"Lighthouse District"

We, as a district - including the members of our School Board - seem to, as Dr. [Brian] Goldberg said in a Board meeting last Tuesday night, "want it all."

Which means that board members, and others in our education community, too often play both sides of the same fence. When it's about honors Math and English in sixth grade or a truly potent GATE program, we want to avoid "hurt feelings" by those stigmatized as "not of honors caliber," (which, for those of us who have coached youth sports, harkens back to that awful non-rubric in which, "everybody gets the metaphorical trophy," making such trophies meaningless.) Decisions are rendered with this in mind, but at the same time, our board states its fervent desire to turn the BHUSD (back) into a "lighthouse district" with our Norman grads getting into the topnotch universities of their choice. There are plans to examine a new enforcement of the A-G requirements, with the goal of preparing all of our Beverly High students for UC requirements, whether they intend to attend those institutions or not, the result of which might force some of our high school students to take classes for which they are not fit, not prepared and have no passion. And, to continue the vacillation, at the same time, the paths to Honors from middle school to high school are becoming littered with roadblocks as we have developed a fear of "playing to the honors" student's needs. It seems that there is an inconsistency, in terms of vision. Are we reading from the book, Good to Great or from Subpar to Average?

At last Tuesday night's board meeting, one of the board members was so eager to give a beat-down to the few "miscreants" who leave the high school at lunchtime (their classes done for the day) to eat on South Beverly Drive, that this board member is willing to consider the imposition of a stricter bell schedule which would actually force these kids to stay during lunchtime - one hopes - but have the additional affect of limiting/punishing the students who are on campus all day, the academic/co-curricular stalwarts, steadfasts, and stars of the school. These kids are on the high school campus from 7:00 or 8:00 am until 5:00 pm, or later. They are the very students who rely on a flexible bell schedule. These are the students who will take us from "good to great." Who will get into the colleges of their choice. Who will join the workforce with passion and skill. Who will remember their years at Beverly with fondness and loyalty. And yet we are told the Board would consider a bell schedule that makes life more difficult for these very students in order to gain....what? A handful fewer kids eating burritos, pizzas and cold coffee drinks.

We need to begin to have the courage of our convictions. "lighthouse districts" are led by the best and the brightest - not just teachers, coaches, staff, counselors, administrators, letters cont. on page 4

City employees to receive a 10 percent raise

The City Council voted 4 - 1 to approve over $900K in employee compensation salary increases over the next two years.

Councilmember John Mirisch dissented. "In Beverly Hills we have been very generous [and] we've paid for both the employer and the employee [pension] share," Mirisch said. "I think we offer stability and good careers and I just think this unfortunately does nothing to address the systemic problem."

After negotiations began in August 2013 between the City and five employee bargaining groups, a two-year salary increase proposal included a ten percent increase during the first year, and a one percent increase during the second year.

According to the Public Employee Pension Reform Act that was passed in September 2012, increasing employee contribution toward their pension benefits would reduce employer's pension liability.

The first year raise includes an eight percent increase in Beverly Hills employee salary to offset employee pension costs, with an overall two percent increase in salary. By providing an eight percent raise in the employees' salary, the "obligation" for paying pension costs shifted from the employer to the employee, according to Councilmember Nancy Krasne. "Eight percent of [the ten percent increase], which the employees are now paying, we were responsible for anyway," Krasne said. "It may appear that it's an enormous increase, when in fact, it's an offset."

Mirisch said that though the increase appears cost neutral, the employees should pay a portion of their pension costs. Previously, the city covered these costs.

"I understand that some people might say that the bargaining units bargained away something else to get the city to pay for their share, and I think that would be a fairly valid argument if one looked at the salaries and felt that the salaries were for example on the low end of things," Mirisch said. "I think for many of us have seen the salaries, and I don't think that that's the case."

The issue will return for a second reading at the June 18 City Council meeting.

Teachers union protests slow negotiations

BHEA and the BHUSD have yet to come to an agreement on total compensation and health benefits.

Teachers are protesting slow ongoing negotiations between BHEA and the district by wearing "Fair Settlement Now" badges.

"Our association as a whole feels that the negotiations have dragged on for too long," incoming BHEA President Telly Tse said.

parents and elected officials, but the students, themselves. We need to create bell schedules and program options that honor those kids who, like Dr. Goldberg, "want it all" (as long as they have the abilities and work ethic to match their ambition), rather than enforce rigid policies and impose inflexible schedules in a fruitless attempt to bring our less motivated students to the honors, UC, or even state school level.

We need to create more flexibility to help

It's Simple Science – Go Metro and Save

Don't let high gas prices drain your summertime activity budget. People who take transit rather than drive save more than $10,000 a year on average, according to the American Public Transportation Association. Plan your trip at metro.net.

I-405 Carpool Lanes Open

The Sepulveda Pass Improvement Project has opened 10 miles of new carpool lanes on the northbound I-405. In addition, southbound onand off- ramps at Skirball Center Drive and final configuration of north and southbound ramps at Sunset Boulevard will be completed this summer. More information at metro.net/405.

those who deserve it and who have earned it, not impose more rigidity in order to try to punish those who will have thus far not shown the desire to benefit from it. Because, it is in that kind of encouraging and flexible and supportive environment that there will always be room for the once unmotivated, once uninspired student to change and grow. To evolve. To take advantage of all our district has to offer. To improve themselves. It is in the fertile soil, under the benevolence of sunlight and plenty of water that these students - and all [of] our children - will have a chance to blossom.

And as our academic performance improves, as our arts and ROP and athletics and robotics and culinary arts and medical science academy programs benefit from the students able to take advantage of these special programs without the academic costs incurred by a schedule that would, for the first time in decades, put a sixth period after lunch, or make enriched schedules more difficult to put into place... then our district will once again attract the families who will do what they had always done in the lighthouse days: they will do whatever it takes to move into Beverly Hills, renting and buying in order to be a part of this spectacular public school system, our BHUSD. And the residents will no longer choose the expensive option of private schools, some of which can't hold a candle to our district when it's at its best.

And yet, arguments about bell schedules and honors middle school programs and GATE and lunch periods obfuscate the larger issue.

We must begin to make new choices: we have to create options that make things easier for our outstanding students, we must honor academic and athletic and creative and vocational aspirations, even at the risk of hurting the feelings of the parent whose child does not get into an honors middle school class or an elite academic program, or the parent of the student who isn't the star of the school musical, isn't first chair viola in the orchestra,

NEED CASH NOW?

or isn't the starting tailback or point guard. Just because someone's child doesn't have a painting in the Beverly High art gallery, we need not banish the gallery. Rather, let that young artist aspire to have his/her work hanging there in the future.

At the same time, we must look out for all of our students. We must inspire the student who currently lacks motivation, who feels out of place or out of touch in any of our five schools. We should do everything we can to make certain that they graduate our high school with their own individual path in place. Whether it's a path through a city college, a junior college, or four-year university, each of our children deserves a chance to feel that they have succeeded at Beverly High. For some, the immediate future won't even be an academic one; they may join the job market as their vocational skills will have been honed by our exceptional high school ROP programs. For others, the path may lead to an Ivy League college, thanks to our AP and honors classes, as well as the enriching cocurriculars that help our kids' college applications jump off the page. For yet another group of our graduates, the path may be on a 'gap year" during which they will work for a non-profit organization or travel the world and learn about life outside of our zip code, thanks to the off-campus activities and clubs which lit their fire toward such actions. We need to help inspire all of our students to be a part of our district wide range of academic and enrichment programs. To look forward to going to school each day. To get involved in the kinds of clubs/activities/teams which give students a reason to feel a sense of belonging on the Beverly High campus; a reason to want to show up, and to stay the day. A place where they will find like-minded friends, where they will develop life-long passions, hobbies, and friends. Where they feel safe. Where they are inspired. I'm not so foolish as to believe that this goal will, alone, bring all of our students to a place of greater academic ambition as well, but it's a start.

My own third generation Norman, Jackson, has only one year left in this district. And yet, I find myself ever more passionate about our beloved district and its five schools. The more time I spend here, the more I listen, the more I see, the more I learn. And the more I learn, the more I realize that I just don't know.

We need to, all of us, look with humility into each others' eyes and stop playing political volleyball with our children's schedules and programs, horse-trading discussions of honors middle school math for seventh grade STEM, and treating bell schedules like fashion accessories, changing color and style every year without rhyme or reason. We have to rely on experts and lifelong educators, to ask intelligent questions and listen to the answers, to be collaborative rather than confrontational, to admit our own limitations and embrace the brilliance of others. We need to empathetically experience parents' desires for their children, teachers' needs in and out of the classroom, and - most important - the journeys of our students. These are the beacons we must follow, if we are truly to find our way back to the lighthouse.

of Education meeting held on March 13 asking for higher wages and benefits.

According to former BHEA president Chris Bushee, salary increases occur for new employees in their first ten years of employment. There is a 50 percent turnover rate at ten years, which means half of employees have been working in the district for ten years or more.

"At least half [of the faculty] are wholly dependent upon negotiated salary schedule increases for any increases in salary," Bushee said at the meeting.

Since 2009, there has only been one pay increase of a 4.25 percent average, according to Bushee.

For every one percent raise, it costs the district approximately $250,000. However, with BHUSD absorbing 11 certificated positions at the end of the school year, they are saving over $1 million in faculty costs.

According to Tse, most districts would come to an agreement in all negotiation aspects, such as total compensation, by May or June. Tse said that negotiations will continue into the summer unless a decision is made within the next week.

As a comparison, the City of Beverly Hills negotiations started in August 2013. Municipal employees will be receiving a ten percent raise (see previous brief).

"The badges are the beginning," Tse said. "It's not the only thing we're planning on doing. It's the first step in a [potentially] long process and it also marks the change in the culture for our organization. We want to be an organization that is informed, united, and takes care of the interest of our members more so than ever before.

The BHUSD's retiring faculty look back on their careers

BOB BAILEY First hired: 1976

Hawthorne eighth grade English "[Hawthorne] really hasn't changed at all over the years, to tell you the truth. Not only [has] the physical environment [not changed], but also the parents, the kids, and my fellow teachers [haven't changed]. It's really a family feeling here and that's what made it so easy for me to stay as long as I have.

For everybody else it's changed because of the technology. Teachers have embraced that and it's really improved their teaching. But I don't even know how to work some of [the technology] at all. I just don't understand it, so I haven't embraced it, and I just keep doing what I'm doing, which I know is the right thing to do. I've been able to teach the way I've taught the entire time for 38 years, but now's the time to go out. I don't know that I have a choice as far as technology goes, which I think is a great thing, it's just not what I do.

[The] first five years I was a sixth grade English teacher, and after that I've been eighth grade only, pretty much since 1976. Anybody that went to Hawthorne had to have me. They couldn't graduate without having Mr. Bailey. I feel like I'm the most challenged student that's ever been at Hawthorne because it's taken me 38 years to graduate.

That's what's so great about teaching at a K-8 school; I get to know these kids when they're five and six years old. They say, "Hi," to me in the hallway [and] then they all of a sudden grow up and they're in my classroom. We reminisce and they know me from a completely different viewpoint than they did in first grade.

That's really perhaps my happiest memory or experience at Hawthorne, that and the graduation. On graduation day and evening, everybody is on the same page. There are tears and there's laughter, but everybody is feeling good about their experience and school and we bond in that feeling. It's just great, I love it, and it's not just because it's the last day of school and we have vacation afterwards, it's because of that night [and] that moment.

I really have no [retirement] plans, but I had a good role model. My father, [Charles Bailey], had no plans when he retired, [and] he just did whatever he wanted to do whenever he wanted to do it and it really worked for him. I'm not the kind of person who needs to have a plan or an agenda. I'm pretty happy when I'm home alone [and] that will be fine with me. I live in Studio City, so on a Tuesday I can drive to the Burbank airport and go to San Francisco for a couple days. Then I can get back into my golf game. I used to play golf three times a week with my father before he died.

There's any number of things. I don't have a plan and... well, I have a plan: I never want to work a day in my life after I retire."

JOHN BORSUM First hired: 1977 Beverly High mathematics

"When I was a junior in high school, our basketball team in Long Beach, Millikan High School, came to [Beverly High] and participated in the Beverly Hills Invitational and actually won. I think that was the first time I was at [Beverly High] and I saw the swim gym and everything, and thought, 'Hey this is a pretty cool place. I'd like to teach here one of these days.'

We want more and more for students to discover as much as possible rather than have it just set up and told to them. I'm leaving now with the common core coming into play, and I really actually like the common core a lot because the emphasis is more on the student thinking rather than just memorizing. Unfortunately, I think that over the years we've tended to make our students very good at memorizing, but they're probably less able when it comes to thinking and problem solving. Common core is here to hopefully change some of that.

There's always been a misunderstanding about mathematics, that students can just be put into the class. It's really important that students are placed properly. It really wasn't a mistake through our Board [of Education]; the state of California was pushing that change, and the state has now seen the error of its way and has gotten rid of that. In mathematics, one of the points I'm always making to people [is] because it's sequential in nature, you have to learn your pre-algebra before you become successful in algebra.

Being a teacher here, the positive thing that I can always say is that our students are polite, they're fun, [and] they generally have smiles on their faces. I will definitely miss the kids. That's just the way to sum it up, the kids."

BARBARA BRILLIANT First hired: 1979

Hawthorne kindergarten

"Because Proposition 13 passed, I couldn't get a job in public schools. I have a masters in reading and a special education degree, and there was an opening in special education. I was at the right place at the right time with the right degrees.

I stayed [in special education] for 15 years [and then] I decided I really wanted to do more with the teaching of reading, and that's when a position in first grade opened up. I have a master degree in reading and I [wasn't] really using my expertise to the fullest. I want to be where kids are learning to read, and I want to be the one to put that book in their hands and see their eyes light up when they realize they can really read. When they had to eliminate a first grade I went to kindergarten and really found a love, which I never expected. I thought I would end my career in first grade, but then they came, and I changed, and I've been thrilled.

[Former Horace Mann psychologist Lee Housner] said to me, 'You know what? I really don't care what you teach, until you get the behavior under control." At the moment I said, 'What? I can't believe this, what do you mean you don't care what I teach?' As I went on I realized unless you can control the behaviors, it doesn't matter what you're teaching. I really have taken that along that if you don't really have their attention it really doesn't matter what you're teaching them.

There have been many wonderful administrators and colleagues along the way that I've enjoyed working with and even to point out a few is really unfair because I really feel that I am so much more of what I am because of all of the input. It's a [real] community and that's what makes Beverly Hills very special when, or at least at Hawthorne, we just don't have our kids, [they're] all of ours.

As a whole I've had a very satisfying career. I've met wonderful people [and] I've tried their many new ideas. I'm teaching my little kindergarteners this year to challenge themselves like it's a really positive word, and they've really challenged themselves to read more. I think over the years I've tried to challenge myself to be all that I could be and not just take the path that's the easiest, and I'm leaving very satisfied.

I want to take some time to evaluate what I want to do next. I hope that my next phase in my life is as satisfying as this one."

LINDA DiNOBLE First hired: 1973

Hawthorne fourth grade

"I've been in the district for 35 years. I taught special education and now I'm in fourth grade. I've enjoyed working with all students. I'm very proud of the fact that I've help a lot of students make huge academic leaps, and I've had good relationships with their families. I've enjoyed being a member of Hawthorne's family.

It's been quite the experience [and] quite overwhelming to look back over all the years. When I think [that] I have been at the district since 1973, that's probably the longest I've ever done anything in my life if you connect it to that one building. You can't even imagine.

Even when you're older and you're doing it, you just don't believe it was there.

I just plan on enjoying the next phase of my life [and] spending more time with my family."

SHARON FRIEDMAN First hired: 1986 Horace Mann fourth grade

I took some time off when I had my kids and I fell into [teaching]. It seemed like a good thing to do that I could be off when my children were off from school. As I started teaching, I really developed a passion for it because you can really make a difference every day in somebody's life so it's been a very rewarding profession.

The Horace Mann staff is beyond compare. Everybody works together, everyone wants to support each other, and [it's] a very nurturing environment for teachers as well as for children. I work with a lot of younger teachers and I learn new things from them every day.

One thing I really love is when the kids come back and let me know what's happened with them. I just got an email the other day from a student graduating from the high school. He remembered his fourth grade teacher and that's so nice. He'll be going on to Princeton in the fall and I feel like I had a part in that. The kids are always coming back [and] they tell me about their triumphs and their trials and it's become an extended family.

I think that teaching is a wonderful profession and you don't do it alone. It's not done in a vacuum. Parents and former teachers all add to the mix and everybody's goal is to help the child be the most successful that they can be and achieve their potential. I'm happy to have been a part of that."

MICHELLE HACKBARTH First hired: 1979 El Rodeo sixth grade mathematics

"In junior high I had a math teacher who I just loved, she was great. I loved her class [and] I loved what she taught. I'm [also] very strong in math [and] it came very easily to me. I wanted to teach as opposed to going into something else because teaching is a very good job when you have a family because you're off on the summer. But I really do love math I really do love teaching.

When I [was] part-time [at El Rodeo], if I was only working fourth and fifth periods it was difficult for the students; they really didn't have time to come see me. [Then] I would [volunteer and] stay one day a week after school to help them and I continued doing that for nine years. [The students] can practice a little bit towards their goals in becoming stronger math students. I did that at El Rodeo and I'm doing that at Hawthorne.

The two schools I've been to the most were Hawthorne and El Rodeo, and that's where I feel the strongest allegiance. I was part-time [and] when I was ready to come back full-time they didn't have it available at Hawthorne [and] I ended up at El Rodeo.

The district really accommodated me [and] they were very nice. It was perfect to have the best of both worlds because I could do what I loved doing, which was teaching, but then I also could spend more time with my family, and work and volunteer at other schools. It was a perfect situation and I loved that.

I decided it was time to retire. It's a bit bittersweet [and] I'm a bit sad because I have a great group and I'm really not ready yet to retire yet. But I'm always busy, so I'll be able to fill the time very easily. I volunteer, I have grandchildren, [and] another one is going to be born in June. I'm going to Kenya. It's sort of a goodwill trip. I'm going with a group [and] we're going to orphanages and working with the church and just doing lots of different things."

DIANE HALE First hired: 2004 Beverly High counselor

"While I was at UCSB for 14 years I had a variety of experience both in the graduate level and the undergraduate level. The university is kind of isolated from the rest of the city and I wanted to have a closer tie to the community. That's why I applied to Santa Barbara City College because at that time I was looking for new experiences.

I had always worked with transfer students from the community college and I thought they were [a] very interesting group of students. I loved that experience [and] I was really torn between high school and community college. I've always be passionate about the community college. In fact, I stay connected with the community college because I am the community college liaison with West Los Angeles College and Santa Monica College and the high school, so I kept that connection.

I had an interview with [Beverly High] and the day before that I had an interview at Long Beach Community College. I remember telling my husband I didn't feel like that was a really good fit [at LBCC and] I didn't feel a connection with the people. Then when I had the interview at [Beverly High] I felt truly connected and I said, 'Wow, I could really work with the people, they were so much warmer.'

I think the most memorable experiences are the last three years I've been the head counselor, and that's been challenging and rewarding at the same time. I get to connect with [the counselors] in a different way that's been very rewarding and allowed me to use other skill sets that I have in bringing the team together. The other thing that's been rewarding for me is providing opportunities for students to be able to take community college classes at the high school.

I have students who've visited me from previous years [and] it just feels so good when they come back and tell you what they're doing.

It has been the most wonderful experience ever. I'm so happy that I've had the opportunity to work here for ten years [with] amazing staff [and] amazing students. I will miss them all."

HERB HALL Year hired: 1986 Beverly High Performing Arts chairperson

"It's about starting the process from the beginning of the show, and then watching them progress and grow in the part. [It's] watching them develop and grow as humans and especially the ones that have challenges; they're either scared or intimidated. Then seeing them change gradually over the course of a few years, [or] however long they are with us.

We always tell the kids, 'Come get feedback from us so that you find out what you did or didn't do,' because what they think they did isn't what we saw. There was one girl who kept trying out for the musical and she didn't make it, and she wouldn't [get feedback from us]. She just kept going, 'Aw naw, I'm scared, I don't want to hear it,' because she was expecting us to say, or me to say, that she was just horrible. The beginning of her senior year I cornered her and said, 'You really need to find out what it is you're doing.' She finally sucked it up and came in and I told her. It was so simple, [and] she went home kicking herself because she could have done that easily two years before. When she finally heard it as a senior, she took it to heart and she wound up playing the lead in the fall play and then she finally got into the musical. Now, she's worked in the entertainment business.

It was to see that strength, to see the confidence that came out of that, that's the kind of thing that makes it worthwhile.

What I'd like to leave the kids with is a sense of fairness, because that's always been a big thing for me, and that the community stays as supportive of the arts at the high school as they've always been. Our school administration had always been phenomenal with supporting the shows we've done, and we've done some stuff that other schools would never even attempt. I hope that doesn't go away [and] I hope that doesn't change. The worst thing I could possibly imagine is to see the theatre program become what I call, 'generic high school theatre,' where they do baby drama because we just absolutely don't do that.

It takes a commitment from the department, but also from the school administration to trust and be [as] supportive as they have been."

MARION HARVEY First hired: 1996 Hawthorne fifth grade

"When I was in third grade I had a great teacher. She was kind and did a great job and worked with the individual child, which was what I aspire to [be], but I knew when I was in third grade that I wanted to be a teacher. I worked for LAUSD fifth grade and then I had my kids. I was off 14 years to raise my family and to help my parents out. I was in Beverly Hills [and] my dad owned a little coffee shop on South Robertson [called Jack's Snack Bar]. That's when I met all the Horace Mann teachers; [Principal] Steve Kessler, the late Ron Brown, [and] all these teachers would come daily and have lunch at my dad's [restaurant]. When they knew I was a teacher, they said, 'Come back, we'll have you sub every day.' When my father sold [the restaurant], I decided I would come back to teaching [and] I [ended up subbing] for all the teachers [who came to Jack's Snack Bar].

I love teaching fifth grade, and Hawthorne is such a great school. All my colleagues here are fabulous and I've had some great administrators over the years. I have mixed feelings about [retiring] because I'm not burned out, but I'm at a certain age where I just feel it's time to go have some fun.

[I'm going to miss] my colleagues, the kids, the families, all of those things because like I said, Hawthorne is a great place and I really love coming to work still. Every day I get up, I live in the Valley, [and] I never even had a problem from driving from Northridge to Beverly Hills every day."

STEWART HOROWITZ First hired: 1985 Beverly High social studies BHEA President

"I taught AP [social studies courses] in the late 1980s and early 1990s and in the years that I did it the scores were extremely high. I worked very hard, and I expected [the students] to work very hard. If they didn't, we'd discuss the situation and if they were unwilling to meet the standards that I felt were appropriate, I would suggest they would leave the class and take the regular class instead.

I feel like I've had a wonderful career and I'm thankful that I have this opportunity. It could have gone very differently I suppose, but I felt that it was a good break that I arrived in Beverly Hills at a time when it was a great school district. I also feel the [BHUSD] was fortunate to have me. As an employee for all these years, I think they got their money's worth.

After an election, there [are] always either minor or major changes to the alignment of the Board of Education. Every Board of Education at some point decides that it knows what is going to restore Beverly Hills to greatness, and they imagine that if they hire this principal or that principal, or if they bring in this superintendent or that superintendent, it's going to make a huge difference and BHUSD will become a much better school district. What I'd like them to understand is that none of those things have much of an impact. If they want BHUSD to be a great school district they have to hire great teachers and they literally have to find great teachers and not settle for anything less than the very best. But if they want to attract the very best teachers then they also have to compensate people the best, and that's not been happening for a long time.

Beverly Hills had a reputation when I came working here, almost 30 years ago as one of the most highly paid school districts in the state, and today we are far down that list, and that makes a difference. Teachers today do not feel respected, and one measure of respect is how are we compensated compared to other school districts. If you saw the districts where people are paid far better than we are and you compare the test scores, how much better our test scores are than these other districts, you wonder, what's wrong with Beverly Hills? That's the parting word that I'd like to extend to the Board of Education as well.

That top-down leadership is not very effective. Bottom-up leadership will always bring about much greater, and more success than anything else.

I'd like to say thanks to [Beverly Hills Weekly publisher] Josh Gross who has been my friend, a former student, and I'd like to thank him for what he's done for supporting public schools in California for all these years as well."

MARCY LANDRES Hired: 1976 - 2013 Beverly Vista title 1 specialist (Marcy retired last year after last year's story had gone to press)

"I went to Hawthorne and [Beverly High] and I had been lucky enough when I was in the sixth grade to work with [reading specialist] J.E. Sparks. He retired the year after I started.

I had this marvelous teacher in second grade by the name of Judy Albert and I decided that when I grew up I wanted to be a teacher. I wrote her a letter that I wanted to flunk so that I could have her again.

When I became a reading specialist I decided that I wanted to be able to follow in the footsteps of J.E. Sparks, which they were giant steps, but he remembered me and I called him to tell him if there was ever a job available I would love to work in Beverly Hills, because basically I wanted to give back what I had gained.

I was a reading specialist for 27 years and then they cut the program. I worked as a third grade teacher for one year and [former] Superintendent [Jeffrey] Hubbard who had formally been the assistant superintendent of human resources said to me, "You're being underutilized in the classroom. How would you like to be a reading specialist working as title 1?" So thereafter I worked as a title 1 teacher at Beverly Vista.

My real love in teaching was teaching English as a second language, and children who have learning differences. I preferred doing that to teaching children in the regular classroom.

I loved every moment teaching there and I absolutely loved working with the children and their parents and in past years with the administrators but it's a different place [now].

People who are making decision about education don't even take time to go into the classrooms to see what's going on. I can't even tell you how many years it's been since a Board of Education member came in to see me. The last Board of Education person who came to see what I was doing was Virginia Maas and that's because I called her and said, 'Could you please come to see what I'm doing?'

[The late Beverly Hills Weekly columnist] Rudy Cole used to [watch] every single board meeting, and he had the memory. [Now] it's lost. When this group of people go you have maybe a handful of people left that will have been there during the 50s, 60s, 70s, 80s, and 90s, who understand from where this district got its reputation.

[Now] I volunteer in the inner city to help students who are eligible for special education programs but whose parents don't know how to advocate for them. I still have a full practice where I work with kids. I work from five year olds all the way up to adults teaching them how to learn so that they can fulfill whatever dreams they have to achieve. I will miss doing that in a public sector because I always devoted myself to the public sector.

I miss my colleagues. I think that I have had the opportunity to work with some of the best and the brightest. I miss having the opportunity to advocate for students who need more specialized instruction to actualize their academic and intellectual potential. I never wanted a student to feel as if they couldn't learn. I am passionate about teaching children and adults and I hope to do this for the rest of my life. I was given the most extraordinary opportunities, and all I wanted to do was give back."

KERRY MAZOR First hired: 1979 El Rodeo science

"I love children, I love teaching, and I'm very passionate about making science fun. I'm very passionate about the environment and I've been teaching earth science in sixth grade, among many other subjects and grade levels, for 35 years. There [are] many lovely families that have come through El

Rodeo and I love teaching all the siblings in the family. The return of the El Rodeo family is a big tradition that makes it really special teaching at El Rodeo. I've also taught children of students that were in my first year of teaching, which is amazing. When that happens it's very special.

Every year for Halloween I like to inspire [my students], and I use a costume contest as a teaching moment. I always dress up as a [famous] female [scientist] so I can teach them there are women who are scientists too. I teach them about somebody new [whom] they [have] never heard of before [and] they have clues all day. The students guess who I am and then they find out who the winners [are] and who that scientist was. I teach them all about [the scientist] the next day after Halloween. I had the nephew of a student in my first year of teaching, and he just contacted me. He emailed me to say, 'Hello, you probably don't remember me but I was in your class ten years ago, and that year you inspired me when you dressed up as Jane Goodall,' who [is] one of the famous female scientists I teach about and [my students] do reports on. He interviewed [Goodall] for an hour because he's becoming an author and he's writing a book.

What's amazing is you have students who contact you and thank you years later for what impact you had on them, how they remember you, and what they've learned from you and carried with them. I plan to do more things that I enjoy and be with my family. I love photography, being environmentally active, reading, traveling, lifelong learning, and spending time with family and friends."

JEAN NELSON First hired: 1982 El Rodeo third grade

"I have extraordinarily lovely classes here and there [have] been so many challenges. I had [a girl] from China, and a girl from Japan, and they spoke no English. They taught me more about how schools can help kids, how schools should be, and what kids should be like. I've taught over 40 years I just couldn't believe the caliber of those students, and they raised the bar for everybody in the class.

To just watch those girls learn English in six months completely baffles the mind, and they only speak Chinese or Japanese at home. The parents aren't fluent English speakers at all; one mom is but the other Chinese dad, and both Japanese parents are not English speakers, so [to] watch the both of them in six months [learn English] blows me away.

[I'm going to miss] seeing the growth that kids can make. Especially eight and nine year olds [which] are wonderful ages, they just get so excited about things.

Young people are not going into education. You knew you weren't going to get rich, but you thought you'd be comfortable and the benefits were good, but they have pretty much eroded.

I don't know where the new strong teachers are going to come from. We really need highly educated teachers with really high standards, a lot of enthusiasm and devotion to their job, especially people technologically savvy because these kids, it's like second nature to them. We had a lot of wonderful teachers in our district who have left and they started their own business and they're extremely successful. Beverly Hills does not have a very attractive package for teachers to come to. It's a very poor benefits package and there is sort of a mediocre pay package so I'm not sure what kind of people they're going to get.

We let really good people go and I think they have to take a good look at when somebody's really good. Like in business, you want to keep them, and you want to get good people in, because the kids really deserve it. We have a lot of bright students, we really do.

I don't know how we're going to get those [top teachers] in and so I have some worries for the profession. Once we snag a few of them in Beverly Hills I would implore the people the powers that be to hang on to them, [and] to do what they can to keep them and that's it."

KAREN NOVOSELLER First hired: 1995 El Rodeo kindergarten

"I was volunteering three days a week [in Pasadena during] college, and I wasn't sure what I wanted to do with my life. When I got my sociology degree I went to the principal of the school [where] I was volunteering and said, 'You know, I really feel so sad, I'm not really sure that I really want to do social work. It doesn't seem to be what I'm interested in,' and she said, 'You know, you've been volunteering three days a week because you want to be a teacher,' and I said, 'Aha!' It was obvious, but it wasn't so obvious to me.

It is my passion and my love because it's an outlet for all my creativity, [I'm] able to give love to the kids, and really teach them in a nurturing way and so I enjoy it a lot.

I had reviewed Beverly Hills for the State of California [for program quality reviews] and I was really impressed. I thought that I'd like to teach in one of them if I could.

Everybody here works collaboratively and works as a team. I started in third grade for one year and then I moved into kindergarten, and then took first, and [went] back and forth like a yo-yo and everybody is just helpful. We all help each other, it's part of the game here.

I get to watch the children grow from kindergarteners all the way up and they come back to visit me from high school and college and after that so it's really a joy.

I think being in really good communication with my [students'] parents has been a number one priority for me all these years and everyone has my phone number. I talk to people every week and try to keep in close contact. When you have that kind of close relationship it overtakes a lot of the other parts of your life because you're always part of it 24 hours a day.

Hopefully I'll come back and help out, as I'm needed here as well. It's really hard for me to leave because I just love being here. I think it's a good move but it's a hard move for me, [and it's] very bittersweet to be leaving.

I kind of live and breathe teaching. If I travel, I'm thinking about what I'm going to do for my class and for my students with what I've learned. It's hard to give that up when you think about it all the time.

I [will] miss the daily relationships with the children; that's the best part, watching them grow and learn and develop and change over the course of the year.

It's been a real pleasure being here and sharing my life with everyone here."

STEVE RAPPAPORT First hired: 1988 Beverly High soccer coach ROP director

"My son, Michael, started at Beverly in 1998 and I had been coaching soccer for a long time and they were looking for a coach, and they actually came to me. I was a very successful club soccer coach and [former Beverly High principal] Ben

Bushman, who hired me at the time, his son had been playing in the same club so he was well aware of my coaching ability and thought I would be a good fit for the high school.

In 1994, they came up with a creative idea of me teaching and introducing hotel management to the high school students and that's how I got started teaching, and from there it became teaching a number of classes and ROP and basically managing the ROP program for the school.

I love teaching at the school [and] working with the kids. One of my favorite things to do besides coaching is I put together the annual career day for the school; it's an opportunity to bring the outside world to the students and work with the community, which is a favorite thing of mine. I really enjoy it.

I've had great support from everybody in the district. I think what I'm going to miss most is I've been associated with [Beverly High Principal] Carter [Paysinger] from the time I started coaching because he was coaching. That relationship, I'm going to miss a lot. In fact, that was one of the issues that kept me from wanting to retire because I love working with him.

But really the whole staff on ROP has been great. We've had a lot of success with some of the things we've done. Probably one of the biggest things is five years ago we started the culinary program which that has become a big success at the school as well with the students participating.

I really had a lot of freedom because the school has believed in me to be creative to bring the real world to the district. These 26 years have been 26 of the best years of my life.

I started the National Sports Marketing Education Foundation in 1998 and I haven't had a chance to work on it at all. [It] basically introduces students to sports and entertainment education. I have been wanting to get back into for a long time and haven't had any time. I also plan to do some work with charities."

TONI STASER First hired: 1977 Beverly High Assistant Pri

Beverly High Assistant Principal

"The difference in being an administrator and a teacher is first you don't have the same kind of contact that you do with students. It's just the difference in the responsibility levels

[and] the type of work that you're doing on a day-to-day basis.

When you're teaching, your eye is constantly on the calendar, the curriculum, the timeline, and the pacing. When you're in an administrative position you're multi-tasking so many different players, short-term and long-term projects for the campus, all the different responsibilities that you have in administrative departments that you oversee, interacting with staff members as well as parents and students and the community at large.

You get to a point in your career [where] wherever they need you that's just fine. The same thing holds true from changing from music to social studies. We had severe budget cuts in the late 1980s and music programs at the time were unfortunately being eliminated. I had a history credential as well as a music credential; most music teachers only have a music [credential]. By switching to social studies it saved another music teacher's position in the district.

I usually avoid mentioning anything about the celebrities because to me, they're just children. It doesn't matter who they are or who their parents are, they're the students. It wasn't just at El Rodeo, across the district the teachers had quite a number of celebrity children, but to me you ignore that. It's about the student in the classroom, and if you need to have a parent conference with that person, that's [who] you call.

I've been in administration about 17 years in this district now, and I can sit while we're in meetings and I look around the table at all the administrators and I can almost go about six deep in anybody's position to remember who was in the position before them.

I haven't had a minute to even begin thinking about what I'm going to do when I'm going to retire it's just right now I've always been, my entire career, when I come into work I'm mentally here [and] physically here 100%, I have not given a thought and I know things will fall into place as I begin to realize that truly that I'm not working. But right now I don't have any plans.

This was the most amazing ride over the years having had the opportunity to work at all of the different schools that I've worked.

I'm going to miss the people because it's just a great group."

LINDI WEINSTEIN First hired: 1982

Horace Mann special education Assistant technology specialist

"I went into teaching because I wanted to make a difference. I like the idea of the challenge of working with kids that were more reluctant learners or struggling learners. I felt that I could use my creativity in a way to motivate them and help them learn. It's something that I've always enjoyed. Even when I was in junior high school and high school, I always did volunteer work with kids of different disabilities and worked with them, so it was just a natural progression.

[Former Beverly Vista Principal] Irene Stern showed [me] that you did not have to make the student fit into your teaching style. You sometimes had to take their style and make it work. They didn't have to fit into you; you did what you needed to do to make it work for them. That's something that I have carried throughout my career. I have been constantly been able to adapt the curriculum, make things creative, and think outside of the box, and I think that she was instrumental in that.

It's an emotional time, because every day of my career I have loved it. I had felt challenged in a good way and it's been a passion for me to create and reach kids and help them along their learning journey so that they can be successful [and] also feel good about themselves.

I think that in the [beginning of my retirement] I'm going to travel. I hope to be involved still in the district in some way in terms of consulting so that I can work with other teachers. I really love working with new teachers and showing them ways to create and adapt so more people can be successful. I work in special education but I think that a lot of these strategies are good for all kids, and certainly you have students [who] are maybe falling behind and need extra help and I think that is something I can share with other teachers and hopefully get them excited about it. I'm hoping to use those talents within the district."

"I actually went to Beverly [High] for two and a half years from sophomore year on, and when I was getting my credential, I thought it would be good to do a little vol-

JANE WORTMAN First hired: 1976 Beverly High mathematics

unteering. I came back to Beverly [High] and asked if I could volunteer, and they said, 'Actually, we could hire you.'

I like the cleanliness of [math]. I was never one that could embellish very well, and with mathematics you're not supposed to embellish, [you] cut right to the chase [and] I like being able to cut right to the chase. I find a lot of beauty in mathematics. The fact that you explore a topic from one perspective like in geometry, and then you explore it in calculus, and they morph to be together, and [you ask], 'How is that possible?' But [it is] and I think that's very cool.

With the advent of calculators, which for me, I started using graphing calculators in the early 1990s, it allowed for more exploration because you didn't get bogged down with creating your own graphs point by point by point. You could let the calculator create a graph, and then you could explore, well what happens if I changed this, what happens if I changed that, [and] it opened the door for a lot more exploration. We now have computer programs which do that and more, and as the technology is growing we in math education had to figure out, 'Okay, which of the content areas are actually pencil and paper important, and which aren't?'

We're in a public school and everyone's a little different academically and they have different strengths. Algebra requires some higher-level cognition, being able to do things with numbers for some reason for some people is very different than doing exactly the same thing with letters. I would say maybe 80% of the students should be able to do algebra but [20% of students are set up] for a lot of frustration, so I was not on board with the mandate of Algebra for all.

You miss the friends that you make because you don't see them on a daily basis like you have for years, and you miss the interaction with the kids. I once told somebody I met, how the students you teach are always 17 years old, and if they're always the same age I must always be the same age. It helps [keep] you feeling a little young."

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF HADASSAH SILVERMAN Case No. BP151770

To all heirs beneficiaries creditors contingent creditors, and persons who may otherw interested in the will or estate, or both, of HADASSAH SILVERMAN

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Bennett Silverman in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Bennett Silverman be appointed as personal repre-sentative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal rep-resentative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The inde-pendent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on June 5, 2014 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 9 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the peti-tion, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court.

If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

No. 93-2449406, WILL SELL on 5/29/2014, 09:00 AM Behind the fountain located in Civic Center Plaza, 400 Civic Center Plaza, Pomona CA. at public auction to the highest bidder for lawful money of the United States payable at the time of sale, all right, title and interest in the property situated in said county as more fully described in the above-referenced Lien. The purported owner(s) of said property is (are): Trustree of Trust A of the Irving and Hannah Harrow Family Trust. The property address and other common designation, if any, of the real property is purported to be: 211 S. Spalding Drive, #N606, Beverly Hills, CA 90212, APN 4328-007-099. The undersigned trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Sale is: $109,276.23. The opening bid at the foreclosure sale may be more or less than this estimate. In addition to cash, the trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn on a state or federal credit union or a check drawn on state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the trustee may with-hold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the pavee or the endorsee as a matter of right. Said sale shall be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Lien, advances thereunder, with interest as provided in the Declaration plus the fees, charges and expenses of the trustee. THIS PROPERTY IS BEING SOLD IN AN "AS-IS" CONDITION. This communication is from a debt collector. Witkin & Neal, Inc. is attempting to collect a debt and any information obtained will be used for that purpose. If you have previously received a discharge in bankruptcy, you may have been released from personal liability for this debt in which case this notice is intended to exercise the secured party's rights ainst the real property only. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER AND ALL OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been post-poned, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 714-573-1965 or visit this Internet Web site: www.priorityposting.com using the file number assigned to this case K13-10005. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. IMPORTANT NOTICE: Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the sale shall be subject to the following as provided in California Civil Code Section 5715: "A non judicial foreclosure sale by an associa-tion to collect upon a debt for delinquent assessments shall be subject to a right of redemption. The redemp-tion period within which the separate interest may be redeemed from a foreclosure sale under this paragraph ends 90 days after the sale." NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF IBA F BILSON Case No. BP151983

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be inter-ested in the will or estate, or both, of IRA E. BILSON

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Alberta P. Stahl aka Alberta Stahl Bilson in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Alberta P. Stahl aka Alberta Stahl Bilson be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to admin-ister the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal rep-resentative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on June 11, 2014 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 29 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your ob-jections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to con-sult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court.

If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is avail-able from the court clerk. Attorney for petitioner:

Pursuant to Sections 3381 through 3385, Revenue and Taxation Code, the Notice of Power to Sell Tax-Defaulted Property in and for Los Angeles County, State of California, has been divided and distributed to various newspapers of general circulation published in the County. A portion of the list appears in each of such newspapers.

NOTICE OF IMPENDING POWER TO SELL TAX-DEFAULTED PROPERTY Made pursuant to Section 3361. Revenue and Taxation Code

Notice is hereby given that real property taxes and as-sessments on the parcels described below will have been defaulted five or more years, or, in the case of nonresidential commercial property, property on which a nuisance abatement lien has been recorded or that can serve the public benefit by providing housing or services directly related to low-income persons when three or more years have elapsed and a request has been made by a city, county, city and county, or nonprofit organization that property will become subject to the Tax Collector's power to sell.

The parcels listed will become subject to the Tax Collector's power to sell on July 1, 2014, at 12:01 a.m., by operation of law. The Tax Collector's power to sell will arise unless the property is either redeemed or made subject to an installment plan of redemption initiated as provided by law prior to 5:00 p.m., on June 30, 2014. The right to an installment plan terminates on June 30, 2014, and after that date the entire balance due must be paid in full to prevent sale of the property at public auction.

The right of redemption survives the property becoming subject to the power to sell, but it terminates at 5:00 p.m. on the last business day before actual sale of the property by the Tax Collector.

All information concerning redemption or the initiation of an installment plan of redemption will be furnished. upon request, by Mark J. Saladino, Los Angeles County Treasurer and Tax Collector, 225 North Hill Street, First Floor, Los Angeles, California 90012.

The amount to redeem, in dollars and cents, is set forth opposite its parcel number. This amount includes all de-faulted taxes, penalties, and fees that have accrued from the date of tax-default to the date of June 30, 2014.

I certify, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct. Dated this 18th day of April, 2014

Lehman, A Single Man as Trustor, Indymac Bank, F.S.B., A Federally Chartered Savings Bank, as Beneficiary, will sell at public auction sale to the highest bidder for cash, cashier's check drawn by a state or national bank, a cashier's check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a cashier's check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings and total association, sav-5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Sale will be held by the duly appointed trustee as shown below, of all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by the trustee in the hereinafter described property under and pursuant to the Deed of Trust. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the notes (s) secured by the Deed of Trust, interest thereon, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee for the total amount (at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale) reasonably estimated to be set forth below. The amount may be greater on the day of sale. Place of Sale: near the fountain located at 400 Civic Center Plaza, Pomona, CA 91766 Legal Description: As More Fully Described In Said Deed Of Trust The street address and other common designation of the real prop-erty purported as: 935 WESTBOURNE DRIVE 103, WEST HOLLYWOOD, CA 90069 APN Number: 4339-007-041 Amount of unpaid balance and other charges: $475,523.13 NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not the prop-erty itself. Placing the highest bid at trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien be-ing auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the high-est bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (888)988-6736 or visit this Internet Web site salestrack.tdsf.com, using the file number assigned to this case 27881CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. In addition, the borrower on the loan shall be sent a written notice if the sale has been postponed for at least ten (10) business days. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of JULIANO DIMILTO. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by KAY

BATTAGLIA in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that KAY BATTAGLIA be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the es-tate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act (This authority will allow the personal representative o take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 06/12/14 at 8:30AM in Dept. 5 located at 111 N.

HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012 IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing.

Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from
