“City Council Election”

This is a caution to the community:

When you receive from the City Council candidates applications for absentee ballots, PLEASE verify that the pre-printed name and residence address are correct. My husband and I received applications and the residence address on each of our applications was different, and more importantly were addresses in Beverly Hills that we never lived at!

With voter fraud being what it is, you cannot be too careful.

Christine Skirmuntt Ford
Beverly Hills

Publisher's note:

City Councilmember Julian Gold's campaign issued the following statement on their website:

"Urgent Update:

An error created by the company which printed the vote by mail application piece you recently received resulted in some people receiving applications with the wrong address pre-populated. We now know which applications were wrongly printed. We are working with the printer to issue new applications. If you were affected by this, your correct applications will arrive in the mail shortly. Please use these to register for vote by mail."

“Patriots Wide Receiver Arrested in Beverly Hills” [Issue #1059]

What a pity to arrest such an honorable man [Julian Edelman]. I am sure the police could have handled this much differently.

I really hope the Council will look at the actual events and determine if an interchange of information between parties would have been enough just like in any other accident.

“House of Bijan” Requests Encroachment Permit

Although they didn't make any final decisions, on January 9 the City Council considered a request by “House of Bijan” for an encroachment permit to relocate three of its existing plaques.

If approved, the plaques currently installed in the sidewalk in front of 420 North Rodeo Drive to the sidewalk in front of the new store located at 443 North Rodeo Drive. There would also be a change in the curb alignment in front of the new store to create an additional on-street parking space with a decorative parking meter.

The request follows the Council's approval in 2014 for “House of Bijan” to install seven precast concrete plaques in the sidewalk and a decorative yellow parking meter adjacent to an on-street parking space located at 420.

The retail store, however, relocated to 443 last year. They submitted a formal application on September 26, 2019 that includes proposed work like removing and relocating the existing plaques, relocating and installing a new standard parking meter, and relocating a traffic signal pole, removing a palm tree and adjustment of utilities within the sidewalk due to the modification.

Because the encroachment will exceed one year in duration per the Municipal Code, the encroachment permit requires City Council approval.

Several community members expressed support for the request either at public comment or via mail.

“I am aware the Bijan intends to relocate the Bijan Yellow Parking Meter to

Lori Greene Gordon Campaign Coffee Held

City Council candidate Lori Greene Gordon held a coffee last week on North Crescent Drive. Gordon's campaign announced that she is the only candidate who has been endorsed by all five Board of Education members. (L to R) Joan Young, Herb Young, Lori Greene Gordon, Rachele Marcus, Mel Spitz, Terry Greene, Rose Norton.

its new location,” wrote Architecture & Construction Senior Vice President Franklin Dickinson, who noted that the Rodeo Drive Committee has expressed its unanimous support. “Kindly accept this letter in support of Bijan's application to remove and relocate the yellow parking meter.”

But not all residents were on board. Former Recreation and Parks Commissioner Robbie Anderson encouraged the Council to further examine the request before making any final decisions.

“If you proceed and do this, does he own the space?” questioned Anderson. “Is this a condominium space? Does he get to feed the meter? Is this his space in entirety? There are some questions here you need to ask about this. I know they're paying for this but property along there sells for $2 million a foot. Don't be foolish on this.”

During deliberation the Council discussed how to best approach the issue so as not to create traffic issues and instead encourage pedestrianism.

“The goal would be to have net plus minus zero of sidewalk space ideally, because part of Rodeo Drive is the pedestrian experience,” said Mayor John Mirisch. “I think we can do it.”

The item will reappear before the Council at a later date.

Greystone Theater Opening Scheduled for February

Staff presented an updated Work Plan Implementation Table to the Arts & Culture Commission last Tuesday, which included a plan for the new Greystone Theater's grand opening.

The work plan serves as an update on the Ad Hoc Committee's efforts in gathering information, conducting research, putting policies and criteria in place, and “essentially establishing the infrastructure for the new purview” of the commission.

Assistant Community Services Director Pam Shinault said that all funding comes from the Community Services Department, with opening the Greystone Theater taking top priority.

Shinault said that staff visited with City Council Arts and Culture Liaisons to share the preliminary program and event plan for the theater. The meeting also included the public, who provided feedback and suggestions.

“We put together a framework, so there were different stakeholder groups reaching out to get intertwined in our plan, so that we have things like movie nights, family activities, and [to] really demonstrate how the theater can be used for both film as well as small live performances,” said Shinault.

Commissioner Zale Richard Rubins called attention to acknowledging the cost factor of putting on events like open houses and movie nights.

“I don't know that any of us are quite sure how that works, and I think that's something we need to be educated on,” said Rubins. “It's easy for us to say 'Let's do this and let's do that!' but I want to know what reality is because it certainly shapes how we say 'Let's do this and let's do that.'”

Shinault responded by pointing out that each case will have a different cost—a large, “splashy” event with paid performers will cost more than a low-key movie night, for instance.

Other priorities include creating a draft of the new Arts & Culture website and community arts calendar; creating a kickoff celebration to launch an arts and culture initiative; reviewing the City's adopted goals and priorities regarding the commission projects; reviewing the Ad Hoc committees; continuing work on the existing fine art and public art installations; and recommending and supporting the creation of one new event this year.

Shinault said that staff will present a funding request to the Council at its January 28 meeting. The theater's grand opening event is slated to take place in early to mid February.

UTA, Historical Society Present at Arts & Culture "Listening Tour"

United Talent Agency (UTA) Artist Space and the Beverly Hills Historical Society gave presentations at the January 14 Arts & Culture Commission meeting as part of a months-long "Listening Tour" series.

The series offers an opportunity for arts and culture providers, businesses and non-profit organizations to share with the commission what services and events they provide and identify ways to expand arts and culture in the City.

Stephanie Vahn

The new commission, which has only been in effect for several months, plans to distill the data and information gathered at the "Listening Tour" into a formal report in hopes of "[helping] guide the commission in the years ahead" and as the landscape of the expansion initiative unfolds.

"As the Commission establishes itself as a new Arts and Culture Commission in Beverly Hills, being informed about current offerings, gaps and opportunities will help to inform [its] work and help establish any processes [it needs] to invite and manage new ideas and partnerships," reads the mission statement.

At last Wednesday's meeting, UTA Artist Space Director Zuzanna Ciolek spoke about the organization's Fine Art division. The exhibition, she said, is committed to showcasing art "by globally recognized talent."

Established in 2016, the Artist Space has presented exhibitions like "Disembodiment" curated by Mariane Ibrahim and "Dark Fantasy" in collaboration with Carpenters Workshop Gallery.

Phil Savnick, a representative from the Beverly Hills Historical Society also presented, explaining the organization's mission and lasting attraction.

"Basically, our mandate is to try to entertain in an educational way to try to include what the City was," said Savnick. "Millions of people come here—what is the allure? Our feeling is that a lot of our culture, a lot of our past, the greatness that was here is really what the allure is about."

He highlighted the organization's dedication to sponsoring entertaining and educational events in addition to producing original content using an archive that consists of more than 200 hours of eyewitness interviews, 5,000 high-resolution photographs, and hundreds of hours of vintage footage from television shows and movies shot in the City.

The representative went on to assert that the City is in somewhat of a "cocoon period," from which it will eventually emerge "as a butterfly."

He advocated for the implementation of art initiatives and educational opportunities, as well as adding poster blow-ups to vacant buildings to inject more culture and history into the City.

During deliberation the commissioners considered the Greystone Theatre as a vessel through which the Historical Society could share their archive with the public.

Commissioner Stephanie Vahn suggested showing videos twice a month at the theatre, once it's finished.

The next "Listening Tour" installment will take place at the commission's February 11 meeting.

Bloom Reintroduces Legislation to Modernize Animal Blood Banking in California

Assemblymember Richard Bloom (D - Santa Monica) who represents Beverly Hills, introduced Assembly Bill 1953, legislation to expand licensed veterinarians' scope of practice to include the collection and sales of blood and blood products collected from dogs.

Existing California law requires animal blood banks to collect blood exclusively from so-called "closed colonies" - which confine donor animals to cages and kennels for months or years. By contrast, other states allow blood banks to collect animal blood in a community-based, voluntary setting. These programs don't rely on confined animals and lead to greater access and reduced waiting times, which can be critical in emergency situations.

Volunteer animal blood donor programs have now been established in many University-based veterinary teaching hospitals, including UC Davis, as well as at larger urban veterinary referral and emergency clinics.

"The legislature made progress during the last session to envision a path forward to expanding the supply of blood for dogs through a voluntary model similar to human blood banking," said Assemblymember Bloom. "Governor Newsom has called on us to work with him and stakeholders to craft a better balance to ensure that we transition away from the outdated and inhumane model into one we can be proud of. We can do so much better for the animals in our state and we will aim to craft a bill that balances animal welfare and the need for safe, essential animal blood through voluntary, community-based collection methods."

AB 1953 is co-sponsored by the Beagle Freedom Project, the American Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (ASPCA), and Grey2KUSA.

Bloom represents California's 50th Assembly District, which comprises the communities of Agoura Hills, Bel Air, Beverly Hills, Brentwood, Hollywood, Malibu, Pacific Palisades, Santa Monica, Topanga, West Hollywood, and West Los Angeles.

BHHS girls' soccer team rallies to tie Santa Monica, remain undefeated

By Steven Herbert

Emme Hayes put in a rebound of a free kick by Angela Bradbury with less than three minutes to play in regulation to give Beverly Hills a 3-3 tie with Santa Monica in an Ocean League girls' soccer game Friday at Nickoll Field to remain undefeated.

Neither team scored in the two 10-minute overtimes.

"This was a resilient effort from our team," Normans coach Ryan Franks said. "To fall behind three times and come back takes a lot of mental toughness. "

Bradbury scored on a 35-yard free kick shortly before halftime, tying the score 1-1. Esther Goldberg retied the score for the Normans (10-0-2, 3-0-1 in league play) when she scored from about 20 yards out off Sara Schwartz's assist.

Beverly Hills junior Nahal Sarafian made a career-high 10 saves.

The other blemish to the Normans record was a 1-1 tie with Louisville Dec. 3 in their second game of the season.

Beverly Hills 4, Hawthorne 3

Freshman Katrina Chong scored the tie-breaking goal in overtime off Goldberg's assist in an Ocean League game Jan. 15 at Hawthorne.

The Cougars scored the final goal in regulation after Goldberg gave the Normans a 3-2 lead in the 72nd minute when she scored off assists by Schwarz and Danielle Hollander.

Beverly Hills took a 2-1 lead in the 60th minute when freshman Rena Nassirzadeh scored off Chong's corner kick for her first goal.

The Normans tied the score 1-1 in the 48th minute on Talia Sarraf's unassisted goal.

Sarafian made six saves.

"This was certainly not one of our best games but we will certainly take the win," Franks said.

"We struggled with the narrow, bumpy, field and made some very poor decisions with the ball that cost us. Give Hawthorne credit, they capitalized on our mistakes."

CAROL'S CAUSE

Carol Katzman on Receiving Vista Del Mar's Women of Excellence "Ruth Shuken" Award

By Olivia Anderson

You had a long career in Beverly Hills public education initially as a first grade teacher at Beverly Vista and later as an Assistant Superintendent. What do you miss about teaching?

I miss the daily contact with kids. I miss the collegiality of working with respect to colleagues in the field, the ongoing dialogue and communication about how children learn, improving education. I miss that, [but] my six grandchildren have kept me busy. I have a brand new one year old grandchild and I have a brand new ten month old.

One of my favorite, most beloved projects in Beverly Hills was chairing the Beverly Hills Education Summit and Technology Fair, sponsored by the City Council and Board of Education. It was really awesome. It was a two-day program; the first was technology. We invited all the vendors, Apple and Microsoft. In those days hardware and software was really a new tool. It showed that yesterday's tools were inadequate and tomorrow's opportunities are virtually limitless. Everybody got to come and look at the computers and play with the software, and the next day was the summit where we had all kinds of workshops for the community. We invited speakers from UCLA, USC, psychologists, and writers to present to parents. We had over 250 parents who came, and we were blown away by [the response]. The mayor was Robert [K.] Tanenbaum, and we addressed the crisis in our schools and the challenge of educational reform. [Former Mayor] Allan Alexander and Vicki Reynolds were really the coordinators from the city councils, [former Board of Education member] AJ Willmer was the technology coordinator. [As chair] we signed up all the vendors, we put out all the public relations. We had no idea if anybody would even come to this, and when 250 parents showed up on a Saturday to listen to all these speakers, it was really an amazing experience.

You're being honored by Vista Del Mar's "Women of Excellence" Luncheon with the Ruth Shuken Humanitarian Award. What does this award mean to you?

Ruth Shuken was a beloved member of the Vista community, and clearly one my mentors. She was gentle, passionate, a beautiful lady, and her quiet leadership style really inspired me. She loved gardens and flowers and had beautiful roses, and I recently took a walking tour around Vista. They recently installed several new gardens, and I couldn't help but think that Ruth must be smiling knowing that children are learning the value of gardening.

It sounds like quite the honor to receive this award.

It really is. I'm slightly overwhelmed. My other mentor was George Konheim. He really inspired me. He was very clear about what he wanted for Vista, and it was great to work with him. I think we accomplished a lot together.

What are some of the services Vista Del Mar provides?

It's huge. There's the Vista school—they have a residential program for kids who actually live at the school. They have an enormous outpatient program that provides services to children and their families on a regular basis. They offer adoption services. Under my tenure an autism program was established for children on the spectrum and to this day is a thriving program.

Tell us about your work on the No Child Left Behind Committee.

That was one of Superintendent Bill Honig's very first acts as a superintendent of public schools. He brought together a respected group of educators from around the state who were dedicated to recommending strategies so that all children's—from special education students to gifted—needs were being met. It really was the forerunner of the federal program "No Child Left Behind."

What was the inspiration behind co-authoring two published texts?

I co-authored the texts with my dear friend Dr. Joyce King, who is a psychologist who loved to write poetry. One day I talked to her about what I was doing in my classroom, and that inspired her to start writing poems. She wrote the poems [in the text "Imagine That, Creative learning experiences"] and I would read them to the kids, and we would have all kinds of creative learning experiences—reading and writing and artistic responses to the poetry. It was really fabulous. And the other one ["Economy Size, Teaching economic concepts to kids"] was really a passion of mine, teaching economics to kids. Joyce again wrote poems about economics and we would read them to the kids—poems about scarcity and opportunity costs, cost benefit analysis, supply and demand. It was great.

Tell us about your family.

I have three kids. Jeff is a physician in Albuquerque, New Mexico. He has three kids; the oldest is Jackie, who graduated from Cornell and is now at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice getting a Ph.D. in Psychology with a specialization in jury selection. His next child is my grandson William who is graduating in May from the University of Michigan and applying for Ph.D. programs in Psychology. Their youngest child Neil graduated from high school and was just admitted to Stanford. My son John lives in Los Angeles; he's a producer and has one child, a ten month old named Roland. And my daughter Kari [Kramer] has two kids who both went to Beverly [Hills] schools; my granddaughter Jenna [Kramer] graduated from Beverly High in June and is a freshman at Berkeley and [my grandson] Josh went to Beverly [Hills] schools and is now a junior at Tulane.

[My] husband of 60 years, Jerry, served as President of the William Morris Agency. [We] are most proud of and inspired by [our] three children Jeff (Joanna), Jon (Zukhra) and Kari (Jim Kramer) and six thriving grandchildren.

Why is it important to shine a light on women's accomplishments?

I think it's wonderful to recognize people. I also think for me to be able to this to support Vista and shine a light on Vista and Vista's kids really matters. I think recognition is really important for men and women.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code.
