Correction, "Planning Commission Approves Extended Hours Permit for New Restaurant" [Issue #1078] The Planning Commission approved an extended hours permit for Steak 48, a new restaurant coming to Wilshire Boulevard, with the stipulation it offer free parking after 8 pm.

"Beverly Hills Police Protect Community Amid Looting"

During this time of violence and unrest that has plagued much of this country, it is important that we all show restraint and act wisely. There was no better example of this than on May 30th, when our Beverly Hills police force was put to the test while George Floyd protesters invaded our city with ugly graffiti, threats, minor violence and looting.

I saw much of this mayhem up close while photographing the events that our city has not seen in all its history. The police handled things very well when we compare what happened here to the destruction in many other cities. They acted wisely and did not fuel the flames of hate. They balanced things with restraint and as a result, we were made safe. As I have written many times in the past, people all over the world envy our city.

We the citizens of Beverly Hills, envy our police force. They met and passed the test during the most troubling of times. Job well done!

City Extends Wilshire Closure for Metro Construction

Wilshire Boulevard will remain closed for Metro construction and is anticipated to be completed by June 15, according to a City Council meeting Thursday.

Councilmembers approved the continued closure Thursday with a 4-1 vote. Councilmember John Mirisch was the dissenting vote. The council also added the condition that Metro cease construction on Father's Day and the Fourth of July.

Wilshire Boulevard was closed for Metro Purple Line Construction beginning April 2, in order to take advantage of low traffic amid the novel coronavirus outbreak and subsequent stay-at-home order. Construction has since progressed at an accelerated rate and 60% of decking has been completed, according to a city staff report.

The project is anticipated to finish by June 15.

The council met Thursday to consider either providing a five-day notice to the Metro Transportation Authority to cease construction and reopen Wilshire Boulevard or to allow the street to remain closed for expedited construction.

If councilmembers had voted to reopen Wilshire, Wilshire would have been reduced to two lanes in both directions between 7 am and 4 pm. The street would have been closed exclusively on weekends, but weekend closures would not have commenced until at least June 26.

The majority of councilmembers were in favor of the continued street closures, stating that it would have less of an impact on the surrounding community and businesses.

Councilmember Julian Gold said there is little benefit in stopping construction.

"I think that it makes sense for us to keep going and to get this thing done. I do agree with the notion that it has to be reopened on the 15th," Gold said. "I also believe that it's important that both Father's Day and the Fourth of July be protected."

Councilmember Lili Bosse said it will have much less impact on the community to have the project completed by June 15.

"This has been one great thing, unfortunately that has happened through this very challenging time and so I completely support this," Bosse said.

Vice Mayor Robert Wunderlich said the choice is between what will have less impact on the city's suffering businesses.

"The one that's going to have less impact is option two, the one that will allow the construction to continue until June 15," Wunderlich said. "So that's the option that I favor.'

Mayor Lester Friedman said its clear businesses are supportive of using this time to expedite Purple Line construction.

"I do see it as a win-win for our businesses, for our residents," Friedman said. "Completing this in a much more timely manner also has a significant value to us as a community."

Councilmember John Mirisch, however, raised concerns over how the continued Wilshire Blvd closure would impact local businesses.

Mirisch said there will be tremendous expense if Metro ceases construction in five days, but it would save it time and money if they continue construction. He said the city should work out with MTA if it could use the money it saves with the expedited construction to help local businesses.

"My perspective as I said, the businesses are actually making a sacrifice," Mirisch said. "I believe that that's fine if they do so, but the beneficiary shouldn't be Tutor Perini [the construction company] getting a bonus for coming in under time or whatever."

See the Weekly's interview with Tutor Perini CEO Ron Tutor in Issue #1077.

Mirisch added that he'd like to add a penalty fee for each day if Metro construction extends past June 15, for the sake of businesses struggling to stay open.

He also attempted to add an amendment removing the stipulation that Metro cease construction on Father's Day and the Fourth of July. He said holiday closures are included in Metro's contract and it isn't unnecessary to require.

His amendment was not seconded by another councilmember and therefore not approved.

BHUSD Assesses Options for Students' Education Amid the Pandemic

The BHUSD Board of Education reviewed the district's options for continuing students' education amid the coronavirus outbreak after the summer last Tuesday.

Assistant Superintendent for Education Services Dustin Seemann presented the Board with three potential routes BHUSD can take with its curriculum - remaining online with a new platform, blended learning or returning to what was dubbed the "new normal."

Seemann formulated these prospective plans with the Options Committee. The Commit-

presented its findings to focus groups and also sent out surveys to parents and teachers

The first potential option Seemann presented to the board was education curriculum delivery through an online platform. Teachers would monitor students by meeting with them weekly under this plan. "Goalbooks" is one potential online platform the district could use.

Seemann said Home Learning 2.0, which is the current curriculum plan used by the district, is ending in summer. He said the Options Committee's goal was never to return to that plan.

"[Our goal] was to vet out options that we can deliver curriculum that was UC approved and NCAA approved and would be able to support special education all the way down to elementary," Seemann said.

Another option for the district would be blended learning, which would be a mix of online and in-person instruction. It would have consistent education delivery through an online platform and teachers would check in on students weekly. According to Seemann's presentation, grade-level students would be able to return to physical classrooms if their caretakers don't have childcare under this option Seemann provided different options for how blended learning could be structured. This included a rotating schedule, an a.m./ p.m. cohort, and more.

"We could possibly work on a rotating schedule where we're able to deliver within our classrooms a different performance-based group worth of coursework each day," Seemann said.

Seeman said Monday could potentially be Visual Arts class, Tuesday could be for Physical Education and so forth.

An a.m./p.m. cohort would have students divided in two groups, with one half on an a.m. schedule and the other on a p.m. schedule. The a.m. schedule would be from 7:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. and the p.m. schedule would be from 12 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. High school and middle school students would move through a shortened schedule with 31 minutes courses and four minute passing periods, according to Seemann's presentation.

Seemann said the times could be adjusted.

Students could also have "Split Days" with blended learning. They would be divided evenly in two groups, either in the"A" day group or the "B" day group. The "A" day group would go to school on Monday and Thursday. The "B" day group would go to school on Tuesday and

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING AND NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF AND INTENT TO ADOPT A NEGATIVE DECLARATION

HEARING DATE: June 19, 2020

TIME:	9:00 AM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard
LOCATION:	This meeting will be held via teleconference, more information is included in this notice.

The Planning Commission of the City of Beverly Hills, at a SPECIAL meeting on June 19, 2020, will hold a public hearing beginning at 9:00 AM, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard to consider:

An amendment to the General Plan to allow mixed use development in certain commercial areas of the City; and,

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF BEVERLY HILLS TO CREATE A MIXED USE OVERLAY ZONE AND APPLY THE OVERLAY ZONE TO CERTAIN COMMERCIALLY ZONED PARCELS IN THE CITY

The City of Beverly Hills does not have uniform zoning code standards that allow for mixed-use development (i.e. buildings that contain both commercial and residential uses) in the City. In 2018, the City Council directed the Planning Commission to study the creation of standards for mixed-use buildings. The Planning Commission has since developed draft regulations. At its meeting on June 19, 2020, the Planning Commission will hold a public hearing to consider adoption of an ordinance to create a mixed use overlay zone and apply the overlay zone to certain commercially zoned parcels in the City. The Planning Commission will also consider an amendment to the Beverly Hills General Plan to reflect the application of the overlay zone and will review a draft Initial Study/Negative Declaration prepared for the project, and is expected to forward to the City Council a recommendation regarding adoption of the Negative Declaration in conjunction with its recommendations regarding the general plan amendment and proposed mixed use ordinance.

OVERLAY ZONE DESCRIPTION:

As currently proposed, the overlay zone would:

make multi-family housing units included in mixed use buildings an allowed use in the overlay zone, allow for a density of up to one residential unit per 550 square feet of site area, allow additional height (beyond the current three story/45 foot height limit) for mixed use buildings in certain parts of the overlay zone, depending on the height district of the adjacent residential zoning.

establish development standards for mixed use buildings to regulate parking, residential unit size, outdoor living space, ground floor uses, height, setbacks, and operational standards, and outline the approval process for mixed use buildings proposed in the overlay zone.

Please note that the foregoing standards and processes may change as a result of public input received in conjunction with the public hearing.

PROPOSED OVERLAY ZONE LOCATIONS:

As currently proposed, the overlay zone would be applied to the following commercially zoned properties:

- properties fronting Wilshire Boulevard between San Vicente Boulevard and Rexford Drive
- properties fronting Wilshire Boulevard on the southern side of Wilshire Boulevard between Rexford Drive and South Santa Monica Boulevard
- properties fronting La Cienega Boulevard between the northern and southern borders of the City
- properties fronting Robertson Boulevard between the northern and southern borders of the City
- properties fronting South Santa Monica Boulevard located between Wilshire Boulevard and Moreno Drive
- properties fronting Olympic Boulevard between Rexford Drive and the eastern border of the City
- properties fronting the 100 block of South Beverly Drive
- The Planning Commission may also consider including the 100 blocks of South El Camino Drive and South Rodeo Drive.

Please note that the foregoing locations may change as a result of public input received in conjunction with the public hearing.

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW:

The City of Beverly Hills is preparing a Draft Initial Study/Negative Declaration (IS/ND) for the proposed overlay zone ordinance (proposed project). The City of Beverly Hills is the lead agency, pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), and is responsible for the preparation of the IS/ND. The proposed project description and project location are described above. The Draft IS/ND will be available for public review beginning on June 10, 2020 and the comment period will be from June 10, 2020 to July 17, 2020. The document will be available at www.beverlyhills.org/environmental. If a digital copy cannot be obtained by an interested party, please contact the staff listed in this notice and alternate arrangements will be made. The Planning Commission will consider the contents for the Draft IS/ND at their meeting on June 19, 2020. The preliminary initial study analysis indicates that the proposed project would not result in significant impacts to Agricultural and Forestry Resources, Biological Resources, Mineral Resources, , and less than significant impacts related to Aesthetics, Air Quality, Cultural Resources, Geology and Soils, Greenhouse Gas Emissions, Hazards and Hazardous Materials, Hydrology and Water Quality, Land Use and Planning, Noise, Population and Housing, Transportation/Traffic, Public Services, Recreation, Tribal Cultural Resources, and Utilities and Service Systems. Thus it appears that the project would not result in any significant environmental impacts.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE AND COMMENT:

Written comments on the Draft IS/ND must be submitted during the comment period, and should be addressed to:

Friday. Wednesday would be designated as a "cleaning day" for the campus.

The final presented formulation for blended learning is an intensive schedule. According to Seemann, students have 180 instructional days in the school year and typically take six classes each semester. Under this model, students would do 30 days per course before moving on to the next one. For instance, a student would take one class for 30 days before moving on to the next class for 30 days.

The third option for how BHUSD can conduct students' education after summer was dubbed "Return to our New Normal." This would involve opportunities for grade level articulation, a focus on "Standards & Project Based Learning," emotional learning and more, according to Seemann's presentation. The district would provide a virtual option for students who decide not to attend school physically.

The Board is expected to further discuss these options in a future study session. The district's plans for Fall aren't finalized and its presented options are subject to change.

Board member Mel Spitz said he commends the district's staff for the preparations it's taking because it's going to take advance planning, training and preparation for the district to move forward.

"I want to commend staff because just as you've said, we really don't know what's going to be required of us in August," Spitz said. "But one thing is clear, we can't wait until August to be prepared for whatever we're going to have to do."

Board Vice President Rachelle Marcus said people must remember that Beverly Hills has to do what's best for its kids.

"I think there's so much creativity, that we can think outside the box on a lot of these things," Marcus said. "But again, we in Beverly Hills have to do what's best for our kids and our school district and we have to keep that in mind."

Beverly High Principal Discusses 2020-2021 Master Schedule

Beverly High's Principal Mark Mead discussed the high school's 2020-2021 master schedule draft with the BHUSD Board of Education last Tuesday. The master schedule is a list of classes will schools offer as a part of its curriculum. Mead said that it's still in its early stages

but it's the best

master sched-

Mark Mead

ule draft he's seen.

"[The master schedule is] one of the most important tools we have at the high school for looking at equity issues, interventions [and] everything else," Mead said.

He said the schedule is still in its early stages and the school is still getting feedback on it. Administrators had given the draft to department chairs to look over in the week prior to last Tuesday's meeting.

"We're very early to be assuming that what we see now is the final draft," Mead said.

The reason for Mead's presentation Tuesday was because parents had sent a variety of questions to the district regarding the master schedule, which included concerns about students not being able to drop Advanced Placement and Honors classes and less AP and Honors classes being offered next year.

Mead said that students will continue to have five weeks to drop classes, including AP and honors classes, under the current draft. He also said the same number of Honors and AP classes will continue to be offered

'One thing I do want to emphasize is that there's really been no change in philosophy or policy in the high school," Mead said. "Really what's happening is we're trying to get better and better with the science and the art of building the master schedule."

Mead said Beverly High is prioritizing getting students into all the classes they want with its new schedule. According to his presentation, 87.4% of Beverly High students were able to get into the classes they wanted.

The school's other priorities with the schedule are designing effective intervention classes, offering a wide range of college preparation coursework and supporting all students.

According to Mead's presentation, there will be 312 students in the 9th grade, 200 students in the 10th grade, 308 students in the 11th grade and 337 students in the 12 grade for the upcoming school year.

On average, there are 27 students in AP/ Honors classes and 23 students in regular classes, according to Mead's presentation.

Beverly High will also add new courses next year, which include AP Human Geography, AP Music Theory, Psychology, Intro to Engineering/Aerospace Engineering, Biomed Innovations, Reading Intervention, Math Intervention and Advanced Coding.

Eviction Moratorium Might Update Forbearance Period For Commercial and Residential Tenants

The City Council was supposed to consider updates to Beverly Hills' eviction moratorium in its canceled Tuesday meeting and potentially require commercial and residential tenants to repay forborne rent no more than 29 days and 90 days respectively after the moratorium was lifted.

Retail and restaurant tenants would be included under the new eviction ban terms for office tenants, according to a city staff report.

The council will later set a date for the end of all or some commercial tenants' forbearance period, after which they will have 29 days to repay forborne rent. The dates and which specific commercial tenants will be required to begin paying rent will be determined in a later meeting.

Landlords and commercial tenants are also encouraged to work together to for-

Mirisch Tells Newsom Beverly Hills Isn't Ready To Reopen

Councilmember John Mirisch sent a letter to Gov. Gavin Newsom last Tuesday requesting he keep businesses closed - one day after the rest of the council requested they be allowed to re-open.

The City Council, with the exception of Mirisch, sent a letter to Newsom Monday urging him to allow the City of Beverly Hills to reopen its businesses.

"Governor, we have done our part to flatten the curve but the time has come to move forward," the council's letter read. "California, including cities such as Beverly Hills, have the unique ability to demonstrate a safe and accountable reopening."

Mirisch did not sign the letter and sent his own the following day. His letter disputed the rest of the council's requests.

On his blog, "City Of BH: Another View of Beverly Hills City Hall," he said the majority council's letter did not pay enough attention to the medical precautions that should accompany business re-openings.

"Unfortunately, I wasn't able to sign that letter because, despite paying lip-service to the health and safety of our residents, it seemed more focused on ending the stay-at-home rules without enough regard for science or the paramount goal of containing the spread of the virus." Mirisch wrote to Newsom.

reopen businesses unless proper health and safety precautions are put in place to protect local residents.

"Ultimately, lifting the stay-at-home (or safer-at-home) regulations without ensuring that we can control the further spread of the virus could set us back even further and could be worse for businesses and our economy in the long-run, not to mention the pain and suffering it might cause for many of our residents," he wrote.

Mirisch also disputed what his fellow councilmembers wrote in their letter. He said the council's letter suggests the city's Medical Advisory Task Force has been actively involved in informing the city's policies on COVID-19, but the taskforce has not met since May 4.

"In contrast the city's Business Task Forces have met multiple times since then, and so the Council's request and as such the letter's tone is not balanced in the way it should be," Mirisch wrote.

Neither Mirisch nor the rest of the council have received a response to their letters as of press time. The State of California permitted non-essential businesses to reopen Friday, including restaurants and hair salons.

Protestors Demonstrate Against Police Brutality in Beverly Hills, Storefronts Vandalized

Beverly Hills was filled with protesters against your own people?" one protester and looters this past weekend, as people across Los Angeles demonstrated against police. "How do you let them kill your police brutality after the killing of George Floyd.

Protesters entered the city Saturday holding signs that read "Justice for George Floyd," "Black Lives Matter," "No Justice, No Peace" and more. Approximately 3,700 protesters came to the city across three groups, per Interim Police Chief Dominick Rivetti. Rivetti said more than 50 had been arrested since Saturday.

Floyd died after then-Minneapolis police officer Derrick Chauvin kneeled on his neck for more than eight minutes. The Hennepin County medical examiner concluded Floyd's death was a homicide, with a private autopsy concluding he died from suffocation.

In a viral video shot by bystanders, Floyd repeatedly told officers he could not breathe before becoming motionless - eliciting protester's to chant "I can't breathe" across the nation. Demonstrators in Beverly Hills filled the intersection of Rodeo Drive and Santa Monica Boulevard, demanding police stop disproportionately killing Black people.

The 1992 riots were in response to police brutality against Rodney King, who was pulled over on the highway, surrounded and repeatedly beaten by five LAPD officers. The encounter was captured on video and the LA County District Attorney's Office charged four of the officers with assault and use of excessive force. The jury acquitted the four officers of assault and acquitted three out of the four of using excessive force.

Riots began the same day of the initial verdict. Two of the officers later faced federal charges.

had to allow a constitutionally protected peaceful march to come into the City of Beverly Hills and the resources were there with that group to make sure that it would maintain peacefulness," Friedman said. A number of business owners had hoped to reopen this past weekend after the coronavirus pandem - ic forced non-essential businesses to a halt. Many were looted or vandalized instead.

Kathy Gohari, vice president of the Rodeo Drive Committee and director of client engagement at Valentino, said businesses were just beginning to see a light at the end of the tunnel.

"The looting that's happening across the country – all it's doing is delaying change," Gohari said. "It's destroying properties - it's destroying small businesses."

Gohari's store wasn't looted. She said many surrounding stores had been tagged with graffiti over the course of the weekend.

Protesters gathered in Beverly Hills again on Tuesday, but dispersed by the city's 1 p.m. curfew. There were about 125 to 275 people who protested peacefully, according to Friedman.

a City Council meeting agenda.

Construction included the renovation of the lobby area, first floor administrative offices, first floor kitchen, training room, bathrooms and the Battalion Chief's bedroom and bathroom. New energy efficient lighting throughout the station, new flooring in the second floor common areas and kitchen, and new window coverings in the bedrooms were added. The exterior gate was also replaced.

Caltec Corporation completed the project.

The contract amount with Caltec Corp. was originally $1,426,544, according to a city staff report. This includes a $152, 844 contingency amount. Added scope and existing conditions resulted in thirteen change orders totaling $148, 293.49. The final cost for the renovations is $1, 421, 993 49

The City Council was supposed to approve or deny the project's completion Tuesday, but its meeting was canceled.

Council To Approve Replacing La Cienega Tennis Center and Roxbury Park Tennis Court Lighting

The city might replace the lights at the La Cienega Tennis Center courts and Roxbury Park tennis courts, according to Tuesday's canceled City Council agenda.

La Cienega Tennis Center

The City of Beverly Hills might enter a contract with Huntington Beach Electric in the amount of $228, 674 to replace the tennis courts' lights. According to a city staff report, Huntington Beach Electric had the lowest bid for the project.

Councilmembers were supposed to approve or deny the contract and a construction contingency of $22,867. However, the council's meeting Tuesday was canceled

There are a total of 20 tennis courts between La Cienega Tennis Center and Roxbury Park. According to a city staff report, booking the tennis courts has been in high demand especially at La Cienega Tennis Center.

The tennis courts might have their existing light fixtures that utilize old metal-halide fixtures replaced with new LED fixtures. The facilities are managed by the Department of Community Services and maintained by the Public Works department.

The Project Administration Division of Project Works researched which type of lighting would be best for the tennis courts based on the following criteria; ability to mount directly to existing pole support arms, finishes and protection from corrosion and weather exposure, a minimum ten-year warranty and more.

Light fixtures from the manufacturer "Visionnaire" were placed in one tennis court and fixtures from the manufacturer "NLS" were placed in another tennis court. According to a survey sent to tennis players on which court they preferred, 24 said they preferred the court with "NLS" lighting and four said they preferred the court with "Visionnaire" lighting.

Work to replace the lighting fixtures might begin in early July. The contract is expected to be completed within 15 calendar days from when the project will begin.

New Condominium Approved For Construction on North Oakhurst Drive

The Planning Commission approved the construction of a five-story condominium with six units on 457 North Oakhurst Drive Thursday.

> The new condominium will be 17,078 square feet and include a single-level subterranean parking structure for 21 cars. The project site, located at 457 Oakhurst Drive, is currently a 3,618 square foot, two-story duplex with an attached garage that will be torn down for the project.

The project applicant had requested the Commission approve a Development Plan Review, a Vesting Tentative Tract Map to allow for the airspace subdivision of the six proposed dwelling units, R-4 Permits and variances.

Commissioners approved the project with a 5-0 vote and the added condition there be one parking space that includes a car charger per unit.

According to a city staff report, the project is not close to any single-family residences and fits into the neighborhood's character. There is an existing ten-story apartment building at 433 Oakhurst Drive and a seven-story condominium at 441 North Oakhurst Drive.

The condominium will be built on a 8,161 square-foot triangular lot. The building itself will be about 54 feet fall, but will become over 66 feet with its proposed rooftop outdoor open space and bathrooms.

Several local community members called in for public comment to say they were in support of the project and looking forward to the final result.

Vice Chair Peter Ostroff said there isn't much to disagree with in regards to the project applicant's requests.

"Having this community support is a Project rendering of new condominium on 477 North Oakhurst Drive great thing," Ostroff said. "I really appreciate it, I think it's very commendable and it's to your credit that you have that degree of community support."

Commissioner Andy Licht added the stipulation the project owner include charging units in the parking garage.

City Might Waive Fees on Father's Day Car Show Celebrating First-Responders

The Beverly Hills City Council might waive the fees associated with the Concours d'Elegance Father's Day Car Show, which will commence for its 26th year with social distancing precautions and honor first-responders, according to a city staff report.

The car show has made several adjustments to comply with the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health's restrictions on large scale events due to the COVID-19 outbreak.

Cars will drive in rally formation from the Petersen Automotive Museum through Beverly Hills, rather than be put on display on Rodeo Drive, according to a city staff report. First-responders will also be honored for their work amid the pandemic.

The Rodeo Drive Committee, which has been organizing the car show, asked the city to waive all fees associated with > the event. Councilmembers were originally planning to vote on the waiver Tuesday, but the council's meeting was canceled.

> There will be twenty to thirty vehicles at the show and participation is invite-only. Cars will be staged at the Petersen Automotive Museum at 9 am and the rally will begin at 10 am.

> The cars will drive through both residential and commercial areas. Viewers can view the rally from their storefronts and front lawns. The route is expected to take one hour to complete and cars will return to the museum by 11 am, according to a city staff report

Streets will not have hard closures and the Beverly Hills Police Department will manage intermittent closures during the rally route.

Any funds generated from the car show will be donated to "Meal to Heal," a charitable organization founded by Laura Margo to support local restaurants while donating food to first-responders in the city.

According to a city staff report, the event's city fees and permits will cost $6,522. The RDC is responsible for any additional fees associated with advertising, logistical equipment and other materials.

TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should un-derstand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of out-standing liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed or trust on the property. NO-TICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale."
