Goldberg describes Southeast as "the slums"

I watched the podcast of the [Board of Education] meeting of May 13, 2014 (http://www.bhusd.org/apps/pages/index.jsp?uREC_ID=31884&type=d&pREC_ID=video). Approximately 40 minutes into part II of this video, I was shocked to hear how [Board of Education] member [Brian] Goldberg described the Southeast section of our city. In public conversation, when speaking about donations made by parents to the PTA at the Horace Mann School, Goldberg described the area as, "the slums of Beverly Hills, whatever you want to call it."

I am writing for one reason only and it is this: it is offensive to hear an elected official disparage any area in Beverly Hills when they are supposed to represent all the residents and, in this case, the students of our school district. Certainly words matter and our public officials must be held accountable for what they say in open dialogue. I hope Dr. Goldberg understands how very important this is.

I suggest that he apologize not only to the Southeast section of our community but to the entire city for his insensitive remarks.

City Council denies ten percent city employee salary increase

The City Council voted 3 - 2 on Tuesday to deny the memorandum of understanding (MOU) with five bargaining units that included over $900,000 in employee salary costs over the next two years.

Vice Mayor Julian Gold and Councilmember Willie Brien voted in favor of the raise.

"I would have hoped for some sort of split of the pension costs," Councilmember John Mirisch said. "Ultimately, we continue to pay by giving what we are calling an offset. It's incumbent upon us to think long term [and] to me, the single biggest issue confronting us in the long term is the pension liability."

Mirisch was the sole voter against the first reading of the MOU in May, due to the salary increases that included an employee pension contribution offset.

The MOU would only be applicable to employees belonging to five bargaining units: the Safety Support Association with 79 employees, the Management and Professional Employees Association with 90 employees, the Supervisors Association with 30 employees, the Confidential Employees Association with 24 employees, and the Municipal Employees Association with 197 employees.

The MOU proposed a fixed dollar contribution in health care. In 2014, all five groups would contribute $1,873 per month, and in 2015 the Management and Professional Employees Association would contribute $2,100 a month, and the remaining four groups would contribute $2,000 a month.

Though the City Council agreed that a dollar cap on health benefits and the concept of employees paying for their own pension costs were positive, they differed on the salary raise to offset employee pension contribution.

According to the Public Employee Pension Reform Act that was passed in September 2012, increasing employee contribution toward their pension benefits would reduce employer's pension liability.

Historically, the City of Beverly Hills has paid for both the employee and employer pension share. The proposed MOU would shift the 8 percent retirement contribution as the employee's responsibility. A 10 percent raise proposed for the first year includes an 8 percent offset for pension costs, and an additional 2 percent raise, and the following year would be a one percent increase. Total salary cost for the two years for the five bargaining units would be $919,616.

"All of this could be solved if we were able to move to a defined contribution model," Mirisch said. "Currently, the bargaining units really don't have any motivation to want to move to that, especially if we're going to be covering the cost in this case."

Mayor Lili Bosse said that though the process was a step in the right direction, perhaps the City Council did not go far enough.

"We have to also take into account the taxpayer; this is their money, it's not our money," Bosse said. "In order to be fiscally responsible and in order for me to feel that I am representing the residents [who] supported me, I'm unable to support what's before us tonight."

Academy proposes two film screenings to cost $32,500

The City Council rejected the Academy of Motion Pictures proposal with a 3 – 2 vote on Tuesday for two film screenings to take place at La Cienega Park on July 11 and July 12.

Councilmembers John Mirisch and Nancy Krasne were in favor of the concept of a film festival, but agreed that the cost was too high.

In August 2013, the City Council approved co-hosting a curated film festival with the Academy in honor of Beverly Hills' Centennial with a not to exceed amount of $50,000

The Academy proposed four film screenings, with the first two films as Singing in the Rain and Troop Beverly Hills. The estimated budget for the first two films to be held at La Cienega Park was $32,500, which includes the cost of a projector screen rental for two days, appropriate staff, and other film screening components.

"This comes out to be about $40 a person per each of the movies plus food and everything else," Councilmember Willie Brien said. "July 11 is very soon [and] it hasn't been marketed yet."

The cost of the final two films is not included in the budget, and are planned to take place at the Academy's theatre and Greystone Mansion, according to Deputy City Manager for Public Affairs Cheryl Friedling.

"The cost to use the academy theatre is much less than La Cienega [Park] because they already have all the built-in equipment and projection and it's an indoor venue that's already well-established," Friedling said.

Though the original approval was for the films to take place at the Academy's theatre, the relocation to La Cienega Park for the first two films would be due to current renovations and remodeling of the theatre.

"We do a very successful outdoor film series for significantly less and it's very well attended," Mayor Lili Bosse said. "I cannot support two movies for $30,000. When the Academy is open we can revisit [the film screenings]."

As of May 6, 2014, Centennial events and initiatives costs amount to $947,889. The Beverly Hills coffee-table books, The Next 100 Years initiative, an oral history project, Beverly Hills Days mosaic art piece, and the Beverly Hills Documentary have yet to have payments made. # Appellate court rules Chodos' fees too high Attorney Hillel Chodos' award of $7.8 million, five times the amount of his regular rate, for unpaid attorney fees in a lawsuit against his former client Navabeh Borman was overturned in an appellate court in a decision published on June 18.

Borman fired Chodos after he "threatened to withdraw from the second divorce case and Marvin action" if she did not take the settlement, which amounted up to $26 million in assets, according to the ruling. A Marvin case is when two people who aren't married live together, but an agreement was made for support or sharing property in the event of a separation. Borman claimed that she was willing to pay Chodos, but that he demanded a large sum of money "that was not feasible for her to pay."

According to Borman, the first time Chodos estimated his hours after he filed a lawsuit against her.

"[Chodos] was on this case for years," Borman's attorney Ronald Richards said. "There was no excuse to not have a [written] fee agreement and [then] claim that she wasn't going to pay him."

In the trial court, a 12 - 0 jury vote in September 2013 increased Chodos' $1,000 per hour rate to a $5,000 per hour rate for his unpaid services representing Borman for an undocumented 1,800 hours he claimed he accumulated. No written fee agreement was made for the $1,000 per hour rate, nor did Chodos maintain daily time records. Borman appealed the decision.

"A jury had never been allowed to decide [on the] multiplier," Richards said. "That's reserved for normally a judge in special types of cases."

Factors that would merit attorneys an increase in their hourly rates would include clients unwilling to pay their attorneys, and attorneys representing "constitutional or public interest cases that require an exceptionally skilled attorney," according to the appellate court ruling.

The ruling states that the jury award was "excessive and inequitable" and would essentially reward Chodos "for his violations of [the] Business and Professions Code" by not having a written fee agreement, which is required by law.

"Had [Chodos] complied with his obligations, [Borman] would have known, at the time she decided to settle, the specific amount she owed," the ruling stated. "Instead, [Borman] was unaware of the magnitude of her financial obligations to [Chodos] when she settled."

The appellate ruling from Justices Richard Mosk, Paul Turner, and Michael Mink, was a 3 – 0 vote, awarding Chodos $1.8 million for his services, at his regular $1000 per hour rate for 1,800 hours served defending Borman.

According to Chodos, he has the option to file a petition for rehearing within 15 days of the appeals court opinion. As of Friday, he has yet to file a petition.

"It was very rewarding to defend somebody [who couldn't] defend [herself] against a lawyer with 60 years of experience who completely took advantage [of the] fee structure," Richards said. "I was fortunate [Borman] trusted me with this responsibility because if she had to pay this award, it would've bankrupted her."

Chodos represents former BHUSD facilities director Karen Christiansen in her ongoing lawsuit against the BHUSD.

Richards also represented Beverly Hills Weekly in its recent successful SLAPP motion against the Beverly Hills Courier. The Courier ultimately paid $40,000 of the Weekly's legal fees.

Applicant drops project after Design Review Commission denies design plans

The Design Review Commission unanimously denied design plans for a two-story single-family residence after a second review on June 12.

The remodel designs for the property located at 510 North Beverly Drive was previously reviewed in Jan. and returned to the commission for further study. The commission's previous comments included that the project was overly bulky, the landscape plans were insufficient, and there were too many windows puncturing the façade.

The designer, Hamid Omrani, changed the plans according to the commission's comments, including removing a cantilevered balcony, reducing the number of balcony railings, and reducing the size of the entryway.

Associate Planner Sheena Rojemann said that though the plans show some improvement, "the comments of the Commission [have not been] appropriately addressed and have not been incorporated into the revised design." The project lacked enhancement to the garden quality of the city and to the existing neighborhood, and the house is still bulky and massive.

"This project is [a] remodeling project, but because [the remodeling] is over 50 percent [it is] called new construction," Omrani said. "It's very difficult to redesign it."

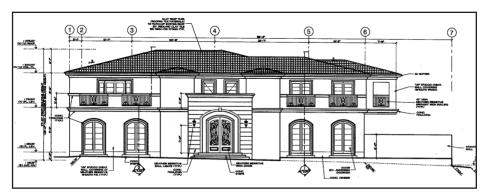

Commissioner Arlene Pepp noted that though the designs did try to reflect some of the commission's concerns, there were still insufficient detail to the landscape plans, the large windows did not fit with the house, and the entryway still projected too far and high.

"[The house doesn't] seem to have a cohesive feel," Pepp said. "I'm not sure what the house is trying to say, [it] just seems like there's lots of openings."

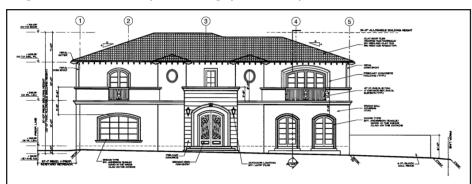

Chair Ilene Nathan gave two options for the project. The commission can deny the project and the applicant can appeal to the Planning Commission, or the applicant can return to the Design Review Commission with a "completely new design."

The applicant decided to "drop the project" after changing the design various times and still not receiving commission approval. The owner felt that it was "not fair."

"We are given direction by [the] City Council to judge each project by five criteria, and Mr. Omrani knows the criteria by which we judge the project," Nathan said. "If the project does not meet that criteria, then we are obliged to send the project to restudy, or deny it. We want homes in the area that project garden quality life and not have a mansionization of the city. This is your second meeting, so you can't say that you've come back time and time again."

Original 510 North Beverly Drive design from January

Recent 510 North Beverly Drive redesign

Other returning projects included a façade remodel to an existing two-story single family home at 924 North Beverly Drive. The project was given direction for redesign and will return to the Design Review Commission.

A completely redesigned two-story single-family home construction project at 435 Peck Drive was approved, and city staff will work with the project applicants on any further revisions. A redesigned two-story single-family home construction project at 8701 Clifton Way was approved with a Design Review Commission sub-committee to work with the applicants on any further revisions.

How did this Board of Education fall off track?

By Steven Fenton

December, 2011 now seems like a lifetime

I was 41 years old and I was recently retired from the school board.

Three of my teammates stayed behind to guard the controversial but very successful changes we had just made as we hit the reset button, chartered a new course, and game-changed the entire district.

Two of my teammates in particular (Brian Goldberg and Lisa Korbatov) had plans to stick around the district long after I was gone and they became the official gatekeepers.

As Brian said to me, he "wanted to make sure the district didn't fall into the wrong hands again."

I took comfort knowing that they were going to empower and support the brand new administrators that we had put in place throughout the district. It was a no-brainer for Brian and Lisa to stay the course. They had bet big and by December 2011, it had paid off handsomely with record high test scores, financial reserves and employee morale

Today, this new board continues to bet big, but this time they have record highs in lawsuits, legal fees, personal vendettas and low employee morale.

Two of our newer board members (Noah Margo and Howard Goldstein) have shown promise. Noah listens, he's present and he's shown a healthy mix of courage and common sense on a number of issues. Howard has been a calming influence and a voice of reason in the short amount of time he's been in office.

Unfortunately our district is hindered by a handful of school board members with abysmal management skills, a paucity of common sense and a dearth of class.

Poor judgment is one thing, character flaws are another, and when certain school board members can't even follow their own "mission statement and beliefs" (BHUSD.org) then you know they've overstayed their welcome.

The mission statement and beliefs section of the website talks about "individual responsibility" and to "lead with integrity."

It goes on to say:

•Every person is accountable for his or her behavior and actions.

- •Human dignity is sacrosanct.
- •Society requires standards of right and wrong.
- •Honesty is the basis for successful human relationships.
- •We will not tolerate prejudicial discrimination by anyone.
- •We will create a climate of mutual understanding and respect.

It was only a few months ago that I heard Brian Goldberg held up a sealed envelope at an open session meeting, proclaiming he wasn't the source of the leak to the LA Times while vowing to get to the bottom of who leaked confidential information pertaining to an administrator.

Except for Board member Lewis Hall, everyone voted in favor of hiring the law firm of Rutan & Tucker to do an independent investigation into the leak.

Months have gone by now and no one on the board has given the community an update on this investigation or why Lewis Hall was the only one not to vote for it to begin with.

I've recently learned that the board quietly sacked Rutan & Tucker in favor of hiring their own in-house district lawyers to do the investigation. There was never any mention (publicly) of this change of heart.

The big declaration on a soapbox into finding the perpetrator has now resulted in the time-honored tradition of the fox guarding the henhouse.

The mission statement and beliefs continues say:

- •Honesty is the basis for successful human relationships.
- •Society requires standards of right and wrong.
- •Every person is accountable for his or her behavior and actions.
  - •Human dignity is sacrosanct.

By the time school ended just a few short weeks ago, this board in the most self-inflicted of ways had the unprecedented task of hiring new principals at Beverly Vista and El Rodeo, two assistant principals at the high school, as well as a new head counselor, a new head of the performing arts department, a new athletic director and a new budget director at the district office.

Firing someone because you have a better person to take over is one thing. Firing someone without having anyone to replace them is another.

"Personal vendettas,

poor judgment and an unprecedented lack of common sense were the thoughts that ran through my mind when trying to understand why this board decimated a high school administration that in the past two years delivered back-to-back the highest test scores in our history,

as well as delivering one of our best ever WASC report."

However, this board did one better. They fired people in March (when top tiered talent in the education profession become available) and waited until June to pick their replacements. This is the equivalent of opting out of eight first round draft picks in lieu of taking eight people in the last round.

Personal vendettas, poor judgment and an unprecedented lack of common sense were the thoughts that ran through my mind when trying to understand why this board decimated a high school administration that in the past two years delivered back-to-back the highest test scores in our history, as well as delivering one of our best ever WASC reports (which ironically emphasized the strong leadership at the high school).

WASC is one of the leading accrediting associations in the country overseeing 4,500 schools.

The board's mission statement and beliefs go on to say:

•We will involve all segments of the school community in decision making.

•We will secure the support of our community in the realization of our mission and objective.

•We will practice participative management throughout the organization.

This colossal failure of governance was only overshadowed by the fact that Brian Goldberg and Lisa Korbatov had voted to hire all of these people that had just been fired or quit.

For six years, Brian has sent out a monthly digital newsletter called "Goldberg's Perspective." In the beginning, his newsletter was geared towards shaking up the status quo in his pursuit of change.

Six years later, there's been very little growth from Brian or his newsletter as he continues to throw out one controversial bomb after another.

The irony is that Brian has been firmly in the board majority for the past four years and one would think by now ("Goldberg's Perspective") would be a love letter back to the community espousing all of the wonderful changes he's helped implement.

As I recently told him, this routine worked back in 2007, but today he has nobody to blame but himself, as his newsletter has become a repetitive self portrait.

Bellyaching about the failings of the district is just another reminder that he hasn't gotten the job done after six years.

However, Brian has always said to me that he wants people to "judge [him] by [his] record"

That being said, I would like to judge the entire board and compare them to some of the people they just replaced:

I'm pretty sure that first year assistant principal Regina Zurbano made fewer mistakes than Brian Goldberg did in his first year as a school board member.

I'm pretty sure this year assistant principal Amy Golden cost us less money than Lewis Hall did.

I'm pretty sure that Jason Newman was more successful as athletic director than Lisa Korbatov was as subway director.

I'm pretty sure that El Rodeo principal Dave Hoffman was more successful building consensus with his supervisors than Lisa Korbatov was building consensus with county supervisors.

I've made it clear from day one that I am 100 percent against a subway tunnel going underneath our high school but I'm also 100 percent against Lisa continuing as team captain. This board gets an "A" for commitment to the cause and an "F" for fiscal management, oversight and public relations.

Alienating elected officials and key influencers is not a strategy for success.

Hitting below the belt of a well-liked and longtime politician who holds at least one vote in all of this was shockingly stupid.

$4 million and counting is hard to sweep under the swim-gym floor, and the one thing that Lisa and her colleagues can't deny is that we are getting our A$$ kicked in this subway fight.

With no accountability or discernible plan for the district, some of the blame clearly falls to our Superintendent, Gary Woods.

I voted for and worked with Gary the last four months of my term and I found him to be likable, capable, and smart.

What I wasn't a part of, months later, was a vote to buy a seven figure house for him to live in and I didn't vote to give him another three year contract worth approximately $750,000 (all before our teachers and classified employees got a small wage increase).

Gary has shown zero appetite in taking on or trying to discipline this board. He's a former college football safety at UC Davis, so playing defense is natural for him, but his best chance at success is to stand up for himself, go on offense and lead our district in spite of the obstacles. At the very least, he would garner the respect of our community.

However, I think all of this is very tough to do when you have members of the board that like to break things not build them. If you disagree, ask yourself how many new buildings have been built in the five years since the bond has been passed? If you disagree, ask yourself why this board is involved in more litigation than probably any other Beverly Hills school board in history?

I hope I am the focus of the next "Goldberg's Perspective" because it will keep the conversation going. It will force residents to ask themselves if we're better off three years ago than we are today.

I know the answer and deep down so do members of the board.

What I don't have the answer to is why this is happening. I just know that it breaks my heart to watch my former colleagues not continue to build upon the success that we all worked so hard to achieve.

Mayor Lili Bosse discusses last weekend's 82nd U.S. Conference of Mayors

By Nancy Yeang

Mayor Lili Bosse attended the 82nd U.S. Conference of Mayors' on June 20 and 21 in Dallas, Texas.

New mayors who attended the 82nd U.S. Conference of Mayors on June 20

"[Education] was a big focus of the conference this year," Bosse said. "If you don't have a strong school district and a strong school system, [then] you don't have a strong city."

Bosse mentioned that Sacramento Mayor Kevin Johnson, who is also the Conference of Mayors President, spoke on mayors maintaining their roles in "Cities 3.0." Johnson said that mayors must "look for the best solutions regardless of where they come from," especially in an era of high-paced innovation, entrepreneurship, and technology.

"Being open-source leaders means we're proactive, pragmatic and problem solvers," Johnson said at the meeting. "We're not going to sit on our hands waiting for the feds or someone else to solve our problems. We roll up our sleeves and we get things done. We don't care about ideology or tradition, only about what's going to work best for our constituents."

Bosse said that Beverly Hills has been able to maintain its charm, character, and quality through the changing times.

"It's about maintaining the balance of wanting to be current and be forward thinking, but not lose our identity and not lose who we are," Bosse said.

Another challenge Bosse mentioned is how cities try to balance business growth with resident life.

"We all shared the same balance of trying to encourage new businesses to come into our community, but also making sure that we can balance the quality of life for the residents [who] are near these businesses, [and] how to balance growth with not changing the quality of life," Bosse said.

Bosse attended a Technology and Innovation Task Force meeting that was chaired by San Francisco Mayor Edwin Lee, where they discussed the fast-paced industry and the topic of drones came up.

"At our last [City] meeting we actually started talking about drones and that the subject of possibility having a moratorium in our city for privacy reasons," Bosse said.

Bosse was given suggestions to allow the police and fire departments to still use drones in cases of an emergency or disaster where drones could be useful to reach difficult to access areas.

Napa Mayor Jill Techel, Beverly Hills Mayor Lili Bosse, and Manhattan Beach Mayor Amy Howorth

Another topic that was brought up was homelessness, during the Women's Mayors meeting on Friday, and what communities can do to help homelessness in their community.

"There were 45 women that were signed up and there were about a little bit more than 250 mayors at the conference," Bosse said. "With [Human Services Administrator] Jim Latta and the Human Relations Commission, we do address homelessness in our community."

The Women's Mayors meeting was started in 1983 by U.S. Senator Dianne Feinstein, who wanted women mayors to meet and talk about issues being a women and being a mayor.

Waste Management Senior Vice President Barry Caldwell and Mayor Lili Bosse

The City of Beverly Hills also received the Outstanding Achievement City Livability Award on Saturday. The national award was given to 20 cities with a population fewer than 100,000, and honors city governments for developing programs that enhance the quality of life in their community. The U.S. Conference of Mayors selected Beverly Hills' Embrace Civility program, developed by the Human Relations Commission.

"Beverly Hills won it, but it was really given to [the Human Relations Commission]," Bosse said. "It really represents that we are a community that has a lot of heart, that has a tremendous amount of integrity, and cares about how we treat each other. The fact that we were recognized for this award helps everybody beyond Beverly Hills know that we're a very welcoming city and that we really value how people treat each other. I think it was a really proud moment for our city and for all the cities to see this side of Beverly Hills. We have to thank the Human Relations Commission for leading our community with this."

Though Bosse left the conference early in order to get back in time for her duties on Monday, including the Walk with the Mayor. She said that a few mayors will start a similar program in their cities.

"They were looking for a way to be accessible to their constituents [in] a community bonding way," Bosse said. "When I shared with them about our walk with the mayor, quite a few of them were excited about bringing it to their communities because they felt that would let the residents and business owners know that [the mayors] are also approachable."

Despite Beverly Hills being one of the smaller communities, compared to the rest of the nation, Bosse said that no matter what size the city, they are alike in many ways.

"We all share a lot of the same concerns, we all are very passionate about our community, and [we all] have a tremendous amount of pride in our community," Bosse said. "All of the mayors I met have that same feeling of community pride."

Incoming Beverly Hills Rotary Club President Sean O'Donnell discusses his goals for the club

By Nancy Yeang

How did you become involved with Beverly Hills Rotary Club?

I became involved in Rotary because [of] my uncle [Don LaVoie]. Growing up, I admired his service in the U.S. Peace Corps and learned that he was building schools in Africa. [He] was [also] the president of his Rotary [Club] in Bangkok. [I] really found his dedication to "service above self" inspirational. When I came out of school I asked him for advice on how to meet likeminded professionals in the community so I could begin giving back. He said, "You should join your local Rotary Club because that's where the leaders of your community meet for fellowship each week. That's where you can get involved in giving back to your community and make a difference in other parts of the world." He always had a sense of how important it is to give back to the community.

You're also a Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce member. How has that helped you in your career?

I was a board member of the Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce for several years and in 2007 I was elected president.

It's important to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce. It has been really instrumental in helping me develop professionally and has been very valuable for networking with successful business partners in Beverly Hills. Many of the relationships I developed over the years have two important components. One is our involvement in a service organization like Rotary and second, many of us share a commitment to the Beverly Hills Chamber which allows us to grow professionally. Balance is important, the founders of Rotary were Chicago business associates who wanted to also "do good" throughout the world by advocating 'service above self."

You have been the president elect for the past year. How has this helped prepare you for the position?

[Though] I've been in training over the course of the last year as president-elect under Susan Berk's leadership, my involvement with the leadership of the organization really began in 2005 [as club Treasurer], under [former President] Brad Robinson.

But over the course of the last year, I have played a more active role [by] participating in the board meetings, getting involved with the committees, and attending Rotary training seminars, like PETS (president elect training seminar), and being able to attend the Rotary Global Conference in Sydney has really helped me prepare for my year as president.

Tell us more about the Rotary Global Conference in Sydney.

This was my first conference and I was proud and honored to represent the Rotary Club of Beverly Hills. It is amazing how recognizable our city is. We have a reputation that says, luxury and glamour, but Rotarians also recognize the contribution our Club makes in our neighborhood and on the world stage. There were 18,000 Rotarians from all over the world, over 180 countries, and we were primarily at the Olympic Village. It was really amazing to see Rotarians from all over the globe fly to Sydney to meet about these really important [subjects such as] peace and conflict resolution, disease prevention, water and sanitation, maternal and child's health, basic education and literacy, and economic and community development. These areas of focus keep us aligned around the world so our collective efforts really make a big difference.

There were five days of speakers and workshops primarily through those six key areas, as far as projects we focus on all around the world. There were more workshops at this international convention than any other in history. One of the things about Rotary that I always admired is that we are a volunteer service organization primarily comprised of leaders in the local community, and while we serve Rotary we do not get involved in the local politics.

One of our major projects has been the eradication of polio. We are just a few countries away from the end of polio. In fact we just got a $450 million grant from Bill and Melinda Gates. And we got a $100 million commitment from the government of New South Wales when we were in Sydney, this funding will go a long way to stamping out this terrible disease.

Is this in Beverly Hills Rotary Club specifically or is it an international effort?

That's really a global project. It's called, "End Polio Now," and that's really relies on all the clubs best effort. Our club contributes to the effort through Rotary International.

In our last year's interview with outgoing president Susan Berk in the Weekly's cover story Issue #724, she said she was "really proud to be part of an organization that provides service to others and promotes integrity and advance world understanding and good will through our business and professional community leaders." What are some international projects that Rotary Club has been involved in?

Rotary is the world's premiere international human service organization. We are diverse, we have a global network of community and business leaders, and we are involved in changing lives, building good will, and promoting peace locally and globally. As president, working with our club's leadership, and each and every Rotarian, we will continue to find a balance between local community involvement with organizations like the Maple Counseling Center, Jewish Families Services, Lupus LA, and the Beverly Hills Firemens' Association and international projects that make a huge difference in saving lives throughout the world.

The Beverly Hills Rotary Club is working with an NGO called RainCatchers to fund and build a water project in Entebbe, Uganda where we will be able to provide clean, potable drinking water, for several schools. This clean drinking water really changes lives.

What other projects does Rotary Club have planned for the year?

Our district international service project is going to be in Guatemala. We are partnering with [the] Manhattan Beach [Rotary] Club and [it will be] in February 2015 and many other Clubs in our District. We [will be] sanitation projection on Lake Atitlan.

I actually ran my first L.A. Marathon this year [and] raised money for Lupus LA through the Interact Club, which is our club at [Beverly High]. The Interact kids are amazing, it's such a great program we have. If you go to Beverly High, you can visit www.facebook.com/bhhsinteract for meeting details.

doing several major projects there [including] a literacy project, visiting schools in the countryside, providing textbooks, computers and school supplies, and working on a water

We're our Young Professionals group, which has been growing. We have over 15 members now. The Young Professionals Group are typically college graduates.

These groups afford younger members an introduction to community service and community involvement.

The Interacters at the high school and the Young Professional do a lot of the heavy lifting. They volunteer, get involved, and are really so energetic and really have tremendous passion in the projects that they get involved in.

The Young Professionals are at www. facebook.com/BHYPRotary for meeting information. They're just an amazing group of young successful professionals, many recently out of college [who are] starting their career [who] want to give back to the community as well. They're involved in a lot of service projects and are just a really wonderful, young dynamic component of our club.

Tell us about your family.

I have been married for 23 years to my wife Davina. I have two boys, Evan who is a senior at Oakwood School and Ryan is a freshman at Harvard-Westlake. I have a cockapoo, her name is Coco, and I won her at a Beverly Hills Chamber fundraiser auc-

I love the game of golf, although it doesn't necessarily always love me. I race a few triathlons throughout the year and we love to travel together as a family. I want to thank my Partner, Ken Josefsberg, without his dedication and commitment, I would not be able to serve.

What goals do you have for the upcoming

My goals are to continue to support a balance between local community organization and [to continue] to help fund important projects around the world. I want to continue to help Interact Club be a vibrant part of [Beverly High] and help nurture and grow our Young Professionals Organization because they are the Rotarians of the future, they are the future of our organization, they are the ones [who] are learning service above self. They're the ones [who] will give back and make a difference in the local community and in the global community in the future. We strive to be to be a vibrant service organization, making important contributions in the Beverly Hills community and we enjoy doing good in the global neighborhood.

City of Beverly Hills Parking Authority Financial Policies

Section 1. Financial Reporting Policies

The Parking Authority's (Authority's) accounting and financial reporting systems will be maintained in conformance with state and federal laws, generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), and the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA). Further, the Authority will make every attempt to implement all changes to governmental accounting practices at the earliest practicable time.

The Authority's CAFR and other financial statements should be in conformity with GAAP, demonstrate compliance with finance related legal and contractual provisions, disclose thoroughness and detail sufficiency, and minimize ambiguities and potentials for misleading inference.

The Authority's CAFR will also be submitted to national repositories identified by the Authority's bond trust agent as a continuing commitment to disclose thoroughness to enable investors to make informed decisions.

The Authority's Budget should satisfy criteria as a financial policy document.

To provide a reasonable basis for making the Chief Financial Officer's (management's) required representations concerning the finances of the Parking Authority, the Authority has a comprehensive internal control framework that is designed both to protect the Authority's assets from loss, theft, or misuse and to compile sufficient reliable information for the preparation of the Authority's financial statements in conformity with GAAP. The Chief Financial Officer is given the responsibility and authority to develop and maintain proper internal controls on all financial aspects of the Authority and maintain all the books of the Authority for inspection. Because the cost of internal controls should not significantly outweigh their benefits, the Authority's comprehensive framework of internal controls has been designed to provide reasonable rather than absolute assurance that the financial statements will be free from material misstatements.

The Chief Financial Officer shall endeavor to maintain cash reserves sufficient to fully fund the net present value of accruing liabilities including self-insurance provisions, obligations to employees for vested payroll and benefits and similar obligations as they are incurred, and to maintain the highest credit rating possible for the Authority.

The Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, shall prepare and present to the Board of Directors of the Parking Authority interim revenue and expenditure trends to allow evaluation of potential discrepancies from budget assumptions.

The Authority should avoid committing to new spending for operating or capital improvement purposes until an analysis of all current and future cost implications is completed and presented to it by the Chief Financial Officer.

Section 2. Operating Management Policies

The Chief Financial Officer is primarily responsible for the development, implementation, and evaluation of all financial management policies and procedures. However, other officers, employees and/or contractors will participate in the responsibility of meeting policy goals, budget goals, and ensuring the long-term financial health of the Authority. Future work plans, program initiatives, and performance indicators will be developed to reflect current policy directives, projected resources, and future service requirements.

The budget process is intended to weigh all competing requests for Authority resources within expected fiscal constraints. Requests for new, ongoing programs made outside the budget process will be discouraged.

The Authority will endeavor to avoid budgetary and accounting procedures that balance the current budget at the expense of future budgets.

Budget development should utilize strategic multiyear fiscal planning, conservative revenue forecasts, and program-based cost accounting that require every program to be justified annually in terms of meeting intended objectives ("effectiveness criteria"). The process will include a diligent review of programs by staff, the Chief Financial Officer, and Board of Directors.

Utilization of a program budget format will provide a basis for evaluation of service and other impacts of potential increases or decreases in funding.

Revenues will not be dedicated for specific purposes, unless required by law or generally accepted accounting practices (GAAP). Current revenues will fund current expenditures and to the extent possible a diversified and stable revenue system will be developed and maintained to protect programs from short-term fluctuations in any single revenue source.

The Authority shall strive to avoid returning to the Board of Directors for new or expanded appropriations. Exceptions may include emergencies, unforeseen impacts, mid-year adjustments or new opportunities.

Addition of personnel will only be requested to meet program initiatives and policy directives: after service needs have been thoroughly examined and it is substantiated that additional staffing will result in increased revenue or enhanced operating efficiencies.

Capital equipment replacement will be accomplished through a life cycle of funding mechanism. The Authority shall endeavor to maintain adequate cash reserves to fund 100% replacement of certain capital equipment. Replacement costs will be based upon equipment lifecycle financial analysis approved by the Chief Financial Officer.

The Authority shall endeavor to balance revenue and expenditures. Forecasts will be prepared by the Chief Financial Officer to examine the Authority's ability to absorb operating costs due to changes in the economy, service demands, and capital improvements. The forecast will be updated annually and include a four or five-year outlook. The Chief Financial Officer will prepare and present these estimates to the Board of Directors at least once a year.

Alternative means of service delivery will be evaluated by the Authority to ensure that quality services are provided at the most competitive and economical cost. The Authority will identify activities that could be provided by another source and review options/alternatives to current service delivery. The review of service delivery alternatives and the need for the service will be performed annually or on an "opportunity" basis.

Cash and Investment programs will be maintained in accordance with the Government Code and the adopted investment policy or the City of Beverly Hills' investment policy until the Authority adopts an investment policy. The Authority will ensure that proper controls and safeguards are maintained. Authority funds will be managed in a prudent and diligent manner with an emphasis on safety of principal, liquidity, and financial return on principal, in that order. The Chief Financial Officer, at least annually, shall recommend necessary revisions to the Board of Directors of a detailed investment policy. In addition to liquidity requirements, the Chief Financial Officer will also consider the appropriateness of investment decisions vis-à-vis debt management.

The Authority, through the Chief Financial Officer, will follow an aggressive, consistent, but sensitive policy of collecting revenues, with proper internal controls, to meet the needs of the Authority and follow all applicable state and federal laws.

Section 3. Capital Management Policies

A five-year Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) will be developed and updated annually, including anticipated funding sources. Capital improvement projects are defined as infrastructure or equipment purchases or construction which results in a capitalized asset and having a useful (depreciable) life of two years or more. The CIP will attempt to include adequate funding to support repair and replacement of deteriorating infrastructure and avoidance of a significant unfunded liability.

Proposed capital projects will be considered through the Authority budget development process and reviewed and prioritized regarding accurate costing (design, capital, and operating) as well as for overall consistency with the Authority's goals and objectives. The Authority's Chief Financial Officer will then identify financing sources for the highest-ranking projects.

Capital project contract awards will include a fiscal impact statement disclosing the expected operating impact of the project and when such cost is expected to occur.

Pay-as-you-go Capital Improvement Plan financing should account for a minimum of 50 percent of all capital improvement projects for each fiveyear planning period. Pay-as-you-go financing is defined as all sources of revenue other than Authority debt issuance, i.e., fund balance contributions, developer contributions, grants, endowments, etc. Pay-as-you-go financing should generally be considered as the preferred option. However, the potential for debt issuance that provides additional economic and/or strategic values could be considered as recommended by the Chief Financial Officer

Section 4. Debt Management Policies

The Chief Financial Officer will seek to establish and, improve the bond rating(s) in order to minimize borrowing costs and preserve access to

New debt issues, and refinancing of existing debt, must be analyzed for compatibility within the Authority's overall financial planning and approved by the Chief Financial Officer. The review shall not be limited to cash flow analysis, potential for unexpected revenue surprises, and the maintenance of the Authority's bond ratings. Annual debt service shall not produce an inordinate impact upon future operations. The Chief Financial Officer will endeavor to minimize Authority Debt Service costs in order to control fixed costs and ensure expenditure flexibility.

Debt financing should not exceed the useful life of the infrastructure improvement with the average (weighted) bond maturities at or below thirty years, unless otherwise authorized by the Board of Directors.

A ratio of current assets to current liabilities of at least 2/1 will be maintained to ensure the Authority's ability to pay short-term obligations.

Section 5. Reserve Policies

All fund designations and reserves will be evaluated annually by the Chief Financial Officer for longterm adequacy and use requirements in conjunction with development of the Authority's balanced five year financial plan.

It is a goal of the Authority to obtain and maintain a general operating reserve in the form of cash, of at least 40% of operating revenues. The first 25% shall be considered a contingency reserve to cover normal seasonal cash flow variations, as well as unforeseen emergency or catastrophic impacts upon the Authority. Funds in excess of 25% may be used for short term economic investment in the community when justified by projected financial return to the Authority and specifically authorized by the Board of Directors, upon recommendation of the Chief Financial Officer.

One-time revenue windfalls should be designated as a reserve or used for one-time expenditures. The funds are not to be used for on-going operations. To the extent such funds are not required for current expenditures, one-time expenditures and/or capital improvements such funds should be maintained as operating reserves or used to reduce debt.

For purposes of this policy, one-time revenue windfalls shall include:

Lump sum (net present value) savings

- from debt restructuring
- Sale of authority-owned real estate
- Pure unexpected revenues (i.e. litigation settlement)
- Contributions and Gifts
- Any other revenues the Board of Directors may elect to designate as extraordinary

Self-Insurance Reserves, where appropriate, will be maintained at a level, which, together with purchased insurance policies, will adequately cover the Authority's property, liability, and health benefit risk. A qualified actuarial firm shall be retained and report on a bi-annual basis recommended appropriate funding levels. The Authority shall endeavor to maintain reserves equal to 90% of the estimated net present value of such liabilities.

Fees and charges will be examined annually to guide decisions with a goal of covering all direct and indirect costs of service, provide for capital improvements and maintenance, and maintain adequate reserves to the maximum extent feasible. Secondarily, maintenance of cash reserves will provide a de facto rate stabilization plan. Rate increases shall be approved by the Board of Directors following appropriate noticing and public input. Rate adjustments will be based on fiveyear financial plans unless a conscious decision is made to the contrary. The target level of operating cash reserves shall be 40% of gross annual user

Contingency Reserves, to be determined annually by the Chief Financial Officer, will be maintained to offset unanticipated revenue shortfalls and/or unexpected expenditure increases. Contingency reserves may also be used for unanticipated and/ or inadequately budgeted events of an emergency nature. Use of contingency funds shall be approved at recommendation of the Chief Financial Reserves are presented in the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) in the Financial Statement section designated as unreserved fund balance.

Section 6. Audit Policies

An annual audit will be performed by an independent public accounting firm with an audit opin-ion to be included with the Authority's published Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR).

The Board of Directors will maintain a standing committee of its members to serve as the Audit Committee to provide oversight and review of the annual and special audits of the Authority. The Committee will meet at least twice annually with the Authority's independent auditor, once for a pre-audit meeting, and once for a review of the final audit results

Internal audit activities will be guided by the Audit Committee. The results of these audits are then presented to the Board of Directors Audit Committee for consideration and later reported to the full Board of Directors for its review and consideration. Should conditions necessitate an urgent internal audit of a particular area, the Audit Committee will be advised and the results of the audit will be reviewed with the Committee.
