Magnin declined further comment to the Weekly on why Moore left.

ruptions because he's doing lots of cases whereas a long cause judge is only handling one case at a time, so it's more efficient," the BHUSD's attorney Fred Fenster said.

If the case is accepted as a long cause matter, it will be transferred to Central Civil West which handles such cases, according to Fenster. The jury trial may start as early as next week, or later, depending on when a judge will be available.

"My client was doing great work for the district," Christiansen's attorney Philip Kaufler said. "We have board minutes where different board members and superintendents frequently complimented her."

Christiansen is seeking declaratory relief, damages for breach of contract, and damages for "serious and unwarranted injury to [Christiansen's] business [Strategic Concepts] and personal reputation," in the amount of $15.5 million.

"Her reputation has been totally destroyed," Kaufler said.

Christiansen was convicted of four counts of conflict of interest in Jan. 2012, with charges relating to negotiating contracts with BHUSD that benefited her company, Strategic Concepts. The BHUSD's cross complaint referred Christiansen as a "de facto employee."

Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its SPECIAL meeting on Thursday, August 7, 2014, will hold a public hearing beginning at 9:00AM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to discuss the following:

Amendments to the Municipal Code intended to create incentives for property owners to landmark historic buildings. The potential incentives relate to establishing provisions for modifying development standards for landmarked properties in order to accommodate new additions/ development on a property while preserving historic buildings. The amendments are associated with a proposed addition to the property located in the Hillside Area of the City at 1000 North Crescent Drive; however, the discussion will focus on the Municipal Code Amendments, which would potentially apply to all landmarked properties. Consideration of the proposed addition at 1000 North Crescent Drive will occur at a future, noticed public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Andre Sahakian, Associate Planner in the Planning Division at (310) 285-1127, or by email at asahakian@beverlyhills.org. Copies of the project plans and associated application materials are on file in the Community Development Department, and can be reviewed by any interested person at 455 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Planning Commission of Beverly Hills, at its special meeting to be held on Thursday, August 7, 2014, at 1:00 p.m., or as soon after as the matter is heard, in the Council Chambers of the City Hall, 455 N. Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210, will hold a public hearing to consider:

A RESOLUTION OF THE PLANNING COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS RECOMMENDING THAT THE CITY COUNCIL ADOPT AN ORDINANCE AMENDING THE DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS FOR SINGLE FAMILY PROPERTIES IN THE CENTRAL AREA OF THE CITY AND AMENDING THE BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE TO ADDRESS CONCERNS RELATED TO BUILDING SCALE AND MASS AND PARKING.

The proposed Ordinance would amend the City of Beverly Hills development standards for single family properties in the central area of the City. The proposed amendments include the following:

1) Add definitions for 'Principal Residential Building,' 'Architectural Projections,' and "Sloped Roof,' to the zoning definitions in the Municipal Code;

2) Prohibit light wells from being located in front or side setback areas except for street side setbacks where light wells may be located if screened;

3) Require porte cocheres to be set back a minimum of four feet (4') from the front façade of a house;

4) For properties located south of Santa Monica Boulevard, extend the nine-foot (9') wide side setback required on one side of the house the entire length of the property (currently this setback is only required for the first thirty eight feet behind the front setback line);

5) Require walls or fences over eighteen inches (18") high in the front setback to be set back a minimum of two feet (2') from the front lot line and require landscaping in this two-foot area;

6) Require the following landscape standards: a) a two-foot wide area of landscaping along the entire length of each side yard; b) mature trees in front yards with restrictions on the types of trees permitted to meet this requirement;7) Require additional parking spaces for new homes and for additional bedrooms beyond six bedrooms;

8) Revise the standards for maximum height in the principal building area for houses north of Santa Monica Boulevard to include a maximum allowed roof plate height in addition to the maximum allowed height (to the highest element of the building).

9) Require a house to have a greater front setback than currently required by code to build to the new maximum roof plate height. This would result in the need to provide a greater front setback to achieve the interior ceiling heights allowed by right today.

The Planning Commission resolution is also expected to include recommendation to the City Council to review the City's Design Review process.

This Ordinance has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines, and the environmental regulations of the City. It can be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the adoption and implementation of the Ordinance may have a significant effect on the environment. The Ordinance does not authorize construction. This Ordinance is exempt from the environmental review requirements of CEQA pursuant to Section 15061(b)(3) of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations.

All interested persons are invited to attend and speak on this matter. Written comments may be submitted, c/o Planning Services, 455 N. August 7, 2014 9:00 AM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard LOCATION: City Council Chambers Beverly Hills City Hall 455 North Rexford Drive Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its SPECIAL meeting on Thursday, August 7, 2014, will hold a public hearing beginning at 9:00 AM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider the following:

Zone Text Amendment. A request for a Zone Text Amendment to amend the Beverly Hills Municipal Code regarding development standards for lot line adjustments. Currently, lot line adjustments may only be requested when the properties involved comply with the City's minimum lot standards or the lots are existing, legally nonconforming and the requested adjustment will result in either a decrease or no change in the degree of existing nonconformity. If approved, the Zone Text Amendment would establish a process to allow adjacent lots that are nonconforming with respect to site area to adjust property lot lines so that one property would increase in site area and one property would decrease in site area; and

Lot Line Adjustment. A request for a Lot Line Adjustment for the properties located at 1021 North Beverly Drive and 1054 Shadow Hill Way. As proposed, the property line between the two sites would be adjusted resulting in approximately 12,000 square feet of site area being removed from the 1054 Shadow Hill Way property and added to 1021 North Beverly Drive property.

The proposed Zone Text Amendment and Lot Line Adjustment have been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines, and the environmental regulations of the City, and have been determined to be exempt from CEQA pursuant to Article 5, Section 15061 (b)(3) of the Guidelines, which states that CEQA applies only to projects which have the potential for causing a significant effect on the environment. Since the proposed Zone Text Amendment and Lot Line Adjustment would not result in physical changes to the property other than the relocation of property lines, no potential for causing a significant effect on the environment exists, and therefore, the project is exempt from CEQA.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the Commission.

According to Government Code Section 65009, if you challenge the Commission's action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Shena Rojemann, Associate Planner in the Planning Division at 310.285.1192 or by email at srojemann@beverlyhills.org. Application materials associated with the project are on file with the Community Development Department and can be reviewed by any interested person. Please contact the project planner listed above to schedule an appointment to view the application materials. Approved as to form: Ryan Gohlich, Senior Planner Tim Buresh and Gary Cardamone, was renewed with a 3 - 2 vote at the Board of Education meeting on July 22.

President Noah Margo and Board member Howard Goldstein dissented.

According to Goldstein, Cardamone can be contracted through Totum Corp, the project management and construction management services company retained by the BHUSD, at a lower rate than PrimeSource.

"Whether we retain PrimeSource or not, Cardomone is available for us," Goldstein said. "We don't lose that institutional knowledge."

Buresh and Cardamone were hired to take on the responsibilities of a Chief Facilities Director, who resigned earlier this year.

Though PrimeSource will provide engineering services relating to the Purple Line subway extension project to the BHUSD's outside counsel Murphy & Evertz, the contract does not include services related to the Westside subway extension.

The approved contract stipulates that PrimeSource has a not to exceed amount of $295,650, more than double the original amount, for the term from July 1 to December 31, and a monthly not to exceed amount of $48,000. The previous contract approved in February was for a not to exceed amount of $110,000, and a monthly not to exceed amount of $27,625.

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its SPECIAL meeting on Thursday, August 7, 2014, will hold a public hearing beginning at 9:00 AM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider:

A request to participate in a shared parking arrangement to allow the establishment of a new approximately 5,100 square foot educational institution (Beverly Hills Lingual Institute) within the commercial building located at 8383 Wilshire Boulevard. The request would allow the education institution to meet the City's parking requirements by sharing parking spaces with the office tenants in the building since the education institution would experience peak parking demand during evening hours, whereas the office uses experience peak parking demand during afternoon hours. The Planning Commission may authorize the required parking for primarily nighttime uses to be satisfied through such a shared parking arrangement if it can be demonstrated that sufficient parking is available and that the educational institution experiences peak parking demand during evening hours.

This project has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines, and the environmental regulations of the City. The project qualifies for a Class 1 Categorical Exemption for operational changes within an existing commercial facility, and the project has been determined not to have a significant environmental impact and is exempt from the provisions of CEQA.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the Commission.

According to Government Code Section 65009, if you challenge the Commission's action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

made over a million dollars from the Measure E Fund," Margo said.

Board member Lisa Korbatov said that though there are companies and consultants who are filling in the missing roles, they do not have the "institutional knowledge" that PrimeSource has.

"Certain people are in place [but] they are new," Board member Lisa Korbatov said. "[Totum] would be very remiss if they didn't have someone like Cardamone or Buresh."

Though Cardomone could be contracted through Totum at a lower rate, Board members Hall and Korbatov stressed that they wanted someone who worked outside of Totum to "look out for the District's interest."

Goldstein clarified that Cardamone would consult for Totum and still represent the district. The only change would be that Cardomone would work through Totum.

"[If] he's getting a paycheck from Totem, then he's really working for Totum, not for the district," Hall said.

"But doesn't Cardamone also get a paycheck from PrimeSource?" Goldstein said.

"Of course he gets a paycheck from PrimeSource, but PrimeSource is not BHUSD because PrimeSource can walk away and not work for us if they want to," Korbatov said. "They're independent bodies."

At a July 10 special board meeting to approve PrimeSource's contract, the item was pulled the evening prior because PrimeSource said they "no longer wished to enter into an agreement with the district," according to BHUSD general counsel Vincent Ewing.

"The agreement that is before you had been tendered to PrimeSource on a few occasions," Ewing said.

According to Ewing, the contract that the Board was reviewing on July 22 was the same contract that was before the board on July 10.

"It had seemed like PrimeSource was not going to be a willing participant in this facility consulting job," Margo said. "I don't like when third party companies posture with the district and play games with us. [That's] not the way to do business. I don't know why that occurred and I don't want to support people that do that to the district without any good cause."

Helen Stansbury passes wife of the late former Mayor Ben Stansbury, passed away on July 27 in Alexandria, Virginia. She was 78. Helen was president of the American Film Institute Associates from 1992 to 1994, and according to her daughter Jackie, Helen was "super passionate about the movies" and did fundraising for the organization. 'She loved Beverly Hills and she loved being the first lady of Beverly Hills," Jackie said. "She always came out to take care of my family when we needed her. She came and stayed with my son Ben, [who is now 15 and is] named after his grandfather, when I had my daughter, Juliet [who is now 11]."

Helen's son, Claude, also shared stories about how his mother spent time with his children.

"She had a very child-like spirit, joyful and innocent and I think it made her great with our children," Claude said. "[My children] would go to church with her. When [my son, Conrad] was very little, she would carry vanilla wafers in her pocket to give him so that he had something for communion."

Stansbury lived in Virginia for the past 20 years.

Helen was predeceased by her husband Ben who served as mayor twice during his terms on Beverly Hills City Council from 1980 to 1988. She is survived by her children Claude and Jackie, and five grandchildren, Conrad, Ashton, Adeline, Benjamin and Juliet.

Metro Board approves $1.6 billion contract with Skanska, Taylor and Shea

The Metro Board of Directors approved a $1.6 billion contract with Skanska, Taylor and Shea, the highest bidder, with a 9 to 3 vote on July 24 to construct the first phase of the Purple Line Extension subway.

Metro Board members Michael Antonovich, Don Knabe and Mark Ridley-Thomas dissented.

According to thesource.metro. net, three firms had bid on the contract and were evaluated based on project management (25 percent), technical approach (35 percent) and price (40 percent).

Skanska, Taylor, and Shea's contract was the most expensive by almost $193 million. The two firms who were not selected, Westide Transit Partners and Dragados/Astaldi/Southland, have filed protests with Metro, and the

Though the contract with Skanska, Taylor and Shea was the most expensive bid, Metro staff said that "this team offers [the] best opportunity to deliver the project on time and on budget," according to thesource.metro.net.

Knabe said that $193 million was "too much to leave on the table without getting more information on the bids and the protests," according to thesource.metro.net. Other board members said that they trusted Metro's evaluations and did not want to delay the project by "taking too long to approve a construction contract."

According to the staff report, Skanska, Taylor and Shea has worked on the Metro

Shea also worked on the Red Line subway extension in the 1990s. During the subway construction, in 1995, a sinkhole appeared and collapsed Hollywood Boulevard. Shea was subsequently fired by Metro after the incident.

The Purple Line will be extended 3.9 miles from the current Wilshire and Western station further down to La Cienega in Beverly Hills. Three new stations will be constructed along Wilshire at La Brea, Fairfax, and La Cienega.

The project has a total budget of $2.7 billion and is projected to open in 2023.

COVERSTORY SILES FOR ALL UCLA dental student Nancy Saghian discusses a dental mission to Honduras

By Nancy Yeang

How did you get involved in the dental mission to Honduras?

I'm a fourth year dental student at UCLA. It was a student-run mission trip to Honduras and we paid for it ourselves. The trip had no affiliation with the UCLA School of Dentistry.

There were two licensed dentists, four fourth year dental students, three third year dental students, two pre-dental students, so they were still undergrad and they volunteered their time, one student that was premed, an additional volunteer, a periodontist, who is a gum specialist, and an prosthodontist who was a specialist in restorative dentistry.

We went on this trip because there was a huge need for [dental care] in these cities since they have absolutely no access to care.

There's no continuous dental [care] for these people and they depend on these mission trips, and dentists flying in from different parts of the world to get any kind of care, which [are] mostly just patching dental work,. At least it [lessens] the amount of pain and it keeps their mouths in a healthier state.

Not only did we do emergency dental care, but we also really tried to promote oral hygiene. We went to elementary, middle and high schools, and we taught students how to brush their teeth properly [and] how to floss. We gave them toothbrushes, toothpaste and floss and taught them about healthier eating.

Saghian passes out toothbrushes to community members

For example, rather than drinking soda they could be drinking water. [We taught them] how and why you get cavities, because we thought that maybe if they knew the science behind [oral hygiene] then they would be able to help themselves. We [wanted] them teaching their family, their brothers and sisters, and their friends and kind of made them responsible for promoting oral health [to] their families and [in their] communities. Oral hygiene [education] was a really big part of our trip.

Saghian treats a child patient

Each day we would have different people doing examinations. We had a portable x-ray which was really awesome. A lot of dentistry you can't see in the mouth [and] you need an x-ray to see it. We would screen [the patients] on what they needed, then took them to our chair, and took care of all the work. We did a lot of amalgam and composite fillings, root canals, anterior aesthetic restorations, scalings and cleanings, extractions, and oral hygiene education.

Depending on how many people were there that day, we could either do all of the care or just the emergency ones, and tell them to keep the paper and the next time another group comes to take that paper with them when they go.

Why did you want to go on the trip?

I had been on a mission trip to Ensenada as an undergraduate with Operation Smiles when I was the president of that club during my undergrad at UCLA.

From that [trip] I really wanted to do something with community service. I wanted to continue giving back to the world, and that's why I chose to go on this trip to Honduras. Our community doesn't need it as much because we have access to dental care.

There's a lot of countries that have such poor access [to dental care]. Even the simple dental care that we provide for our patients [in the US] as dental students, we could be doing that abroad.

Where exactly in Honduras were you and how long did you go?

We went from June 15 to July 1. We flew into the capital, Tegucigalpa, and then we took a three hour drive to a city called Guaimaica. We coordinated with a mission area community and transformed their community clinic into a dental office. We brought portable units from the US.

Were there other dental mission trips that went to Gaimaica before you?

There have been other dental brigades that have gone and that's how they're familiar with the set up. They knew what we needed, what we wanted and the community knew about it.

[For these trips], you can get to the root of the problem, and figure out "Why is this happening? Let's get rid of the cause," rather than just patching up the problem.

Something that we tried to do differently than other dental missions [was] we decided we wanted to really push oral hygiene instruction because we can fill their tooth today, but a year from now if they continue with their eating habits and lack of oral hygiene they're going to have the same problem. [Oral hygiene will] benefit them far greater and [will be more] long-term than me filling a cavity for them.

Every year [patients are] going to be coming back and patching another tooth, filling another tooth, [and] getting another root canal. Ultimately, ten years from now, they're not going to have any natural teeth left.

Not only do we want to patch the problem, we wanted to get to the root of the problem, and get rid of the reason they're getting cavities, whether they're eating too many carbohydrates and acidic foods, or it's that they're not flossing because they don't even know what floss is, or they're not brushing because they don't know how to or they can't afford a toothbrush.

You said you went to the schools and then worked at the clinics. How long did you spend educating the community and performing procedures?

For one day we went to different schools and we taught them [about oral hygiene]. Another half a day was spent walking in the street and passing out toothbrushes and toothpaste to everyone. We would teach them on the street what to do. Also, every group of people who would come in for screenings in the mornings and in the afternoon we would do a session of oral hygiene instruction.

What was your typical day like?

When we first got there we spent an entire day setting up the clinics with the chairs, all the equipment we brought from the US, x-ray machines, [and] getting everything in order. In dentistry we have a lot of materials including filling and restorative materials. Every different procedure that you do has ten to fifteen materials that you need. Then we [had] all the operatories needed to be set up, [such as] the hand pieces, the suction and water, [and] the drills. Then we needed a sterilization area where we can sterilize all the equipment we used.

The clinic set up in Guaimaica

We had everything set up and [made] everything easy so that when we had a patient it would be fast.

We would wake up around 7:00 a.m. We were staying at a hotel right next to our clinic [which] was a minute walking distance. At 7:45 a.m. we would have people already lined up ready to go, and we would start screening and seeing the patients, drilling, filling and pulling teeth, whatever they needed. We went all the way through [until] about 7:00 p.m. [or] until it was dark out.

About how many patients were you able to see?

About 70 patients a day.

How were you able to treat patients who only spoke Spanish?

A lot of us had high school or college level Spanish, and before we left we tried to learn all the dental Spanish terms. We had two Spanish speakers, and we also had people there that wanted to volunteer who assisted us, got people in order and lined up. We had a nun from their community who was helping us [and] she was the one spreading the word. There was also a dentist there who was helping us.

It was a team effort because they needed

COVERSTORY A VISION FOR THE CITY A VISION FOR THE CITY Architectural Commission Chair Barry Bernstein on unique projects in Beverly Hills

By Nancy Yeang

What made you want to apply for the Architectural Commission?

I've always been involved with the city since I was 17. I worked for an architect when I was in high school, and [then] two more years with the same architect after graduating high school [to pay] my way through school. I went to Santa Monica College [and transferred] to the University of California, Berkeley. I wanted to be a developer [but] they didn't have a course like that.

I have a professional degree in architecture [from Cal]. They had a five-year degree so when you graduated you've [taken] all the engineering [and] design classes necessary to take the exam.

In 1964 I did a paper on condominiums when most people didn't know what they were [at the time] and when I graduated I worked for some big architects [such as] Charles Luckman and Max Starkman.

Coincidently, I worked on the Thrifty's drug store way back with Dorsky's office. When [Thrifty] came before [the Architectural Commission] they had this god awful design that they wanted to put forth but I impressed upon the applicants that unlike most drug stores, Rite Aid was a piece of architecture [and] wasn't [just] a stucco box. It had all the elements of a good piece of architecture, which Stan Dorsky was known for. When they came back after presenting their project they said that they took into consideration all that I said [and] they didn't ruin the architecture.

I always liked [Beverly Hills] and my wife [Donna] moved into the city when she was four years old. I met her when she was 25 so I've been involved with the city for the last forty some odd years [and] I've seen it grow.

Now that I have the time to volunteer, I did Team Beverly Hills and I [applied] for the Architectural Commission. It turns out they didn't know whether they were going to combine the Architectural [Commission with] the Design Review Commission, so I had to wait for a year and a half and I got the opportunity to be selected.

I've been on the Architectural Commission for about five years, and I was on Team Beverly Hills a year and half before that. I'm one of those people who [were] very fortunate to be selected to go through Team Beverly Hills and see how all the different departments operate.

I like good architecture and I hope that what I like is what other people like. [It's like a] sculpture. The sculptor might think it's the greatest thing in the world [but] someone looking at it might think it doesn't have anything worthwhile. I try to keep an even balance and perspective and I'm very fortunate that they picked me. Over the last five years we've had some really great architects and great presentations.

You had your first meeting as chair two weeks ago. How did it go?

It was a very interesting situation. We had a very unique project [on 8600 Wilshire] (see story in last week's issue) presented to us and we took it at the beginning of the commission meeting, which is where is should be because that's when we're all chipper. It involved the homeowners living around the project [more than the project] itself.

We've had some homeowners come up and voice their objection to the project. We tried to work with them [and] the applicant is trying to accommodate their concerns. We're going to have an ad hoc meeting [this morning and] we're going to see what the applicant came up with.

It was a very lively discussion. I'm very fortunate because this is the best group of people that I could have asked for as co-commissioners. We have an architect, [Gidas Peteris], who's got his heads on his shoulders and understands what he's looking at, an interior designer, [James Blakeley], who's been involved with some great pieces of architecture, a great landscape architect, Andrea Gardner Apatow, who's been in the field, and Michelle Kaye, [who] has a fresh outlook.

I've seen other people in the chairmanship. We've had attorneys, we've had photographers, but this is the first time [there's] an architect as chair.

In the Weekly's interview with outgoing chair James Blakeley in issue #721, he said that the Architectural Commission "would like to have some sort of oversight to all the signs that are going up in the > city. Right now, we don't have that." Tell us more about oversight on signage in the city and what the commission is doing about it.

I think the city understands what's happening because at the last meeting they made a presentation. They have staff now who will be instrumental in going out and checking [the signage]. Then the city will cite the people who have gone astray.

There are a lot of people who decide that they're going to do what they want to do and [ignore] the city, which is unfortunate because a lot of that is in bad taste. With all the comments made by James, myself, and the other members of the commission, [I think the city] realizes that they have to take a more serious look.

I think they did a very interesting job. We're very fortunate to have people willing to attempt new avenues of design rather than a straight, up and down, vertical building. It's something that's good for the city. When you look at it, it evokes an emotion. You either like it or don't like it.

It is costly to do things like that and [the applicants] did come back to us several times, but every time they came back they listened to what we had to say to move it forward to what it looks [like] today.

In June, the commission voted to approve the Waldorf Astoria project's design, landscaping, and lighting. What role does the Architecture Commission have in the approval process?

We're very fortunate that the developer and the owner of the project hired one of the most qualified architectural firms in the country, Gensler and Associates. They had to go through the planning department and the city council and heard what they had to do and they lived up to the requirements and vision placed upon them.

We're in charge of the exterior [and] the shape of the building. We're not in charge of the footprint of the building, that's the Planning Commission. They did a magnificent job joining the building [with] the Hilton, as far as the architecture's concerned, but yet they have their definitive design so [that] they're compatible.

We gave them an approval [to] go forth with the structure itself so they could start the working drawings. As they move forward, I believe they [will] come back with the lighting and the landscaping [and] re-submit it to the city as it's being completed. But they gave us a taste on what they were planning on doing.

When they made their presentation they also brought with them the interior designer for the project who's been involved with, if not all, then a good percentage of most of the hotels throughout the world.

The City is very fortunate that [the Waldof Astoria team was] able to hire some really talented people.

You mentioned that you trained as an architect but you wanted to be a developer. What did you end up doing?

I've had the rare opportunity [that] most architects don't have of designing, building and developing projects.

I had my own firm. My last project that I did in LA was finished in 1992. It was a $28 million condominium project [on] 575 Barrington [Avenue]. It was a 50-unit project. 1992 and 1993 were years when most people that were developing lost their projects back to the banks, but because I developed condominiums from 1972 to 1990, I had the opportunity to test different theories and concepts. We've built a lot of condominiums in Brentwood, Westwood, Sherman to have people willing us, and we were willing to be there.

What were some of the challenges you faced?

It was hard because we didn't have the same equipment that we have in the US. A lot of the machines that we took were broken a lot of times we didn't have suction and it's usually harder without suction. The patient had to keep getting up and spitting. The language barrier made things difficult.

Sometimes the patients just had so much they needed [and] there were so many people waiting, we couldn't take care of all of their needs. It was really hard saying, "I could only really do two or three of your fillings, I'm sorry. That's all I can do and we have to turn you away for the rest of it." But we tried not to do that.

How did you determine how many procedures you were able to perform on one patient?

The first thing we're addressed was their pain and to get them out of any discomfort.

After that we would address the severity of the case. You can tell if things are going to be hitting a nerve and then that tooth was going to be unsavable, so we tried to save anything that's on the brink of restorability.

Then we would address aesthetics. You really want to save that because they're walking around and not smiling because they're embarrassed about the big cavity in their front tooth. There are a lot of those kinds of patients, and it was really heartbreaking because they were so young.

I noticed that a lot of the kids who were coming in had cavities in between their front teeth and that's something you don't see very often in America.

By figuring out what their habits were, how they ate, what did they eat, what did they chew on, how did they chew it, I figured out that a lot of the kids there like to swish their soda. The swishing causes that sugar to go in between their teeth. They don't even know what flossing is, they don't brush, and then those cavities would grow and grow and they turn into bullet holes in between their teeth. So that was really interesting.

We interviewed Beverly Hills surgeon Gary Hoffman on his medical mission trip to Guatemala in the Weekly's cover story issue #710. He said that the trip, "ended up to be nothing about [him] and nothing about bonding with [his] son and everything about using what [he's] done in 30 years of practicing surgery to help other people in a totally different way than we're used to doing in the United States." How has this experience changed your perspective on dentistry?

It really opened my eyes to the lack of care that exists in this world, and we always learn about it in school about problems with access to care. I didn't know to what extent it existed and I didn't realize how little attention so many people in this world take to their oral health. That was something that really opened my eyes to the disparity that exists.

I also learned how a lot of dentistry is creativity. We're blessed in the academic environment to have everything at our fingertips. We have the best materials [and] we're spoiled with the materials and the technology in dentistry right now. Being in a developing country and only having minimal supplies with us, you're forced to make it work. You and you have to figure out another way to fill a cavity if you don't have a certain material, [and] you have to in the US, "I have to pull your tooth," they start crying in my chair. It just shows the

the world and it really

"In America, we are so have to be creative attached to our teeth. If I tell a patient in the US, 'I have to pull your tooth,' they start crying tool to use if you don't in my chair. It just shows have the one you're the difference in value in the world and it really are so attached to our depends on what your priorities are at that point" – Nancy Saghian point.

For [the patients in Honduras] their priority is staying alive, having a meal at your table at the end of the day and being able to feed yourself. Pulling a tooth for them is like, "Okay, go ahead, pull it. I can't save it, it's fine, no problem.'

It really felt so amazing to take something that I do, its my career, [and being] to be able to help people on such a larger level, and I would definitely go back.

I really encourage other dentists and other professionals in the health care field to take a step out of our perfect aesthetic dentistry, Hollywood smile training and put our training to a different use. We're here to be doctors and to make them smile again [by] taking them out a pain they've felt every day whether it was the pain of having brown cavitated front teeth and not being able to show it, or just the physical pain of a throbbing toothache.

I think one of the most special things for me was a 16-year-old girl who came in and one of the dentists told her, "This tooth is beyond saving, we're going to have to pull it." She actually got really upset, because it was her front tooth and I could tell that she cared about the way she looks.

I told the dentist, "I want to try and save the tooth." He said, "No, you should pull it," and I said, "Can I try saving it? If I can't save it then we'll pull it, but let me try saving it." He looked at me and said, "If you want to pull heroic measures, go for it. But I don't think you can save this tooth." So I went against what he was saying, and said, "I'm going to do it," because I can sense that she would rather keep her cavitated tooth than for us to pull it.

I spent the next three hours giving her a root canal and making any type of crown that I could out of the materials that we had. I tried my best and I saved it. She was so happy, she was crying when I gave her the mirror.

It was an amazing experience, and now going into back to school and working on all my patients here, I'm so grateful for all the materials and the access to the best technology that I have, and suction, the most simple thing like a dental suction in my chair.

I'm a lot more comfortable dealing with bigger cases because I've seen such extreme cases there that I'm like, "That's easy, no problem," and I'm a lot faster. As a dental student, I think I grew a lot from it. I did more cases than I have done in dental school.

Oaks, [and] Studio City. We've built some apartment buildings, and in my last round I built 720 homes in the Central Valley from Bakersfield to Fresno.

I gave a little bit more than most of my competitors. The reason [the 575 Barington Avenue project] succeeded was that I designed 2,100 square foot, three-bedrooms [with] two and half baths and they were all corner units. I also designed my buildings on all four sides. Most developments are developed on only the front side. Maybe [there were] colors, but [there was] no shape, shadow, or dimension around all four sides, so I had that opportunity to do that.

I've developed in Beverly Hills, [like] 626 Roxbury [Drive], a 7,000 square foot house. The beauty of it [was] I had the opportunity to design my own project. I always had a market for what I developed.

Right now I'm pretty much a real estate investor. After developing 720 homes in the Central Valley, I've taken a moment off.

I'm involved in some apartment buildings in Texas [and] Detroit. I own a few apartment buildings in Studio City, although I built a lot of them along the way near Cedros and Sherman Oaks, [and] south of Ventura Boulevard, I was a merchant builder so we built and sold and we went on to the next. But in Brentwood I built [and] developed more condominium projects I think than anyone else at the time.

I built indoor swimming pools, jacuzzis and saunas which even for 12-unit buildings, most people didn't do that. I always [say] that you should put more into the building so that at least if the [people] don't use it, when they sell they have something to offer on the resale.

Tell us about your family.

[My wife, Donna,] her father bought a lot in 1951 on the southeast corner of Foothill and Sunset. For $100,000 he built an 8,000 square foot house. I don't even have to tell you what that's worth today. They still have the house.

She went through all the Beverly Hills schools and [graduated from Beverly High in 1963]. She's an attorney and works in the family court in downtown Monterey Park. She's the senior [attorney] over there, she likes what she's doing and I can't get her to retire unfortunately. She doesn't want to do what I want to do, lunch and dates.

I have three children. My youngest is [my] son [Eric]. He's a pediatric anesthesiologist. In his third year of medicine, he was in Philadelphia [and] met the love of his life [Keri]. Even though he did four years of his residency at UCLA, his wife is a small town gal and she wanted to go home. Their three children are Grace, Lilly, and George.

My eldest daughter is Kelly. [She] lives in Cheviot Hills with her children are Sophie, Sasha, and they have a little boy Jonah who's almost a year old. Matt is my son-inlaw, and he's an attorney.

My middle daughter is Candice who lives in Studio City. She has a little boy named Jedson, and my son-in-law is Dan.

I gather everyone together every Sunday for dinner because family is important to me.

What is the commission working on now?

We're working on the project that I mentioned in the beginning on [8600 Wilshire]. They hired an architectural firm, which is world-renowned, from China [MAD Architects]. They brought their whole staff for the presentation.

The first level is retail and commercial, the second and third floor is a green wall with condominiums behind [it], and then on top are town houses, to the third, fourth and fifth stories. It was a unique project. We had some questions on how the green wall would operate. It's an interesting concept. [The project goes] all the way over to Charleville [Boulevard] where they have townhouses. [The architects] needed to put some more dimension into the units [and are] trying to come up with an idea to add some more landscaping and make it a little warmer so when the homeowners look out they feel good about it.

The applicant is trying to design towards [the homeowners'] needs and hopefully they'll be successful. We'll find out when we meet [today] to see their solution to the problem.

What are your goals as commission chair?

I want to make sure that we get the best for the city, because we have a good team. We're able to come up with the right questions and understand what's being presented to us. [What] we want for the city [is] to have the best possible outcome on the designs that are presented to us.

The property heretofore described is being sold "as is". The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 8577 RUGBY DR APT 108, WEST HOLLYWOOD, CA 90069 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $393,904.44 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal sav-ings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. In the event tender other than cash is accepted, the Trustee may withhold the issuance of the Trustee's Deed Upon Sale until funds become available to the payee or endorsee as a matter of right. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are en-couraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call Priority Posting and Publishing at 714-573-1965 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale or visit the Internet Web site address listed below for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA05000366-14-

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF LINDA A. WALLSCHLAEGER Case No. BP154325

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of LINDA A. WALLSCHLAEGER

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Aimee R. Hookstratten in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Aimee R. Hookstratten be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on August 28, 2014 at 8:30AM in Dept. No. 5 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the peti-

IF YOŪ OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attornev for petitioner:

PROJECT 15-03

REQUEST FOR PREQUALIFICATION

OF BIDDERS AND PREQUALIFICATION INSTRUCTIONS FOR:

CONSTRUCTION OF CITY GATEWAY MONUMENTS

Notice is hereby given that the City of Beverly Hills ("CITY") has determined that all bidders for the construction of City Gateway Monuments in the City of Beverly Hills ("Project") must be prequalified prior to submitting a bid on that Project. It is mandatory that all Contractors who intend to submit a bid, fully complete the prequalification questionnaire, provide all materials requested herein, and be approved by the CITY to be on the final qualified Bidders list. Contractor's License: In accordance with provisions of Section 3300 of the California Public Contract Code, the City has determined that the Contractor shall possess a valid California Contractor's License Class A or other appropriate license classification under the State Contracting Code at the time the contract is bid. Failure to possess such license may render the bid non responsive and bar the award of the contract to that non responsive Bidder.

No bid will be accepted from a Contractor that has failed to comply with these requirements. If two or more business entities submit a bid as part of a Joint Venture, or expect to submit a bid as part of a Joint Venture, each entity within the Joint Venture must be separately qualified to bid. The last date to submit a fully completed questionnaire is 2:00 PM Thursday, August 28, 2014. [Insert time, including a.m. or p.m., and date - month, day, year]~Contractors are encouraged to submit prequalification packages as soon as possible, so that they may be notified of omissions of information to be remedied or of their prequalification status in advance of the prequalification deadline for this Project.

Answers to questions contained in the attached questionnaire are required. The CITY will use these documents as the basis of rating Contractors with respect to whether each Contractor is qualified to bid on the Project, and reserves the right to check other sources available. The CITY's decision will be based on objective evaluation criteria.

The CITY reserves the right to adjust, increase, limit, suspend or rescind the prequalification rating based on subsequently learned information. Contractors whose rating changes sufficiently to disqualify them will be notified, and given an opportunity for a hearing consistent with the hearing procedures described below for appealing a prequalification rating.

While it is the intent of the prequalification questionnaire and documents required therewith to assist the CITY in determining bidder responsibility prior to bid and to aid the CITY in selecting the lowest responsible bidder, neither the fact of prequalification, nor any prequalification rating, will preclude the CITY from a post-bid consideration and determination of whether a bidder has the quality, fitness, capacity and experience to satisfactorily perform the proposed work, and has demonstrated the requisite trustworthiness.

The prequalification packages should be submitted under seal to the Office of the City Clerk, City of Beverly Hills, 455 North Rexford Drive, Room 290, Beverly Hills, CA 90210. The following should be clearly marked on the outside of the package "CONFIDÉNTIAL PREQUALIFICATION STATEMENT FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF CITY GATEWAY MONUMENTS." The prequalification packages submitted by Contractors are not public records and are not open to public inspec-All information provided will be kept confidential to the extent permitted by law. However, the contents may be disclosed to third parties for purpose of verification, or investigation of substantial allegations, or in an appeal hearing. State law requires that the names of contractors applying for prequalification status shall be public records subject to disclosure, and the first page of the questionnaire will be used for that purpose.

Each questionnaire must be signed under penalty of perjury in the manner designated at the end of the form, by an individual who has the legal authority to bind the Contractor on whose behalf that person is signing. If any information provided by a Contractor becomes inaccurate, the Contractor must immediately notify the CITY and provide updated accurate information in writing, under penalty of perjury.

The CITY reserves the right to waive minor irregularities and omissions in the information contained in the prequalification application submitted, and to make all final determinations. The CITY may also determine at any time that the prequalification process will be suspended for the Project and the Project will be bid without prequalification.

Contractors may submit prequalification packages during regular working hours on any day that the offices of the CITY are open. Contractors who submit a complete prequalification package will be notified of their qualification status no later than ten business days after submission of the information where the requested information and materials are not provided by the due date indicated above. There is no appeal from a refusal for an incomplete or late application, but re-application for a later project is permitted. Neither the closing time for submitting prequalification packages for this Project will be changed in order to accommodate supplementation of incomplete submissions, or late submissions, unless requested by the CITY in its sole discretion.

The CITY may refuse to grant prequalification

In addition to a contractor's failure to be pre-qualified pursuant to the scoring system set forth in the prequalification package, a contractor may be found not prequalified for either omission of or falsification of, any requested information.

Where a timely and completed application results in a rating below that necessary to pre-qualify, an appeal can be made by the unsuccessful Contractor. An appeal is begun by the Contractor delivering notice to the CITY of its appeal of the decision with respect to its prequalification rating, no later than two business days following notification that it is not pre-qualified. The notice of appeal shall include an address where the Contractor wishes to receive notice of the appeal hearing. Without a timely appeal, the Contractor waives any and all rights to challenge the decision of the CITY, whether by administrative process, judicial process or any other legal process or proceeding.

If the Contractor gives the required notice of appeal, a hearing shall be conducted no earlier than five business days after the CITY's receipt of the notice of appeal and not later than five business days prior to the date of the Notice Inviting Bids for this Project. Prior to the hearing, the Contractor shall, in writing, be advised of the basis for the City's pre-qualification determination.

The hearing shall be conducted by a panel consisting of three members of the Department of Capital Assets senior management staff (the "Appeals Panel"). The Appeals Panel shall consider any evidence presented by the Contractor, whether or not the evidence is presented in compliance with formal rules of evidence. The Contractor will be given the opportunity to present evidence, information and arguments as to why the Contractor believes it should be pre-qualified. Within one day after the conclusion of the hearing, the Appeals Panel will render a written determination as to whether the Contractor is pre-qualified. It is the intention of the CITY that the date for the submission and opening of bids will not be delayed or postponed to allow for completion of an appeal process.

Please contact Julio Guerrero at the Office of Project Administration, at jguerrero@beverlyhills.org for any procedural questions or concerns regarding this project.
