Stettinski resigns from Chamber of Commerce

Alex Stettinski

Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Alex Stettinski, who began his tenure in June 2011, announced his resignation Tuesday.

"It was a most difficult decision to leave an organization that is nothing short of spectacular," Stettinski said in a statement. "We had an incredible four years together, and I am the luckiest guy in the world to have had the privilege to work with such a powerful Board, an incredibly talented staff and a community so supportive of the Chamber's efforts."

Stettinski recently accepted a role at Visit West Hollywood that starts later this month. Formerly known as the West Hollywood Marketing & Visitors Bureau, Visit West Hollywood is the official marketing organization for the City of West Hollywood.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors said in a statement that they have formed a search committee that is currently identifying a successor.

Former Chamber President Marc Wolf and Chamber President Kelly Scott did not return calls from the Weekly by press time.

Rodeo Drive Committee nabs "spectacular" LAX billboard

At the City Council Study Session June 30, Rodeo Drive Committee President Mark Tronstein outlined the committee's marketing strategy, which includes a newly acquired LAX billboard.

"We have a banner that's about 48-feet by 10-feet that every inbound visitor in the International terminal has to see before they go to customs," Tronstein said. "We are one of the first to actually secure this site; it's in very high demand. We're ecstatic about it."

The Committee

has secured the billboard from May to August 2015. According to Tronstein, LAX advertising costs around $30,000 per month. Production and design costs bring the grand total to $190,000 for six months.

A projected minimum of 3.28 million international passengers will travel through the site during the six-month period.

"I think you should secure that spot in perpetuity," Councilmember Nancy Krasne said.

Tronstein said that the volunteer-based organization, which increased its membership by 3.5 percent last year, launched an airport advertising campaign.

"Part of [the campaign] was an advertisement in Worth magazine as well as a gift guide distribution in some of the local private airports. This was primarily focused around the holidays," Tronstein said.

Geary's President and CEO Tom Blumenthal said that if the Rodeo Drive Committee ever decides to give up the billboard, he would be happy to take over the spot.

Traffic & Parking to discuss tour bus activity today

The Traffic & Parking Commission will review options for additional tour bus passenger loading and unloading zones in or bordering the business triangle today at 10:30 am at City Hall.

The Commission's recommendations will be forwarded to the City Council for consideration at a future date.

Felony vandalism suspect arrested

Beverly Hills Police Department detectives arrested 28-year-old Marlon Andrino July 2 at approximately 1:00 pm on multiple charges of felony vandalism.

An Ontario resident, Andrino allegedly vandalized the Chamber of Commerce building on South Santa Monica Boulevard July 1, leaving an anti-SB 277 message in black spray paint on the front of the structure.

Senate Bill 277, which was signed into law by Governor Jerry Brown June 30, abolishes the "personal belief" exemption that allowed parents to opt their children out of school vaccine requirements.

During the course of the investigation, it was discovered that the City of West Hollywood City Hall and two locations along the 10 freeway were also vandalized with similar writings.

Andrino's bail is set at $80,000. The Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department West Hollywood Station Detectives and California Highway Patrol Investigators also participated in the investigation.

"Water conservation"

I like the way that Beverly Hills does business. Water conservation has caused the city to increase water rates in order to make up for lost revenue. Extravagant water users should be fined but the rest of us should not be punished just because we have done a good job.

Design Review Commission to revisit 607 Alta Drive

At their July 2nd meeting, the Design Review Commission denied property owner Shelly Sterling a permit which would have authorized façade modifications to the two-story home located on 607 Alta Drive.

Commission Chair Arline Pepp recused herself from the discussion because she lives within 500 feet of the subject property, but she reappeared as a resident objecting the renovations and echoing many neighbors' concerns.

"The alterations were done without a permit and these changes are not compatible with the original architectural style," Pepp said. "Furthermore, the house no longer blends in with the streetscape, [which] has many Spanish Mission Revival homes."

In a letter to the Sterling Family Trust last September, Nomi Castle, who lives next door at 605 North Alta Drive, outlined "trespass and encroachment issues" associated with the renovation that took place; the modifications had not been approved by a permit.

"You should be treating it essentially as though the work has not been done yet and you're being asked to review these new elements that have been added," said City Planner/Assistant Director of Community Development Ryan Gohlich.

Sterling, who does not live in the residence, but rather rents out the property, repeatedly called the original dwelling "boring" and "ugly."

"I'll never buy another house in Beverly Hills," Sterling said.

The Commission will revisit the project at their meeting on August 6.

Board to appoint Beverly High, Hawthorne principals tonight

At a closed session meeting tonight at 6:00 pm, the Board of Education is scheduled to appoint a principal for Hawthorne and an "interim" principal for Beverly High.

A Hawthorne principal finalist from another district reportedly declined the offer.

City Council greenlights two additional red light cameras

At their Study Session June 30, the City Council approved the addition of two new red light cameras, bringing the total number of red light cameras in the City to 17.

Following the Council's decision, the Olympic Boulevard-Beverly Drive intersection will be outfitted with red light cameras. Adding the two cameras will cost around $88,000 annually.

"People think we're doing this to make money—I don't know that we make any money on this, but it sure makes people a whole lot safer," said Councilmember Nancy Krasne.

The current contract cost for 15 red light cameras is about $640,000 annually.

The Council approved a contract with Xerox State and Local Solutions Inc. for a photo red light program last October.

Peri Ellen Berne

General Manager of Brooks Brothers

How did you become General Manager of Brooks Brothers?

I was approached by their HR person and he was with Jim Jahant, who is the former manager, and he said, "You know, I'd love to talk to you about an opportunity with Brooks Brothers." And I said, "Well, let me think about it." And then I gave them a call. The thing that I liked about Brooks Brothers was that the store kind of had everything that my career has had in it. It had women's, it had men's, it had kid's—and it was an American brand, and I hadn't worked for an American brand in a very long time. So it was something that seemed very interesting for me in that point in my career. It also, you know, is a beautiful, historical building, so it really allowed me to have the opportunity to have this beautiful space on Rodeo Drive. Brooks Brothers is a brand of a great history, and other companies I've worked for have a very rich heritage, so I've always kind of looked for that in a brand. So the fact that I could have an American brand that represented so many different legs of my previous career—but all under one roof—became very provocative for me. The other thing was, it had an Italian owner, and I had worked almost primarily for Italian companies, so it was wonderful that I had an American brand that was owned by an Italian.

Did your predecessor Jim Jahant give you any advice?

No, he had a wonderful experience with Brooks Brothers. He truly had a wonderful experience there, and so you know, when someone leaves a company after 11 years, and they speak highly of it, that's something that's really powerful for someone coming in.

You are a proponent of being deeply involved in the community you work in. Why?

I'm very lucky because I've been able to wear every hat: I'm a resident of the community and at the same time I have a connection to the City because my husband grew up here. My husband lived in Beverly Hills since he was virtually born, so he would tell me the stories of Beverly Hills being a small town, and I always thought it's a very luxurious and glamorous community. I remember one time, early in my career, I said to him, "What would you think about me applying to a job on Rodeo Drive?" And he said, "I think it would be great." I then got my first job, and that's when I started feeling like I was part of the community. I really believe that if you're part of the Rodeo Drive/City of Beverly Hills landscape, you have to be involved in different ways. I've been lucky, because I've worked on the street for over 25 years, but at the same time my husband had a big connection having grown up here and my kids grew up here. My kids went to Beverly High and they went to Beverly Vista, so there were lots of opportunities for us to have the sense of the community from the resident's perspective, too.

You have over 20 years of experience working for luxury retailers in Beverly Hills.

What has sustained your interest throughout the years?

I love what I do. I love being in a store. I find a retail environment very exciting and very stimulating and I love working with customers and a staff to build a team and have relationships with a team and develop them and develop their skills. I love the excitement that's generated on the sales floor and I love the excitement that I feel from the products.

You are also a member of the Rodeo Drive Committee. Tell us about your role there.

I'm a former president and I've been serving as vice president for a while. And then I chair the Rodeo Drive Walk of Style. As the Chair of the Rodeo Drive Walk of Style, I also serve as the Vice President of the Rodeo Drive Committee.

The Rodeo Drive Committee hosts numerous events throughout the year, including the Walk of Style and the Concours d'Elegance. Tell us about these events.

The Concours is a wonderful event; it's become a tradition in Beverly Hills. I think when you have deep-rooted traditions, they help add to the fabric of the residential and retail communities. The Concours brings visitors and it becomes something for visitors to see. I think it's just a wonderful event and it seems very appropriate that it's held annually on Father's Day. These events help continue Rodeo Drive's tradition of being a glamorous destination.

Who were the players in the Committee when you first got involved?

Efrem Harkham, Fred Hayman. John Carroll was one, because Carroll & Co. was still on Rodeo. Around 1994, I had the opportunity to meet the late Craig Donahue. He was the PR for the Rodeo Drive Committee and we formed a bond immediately. He was very welcoming and inviting to me and helped show me the way.

You chair the Rodeo Drive Walk of Style, which honored Burberry last year. Tell us about that.

In 2002, we tried to develop the program. Then, in 2003, it became official. We went to the City, and at the time, Mark Egerman was mayor and Meralee Goldman was incoming mayor. And they were both very supportive of the program. The first time we went to the City was in February 2002. I think that there are a few things that happened with the program. First of all, the program connects fashion and entertainment; that's really what the core of the program is—the relationship between the two of them. And it has to do with style as well, how style factors into that—because style and fashion and entertainment are interconnected in many ways. If you look at a past honoree: Herb Ritts or Mario Testino, who are both photographers, they have a very stylized art of photography. So they are legends of style in a completely different way than a Giorgio Armani is, or a Tom Ford. And that's what makes this program very provocative.

Tell us about your family.

My husband, Fred, and I are married 29 years. He grew up in Beverly Hills and went to Hawthorne and Beverly High. Our kids went to Beverly Vista and Beverly High. Our son, Jacob, works at the Gersh Agency, so he's continuing the tradition of working and being a resident in Beverly Hills. My daughter, Nicole, just got her master's degree from Hebrew Union College and she's going on to rabbinical school. My husband is retired; he works on his golf game these days.

How has Rodeo Drive changed since you started?

It's crazy how it's changed. I think the most visible ways that Rodeo Drive has changed is that a lot of these luxury retailers came and established a footing. So if you look at Gucci, for example, they took a footing for their store on Rodeo Drive and they made a beautiful store. When Gucci came, it truly changed the landscape of the street. And then you look at when Hermes came to the street, it was a very small store that was in the 300 block. Now they have a global flagship store in the 400 block. Louis Vuitton is a perfect example of that as well; they started with a very small store in the 300 block and then they built a global flagship store in the 200 block. And then you look at the brand I represent, Brooks Brothers, with stores all over the world. But we have an extraordinary flagship store in a historic building that has the combination of old-world charm and the best of what Brooks Brothers has to offer. And we have all of the various categories that are available under the brand.

What are the Committee's plans for the future?

I think the most important thing going forward with Rodeo Drive, just in general, is Rodeo Drive continually reinvents itself and stays relevant in the changing retail environment that we know currently. You look at Rodeo Drive right now and we have some of our stores undergoing major remodels—Salvatore Ferragamo is undergoing a major remodel, we have Bali that's doing a new store, we have Emporio Armani who's coming into Rodeo Drive. So it always stays fresh and interesting.

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM IS SAFE, FACULTY SAYS

Three months later, many unanswered questions in auditorium closures

By Mina Riazi

In a surprising move, the Board of Education approved closing down auditoriums at Beverly High, El Rodeo and Hawthorne with a 3-2 vote at their April 14th meeting.

Board President Brian Goldberg and Board members Lisa Korbatov and Lewis Hall voted in support of the closures. Board Vice President Howard Goldstein and Board member Noah Margo dissented.

At a recent Board hearing, BHUSD Interim Director of Facilities Tim Buresh predicted that the auditoriums could be shuttered for around two years.

Buresh, who advocated for the shut-downs, originally cited the auditoriums' ceiling tiles, which he claimed would be dangerous in the wake of a seismic event.

Beverly High Director/Theatre Operations Specialist Annie Terry is familiar with the KL Peters auditorium ceiling tiles and helped supervise the facility's 2003 remodel, along with the late choral director Joel Pressman.

The renovation included the construction of an orchestra pit, among other improvements. Opponents of the closure question why—if the auditorium is truly unsafe—this was not addressed in 2003.

In late April, Terry sent an email to Board member Lewis Hall [see right] in response to a conversation they had after running into each other near the high school.

"I asked you what was being deemed unsafe and you answered that the ceiling tiles in the auditorium were the original 40-pound ceramic tiles installed when the theater was built in the 1920s and that they could hurt people if they fell in an earthquake," Terry wrote in the email.

Terry remembers that a few of the new ceiling tiles fell soon after the auditorium reopened in 2003. They were lightweight—"approximately two pounds at most, not 40."

No student has been injured by a falling tile in the 80-year history of the Peters auditorium.

Hall responded with a note from Buresh, who clarified that the plaster ceiling, and not the tiles, is the real problem.

"The problem is the plaster ceiling that [the tiles are] glued to," Buresh said. "It isn't adequately supported and in an earthquake it would fail and chunks of it would fall down and it weighs over 40 pounds per square foot." If Buresh is correct, then the tiles should not have initially framed the discussion.

Peters once housed a bevy of performances, including theatrical productions, graduation ceremonies, dance show recitals, assemblies and concerts.

"Shutting down the auditorium has made and will continue to make a huge negative impact on several school programs, including dance shows, performing arts department productions, assemblies, concerts, award ceremonies, graduations, open houses, back to school night, counselors events, rentals etc.," Terry wrote.

Echoing Terry's concerns, former BHEF President Jonathan Prince, whose son recently graduated from the Performing Arts Program, believes the auditorium closures will have far-reaching impacts.

"When you close the auditoriums, you lose a performance space, but you also lose classrooms and you also lose public gathering spaces," Prince said. "The Board spent absolutely no time considering the effect that closing those auditoriums might have on performances at the end of the year."

The Board's decision, Prince believes, was politically motivated. "I think certain Board members were eager to put shovels into the ground as quickly as possible in order to beat Metro to the punch," Prince said. "I'm not sure that that strategy is politically sound, I'm not sure that that strategy works, but I am sure that that strategy sacrificed the ability of students and teachers and parents to utilize these spaces for the past few months and indeed the near future. Once again, we're playing political football with our children."

"The tiles weigh approximately two pounds at most, not 40."

[Board of Education member Lewis] Hall,

This is the email I told you I would write you regarding the conversation we had today. I have CCed members of the performing arts department and administration at the high school as well.

When we met by chance in front of the high school today I stopped to quiz you about the high school auditorium closure. I asked you what was being deemed unsafe and you answered that the ceiling tiles in the auditorium were the original 40 pound ceramic tiles installed when the theater was built in the 1920s and that they could hurt people if they fell in an earthquake. However, I know that the ceiling tiles in the Peters auditorium were replaced in 2003 the last time there was a remodel. As a matter of fact, several of the new ceiling tiles fell right after the auditorium opened in 2003 and I can guarantee you that those tiles weigh approximately two pounds at most, not 40. I was the one who collected them when they fell and had several of them sitting on my desk for months (I was keeping them for a time when they might be replaced). I am not sure what the material used for them is, but I know that it is lightweight enough that I could break it in half with my own two hands.

I am writing this email now to ask that those making the decision to shut down the theater please be sure that they are doing so with correct information. If it is indeed shut down because the ceiling tiles that could fall are 40 pound ceramic tiles from 1928 then I can guarantee you that that is no longer the case.

As I mentioned in our conversation today, shutting down the auditorium has made and will continue to make a huge negative impact on several school programs, including dance shows, performing arts department productions, assemblies, concerts, award ceremonies, graduations, open houses, back to school night, counselors events, rentals etc). If the theater was shut down in error, based on false information, then I hope we can remedy the auditorium's closure immediately!

Thanks for hearing me out,

Annie Terry

RESOLUTION NO. 15-R-13045

RESOLUTION OF THE COUNCIL OF THE
CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS ESTABLISHING A PENALTY SURCHARGE FOR WATER USAGE CONTRARY TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE STAGE D WATER CONSERVATION MEASURES

RECITALS

WHEREAS, during calendar year 2014, the Governor declared a drought in the State of California and the State Water Resources Control Board enacted emergency water conservation measures. As a result, the City of Beverly Hills declared the Stage B shortage, which is currently in effect, mandating a 10% reduction in potable water use.

WHEREAS, in April 2015, the Governor issued an Executive Order directing the State Water Board to impose restrictions to achieve an aggregate statewide 25% reduction in potable urban water use through February 2016. As a result, the State Water Board released a preliminary framework, outlining reduction targets from 8% to 36% for each water supplier, with Beverly Hills having a reduction target of 36%. Upon additional review of information submitted by the City of Beverly Hills, the State Water Board reduced the reduction target to 32%.

WHEREAS, on May 5, 2015, the City Council adopted its resolution No. 15-R-13037 declaring and implementing Stage D water conservation measures pursuant to Beverly Hills Municipal Code Section 9-4-304 and authorizing a penalty surcharge for water usage contrary to the provisions of the Stage D water conservation measures.

WHEREAS, pursuant to Beverly Hills Municipal Code Section 9-4-302, the City Council desires to establish a penalty surcharge for water usage contrary to the provisions of the Stage D water conservation measures.

NOW THEREFORE, the City Council of the City of Beverly Hills does hereby resolve as follows:

Section 1. The City Council hereby establishes a penalty surcharge for water usage contrary to the provisions of Stage D as follows:

a. For a customer who reduces water use by less than thirty percent (30%) of the amount in the baseline period, the penalty surcharge is 1.59 times the basic water rate for water usage in excess of seventy percent (70%) of the amount in the baseline period.

b. For a customer who reduces water use by less than twelve percent (12%) of the amount in the baseline period, the penalty surcharge is an additional 3.08 times the basic water rate for water usage in excess of eighty-eight percent (88%) of the amount in the baseline period (for a cumulative 4.67 times the basic water rate for water usage in excess of eighty-eight percent (88%) of the amount in the baseline period).

c. The baseline period shall be the days in the 2013 calendar year against which water use is compared for those same days in the current year (for example, the baseline period is July 1, 2013 through August 31, 2013 for determining the amount water use reduction for July 1, 2015 through August 31, 2015).

d. The penalty surcharge established by this section shall be effective October 15, 2015.

Section 2. In accordance with Beverly Hills Municipal Code Section 9-4-303, the City Council hereby directs the City Clerk to publish this Resolution within 10 days of its adoption at least once in a newspaper of general circulation within the city and to post this Resolution in at least three (3) public places and continue to post this Resolution until such time as the restrictions set forth herein are repealed by resolution of the City Council.

Section 3. The City Clerk shall certify to the adoption of this resolution and shall cause this resolution and his certification to be entered in the Book of Resolutions of the Council of the City.
