which] merged with William Morris while I was there.

After a couple months of working there, I worked for [Adam Venit], one of the creators of the company. Then I left there to run development for Craig Zadan and Neil Meron, [who produced "Chicago" the movie, "Smash" on NBC, and others].

While I was there [I thought,] "Am I really meant to be doing [this]?" I quit and left the entertainment industry and went on an inward journey for about a year that led me to creating my [life] coaching practice that I've been doing for three years.

Two of my sisters who are in the Jewish clergy as very clearly established spiritual leaders, and our older brother [Scott Hausman Weiss] is a Rabbi. I feel like I do the same work, just without the [religious] title.

Your mother Marilyn Weiss was a former Design Review Commissioner and your father Mark is a retired podiatrist. Tell us what they're up to now.

Our parents moved about two and a half years ago. My dad retired and they moved up to Walnut Creek, California where they have several friends and family [who] live there.

school. I was very split on this issue at first, and before molding any final opinion I made sure to have all the facts, including those presented by Dr. [Brian] Goldberg in his "Goldberg Perspective" newsletters. At first, Dr. Goldberg's arguments are very compelling. Our school will become more competitive, more kids will go to four year universities, and Beverly High will rise in status. However, Dr. Goldberg also suggests in the same post that students who fail to meet these requirements, or students who don't have the same enthusiasm as top students, can simply be transferred to Moreno, a continuation school for students who don't succeed at Beverly High.

This approach to education poses many challenges. First, our district will need to invest more money in Moreno to accommodate these new students. Dr. Goldberg acknowledged this in his post, without elaborating on where the money will come from. Second, this approach gives the impression that Beverly High wants only to help its top students while leaving everyone else in the dust. Third, students who feel pressured by these requirements to take challenging courses they are not prepared for serve only to slow down these classes and force teachers to teach down to their level, hurting those top students that this policy was intended to promote. Ironically, this lowers our standards rather than raising them. I have seen this firsthand in my more challenging courses and it's obvious that nobody wants to feel alienated in a class they don't belong in or that they aren't prepared for. The students who would take A-G regardless of the requirement will continue to do so, while the rest shouldn't be forced to, nor should they be punished for not wanting to. Every student has different needs, and a district with kid's shoe company called, "Plae," and he [does] consultant work to make sure that the shoes are great quality. He's the guy they go to with any issues with feet.

Lizzie

And the issue is creating shoes for children's feet.

Our mom is the Vice Chair of the Walnut Creek Design Review Commission, so they're both still continuing what they did before in a much less capacity. They're traveling a lot and visiting all of us, because we're all over the country, but I think they're enjoying themselves.

to all of its students. Therefore, while making A-G mandatory would seem to promote Beverly High and make it a more competitive school, in actuality this policy

Another one of my concerns is the pay of our teachers. I, like most residents in Beverly Hills, assumed that our teachers get paid the best, the same way that our police and firemen do. However, the last board meeting revealed to me that our district is not very competitive in its pay at all. After minimal research, I learned that our district pays its employees salaries that are comparable to districts with far fewer resources, but with more disciplined fiscal management. In fact, the scope of the fiscal mismanagement within our district is terrifying. Beverly High is blessed with some of the best teachers in the whole country, and the fact that they are not properly compensated for their public service serves to show that this board is either unaware, or that it simply doesn't care. As a student, I could easily tell you which teachers shouldn't be teaching at our school. However, our boards' approach to dealing with these teachers is wrong in that all teachers are punished for problems had with a few. This practice kills morale and this is an embarrassment for us. At the start of last year we had to negotiate with the city for a multimillion dollar donation just to maintain the status quo and now we've just blown millions on new security, when our old security was more than adequate.

At the same time, our district's executives receive bloated salaries that are grossly out of proportion with the salaries of other employees and with what is reasonable for their work. Now with a ten million dollar huge congregation and they do a concert series every year. They knew that I was also studying to be a Cantor and approached Sara [in November] and said, "What do you think about doing a cabaret here with your sister?" Sara said, "Of course!" and all of sudden Sara got a call that said, "Wait a second, do you think your brother would want to do it too?"

The three of us, when we sing together the result is so much more than the sum of its parts. I have my talent, Lizzie has hers, Sara has hers, but when the three of us come together it's like there's a whole other energy there that's unjustifiable that moves through us. I think our intention is to remind people that all of us have access to the same talent, that we're not special in our talent. A lot of the music that we share, whether it's a musical theatre song or a pop song or something that's from an ancient wisdom tradition, is the concert. But the content is fizzing in the entire presence of what happens when we allow the creative genius to move through us.

make the right choice. Some of our oldest and finest teachers are retiring. The next generation of exceptional teachers won't be coming here. They'll be going where they get paid for their work, and the quality of instruction in our school will slowly decline. Our school will be less competitive as a result, and our district, the gem of Beverly Hills that makes our community what it is, will not be the same. This, in turn, devalues our whole community. The reason Beverly Hills is so prestigious and that property values are so high is that parents want their kids to go to school here. Please don't let our schools go to waste. I feel that our board has taken the quality of instruction at Beverly High, which has been consistently strong for decades, for granted. When reading that same blog by Dr. Goldberg I referred to earlier, I noticed that there seems to be conflict between our Board and staff, including administration, counselors, and teachers. Dr. Goldberg says that any deviation from board policies is insubordination and then goes on to imply that this insubordination could put someone's employment at risk. I agree that it is the board's responsibility to set policy, but to micromanage and to blatantly disregard the opinions of our educational professionals is a perversion of the system that will ultimately fail. Nobody should be fired for having the audacity to think differently than the board. This type of arrogance serves only to disrupt the flow of healthy debate, and without healthy debate the exchange of ideas stops out of fear of retribution and retaliation. Everyone loses steam, especially our educators, when they feel their opinions have no value and that they are expendable. This ultimately hurts students like me, who then feel it is their high school. The three of us performed ["A New World,' written by Jason Robert Brown] with Joel Pressman at the last winter concert of high school and also at my sister's senior recital for Miami, and we're also doing it at this concert.

This concert is more than [a] cliché Broadway cabaret. Our goal is to take these people on a musical and spiritual journey. It's really a culmination of the last 29 years of our lives. We're not saying that we're successfully developed human beings yet, but everything we've learned really is poured into this concert and I think all of us have developed our own ideas about religion. For me [what I love is] the community Judaism has to offer and to see a united voice that people can come together, pray for good, [and] to be able to change the way we look at things.

Beverly Hills is really a community. It really shaped us as who we are, and the people that we were exposed to who are the most philanthropic but also just normal people.

responsibility to personally reach out and voice their concerns.

I hope that in the future, the board discontinues its pursuit of aggressive politics and weighs all perspectives when making decisions. It is easy for me to understand why the board oftentimes acts with overconfidence and too much determination. After all, it was chosen by the people and their election serves only to show that the community supports them. However, very few people actually vote or know about the happenings in our district. While a fraction of our community actually comes out and votes, the silent and dormant majority is unaware of our board's mismanagement and feels no need to stay educated nor to vote anybody out of office or into office. I genuinely hope that the disconnect from most of our community does not put any board member under the mistaken impression that he or she has a free hand to do as he or she pleases, and I urge our community to stay informed and vote.

I do not want the board to think its accomplishments have gone unnoticed. I commend Dr. Goldberg on making the PSAT a mandatory exam for juniors and I congratulate the board on a successful transfer to basic aid. Your students are grateful for the courage you have shown in resisting the subway under our school. Furthermore, I appreciate everything that the board does to maintain transparency and to keep its community informed. Keep writing, keep posting, and keep filming. I hope that more people feel the need to learn about our community. Only then can the public stay involved, share its opinions, and hold its leaders accountable. After all, that's the beauty in democracy.

PROJECT 14-29

CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS PROJECT ADMINISTRATION 345 FOOTHILL BOAD BEVERLY HILLS, CALIFORNIA 90210

REQUEST FOR PREQUALIFICATION OF BIDDERS AND PREQUALIFICATION INSTRUCTIONS FOR:

Fire Station headquarters Improvements project

Notice is hereby given that the City of Beverly Hills ("CITY") has determined that all bidders for the Fire Station Headquarters ("Project") must be prequalified prior to submitting a bid on that Project. It is mandatory that all Contractors who intend to submit a bid, fully complete the prequalification questionnaire, provide all materials requested herein, and be approved by the CITY to be on the final qualified Bidders list.

No bid will be accepted from a Contractor that has failed to comply with these requirements. If two or more business entities submit a bid as part of a Joint Venture, or expect to submit a bid as part of a Joint Venture, each entity within the Joint Venture must be separately qualified to bid. The last date to submit a fully completed questionnaire is 2:00 PM Wednesday, April 23, 2014. Contractors are encouraged to submit prequalification packages as soon as possible, so that they may be notified of omissions of information to be remedied or of their prequalification status in advance of the prequalification deadline for this Project.

Answers to questions contained in the attached questionnaire are required. The CITY will use these documents as the basis of rating Contractors with respect to whether each Contractor is qualified to bid on the Project, and reserves the right to check other sources available. The CITY's decision will be based on objective evaluation criteria.

The CITY reserves the right to adjust, increase, limit, suspend or rescind the prequalification rating based on subsequently learned information. Contractors whose rating changes sufficiently to disqualify them will be notified, and given an opportunity for a hearing consistent with the hearing procedures described below for appealing a pregualification rating.

While it is the intent of the prequalification ques-tionnaire and documents required therewith to assist the CITY in determining bidder responsibility prior to bid and to aid the CITY in selecting the lowest responsible bidder, neither the fact of prequalification, nor any prequalification rating, will preclude the CITY from a post-bid consideration and determination of whether a bidder has the quality, fitness, capacity and experience to satisfactorily perform the proposed work, and has demonstrated the requisite trustworthiness.

The prequalification packages should be submit-ted under seal to the Office of the City Clerk, City of Beverly Hills, 455 North Rexford Drive, Room 290, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. The following should be clearly marked on the outside of the package "CONFIDENTIAL PREQUALIFICATION STATEMENT FOR THE FIRE STATION STATEMENT FOR THE FIRE STATION HEADQUARTERS IMPROVEMENTS PROJECT"

The prequalification packages submitted by Contractors are not public records and are not open to public inspection. All information provided will be kept confidential to the extent permitted by law. However, the contents may be disclosed to third parties for purpose of verification, or investigation of substantial allegations, or in an appeal hearing. State law requires that the names of contractors applying for prequalification status shall be public records subject to disclosure, and the first page of the questionnaire will be used for that purpose.

Each guestionnaire must be signed under penalty of perjury in the manner designated at the end of the form, by an individual who has the legal authority to bind the Contractor on whose behalf that person is signing. If any information provided by a Contractor becomes inaccurate, the Contractor must immediately notify the CITY and provide updated accurate information in writing, under penalty of perjury.

The CITY reserves the right to waive minor irregularities and omissions in the information contained in the prequalification application submitted, and to make all final determinations. The CITY may also determine at any time that the prequalification process will be suspended for the Project and the Project will be bid without prequalification.

Contractors may submit prequalification packages during regular working hours on any day that the offices of the CITY are open. Contractors who submit a complete prequalification package will be notified of their qualification status no later than ten business days after submission of the information.

The CITY may refuse to grant prequalification where the requested information and materials are not provided by the due date indicated above. There is no appeal from a refusal for an incomplete or late application, but re-application for a later project is permitted. Neither the closing time for submitting prequalification packages for this Project will be changed in order to accommodate supplementation of incomplete submissions, or late submissions, unless requested by the CITY in its sole discretion.

In addition to a contractor's failure to be pre-qualified pursuant to the scoring system set forth in the prequalification package, a contractor may be found not pre-qualified for either omission of or falsification of, any requested information.

Where a timely and completed application results in a rating below that necessary to pre-qualify, an appeal can be made by the unsuccessful Contractor. An appeal is begun by the Contractor delivering notice to the CITY of its appeal of the decision with respect to its prequalification rating, no later than two business days following notification that it is not pre-qualified. The notice of appeal shall include an address where the Contractor wishes to receive notice of the appeal hearing. Without a timely appeal, the Contractor waives any and all rights to challenge the decision of the CITY, whether by administrative process, judicial process or any other legal process or proceeding.

If the Contractor gives the required notice of appeal, a hearing shall be conducted no earlier than five business days after the CITY's receipt of the notice of appeal and not later than five business days prior to the date of the Notice Inviting Bids for this Project. Prior to the hearing, the Contractor shall, in writing, be advised of the basis for the City's prequalification determination.

The hearing shall be conducted by a panel consisting of three members of the Department of Public Works & Transportation senior manage-ment staff (the "Appeals Panel"). The Appeals Panel shall consider any evidence presented by the Contractor, whether or not the evidence is presented in compliance with formal rules of evidence. The Contractor will be given the opportunity to present evidence, information and arguments as to why the Contractor believes it should be prequalified. Within one day after the conclusion of the hearing, the Appeals Panel will render a written determination as to whether the Contractor is pre-qualified. It is the intention of the CITY that the date for the submission and opening of bids will not be delayed or postponed to allow for completion of an appeal process.

Please contact Julio Guerrero at the Office of Project Administration, at jguerrero@beverlyhills.org for any procedural questions or concerns regarding this project.
