BHPD arrests "Tip Jar Bandit"

Coined The Tip Jar Bandit" by media, 2013 Beverly High graduate Jessica Shub was arrested and charged with commercial burglary BHPD by officers on February 12.

According to Sergeant Max Subin, the police department received a call last Thursday from a witness who had been following a suspect who had stolen money from a tip jar at a coffee shop. Officers responded to the 9600 Block of Brighton Way within a minute and detained Shub at Brighton Way and Rodeo Drive.

Shub is believed to be responsible for two similar tip jar thefts in Los Angeles and three additional crimes in Beverly Hills.

Shub was held on $20,000 bail.

Goldstein proposes BHPD substations on campus

Howard Goldstein

Board of Education i c e President Howard Goldstein has proposed police substations at the five BHUSD campuses in order to increase BHPD visibility and foster communication between law enforcement and the school community.

"As the greater community understands that there are either officers onsite, leaving the site, coming to the site, at any given time, it's a great deterrent and makes it very difficult for anyone who wants to do any harm to us to plan under those circumstances, because you just never know if an officer is going to be there," Goldstein

Under Goldstein's substation idea, BHPD officers would stop by the schools throughout the day and use office space provided by the BHUSD to fill out reports, complete paperwork and make phone calls during their shifts. The officers would not be assigned to a particular school; their daily schedules would determine when they would drop by and use the substations. Goldstein says the substation idea is fiscally responsible, as there are no additional costs to either the school district or the police department.

"If we pay for armed security, that's coming directly out of the classrooms," Goldstein said.

Goldstein said that he would like the BHPD to assign one or two more full-time liaison officers to the schools. Currently, BHPD Officer Jesse R. Perez is the only full-time School Liaison Officer.

"I think having BHPD officers on campus provides a positive role model for students and peace of mind for parents and staff," Goldstein said. "In addition, a marked police vehicle parked outside adds a visual deterrent to someone contemplating to commit a crime."

Goldstein believes the substations will help bolster the strong bond between the City, the BHUSD and the BHPD.

BHUSD running out of Measure E funds

During a meeting on February 13, the Citizens' Oversight Committee Audit subcommittee agreed that the remaining balance of $1.8 million on the Measure E report leaves little room to accomplish much else following the completion of Horace Mann. This has been an ongoing concern of the COC Audit subcommittee.

"At that encumbering rate, that number will be zero pretty quickly," said Audit subcommittee Chair Joe Safier. "The one good thing is that we will hopefully be recouping some money from the trenching at El Rodeo."

The $1.8 million sum reflects a $2.5 million drop since the Audit subcommittee meeting in early January.

"It looks like there are things that get approved and paid between reportslike there's $400,000 worth of stuff that we didn't see in the last report that got approved and paid that wasn't part of Horace Mann since the last meeting," said Audit subcommittee member Chris Kiper.

The encumbered amount not including Horace Mann went from $4.6 million to $6.2 million.

Gordon, Licht appointed to Planning Commission; Saleh appointed to Human Relations

The Planning Commission interview panel, comprised of Mayor Lili Bosse, Councilmember John Mirisch, Planning Commissioner Chair Howard Fisher and Planning Commission Vice Chair Alan Robert Block, selected Lori Greene Gordon and Andy Licht for appointment to the Planning Commission.

Gordon, a professional harpist and a general partner in Golden Gate Hat and Cap Co., will fill the vacancy created by Commissioner Brian Rosenstein's resignation last month. Gordon must attend all Planning Commission meetings leading up to her appointment in April.

"I'm speaking on behalf of myself and [Fine Art Commissioner Chair] Sandy Pressman and [Architectural Commission Chair] Barry Bernstein," said former Charitable Solicitations Commission Chair Lillian Raffel at a City Council Study Session on Tuesday. "As experienced commissioners, past and present, who recently interviewed for the Planning Commission, we would like to express our concern to the City Council that we feel the interview process for the Planning Commission openings was flawed. Unfortunately, and due to understandable circumstances. [Mayor Lili Bosse] had to leave the interviews, leaving one City Councilmember in attendance. This created the situation where some of the interviewees had the benefit of the Mayor being there and others did not."

The Council decided to move forward with the interview panel's recommendations at their Study Session on Tuesday.

Composed of Vice Mayor Julian Gold, Councilmember Nancy Krasne, Human Relations Commission Chair Ori Blumenfeld and Human Relations Commission Vice Chair Karen Popovich Levyn, the Human Relations interview panel recommended community activist and philanthropist Annette Saleh for appointment to the Human Relations Commission.

Saleh will begin her term in April.

City to move forward with Oakhurst condominium project

The City Council held a last-minute special meeting on February 12 following Councilmember John Mirisch's request that consider filing an appeal project approvals granted the City of Los Angeles Advisory Agency allowing the construction of a 31-unit condominium building on 332-336 North Oakhurst Drive. The appeal period ended the next day.

Mayor Lili Bosse was on bereavement and absent from the meeting.

The project is split between Beverly Hills and Los Angeles, with 28 percent of the property located in Beverly Hills and 72 percent of the property located in Los Angeles.

Several residents, including Noah Muhlstein, Planning Deputy Councilmember Paul Koretz, voiced their support of the appeal.

"For over a year now our office has been involved with this property and its tenants," Muhlstein said. "It has been brought to our attention that there have been several concerns with the historical nature of this property."

The City of Los Angeles Advisory Agency approved Vesting Tentative Tract Map No. 70499-CN on February 3 and adopted a Mitigated Negative Declaration for the new condominium project. As the "lead agency," the City of Los Angeles is responsible for preparing the CEQA documentation for the project. Last year, Beverly Hills staff requested that Los Angeles prepare an Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the project following concerns that the project may contribute to a potential historic district on the east side of the block.

Then, several days ago, staff was notified by Beverly Hills residents that Los Angeles had decided to carry on with approval of the project after concluding there was no potential historic significance associated with the properties.

Mirisch supported the appeal, expressing that the process was "flawed" and staff had been "blindsided" by the City of Los Angeles.

Terry Moore, a managing member for Oakhurst 90210 LLC, the company that acquired the property around two years ago, also spoke at the meeting.

"We tried to address all the issues and I know that neighbors and tenants don't like change and they don't like development, but we're just trying to do what is the buy right of buying the property," Moore said. "We recognized that there was this historic issue that was out there and we wanted to be conscious of it."

Councilmember Willie Brien pointed out that the appeal would negatively impact the landowners, who simply went through the briefs cont. on page 4

"The landowners actually didn't do anything wrong, they just went through the L.A. process," Brien said. "We're being asked to determine an appeal or not that's going to cost them an incredible amount of time and money."

Concerned that the appeal might motivate the landowners to pull the building out of Beverly Hills and construct a structure that does not suit the City's design standards, Councilmember Nancy Krasne voted against the appeal.

The Council will not give staff the direction to file the appeal following a 2-2 vote.

Court of Appeal rules against Prince's palatial development

The California Court of Appeal rejected Saudi Prince Abdulaziz bin Abdulaziz al Saud's request last week that the City of Los Angeles green-light construction of a mega compound in Benedict Canyon. The Prince's 5.2-acre estate failed to abide by L.A.'s fire-safety requirement for secondary vehicular access; the project has also not yet undergone environmental review.

Tower Lane Properties is the corporate owner.

In a 26-page ruling, the Court of Appeal quashed a series of arguments made by the Prince's attorneys and maintained a trial court ruling from September 2013 supporting Los Angeles Planning Director Michael LoGrande's 2012 confirmation that the Benedict Canyon property must have secondary vehicular access or apply for a waiver and carry out environmental review.

In November 2012, LoGrande confirmed that building permits could not be issued for the palatial development because it lacked secondary vehicular access.

The Tower Lane team has dodged public environmental review of the project; its attorney claimed that public input is irrelevant.

Los Angeles City Councilmember Paul Koretz, the Bel-Air Beverly Crest Neighborhood Council, the Benedict Canyon Association, the Hillside Federation and more than 1,000 residents have advocated environmental review of the Prince's proposed mega compound for the past few years.

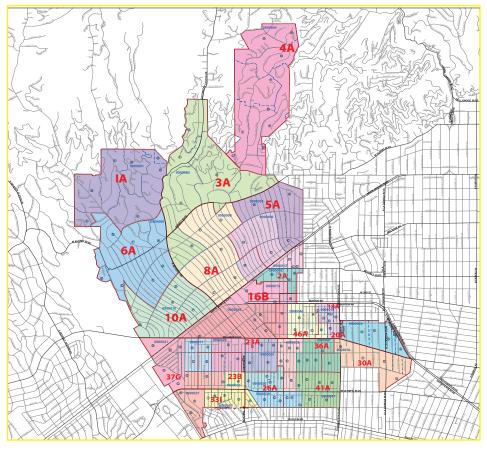

A copy of the ruling is available on www.SaveBenedictCanyon.com.

25 ballots arrived too late for November 2014 Election

Of the 1,650 VBM/provisional "no counts" from the 21 Beverly Hills precincts for the November 2014 General Election, 25 ballots arrived too late to be counted.

State law recently changed with regard to late ballots. As of January 2015, all vote-by-mail ballots postmarked on or before Election Day will be counted if received within three days by the Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk. If the ballot has no postmark, a postmark with no date, or an unreadable postmark, the vote-by-mail ballot identification envelope is date-stamped by the elections official upon receipt of the vote-by-mail ballot and is signed and dated on or before Election Day.

According to Mike Sanchez, Media & Communications Assistant for the Los Angeles County Registrar-Recorder/County Clerk Norwalk office, "Admin Suspend" is used for two reasons: to account for duplicate ballots and to suspend voters that registered after

A ballot is suspended due to another one being issued or returned undelivered. "Enclosed Ballot (No/Two)" applies to situations where there are either two or no ballots in an envelope. parking program will enable the city to accumulate monies to both buy and build structures and will clearly enhance the public pedestrian activity along some of these areas that we want to see revitalized," said Vice Chair Alan Robert Block.

Commissioner Farshid Joe Shooshani called it a "necessary revitalization plan for the City."

When the in-lieu parking program was established in the 1970's, it had two main goals: to foster business vibrancy and to enhance pedestrian experience.

The program currently allows owners of properties located within the Business Triangle that meet certain criteria to pay into the City's in-lieu parking fund rather than provide all required parking spaces on-site. Under the new ordinance, the current fees would remain the same. A parking space on Beverly Drive has a price tag of $27,605.80; all other spaces cost $28,284.60.

Commissioner Craig Corman supported the expansion for Olympic, Wilshire and South Robertson boulevards.

"My feeling with the in-lieu parking program on South Santa Monica [Blvd.] is I would hold off on that largely because I don't think, given the depth of the lots on the north side, it's going to revitalize the area the way we want it to be revitalized," Corman said.

Corman noted that South Beverly Dr.

has reached "peak parking capacity."

Both Block and Shooshani voted in support of the in-lieu parking program expansion.

The Iranian Jewish Women's Organization solicited funds in Beverly Hills without a permit.

The organization was contacted about their Beverly Hills Municipal Code violation on December 29 after hosting a fundraising event at the Beverly Hills Hotel on December 14. Despite a request by City staff that they retroactively submit an application for a permit and the requisite financial information about their fundraising activities, the organization has not yet complied.

STAFFORD TAKES

David Hunt Stafford on Theatre 40's long-standing history with Beverly Hills

By Mina Riazi

What is Theatre 40 and how did it start?

Theatre 40 is a non-profit, professional resident theater company in Beverly Hills. We were founded in 1964 and got onto the campus of Beverly High through the Deputy Superintendent of schools at that time in the early 1970s, Dr. Reuben Cordova, and he became familiar with the theater company, which did not have a home at that time. There was a storage room on the campus that stored custodial supplies and [Cordova] went to the founding fathers of Theatre 40 and said, "We will give you this storage room if you teach adult school theater classes free of charge." And so the founding fathers of Theatre 40 made a contractual agreement with the [BHUSD]. We hired a famous theater designer named Ming Cho Lee, who is still alive today, and he designed this beautiful theater out of the storage room. We have been teaching the adult school up until this day, for about 40 years.

Of course we mainly produce plays for the public's consumption; we have a very healthy season subscription audience. Right now we're in our 49th year—our 49th season—and next year will be our 50th anniversary season in Beverly Hills producing plays. Over the years, we have produced about 450 professional theater productions with professional actors, professional directors, designers, technicians and stagehands. We have won over 300 Drama Critics awards for excellence. A few years ago we were doing nine plays a year and then we cut it back to seven-that's a healthy number of productions that we allow to the public.

We also do The Manor, which is a production that we conceived, wrote, produced and went to the City of Beverly Hills and they allow us to do The Manor inside Greystone Mansion, and that's been running for 13 years.

In the overall scheme of things, Theatre 40 is one of the oldest and among the very most respected of all the small theater companies in Los Angeles, and there are about 150 or 200 all over Los Angeles.

Times you said "I'm trying to make [Theatre 40] as good as it can possibly be with my total focus on that goal." How do you work towards that

Obviously I do the very best I can to pick interesting plays that will appeal to our audience. I like to do premiereseither World premieres or West Coast premieres or American premieres. We always do a comedy and a drama and a mystery and a romance and a new play and an old play. The selection of plays is very critical. Picking interesting shows to do is one of my missions that I dedicate myself to; I make sure the quality of our production is as high as it can possible be—and I have an excellent staff and excellent directors, excellent actors, and I make sure that all of the moving parts of each production are as high quality as they can possibly be. I want as many people in Beverly Hills to know that we exist as possible. This season is, again, our 49th season and Bitter Lemons named two of our productions they published a list of the top 10 shows in Los Angeles—and two of the top 10 were Theatre 40 productions: The Gamester, which was an LA premiere, and Flare Path, which was a World War II romance. It was just a brilliant show.

In a 2011 interview with LA Stage

Catherine and David Stafford

Hellman v. McCarthy, which stars legendary talk show host Dick Cavett, is currently playing at Theatre 40. Tell us about that.

Hellman McCarthy by Brian Richard Mori ran in New York at the beginning of 2014 and it was reviewed by The New York Times and it got great reviews and Dick Cavett was in the play in New York. As the play closed in New York, the agent who represents the writer who wrote the play called me on the phone. She respects Theatre 40 and we've done some other works by some of her clients and she called me and said, "Hey, Dick Cavett just closed in a play that I represent. I wonder if Theatre 40 would like to have it; I'm offering this play to you."

should say that Hellman v. McCarthy did receive sponsorship from Bruce Schulman of Mercedes- Benz of Beverly Hills and Michael J. Libow. Both came on board and sponsored this particular production. So we cast the play, it's being directed by an old friend of Dick Cavett's, Howard Storm, who directed 59 episodes of Mork & Mindy. So it was reuniting Dick Cavett and Howard Storm and we cast the rest of the roles with Theatre 40 actors. We've received a tremendous amount of publicity and spotlight thrown on Theatre 40 because we've got Dick Cavett in the play. Really

I've been working on this since about March 2014 with the goal of having it go exactly as planned and it has. It's just been a real win-win situation for everybody. It couldn't be more perfect—it was a calculated risk but it really paid off exactly as planned.

"In the overall scheme of things, Theatre 40 is one of the oldest and among the very most respected of all the small theater companies in Los Angeles." -David Hunt Stafford, Theatre 40 Managing

Director & Artistic

Director

What sparked your love for theater and what continues to sustain it?

I love the art form. I think Thornton Wilder said—I may be paraphrasing a little here—"It's the art form where one human being can share with another human being what it is to be a human being." I got bit by the acting bug when I was in high school I really enjoyed it and found out that I had an ability to do it. And so I said well I'm going to keep doing this--I love doing plays I love acting and so I studied it in college. I went to Cal Arts and I got out and I continued to do plays and I made a commitment as a very young person that I'm going to do plays all my life. I have produced over 100 plays at Theatre 40 and have been in 61 one of them and will be in more I hope. I love acting, I love the art form. I love the collaboration of the artists coming together to work on a common goal to make the production as excellent as it can be. The actor, the director working together working in such detail to make these productions as high quality and as impactful; it's an emotional experience to go to a play. It's an intellectual stimulation that one wants to get when they go to the theater and they put down their money and they sit in their seat-they want to be effected in some way— whether it's a romance or a tragedy whatever it might be. I want to say another thing: We need supporters and it takes supporters from the community and generous donations from significant individuals in the community to keep all the theaters running; you just can't survive on ticket sales. You need donors and you need grants and you need contributions of some sort.

Our Theatre 40 Board of Directors members include Jim Jahant and Myra Lurie, who is a former Board of Education member, and Lya Cordova-Latta, who is the widow of Dr. Reuben Cordova. She's a big supporter. As more and more people become familiar with us, we hope we'll attract donors and contributors so that we become stronger and stronger within the community.

Tell us about what Theatre 40 has planned for the upcoming year?

The season will begin at the end of July; it will be Theatre 40's 50th anniversary season. We'll do six plays in the new season that will start at the end of July 2015. The first play is called Patterns; the original teleplay was written by Rod Serling and the teleplay was adapted into a play by a man named James Reach. It's very timely: it takes place in the corporate world, in the office, and the young, upcoming corporate executives are trying to get rid of the older executives. It's a play about corporate backstabbing and it hasn't been done in a long time; no one has seen it in a long time because it hasn't been done. Play number two is a romantic comedy called Perfect Timing that has not been done in about 30 years. It's a charming, delightful, fluffy romance where the art critic meets the artist and hates his art but falls in love with him. The third play we'll do is called Double Door by Elizabeth Macfadyen and that is based on a true story of a real life family that lived on 5th Avenue in New York around the turn of the century. Play number four will be a British played called a Shred of Evidence and that's sort of a murder mystery. Play number five will be a World premiere titled James Gallagher and then the sixth play, which will be about a year from now, will be a charming comedy called Separate Beds. It takes place on a cruise ship and it's a Canadian play and that'll be a West Coast premiere. It's going to be a great season. Of course The Manor will continue to come back with the permission of the Community Services Department and the Recreation and Parks Department. They allow us to resurrect the manor and bring that production back into Greystone every year and that's an enormously popular show. It's going well. We're a vibrant company and produce a lot of work.

Tell us about your family.

I have a beautiful wife, her name is Catherine. And I was living in this adorable little cottage in West Hollywood and I was on the phone one day and I had a screen door and you could look out through the screen out onto the yard and there was a beautiful peach tree in the yard and I looked out and there was this beautiful girl under the peach tree stealing peaches off the peach tree. I said to the person on the phone, "There's a beautiful girl under the peach tree, I have to go out and meet her." She lived in the apartment building next door and so I literally married the girl next door. She works at Brooks Brothers, in the ladies department, and she's a lovely woman and we have a great marriage. We've been married about 22 years and we've been together around 30 years. She's been my best friend.

What Theatre 40 production are you most proud of and why?

It would be impossible to single out just one. I'm very, very proud of The Manor, which happens inside of the Greystone Mansion every year. It's a wonderful show and it's quite an accomplishment. Around five years ago we did a play called The Voysey Inheritance, which was a David Mamet adaption of a play that was originally written by Harley Granville-Barker around the turn of the century. It was about a wealthy family operating a Ponzi scheme and ripping off all of their friends and neighbors and people in the community. I tried like crazy to get the rights to that play and got turned down and then, about two years later, I tried to get the rights to it again and did get the rights to it and so were producing that play at exactly the same moment that Bernie Madoff was being arrested. The play that we were doing was a 100-year-old play that David Mamet had adapted but it was telling the story of Bernie Madoff. I was very proud of that. There was another one called 7 Stories by Morris Panych which was an existential comedy drama. I am very proud of a play we did two years ago called Kin that was a West Coast premiere by Bathsheba Doran. That was a brilliant play—it reached so deep into your soul it was just amazing what a great play that was. There have been a lot them that have been so moving and so profound in terms of exploring the human experience that it's hard to pick one.

Top-Seeded BHHS boys' basketball team to open playoffs Friday

Norman girls' basketball team to host playoff game tonight. By Steven Herbert Beverly High received the No. 1 seeding in the Southern Section Division 3A boys basketball playoffs and a first-round bye.

The Normans are scheduled to open the playoffs Friday at the Swim-Gym at 7 p.m. against the winner of Wednesday's firstround game between Garey and Hoover that was to begin after the Beverly Hills Weekly's deadline.

Beverly Hills received the No. 1 seeding after three teams in its division – Cathedral, Alemany and Cantwell-Sacred Heart received berths in the Open Division, which was created before last season's playoffs to group the best programs together regardless of divisional affiliation, according to Thom Simmons, the Southern Section's director of communications.

Garey was 12-11 in the regular season and finished second in the six-team Miramonte League. Hoover was 14-10 and finished fourth in the Pacific League. It was seeded 16th in the 31-team bracket, but will start the playoffs on the road.

Under Southern Section rules, the team finishing higher in its league gets the home court-advantage for the first playoff game.

The Normans are 21-5 and enter the playoffs with a 12-game winning streak and 18 victories in their last 19 games.

The quarterfinals are scheduled for Tuesday, semifinals Feb. 27 and final March 6 or 7.

Beverly Hills 70, Culver City 35

Trevor Bergher, Chance Comanche and Ryan Manoocheri each scored 15 points as the Normans completed Ocean League play 10-0 with the victory at Culver City last Thursday.

Beverly Hills led 19-5 at the end of the first quarter, 37-11 at halftime and 56-24 entering the fourth quarter.

Jalen Sands added seven, Fidel Quiralte five, Amir Hajirasooli and Denzel Holt four each, Navid Rafalian and Max Walder two each and Eman Rafalian one for the Normans.

Manoocheri made five 3-point baskets and Bergher two.

Girls' Basketball

Hawthorne 51, Beverly Hills 43

Norman senior guard Jessica Melamed scored 27 points in an Ocean League game at Hawthorne Feb. 4.

Beverly Hills trailed 27-16 at halftime, then outscored the Cougars 16-10 in the third quarter as Melamed scored 11 points, making both of her three-point baskets, and Lauren Moghavem made a 3-point basket.

The Normans were outscored 14-11 in the fourth quarter.

Beverly Hills trailed 14-8 at the end of the first quarter.

Phoenix Gulzer added six points,

Moghavem five, Asia Meadows three and have been its next possible home game. Isabel Rund two for the Normans.

Lawndale 54, Beverly Hills 31

Melamed scored 18 points over the first three quarters, making two 3-point baskets in the first half, in an Ocean League game at Lawndale Feb. 6.

The Normans trailed 14-8 at the end of the first quarter, 26-18 at halftime and 41-25 entering the fourth quarter.

Rund added five, including a firstquarter 3-point basket, and Gulzer and Moghavem four each.

Santa Monica 58, Beverly Hills 53

Melamed scored 34 points, making six 3-point baskets in an Ocean League game at the Swim-Gym Feb. 10.

The Normans led 45-43 entering the fourth quarter, but were outscored, 15-8, over the final eight minutes.

The score was tied 26-26 at halftime, then Beverly Hills outscored the Vikings, 19-17, in the third quarter as Melamed scored 10 points, making two 3-point bas-

The Normans led 17-14 at the end of the first quarter as Melamed scored 15 points, making two 3-point baskets.

Santa Monica outscored Beverly Hills, 12-9, in the second quarter.

Moghavem added five, including a third-quarter 3-point basket, Meadows five, Gulzer four, Bronte Yamodim three on a second-quarter 3-point basket and Rund

What's Next?

The Normans are scheduled to play Ocean View in a Southern Section Division 3A first-round playoff game tonight at 7 p.m. in the Swim-Gym.

Beverly Hills became the host school for the game because Ocean View did not use the mandated Spalding basketball during a playoff game last season and by violating a Southern Section playoff rule, losing the right to be the host for what would

The Seahawks are 18-7 and tied for second in the Golden West League with a 7-3 record in league play. They are seeded 13th in the 31-team bracket.

The Normans enter the playoffs with a 7-18 record and a seven-game losing streak.

If Beverly Hills wins, it would play Saturday at 7 p.m. against the winner of tonight's game between fourth-seeded Lompoc and San Luis Obispo.

The Normans would play host to Lompoc, because tonight's game is not considered a home game for purposes of determining a playoff game site, according to Thom Simmons, the Southern Section's director of communications.

Under Southern Section rules, the team playing the fewer home playoff games is the home team for the next one. If the teams have played the same number of home games, the site is determined by a coin toss.

Beverly Hills would play at San Luis Obispo because it lost the coin toss to determine the site.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county re-corder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (714) 573-1965 or visit this Internet Web site www.priorityposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 14-51724. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.
