"Residents Dispute Lot 12 Project" [Issue #1115]

I wanted to write to you to express my support for this project. As a business owner and a resident in Beverly Hills (in the Architecture industry), I feel that we need to continue to innovate. We do have vacancies in offices but we don't have enough creative type offices for people to choose from. Companies, especially in creative industries, want new buildings, new designs and new innovations. We're looking for green spaces, wellness amenities and more.

This city is facing competition from surrounding cities and desperately needs to kick off new creative developments to attract new businesses. I am in full support of this project and hope everyone sees its true benefits.

Roy Hasson Beverly Hills

I live a block from this proposed project and am very excited to finally see a great use for that old railroad land that's been sitting vacant so long. I appreciated our building being invited to a presentation of the project before it was even submitted to the city. The buildings are really beautiful and will fit perfectly in our area.

Yes to smart updated zoning.

I'd like to express support for the office project proposed for Lot 12. I live four houses north of Santa Monica, right across from this project. Of course this area should be rezoned to serve current needs. The railroad hasn't run for decades and isn't coming back. Land like this is rezoned in built-out cities all the time.

Beverly Hills is a built-out city and needs to find ways for new development that makes sense. This project makes sense for our area and will increase property values for the houses and other buildings around it.

"County Should Consider Using Measure HHH Funds for Seismic Retrofitting"

Some time ago, Measure HHH was passed in Los Angeles County. Under this measure, money may be spent on the improvement of real property to provide affordable housing.

Older rental properties, like many that we have in Beverly Hills are considered "naturally occurring affordable housing" or "NOAH." In order to help preserve this type of housing, I wonder if some of the Measure HHH funds could be used to supplement some of the cost of seismic retrofitting work that is now required in Beverly Hills (and other communities)?

In one of our next conversations with Supervisor Kathryn Barger's office, we are going to ask about this, but I thought that this may be something a city like Beverly Hills may want to suggest.

Today, small businesses are suffering greatly due to the pandemic. Small business rental property owners are no different as rent has been difficult to collect and increases are frozen while business and property taxes and mortgagees are still owed.

Supplementing seismic retrofitting work though Measure HHH funds might be a way to provide incentives to landlords to complete this work, help them out during tough financial times, and encourage preservation of affordable housing in the city.

BHUSD Settles with LAUSD For Ownership of Beverly High

The BHUSD reached a settlement agreement with the LAUSD for $1.5 million for complete ownership of Beverly High's campus, according to Tuesday's Board of Education meeting.

Beverly High was once part of the Los Angeles City High School District, which is LAUSD's preceding district. But residents voted in 1934 to transfer control of Beverly Hills schools to the Beverly Hills High School District, which is the BHU-SD's preceding district.

Despite establishing its own school district, the title for a portion of Beverly High's campus was never formally transferred to the BHUSD.

Upon discovering the title's absence, BHUSD notified LAUSD and requested it to help clear up the ambiguities surrounding who owns Beverly High by quiet claiming its interest in the property. But the LAUSD claimed ownership of the property, which would have potentially allowed it to gain eminent domain money from Metro. The BHUSD subsequently filed a quiet title action last year.

The settlement agreement includes the LAUSD will quitclaim all of its right, title and interest to Beverly High's campus. The BHUSD has also agreed to dismiss its quiet title action.

Former Horace Mann School Principal Passes

Longtime Horace Mann School principal Art Fields passed away last Tuesday.

Fields was the Horace Mann principal from 1976 to 2001. Survivors include his wife Melba Fields.

BHUSD Board of Education President Rachelle Marcus, who was a teacher while Fields was principal, said he was a strong administrator and ran a tight ship. She said Fields had an uncanny ability to select great new teachers.

"He was wonderful to work for and had great respect for his staff," she said. "He loved [Horace Mann] and its community and everyone respected him."

Several of Fields' former students and Horace Mann faculty shared their memories of the late principal on Facebook.

The Horace Mann PTA said Fields is remembered by many as being a caring, fair, and consistent figure in their everyday school life.

Art Fields

Carie Anne Baron Rose said she loved Fields, and he was amazing.

"I'll never forget cross country skiing with him on one of our Yosemite trips," she said. 'Breaks mv heart, he had a heart of soul."

Sophia Rumanes said she remembers Fields' big smile.

"I was a 'good' kid and never got into trouble but my brother was in his office a fair amount. My mom always felt Dr. Fields was fair and she had fond memories of working with him when she was on the PTA," she said. "Rest In Peace, Dr. Fields. Your presence and leadership made such an amazing positive impression on our lives."

Seidel Discusses Mars Landing During Rotary Club Meeting

NASA Education Director David Seidel shared information about NASA's rover landing on Mars during a Beverly Hills Rotary Club meeting Monday.

The Perseverance rover landed on Mars last Thursday. There were six cameras, of which five worked, on the rover to record its entry, descent and landing. Seidel shared the video of the landing with Rotary Club members.

Seidel said the problem with Mars is that it has both too much and too little atmosphere.

"If it had no atmosphere like the moon, you could do a rocket motor power descent. If it had enough atmosphere like Earth, you could do parachutes," Seidel said. "It's got enough that you have to use a parachute, but that won't slow you down enough. You need to use rockets, so we had this pretty complicated set of apparatus."

He said NASA used something called terrain relative navigation for the first time, which means it took pictures of the ground and compared it to a map to see where the safe and unsafe areas to land were.

"The chief engineer for this mission – there is still a big part of him that thinks we got lucky twice," Seidel said. "So there's so many factors involved and everything has to go right. This is the product of literally millions of correctly made decisions and thousands of errors that were caught by process."

Seidel is also a Beverly Hills Traffic and Parking Commissioner. In the 1980s, Seidel taught astronomy at Beverly High.

Gohlich Named Director of Community Development

Beverly Hills City Manager George Chavez announced last Thursday that Ryan Gohlich will serve as the city's next Director of Community Development effective February 26. Gohlich will succeed Susan Healy Keene, who recently announced her retirement after 12 years with the city.

"I am so pleased to congratulate Ryan on his new role," Chavez said. "Susan's success provided strong foundation for Ryan as he leads the department forward. His superior technical knowledge combined with an understanding of our community have prepared him well for the work ahead."

As Director of Community Development, Gohlich will oversee the divisions of Planning, Development Services, Community Preservation, Rent Stabilization and Special Events and Filming.

Gohlich began his career with the city in 2007 as an Assistant Planner and has served in a variety of roles during his tenure including Senior Planner and Assistant Director of Community Development/City Planner since 2015.

"It is truly a privilege to serve Beverly Hills," said Gohlich. "I am proud to work alongside the dedicated and talented professionals on our community development team as we all work together to provide exceptional customer service to this exceptional community."

Keene said Gohlich has been a tremendous partner during her time in Beverly Hills.

"I know he will continue to be an outstanding asset to our community and city staff and wish him the absolute best in his new role," Keene said.

Gohlich earned his Bachelor of Science in City and Regional Planning from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership from Woodbury University. He is a member of the American Planning Association and received his certification from the American Institute of Certified Planners.

Chavez also announced that David

Yelton, formerly the city's Deputy Building Official, has been named Assistant Director of Community Development managing Code Compliance; Plan Review and Building Inspection; the Permit Center and Special Events and Filming.

Yelton, who joined the city as a Building Inspector in 1998, assumes the duties of former Assistant Director Raj Patel who retired late last year.

Planning Commission to Consider Former Gibraltar Square Office Tower Project

The Planning Commission will consider Thursday extending permits for the former Gibraltar Square Office Tower project, which is proposed to become a hotel building.

Commissioners previously approved a conditional use permit and historical incentive permit for the project in January 2020. According to the commission's agenda report, the permits were valid for one year and lapsed because physical construction did not begin.

The project applicant, Oakshire, LP, submitted a request to extend the expiration date of both permits to January 23, 2022. According to the agenda report, city staff recommends the approval of the extension because all the required findings can be made.

If approved by the commission, the applicant plans to establish a 154-room hotel with a restaurant.

Planning Commission to Consider North Oakhurst Drive Home

The Planning Commission will consider Thursday a Development Plan Review to allow the construction of a three-story single-family residence on 331 North Oakhurst Drive.

According to the commission's agenda report, commissioners in 2018 denied a Development Plan Review and nine variances for the construction of a two-story home at the project site. The applicant, David Ramin, later submitted an updated Development Plan Review in 2019.

City staff found that the proposed project would not cause adverse impacts on the surrounding area and recommend the commission approve it.

WHAT WAS YOUR VACCINATION EXPERIENCE LIKE?

ROSE NORTON FORMER PLANNING COMMISSIONER

"I was so fortunate to have had the vaccine at UCLA. It was close to home, no waiting in line, very professional and kind. The shot was administered by a registered nurse who went out of her way to make me feel comfortable. I was given an appointment for the second shot and the entire process door to door was less than one hour. On a scale of one to 10, it was an 11. I am 91 years

LINDA BRISKMAN FORMER MAYOR

'The first dose was difficult to schedule, but eventually went smoothly when we got [the] Moderna [vaccine] at Dodger Stadium on January 22. We both had sore arms. I felt a little fluish the second day and fine by the third. [My husband] Gary felt fine but on day seven, he got a nasty rash on his arm that lasted a few days. We were scheduled for number two [last Friday] and were literally just informed that due to bad weather and the inability to fly the supply to LA today, our shots have been postponed.

This whole experience has been anxiety ridden and very poorly planned and we are tech savvy! What it has done to the underserved community is inexcusable both in the COVID-19 impacts and the vaccine administration. America, you can do better."

LILLIAN RAFFEL FORMER BOARD OF EDUCATION MEMBER

"California State University, Northridge was our vaccination site. Both my husband, Stuart and I were able to get appointments at the same time. We drove to CSUN, waited in our car line for about 10 minutes, documents were taken, Pfizer vaccines given and after 15 minutes of observation we were done. It took less than 1/2 hour. This very efficient process was repeated for the second vaccination. It was impressive.

Stuart after both injections had a slightly sore arm at the injection site and was tired. After both, I also had a sore arm and was tired. But, 24 hours after the second vaccine I developed extreme fatigue, shaking chills, low grade fever and painful joints. After taking Tylenol and sleeping about 12 hours, I was perfectly fine!"

ELIOT FINKEL FORMER CITY TREASURER

"[My wife] Maxine and I went to Dodger Stadium on January 22. We were there for 1.75 hours. The Moderna shots were painless. Our shoulders were a little sore the next day. Maxine experienced some itching and redness at the injection site after about a week.

We were scheduled for our second shot [last Thursday]. Late [Wednesday] afternoon, we were notified by email that the needed vaccine had not arrived due to cold weather back east. Our second shot will be scheduled as soon as more vaccines are available."

JUDIE FENTON FTA EVENTS

"My experience was phenomenal. I decided to go out to Santa Clarita, at the Henry Mayo Hospital, because they had an opening within a few days of my search. The hospital had a very short line and I was out within 20 minutes of my arrival including my 15 minute wait. I received the Pfizer vaccine.

The best part of that experience is that they gave me a return date 21 later and I didn't have to worry about going back onto the computer and trying to get another date for my second shot.

I had my second shot 21 days later and had the same wonderful experience. In and out! I think I am either tough as nails or my resistance is good, because I had no ill effects except to be a little tired. But that is a regular occurance in my life these days with little activity and now [being] a homebody.'

NANCY KRASNE FORMER MAYOR

"My husband Jim and I went to Providence St John's hospital in Santa Monica; we had a 1:20 p.m. appointment and were told to arrive ½ hour early for the paperwork. We arrived at 12:45 p.m. and were in our car on the way home by 1:10 p.m. It was so efficiently run that we were in and out in no time. We had the 1st dose of [Pfizer], Jim had no reaction and my arm hurt the 2nd-4th day. We go back for our 2nd shot on March 1st. I was concerned because I usually have a terrible reaction to the flu shot and this was much less.

My mother is 99 years old, she took it with no reaction. She will get her 2nd shot soon. My [advice] for those who are afraid is don't be, COVID-19 will be around for the rest of our lives."

MARK EGERMAN FORMER MAYOR

My wife Lynn and I were able to get appointments at Dodger Stadium for the Moderna vaccine for January 28. My wife's appointment was scheduled for 8 a.m. and mine for 10:30 a.m. In spite of the two and one half hour time difference in appointments, we decided to go

Lynn and I, not knowing what the experience would be like, decided to get to Dodger Stadium by 7 a.m. We left our house at 6:30 a.m. and arrived at Dodger Stadium at 7 a.m. The gates to the parking lot were closed, and there were several hundred cars ahead of us. The parking lot gates were opened promptly at 8 a.m. We drove through a maze of lanes formed by cones, very much the 'back and forth' lanes outside of the security area at an airport. In about ten minutes we arrived at the vaccination area, which is a series of parallel lanes, each holding about 20 cars.

A young lady asked for our names, entered them in her handheld iPad, and told us we would be vaccinated shortly. At 8:17 a.m. a young gentleman came up to our car and vaccinated us through the open windows of our car. We remained in place for another 30 minutes to make sure no one in 20 cars at our station had a serious adverse reaction, at which time we were allowed to leave the parking lot.

Lynn and I only had mild reactions to the vaccinations. Just a little soreness at the vaccination sites for about three days.

The experience was very positive. Obviously, we were both anxious to get vaccinated and would have spent the entire day to do so, if necessary. The process was efficient, the people kind and professional, and the experience very positive."

ALAN BLOCK FORMER PLANNING COMMISSIONER

"Our experience was excellent. We went to CSUN to get both shots. Very well organized, little or no waiting times. No side effects from the first shot. 30 hours after the second shot, I felt tired, aching, headache, chills. That lasted for one day. My wife Jan had no side effects from either shot."

STEPHEN WEBB FORMER MAYOR

"I was able to get my first shot at Sav-On in Paso Robles where I am currently residing (I still maintain an office and apartment in Beverly Hills) 10 days ago. It was the Moderna vaccine. My only side effect was 'COVID-19 arm.' This is a rash and itching around the injection site that occurred four days ago. My second shot is scheduled for March 8."

Opinion: City Should Reconsider Councilmember Term Limit Ballot Measure

The City Council, by a 3-2 majority, has voted to place term limits for the council on the ballot. While the council originally wanted to put this to a vote of the people this November (when there is literally nothing else on the ballot), the law requires that the matter be voted upon in a "regularly scheduled election."

Though the city attorney initially claimed that the non-election in November would qualify as a "regularly scheduled election," he apparently thought better of it. As a result, term limits will be voted upon next June, at the city's next regularly scheduled election (or earlier, if the state moves the election

While I personally generally don't support term limits for non-executive positions, e.g. President, Governor, a strong level we see lawmakers officeholder Mayor, the issue of term limits itself is not what bothers me most about the council's decision. What is disturbing is why and how they placed it on the ballot. If it seems there is more to it than meets the eye, then that's because there probably

The proposal is to limit people to serving a total of three terms on the council, and the limit is for a lifetime (as opposed to those cities who only have consecutive term limits).

So far, so good.

But there are two major problems with the council's decision:

"Too often at the national and state

elevate the interests of the elites over those of ordinary residents.

Öne would think and hope, at least at the local level, that we could get it right and put the residents first

—Councilmember John Mirisch

- 1.) By intending to make the term limits retroactive (i.e. counting terms previously served), the council is clearly violating government code.
- 2.) By placing this measure on the ballot at the request of a few ex-mayors, and by ignoring the request of scores of residents to place the mixed use ordinance on the ballot, the council is acting in an elitist and hypocritical manner.

The law enabling cities to adopt term limits, Government Code Section 36502 (b), makes it clear that "Any proposal to limit the number of terms a member of the city council may serve on the city council, or the number of terms an elected mayor may serve, shall apply prospectively only...

As the Secretary of State's bill analysis, which takes into account legislative intent, stated in 1995: "The bill requires that limits apply prospectively; time in office already served by an would not count against any limit on time in office imposed as a result of this bill."

Furthermore, 2012 the Attorney General, Kamala Harris, our current Vice President, issued an opinion on the law. She wrote: "A term served on a town council that was served prior to the effective date of a local initiative term-limit ordinance may not be counted against the term limit imposed by that ordinance.'

The language is clear and for that reason, not one single city in California that has adopted a term limit ordinance has taken the view of the Beverly Hills council majority (i.e. all the councilmembers except myself and Vice Mayor Robert Wunderlich) which expressly intends to count past terms.

Our city attorney claims that there is ambiguity with the use of the word "prospectively" which would allow the council majority's novel - and somewhat Orwellian - interpretation of the

However, not only is this interpretation inconsistent with each and every other city which has voted to approve term limits, it also contradicts the plain and unambiguous meaning of the word 'prospectively," as confirmed by Vice President Harris when she was the state

"We find no ambiguity in the requirement of Government Code section 36502(b) that locally enacted term-limit provisions must apply prospectively. 'By definition, a prospective law... means a law which has no effect on rights, obligations, acts, transactions, and conditions performed or existing before the statute was adopted." (Here she is quoting from an appellate court decision, which defines the word "prospectively").

The twisted attempts at lawyering by both the city attorney and the mayor are unseemly and it was completely inappropriate for the mayor to suggest that Vice President Harris wasn't really responsible for the opinion, which was published under the heading "Office of the Attorney General, State of California, Kamala D. Harris, Attorney General" and followed by the wording: 'Opinion of Kamala D. Harris, Attorney General, Taylor S. Carey, Deputy Attorney General.'

The notion that the current council would "think it's better than everyone else" if it simply followed the law and didn't leave the city open to litigation, as suggested by the mayor, makes absolutely no sense. This is about following the law, and one could argue that a council majority which thinks the law doesn't apply to them thinks that "it's better than everyone else."

But perhaps worse than this twisted, absurd attempt to make the word "prospectively" mean its exact opposite, is the fact that the council is putting the term limit item on the ballot at the behest of a few ex-mayors.

As mentioned, ordinary residents expressed opposition to the recently passed mixed use ordinance by the dozens. They gathered hundreds of signatures in the middle of the pandemic for the item to be placed on the ballot.

The same council that rightly banned trick-or-treating at Halloween because they didn't want our residents to be unnecessarily exposed to COVID-19, effectively forced ordinary residents to go door-to-door and to expose themselves to the virus in order to exercise their democratic rights. And when these ordinary residents asked the council for an accommodation to be made for the signature gathering due to the pandemic, the council turned a blind eye and a deaf ear to them.

But when ex-mayors and other machers snap their fingers, the council majority rushes to place their issue on the ballot as soon as possible, no signature gathering required. This is elitism at its

Furthermore, the argument we heard from those councilmembers who voted to place the term limit item on the ballot was that we have so many engaged and talented residents, so we should give more people a chance to be on the coun-

The irony here is that two of the three councilmembers who voted to put the item on the ballot with retroactivity, in violation of California government code, were themselves returned to the council for their second term without an election. The election had to be canceled because no one else wanted to run.

If the "arguments" used by the council majority regarding term limits seem disingenuous, it is completely appropriate to ask oneself if this isn't indeed a case of ulterior motives, painted against the broadest background of hypocrisy.

Too often at the national and state level we see lawmakers elevate the interests of the elites over those of ordinary residents. One would think and hope, at least at the local level, that we could get it right and put the residents first.

BHUSD Announces Return of In-person Instruction Despite Union Opposition

"According to a

BHEA email sent to

members, the BHEA

to file for injunction

relief Saturday"

By Ani Gasparyan

The BHUSD announced it will reopen its doors for in-person instruction in early March, despite the teachers' union seeking an injunction against the return dates.

Transitional kindergarten through second grade students will return to campus on March 4. Third to fifth grade students will return on March. 8. Students in sixth to 12th grade will continue virtual instruction until further notice.

Gov. Gavin Newsom's latest guideline allowed school districts to reopen for transitional kindergarten through sixth grade if their respective counties had an adjusted COVID-19 case rate of 25. Since sixth graders in the BHUSD are part of the middle school campus, Newsom's guideline does not include them.

According to Superintendent Michael Bregy, Los Angeles County's adjusted COVID-19 case rate is 12.3 as of Tuesday. The district was notified last week that the county, which has the ability to place stricter protocols than the state, is allowing the BHUSD and other qualified school districts to reopen.

The BHUSD Board of Education sent an email Friday that said the board supports the state and county directives that make it safe to open elementary schools.

"We have followed and supported both local and state directives since the beginning of the pandemic and we support the most current reopening plans and protocols recently released," it said.

The State of California previously followed a color-coded tier system, dubbed the "Blueprint for a Safer Economy," that determined when schools and businesses can reopen based on case rates. According to this system, the BHUSD could not reopen for lower grade students until LA County had an adjusted COVID-19 case rate of seven.

The BHUSD's contract with the Beverly Hills Education Association, which is the Executive Board voted union representing BHUSD faculty and staff, based its reopening plan on this color-coded tier system.

According to the MOU, the BHUSD can reopen in-person instruction for lower grades if LA County had a case rate between seven and 10.

BHEA President Alana Castanon said the BHUSD has announced return dates that are a violation of its contractual agreement with the union.

"BHEA will continue to be active participants in the negotiation process and hope that BHUSD will continue to join us," Castanon said. "Our members have done a tremendous job of delivering robust instruction during the pandemic and will continue to do so. Our desire to be heard and our concerns be considered in the decision-making process should be a given when considering the high stakes of the situation."

According to a BHEA email sent to members, the BHEA Executive Board voted to file for injunction relief Satur-

"These return dates do not correspond with the guidelines set forth in our Addendum #5 and we immediately sent the district's notification letter and our contract language to CTA Legal services to advise us of our next steps and options," it said. "The addendum in question pertains to the Memorandum of Understanding between the district and BHEA. Specifically, Addendum #5 states that in-person instruction for grades TK-2 will resume after the adjusted case rate of new daily cases of COVID-19 drops to 10/100,000 for grades TK-2 and 7/100,000 for grades

Castanon did not respond to Beverly Hills Weekly's request for comment on the injunction.

Judith Chan, a Horace Mann School music teacher, said during Tuesday's board meeting that she understands that many people are eager to reopen schools safely and guidelines have recently been changed.

"But it is mind boggling that the district somehow thinks that the best way to do this is to knowingly violate the MOU and completely blindside the teaching staff," Chan said.

She said the district's claim that negotiations with the union have been ongoing is untrue. She said since the last MOU was signed in December, the only bargaining meeting that took place was last Friday.

"Teachers are now faced with unanswered questions, fear, anger, worry and feeling disrespected. Trust is broken here," Chan said. "And the only way to mend this is to continue to bargain with us in good faith. Imposing top down decisions and violating [contracts], are never the right approach.'

Bregy said the intent of both the district and the BHEA was to get back to school as soon as it's safe.

"We've been planning on going back the entire time we've been out," Bregy said. "Nobody wanted to stay out. So we kept up with all the information from the public health orders [so that] when it's time to reopen, we could do it and we could do it in a safe way."

Bregy said the district has repeatedly said it would reopen schools as conditions in the community improved.

"When there is a disagreement like this, there is a process to go through and we have really good labor partners," Bregy said. "But I want to also assure our community that we have been working to go back to in-person learning for over a year and that's what we're doing."

-Superintendent Michael Bregy

expressed support for reopening schools and concern over the union's stance.

Mark Lopez wrote a letter to the board that said teachers are essential works and should therefore show up in-person to work.

"Similarly, firefighters, paramedics, doctors, police officers, cashiers, medical staff and nurses have all showed up in-person to work as essential workers," Lopez wrote. "What makes teachers feel that they can just stay home, get paid and collect benefits and not show up to in-person school?"

An anonymous website, titled ourkidscomefirst.org, was registered and published Sunday. The site criticizes the union and urged parents to send letters to be read during the board meeting.

Board member Mary Wells said she appreciated the work Bregy and his staff have done to reopen the schools.

"I'm just so excited to see our kids come back to school," Wells said.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are en-couraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 844-477-7869, or visit this internet Web site www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case T.S.# 83760. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250.
