Hilton "tower" on ballot for November 8

A large and vocal crowd that included former mayors Robert K. Tanenbaum and Linda Briskman packed the Council Chambers Tuesday night, in anticipation of a discussion on the controversial Hilton project.

On November 8, Beverly Hills voters are expected to vote "yes" or "no" on the Hilton Condominium Tower Initiative, the 26-story residential development first presented to the public in March as the Beverly Hills Garden and Open Space Initiative.

Though the initiative would result in the city's first-ever 345-foot building, councilmembers clashed on whether or not the structure should be called a "tower" on the ballot.

"As far as the word tower, it's true that it was used repeatedly by the developers to describe the Hilton building, referring to it as the Wilshire tower, and it's true that this initiative-the building that it would allow-is almost three times as tall, so I don't understand how it would be a pejorative in one sense, but not in the other sense," said newly appointed Councilmember Kathy Reims, who in her brief time on the Council has traditionally sided with Councilmember Lili Bosse.

But Bosse and Vice Mayor Nancy Krasne, who submitted a letter because she was not present, did not support the word "tower," siding with both Briskman and Tanenbaum, who have publically advocated for the project. A vocal opponent, Mayor John Mirisch said "skyscraper" might be a more fitting descriptor.

"I quite frankly think 'tower' is rather harmless, and is appropriate," Mirisch said.

The deadline to submit arguments for or against the measure is August 2.

Board expected to autho-rize new bond measure

Two separate bond resolutions vying for placement on the November 8th ballot appeared on the Board of Education staff report Tuesday, even though the Board lacked a clear plan for how the district would spend the funds.

Originally valued at $400 million, the bond package was later downsized to $260 million.

A Proposition-39 measure, Resolution No. 003 requires 55-percent voter approval, and Resolution No. 004 requires 66.7-percent voter approval; at least four Board members must vote "yes" to authorize the former, while the latter requires only three votes.

The non-Proposition 39 resolution is not subject to review by the Citizens' Oversight Committee.

Though Board members Howard Goldstein, Lisa Korbatov and Noah Margo indicated support for a new bond, Board members Isabel Hacker and Mel Spitz did not, meaning the measure would have needed 66.7 percent voter approval to pass.

Margo, who said he would rather move forward with four votes, asked Spitz whether he might reconsider his decision if the Board held "a study session or two" before August 12, the deadline to place the resolution on the ballot.

"If we can agree on the specific projects and the cost of each project and then put it to the voters, I think that's a reasonable thing to do," said Spitz, who had presented a strong argument against the measure minutes before.

Earlier this year, the Board approved construction plans for the remaining Measure E bond funds, a $274-million package dubbed "Phase One." The cost breakdown includes $70.7 million for modernization work at Beverly High, $4.9 million at Beverly Vista, $76.5 million at El Rodeo, $12 million at Hawthorne and $75.4 million at Horace Mann.

But even after Phase One is complete, the district expects to spend close to $300 million on Phase Two, including $76 million on Beverly High's Building C, an elaborate parking structure adjacent to the Swim Gym.

Hacker mentioned that the Board has accelerated Measure E thrice since the bond's 2008 inception, each time without voter approval.

"The Board majority has voted three separate times to accelerate the bond, which has led to an increase in property bills three times," Hacker said.

A survey conducted by Godbe Research in May to assess potential voter support for a new bond measure depicted a public that needs convincing.

Informed support for the bond stood at 51.2 percent, and roughly 33 percent of Project proposed for 9206 and 9212 Olympic Blvd.

Gordon: "[Olympic Blvd. corridor] should remain a two-story corridor"

A three-story commercial building proposed for an Olympic-Blvd. corridor received two thumbs down from Planning Commission Vice Chair Lori Greene Gordon, who indicated the project would set a destructive precedent for the area.

"This is a corridor that heretofore—with the exception of one building on the corner of Doheny [Drive] and Olympic [Boulevard]—is a one-and-two-story corridor," Gordon said at the Commission's July 14th meeting. "What we are now doing by approving this is now saying that this is acceptable to become a three-story corridor."

But Gordon was outvoted by her colleagues, who all supported the project. Commission Chair Farshid Joe Shooshani's main critique related to the need for more modulation.

"This is the first building that we are going to do on the Olympic corridor, and it's going to be a trendsetter," Shooshani said.

Helmed by ETCO Homes developer Afshin Etebar, the project envisions a three-story, 35-foot commercial building on the plot located at 9206 and 9212 Olympic Boulevard.

The first floor will contain a mix of restaurant and retail spaces and the second and third floors will contain offices. A car rental company currently operates a surface parking lot on the property.

"From the beginning of this project we were very mindful of the community," Etebar said at Tuesday's City Council study session.

After receiving comments from residents "who felt that some issues needed to be addressed," Mayor John Mirisch requested on Tuesday the Council discuss whether the Commission's determination should be called up for review. The Council did not support the action.

Before voting no last week, Gordon said "sorry," but then quickly retracted her apology.

"This is not the kind of improvement that enhances the neighborhood," she said.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

DATE: TIME: LOCATION:

July 28, 2015

1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard Commission Meeting Room 280A Beverly Hills City Hall 455 North Rexford Drive Beverly Hills, CA 90210

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at its regular meeting on Thursday, July 28, 2015, will hold a public hearing beginning at 1:30 PM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider:

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS AMENDING THE BEVERLY HILLS MUNICIPAL CODE TO CLARIFY LANGUAGE ON EXISTING REGULATIONS RELATED TO PORTE COCHERES SOUTH OF SANTA MONICA BOULEVARD, PUBLIC NOTICING REQUIREMENTS, PAVING IN FRONT YARDS, TIME OF EXERCISE OF RIGHTS FOR CONDITIONAL USE PERMITS AND THE LIST OF MINOR ACCOMMODATIONS THAT MAY BE GRANTED.

The proposed Ordinance would include minor modifications to existing code language to address inaccuracies, remove errors and improve the clarity of the Beverly Hills Municipal Code (BHMC). The proposed amendments included in the Ordinance would not represent substantive changes to the current meaning or interpretation of the code sections being amended. The proposed language changes would include:

- Amendment of BHMC 10-3-2406, BHMC 10-3-2409 and BHMC 10-3-2423 to clarify that a driveway covered by a porte cochere is an allowable encroachment within the required nine foot side property setback area on single family residential lots located south of Santa Monica Boulevard,
- Amendment of BHMC 10-3-253 to correct the public notification mailed notice radius requirements for cases requiring Planning review at the Commission or Council level, changing the requirement from 300 feet radius plus block-face to the intended 500 feet radius plus block-face,
- Amendment of BHMC 10-3-2422 to clarify that a walkway that does not exceed five feet in width is allowed within three feet of the front property line on single family lots located in the Central Area of the City,
- Amendment of BHMC 10-3-3805 to correct a typo in the code section referring to a planned development approval instead of a conditional use permit, and
- Amendment to BHMC 10-3-3600 removing a identified minor accommodation for building height north of Santa Monica Boulevard as adopted amendments to the Code have made this minor accommodation inapplicable.

This Ordinance has been assessed in accordance with the authority and criteria contained in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the State CEQA Guidelines, and the environmental regulations of the City. The adoption and implementation of the Ordinance represents minor semantic changes to the existing code and does not represent substantive changes in meaning or interpretation of the code. It can therefore be seen with certainty that there is no possibility that the proposed amendments may have a significant effect on the environment. Accordingly, the Planning Commission will consider the recommendation to find the Ordinance exempt from the environmental review requirements of CEQA pursuant to Section 15061(3) of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations.

Any interested person may attend the meeting and be heard or present written comments to the Commission.

According to Government Code Section 65009, if you challenge the Commission's action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City, either at or prior to the public hearing.

If there are any questions regarding this notice, please contact Timothea Tway, Associate Planner in the Planning Division at 310.285.1122, or by email at ttway@beverlyhills.org. The case file, including associated documents are on file in the Community Development Department, and can be reviewed by any interested person at 455 North Rexford Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90210.

participants responded either "somewhat unfavorable" or "very unfavorable" when asked their opinion of the job the "district is doing to effectively manage and spend taxpayer dollars and public funds."

When respondents were read arguments against the bond, 37.1 percent said they were "much more likely" to vote against it based on the statement: "The district wasted the money from the 2008 Measure E campaign."

"There are some trust issues, there are some concerns about management," said Charles Heath, partner at campaign consulting firm TBWB Strategies, at a meeting last month.

The Board will vote to place the bond resolution on the November 8th ballot at their August 9th meeting.

Metro to demolish five buildings in September for La Cienega staging

In preparation for the Metro subway station proposed for the northeast corner of Wilshire and La Cienega boulevards, the demolition of five buildings will commence September 1.

The former Citibank building and the former Phoenix restaurant site on the northeast corner of Wilshire and La Cienega Boulevards; the former Luther Bank Building and the former Eden Sassoon Pilates studio on the northwest corner of Wilshire and Gale; and a vacated apartment building located at 111 North Gale are all slated for demolition. Metro will use the parcels for construction staging.

Due to migratory birds nesting on site, the demolition was pushed back from June to September 1, which marks the end of the bird nesting season. The work encompasses mobilization, fence installation, demolition and demobilization, and is expected to last 10 weeks.

The utilities currently located underneath Wilshire Boulevard must first be transferred elsewhere. Per the City Council's direction, the utility relocation schedule is limited to Mondays to Fridays from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays or Sundays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Council authorized demolition permits in April.

Public Works Commission meeting July 14, the city has even bigger plans for the reservoir, which was taken out of service in 1986.

"We are currently in the process of putting out an RFP [Request for Proposal] for a non-potable water delivery system from this reservoir, so we're going to be designing a conveyance system that would then take it to parks, and then also create the distribution system that complies with the [Los Angeles County Department of Public Health]," Rhay said.

Construction of a temporary reservoir liner is anticipated to begin in August and last four months. Built in 1927, the Cabrillo Reservoir was capped due to groundwater seepage.

"My understanding is that this water is outstanding water –it's pretty darn close to being potable, according to [Public Works Services Director] George [Chavez]," said Commissioner Jerrold Felsenthal.

Tree watering on Parcel 13 started Wednesday

In an email last week, Beverly Hills Community Services Director Nancy Hunt-Coffey announced the city had finished trimming the Eucalyptus trees along the south side of parcel 13. The city began watering the trees Wednesday.

Located in the area between Santa Monica Boulevard and Civic Center Drive, parcels 12 and 13 total five acres and are owned by developer Lyn Konheim. The lots were stripped of their trees November 21 and 22, without notification to neighboring residents, businesses and the Department of Toxic Substance Control (DTSC).

The cutting on the 22nd coincided with the weekly Farmers Market, which takes place Sundays on Civic Center Drive. In the months following the incident, residents frustrated with the way the city conducted the process spoke out at Council meetings. Their concerns focused on the possibility that market goers were exposed to toxic fumes after the trees were removed from the arsenic-laced soil.

"Given the drought and lower-thanaverage rainfall, we intend to water the Eucalyptus trees situated in the southern section of Parcel 13 adjacent to Civic Center Drive on a weekly basis," Hunt-Coffey wrote in the email.

Hunt-Coffey explained that water will be applied at a rate that does not produce run-off or erosion.

"Out of an abundance of caution, the city will have an environmental hygienist onsite the first day of watering to ensure that best practices are established," Hunt-Coffey wrote.

Cultural Heritage Commission nominates Rexford Dr. property for landmark designation

A mid-century, eight-unit apartment building located at 328 South Rexford Drive was nominated for landmark designation by the Cultural Heritage Commission at their July 13th meeting.

"I believe [the apartment building] retains substantial integrity from its period of significance," said Commission Vice Chair Noah Furie.

Constructed in 1956, the two-story structure was architect Jules G. Salkin's second apartment endeavor. The Commission briefly touched upon Salkin's checkered past: in 1968, he was indicted for defrauding the U.S. Small Business Administration of $445,000, and later for tax evasion.

"Just because he has a little bit of a sordid past, should that not mean we still recognize his involvement and his work?" said Commission Chair Rebecca Pynoos.

The Commission supported naming the structure "Salkin Apartment Building No. 2."

Later, the Commission initiated landmark proceedings for a Spanish Colonial Revival residence located at 1119 San Ysidro Drive, meaning the property will undergo thorough historical analysis before it is brought back for formal consideration.

Built in 1927, the single-family home was designed by architect Stephen Gooson.

"[Gooson] was nominated for five Academy Awards as an art director and a designer, and that's sort of a legacy we have throughout the city," Pynoos said.

Open call to residents for Fine Art proposals

The City of Beverly Hills and the Fine Art Commission are inviting residents to recommend fine artwork for consideration of purchase and to become part of the City's Public Art collection. Fine art for consideration must be, or will be, created by an established artist. An established artist shall mean a professional artist who derives his or her income primarily from his or her work as an artist and is accepted and recognized in the field of fine art, internationally or nationally.

Every year, the Fine Art Commission recommends to the Council a piece of art to be purchased and displayed using Fine Art Funds. It is the Fine Art Commission's mission to acquire and accept fine art that promotes the city's cultural image, enhances citizens' cultural experiences, provides diversity in artists and artwork and assures art is accessible to everyone. The Fine Art Fund was established using monies from developers' fees earmarked for the acquisition, installation, maintenance and display of art for public enjoyment.

Beverly Hills is home to over 60 pieces of public art on display in its parks, buildings and other public spaces. Providing public art is a priority to the City of Beverly Hills and it demonstrates the City's commitment to cultural responsibility and support of the arts.

CVB Board of Directors Chair Todd Orlich on attracting visitors to Beverly Hills

By Mina Riazi

When we first spoke to you in issue #775, you had just started as General Manager of Montage Beverly Hills. Tell us about the experience so far.

It's been an incredible, life-changing experience for me and my wife [Victoria]. We love living in the city: great restaurants, beautiful galleries [and] the best shopping in the world, but I found what's most inspiring about living here is the people that we've had an opportunity to meet and get to know. I've just never been part of a community that has so many people that care about it so deeply.

How did you become involved with the Conference and Visitors Bureau?

They'd ask me to consider it upon my arrival here. As you may know, all the hotel general managers are very involved in the Visitors Bureau, and have been for many years. The least I could do was offer my support to their great work right as soon as I got here; I found that the Board, especially, is really extraordinary. Even though we're competitors for some of the same guests, the amount of cross support to each hotel provided by all the general managers is really amazing. I think we're all looking for the better good of the city, whether it's putting together Chinese New Year [or] some of the sales missions that we do to New York, Chicago [and] San Francisco, everybody is extremely involved. When you're working with each other on those activities, it doesn't matter what hotel you work with, we're all working for the common good of the city.

How does your role at Montage give you special insight into what it means to attract visitors to Beverly Hills?

I think the biggest thing that a general manager can add is the voice of the luxury customer-we're speaking to them every day, we're hearing from them the things they love [and] the things that we could have done better. We also hear the guests' passions for other cities and other locations around the world, and so we're able to bring that voice to the Visitors Bureau so that our collateral, marketing and digital efforts can reflect the current ultra-luxury customer.

It's about reminding them of everything we have to offer: the fantastic weather, the shopping, the restaurants, the galleries. But [it's also] remembering that for customers overseas, you're competing with Paris, London [and] Sao Paulo, Brazil. What we have to offer is very special, but there are a lot of great places around the world. I believe Beverly Hills is the finest, so it's about reminding them of that, and to do it, the CVB provides us with the tools to be able to communicate effectivelywhether it's the digital platform, such as the "Love Beverly Hills" website, or the great photography showcased in the city or The [Definition] of Luxury book they came out with that allows us to speak specifically about what makes the city special.

Tell us about the CVB's upcoming events.

I think the most notable is the New York sales mission that we're going to be [holding] at Le Bernardin. We'll be hosting over a 100 of the most highend travel professionals and we will be promoting the incredible destination of Beverly Hills. The CVB is looking to make their visitor center even more attractive to maximize the space. I think it's going to be about everything from better signage, relocation of existing furniture, building out the display areas and continuing to make that corner of Canon [Drive] and Santa Monica [Boulevard] even more attractive.

In our issue #820 interview with former Board Chair Sal Abaunza, he said, "One of the dynamic things that has happened over the last year is the CVB has actually focused on international business: China, Brazil, the Middle East." What is your strategy for attracting international business?

The international customer that's coming into Los Angeles is incredibly well traveled, and most have traveled to many of the capitals around the world. They're very familiar with the luxury experience. We remind them that Beverly Hills has everything that they want: it's safe and secure, [has] incredible shopping, lots of places to walk and explore, wonderful restaurants and dining, and of course a collection of the finest hotels in the world combined with the increased international lifts to LAX-in particular, nonstop flights. We believe that we are a destination around the year for people from around the world. And to get the message out involves public relations efforts, digital and traveling to the that part of the world to tell them personally about Beverly Hills, because you have to convince travel agents that destination for their guests and the best way to do that is face to face. The Conference and Visitors Bureau split from the Chamber of Commerce several years ago. How has the split impacted the CVB?

The one thing I will say is I'm very impressed at how well the Chamber and the CVB work together for the good of Beverly Hills. Whether it's on branding initiatives, digital initiatives, interactive initiatives [or] PR initiatives, there seems to be a lot of back and forth between both [organizations]. I know there's the Will Rogers Awards that are coming up in October that the Friends of Beverly Gardens Park are putting together, and the Chamber and CVB are working very closely on that.

Who do you enjoy working with on the CVB?

Our CEO Julie Wagner has been particularly passionate about promoting Beverly Hills as a world-renowned icon of sophistication, style and service, touching every aspect of marketing, media relations, travel and special events. I also admire the work of Mary Saunders De Hoyos, Senior Director of Business Development, and Claire Delacruz Soe, Communications Manager. I'm

we are the right Todd and Victoria Orlich

"The international" customer that's coming into Los Angeles is incredibly well traveled, and most have traveled to many of the capitals around the world. They're very familiar with the luxury experience. We remind them that Beverly Hills has everything that they want: it's safe and secure, [has] incredible shopping, lots of places to walk and explore, wonderful restaurants and dining, and of course a collection of the finest hotels in the world"

impressed and inspired by the entire team. Tell us about your family. My wife

Victoria [and I] have been married for 22 years and our son [Griffin] heading is off to college at George Washington University. We have a daughter, Emily-she just finished high school down in Orange County and [she will be] applying to colleges next year. We live off of Coldwater [Canyon] in the hills. I was the general manager of Montage Laguna Beach. I think there are more similarities than differences between [Los Angeles and Orange County]. Obviously, Los Angeles and Beverly Hills are culturally so deep and rich. We're absolutely in love with downtown Los Angeles and everything that happening is there-I think Los Angeles is undergoing a constant state of evolution.

As Board Chair, what will you be happy to have accomplished one year from now?

I think if we can continue to expand the market of Beverly Hills, not only in terms of occupancy, but average rate; I think improving the awareness of our incredible hotels and tourism around the world; and lastly, the continued amazing work we do with the community in terms of events, such as Chinese New Year.

The Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce has endorsed One Beverly Hills

July 12, 2016

Honorable Mayor and City Council Beverly Hills City Hall 455 N. Rexford Drive Beverly Hills, CA 90210

Dear Honorable Mayor Mirisch and Members of the City Council:

The Beverly Hills Chamber of Commerce writes to you to support the "One Beverly Hills Project" a real estate development located at 9900 Wilshire Boulevard. The Project is currently approved to construct two luxury condominium buildings, one 15 stories high and the other 13 stories. One Beverly Hills seeks to change the entitlement to permit 5 floors of the south condominium building to be converted to a 134 room hotel as well as to implement some other more modest changes to the property, such as the removal of previously planned retail space. One Beverly Hills is currently pursuing these changes through the City's planning process.

We are fully supportive both of the project as a whole as well as the requested adjustments to the original entitlement. One Beverly Hills has engaged in vigorous outreach to the community and has thoughtfully listened to the community's voice, including several presentations to the Chamber of Commerce. Among other benefits, the Project will result in millions of dollars of hotel tax revenue for the City and the Project will include a garden space open to the public. It will also include a hotel rooftop restaurant and bar that is open to the public and which will have sweeping and dramatic views out to the Pacific Ocean.

The Project will add another "feather" to the City's hat, reinforcing the City's image as the luxury capital of the world as well as a destination for world travelers and business men and women.

We have gotten to know the One Beverly Hills team well and are impressed by their commitment to the community and vision for the future. We strongly support the One Beverly Hills Project and encourage the Council to do the same.

Todd Johnson CEO
