“Mixed-Use Ordinance Gets a Verdict” [Issue #1102]

Most of the talk about the mixed use ordinance has focused on density, which is perhaps as it should be. But has anyone thought about parking? In case developers and officials have been sleeping (or hope that we aren't awake) California has mandated that all new cars in the state will be electric by 2035.

Many manufacturers including Cadillac, Volvo, VW, and Audi are planning to be all electric before that. Yet we are planning on developments with less parking. Now, it would be nice to think that all the people in these places would commute via skateboards, fairy wings, or “Star Trek” style transporter but the reality is that most people are going to have cars, and in the very near future will need places to charge them.

Why be saddled with buildings that are under parked and therefore obsolete to consumers 15 years down the road? Or will we be having people running extension cords from their apartments to their

ANTI-MASKERS TARGET ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STUDENTS NORTH REXFORD DRIVE

A group of anti-maskers protested outside of Hawthorne School last Wednesday. Around seven people, without masks, stood outside of the school carrying anti-mask signs and attempted to pass out flyers as students were leaving to go home.

Superintendent Michael Bregy, in a statement, said the district administration, campus security, Hawthorne School staff and police shielded students from engaging with the protesters.

Planning Commission Gives Go Ahead to One Beverly Hills

The Planning Commission recommended last Thursday the proposed One Beverly Hills project for the City Council's approval.

Rendering of One Beverly Hills

One Beverly Hills is a proposed luxury hotel, condominium and botanical garden that would be located at the former Robinsons-May department store, a Union 76 gas station, the Beverly Hilton Hotel and the Waldorf Astoria Beverly Hills Hotel. If approved, the project would sit on approximately 17.5 acres of land and have the tallest building in the city.

The commission previously discussed the project on April 8 and April 19. Commissioners voted 4-0 in favor of the project's specific plan on April 22, with Commissioner Thomas Hudnut recusing himself because he is a member of the neighboring Los Angeles Country Club.

Commissioner Myra Demeter said the project has no access from the entire southwest. She previously raised the same concern with the project earlier this month.

"If I live in the southwest and I would like to enjoy all these wonderful things and I live on Gregory and very close to Beverly Drive, in order to get to all these wonderful things I have to take a very circuitous route," she said.

Commissioner Andy Licht said he didn't understand Demeter's concerns with the southern access.

"To me, the most direct route is you walk two blocks to Wilshire and Wilshire takes you to the front of this. I don't even know what another path would be," Licht said. "I guess [Demeter] would say to go down Charleville, but there's no way to cross Charleville from South Santa Monica or Little Santa Monica."

Ted Kahan, President of the One Beverly Hills project, said the project is an unprecedented investment in the Santa Monica gateway into Beverly Hills.

"We believe we've come up with a plan that provides a very inviting entrance into our park," he said.

Kahan added that the One Beverly Hills team is looking at ways to enhance the Santa Monica edge further, but does not have specific proposals yet.

"We've done, we think, beyond what should be expected of us in terms of what we control and what we can decide and how we can provide access," Kahan said. "Given the constraints that are in place both for us and for neighbors – we don't own the property across, we can't force access. If the city or a private owner is willing to work with us on creating what you would consider to be better access, we're open to it."

Chair Peter Ostroff said the private residence club is a potentially important legal real estate concept, but the commission has no way of evaluating if it's a good thing to have them.

"It's not mentioned in the supplemental [Environmental Impact Report]. It wasn't mentioned in the scoping meetings," Ostroff said. "And I checked with staff and they said the first they heard of this was in March of this year. This is no way to run a railroad."

The City Council is expected to consider the project for final approval in a future meeting.

Emergency Sirens May Be Coming to Beverly Hills

The City Council supported moving forward with an outdoor siren warning system that may be used during emergencies last Tuesday.

If approved, the sirens would be placed throughout the city and are meant to ensure that all residents are notified of local emergencies such as earthquakes and wildfires. According to the council's agenda report, the cost is estimated to be between $500,000 and $1,500,000.

Vice Mayor Lili Bosse said she wishes the city had the sirens in place already.

"I would like to fast track this as quickly as possible and hear from our residents," Bosse said. "As far as I'm concerned, this is a really important issue that we do quickly."

Councilmember Julian Gold said he is in favor of trialing the sirens.

"I'd like to get this truck that has one mounted and pick some of the areas that you've identified as high priority and start the conversation with the community," Gold said. "See what they look like, see what they sound like, see how far things go and let people comment on if they're going to be okay with it."

Councilmember John Mirisch also said the city should first start by reaching out to the community about the sirens. He said Beverly Hills previously had emergency sirens when he was growing up in the city.

"I would like to see us maybe even talk about the history with the residents, get that information out there, explain to them why we're doing this," Mirisch said. "Then I would like to look for a nice design."

According to City Engineer Daren Griley, city staff will return to the council with proposed designs and locations for the sirens at a future meeting for them to consider.

City Adopts Urgency Ordinance to Align With County and Federal Face Mask Recommendations

The City Council unanimously voted Tuesday to amend a section of its ordinance regarding face covering requirements in order to align with recommendations set forth by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and soon to be adopted by the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health.

According to the updated guidance from the CDC, fully vaccinated individuals no longer need to wear a mask outdoors while walking, running, hiking or biking alone, or when in small gatherings, including with members of their own households.

The CDC urged everyone, including those fully vaccinated, to continue wearing face coverings when in crowds where six-feet of distance from other persons is not possible; while attending large events and gatherings; and in indoor settings where unvaccinated people may be present.

Once the county adopts regulations in accord with the CDC guidance, those regulations will apply in Beverly Hills.

Board Approves Resolution to Potentially Repurpose District Offices

The BHUSD Board of Education unanimously approved Tuesday a resolution to accept the 7-11 Committee's report and recommendations regarding the district's properties, which included a proposal to create a residential development at the district offices on South Lasky Drive.

The 7-11 Committee is a group that makes recommendations to the Board of Education regarding the BHUSD's property assets.

Peter Ostroff

7-11 Committee Chair Peter Ostroff, who is also the city's Planning Commission Chair, said the report focused on repurposing the offices by finding a developer to partner with to create housing there. He said the goal is to generate sufficient revenue from the housing to create functional district offices and revenue for the district.

"We would ideally, and we certainly can't promise this but it's going to be what we're striving for, ... create some housing that at least in part can be used for district employees and be at some discounted rate off of market," Ostroff said. "In order to pursue this, and essentially the first major step, would be to identify a developer who would work with us presumably through a ground lease of the site."

Board member Amanda Stern asked about the zoning at the district's office building.

"Is it in fact zoned so that we could easily entertain the idea of a ground lease, or would that be an involved process to get that approved?" Stern said.

Ostroff responded that the district would have to get the zone changed approved, but he doesn't anticipate that it would be a problem.

The committee's report also proposed the possibility of repurposing Hawthorne Elementary School and Beverly Vista's parking lot on Gregory Way and Elm Drive.

According to the report, some alternatives for Hawthorne include a district operated preschool, temporary location for the Maintenance and Operations Department and temporary or permanent location for the district's offices. Possible alternatives for the Gregory Way and Elm Drive parking lot include making it an expanded parking facility or a multi-family apartment project.

Board member Mary Wells said the proposal sounded wonderful. She said she would love to see the idea for the parking lot further developed.

"I love the creative thinking and problem solving to think out of the box and look for solutions that don't cost the district money and the need to raise funds with another bond," Wells said.

The board also reached a consensus to bring back a resolution to seek a "waiver" from the State Board of Education. According to the report, the Education Code requires districts to have a bid process for their properties and subsequently select the highest bidder. The waiver would allow the district to waive this process.

Board Approves Contract with Instructional Assistants

The BHUSD Board of Education approved Tuesday a ratified tentative agreement between the district and Beverly Hills Education Association regarding instruction assistants.

Instructional assistants help BHUSD faculty in their classrooms. The new agreement will be in place between 2021 and 2024.

According to the agreement, there are six levels for promotions as instructional assistants. The first step earns $19.50/hour, the second earns $20.50, the third earns $21.01, the fourth earns $21.81, the fifth earns $22.36 and the sixth earns $23.42.

Each step will receive an annual raise until 2024.

Other aspects of the agreement include a $100 per month stipend for toileting, diapering and/or feeding.

According to an email sent by the BHUSD Board of Education, the district also rescinded its reduction in force notices for the 2021-2022 academic year. Read Issue #1119 for the Weekly's brief on the potential lay offs.

Board Discusses COVID-19 Funding and Enrollment Updates

The BHUSD Board of Education discussed Tuesday the district's COVID-19 funding and updates to enrollment.

California school districts received COVID-19 funding through federal and state resources. According to Assistant Superintendent of Business Services Wade Roach's presentation, the district received a combined total of $11.5 million.

"The federal programs are much broader," Roach said. "They can be used for many more different things in general than the state programs."

The funding was used for a variety of COVID-19 health and safety requirements for reopening schools, such as personal protective equipment and thermal cameras. Some of the district's expenditures to date include $111,576 on plexiglass and $96,014 on HVAC/air treatments.

Roach also discussed the district's enrollment. According to his presentation, there were 3,540 students enrolled in 2019-2020, 3,315 students enrolled in 2020-2021 and 3,281 students enrolled in 2020-2021 as of April.

"Notice that even though we lost 259 students, 78 of those were because of permits. We had a reduced number of permits," Roach said. "We had 234 permit students last year and this year we only have 156. So that's something to note as we look at our overall enrollment."

Architectural Commission Approves North Palm Drive Multi-Family Building

The Architectural Commission approved an architectural review to allow for facade and site modifications to a multi-family building on North Palm Drive last Wednesday.

Val Kudryavtsev, from the Beverly Palm Homeowners Association, applied for modifications to the building that included cast in place concrete stairs, clear dual glazed fiberglass, composite wood/metal railings and fiberglass windows.

424 North Palm Drive

Commissioner Tim Devlin said it would be nice to see uniform plant material at the front of the building.

"There's a tree fern and a giant bird of paradise and a purple plum – so it would be great to have some sort of unity there at the front," Devlin said.

He also suggested that the building's walls shouldn't be covered in pure white plaster.

"When it's close to planted areas, a lot of the dirt can splash up and it doesn't hide anything," Devlin said. "So if it could be more of an off-white or a grey in the palette of the other materials I think that would be great."

Chair Sheri Hirschfeld said the proposal is a much-improved upgrade to the existing building.

"The composite wood railing to me does not ... I like the wood within the composite wood but seeing all those screws and [a] faux wood finish," Hirschfeld said. "I don't think that it speaks to where the building is located and I'd like to see an alternative option to something that is not made of faux materials."

Commissioners approved the proposal with a 5-0 vote. According to Assistant City Attorney Mark Odell, the conditions of approval included not using composite material for the balcony's railings and that the balcony railings should reflect the overall color palette of the building.

Architectural Commission Considers North Canon Drive Business

The Architectural Commission approved last Wednesday an architectural review for a jewelry business on North

440 North Canon Drive

Canon Drive.

Anne Sisteron Fine Jewelry requested the approval of an architectural review for facade modifications, a new awning and a business identification sign. According to the commission's agenda report, the proposal included chartreuse exterior wall paint and an awning fabric replacement to match the paint.

Chair Sheri Hirschfeld said that the tree in front of the store, which has fuschia flowers, will look incredible with the paint.

Commissioners approved the proposal with a 5-0 vote. According to Assistant City Attorney Mark Odell, the conditions of approval included that signage's letter spacing should correspond to its logo and the address's numbers should be displayed on the business facade.

Walk the Art Walk

The Next Beverly Hills Committee organized an "art walk" through the City of Beverly Hills on Sunday.

Next BH Chair Noelle Freeman said the committee is excited to make art more of a priority as the city bounces back from the pandemic.

"We're presenting a new concept called 'Visions of the Future' to council and our goal is to fill empty storefronts with next-gen art all in an effort to make our city as walkable and vibrant as possible," Freeman said.

Hills.

The indictment was unsealed Tuesday following the arrest of Harutyun Harry Chalikyan. Chalikyan was scheduled to be arraigned later that afternoon in a U.S. District Court in Los Angeles. The second defendant in the case is William Stepanyan, who is currently in state custody and expected to appear in federal court in the coming weeks.

The indictment alleges Stepanyan, Chalikyan and other Armenian-Americans drove to Beverly Hills restaurant Cafe Istanbul, where they proceeded to destroy property, attack the victims inside and shout derogatory slurs about Turkish people. Four of the five victims were of Turkish descent.

The alleged attack occurred during the height of the 2020 Nagorno-Karabakh war between Azerbaijan and Armenia over the disputed territory of Nagorno-Karabakh – otherwise known as Artsakh. Thousands of Armenian Angelenos had protested in the streets in fall 2020 against Azerbaijan's attacks.

Turkey publicly supported and provided military arms to Azerbaijan during the war, and has a contentious history with Armenia due to its perpetuation and subsequent denial of the genocide of more than 1 million Armenians from 1915 to 1924. President Joe Biden on April 24 formally recognized those killings, known collectively as the Armenian Genocide.

Chalikyan and Stepanyan are charged with one count of conspiracy and five hate crimes. If convicted, they would each face a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison for the hate crime charges and five years in prison for the conspiracy charge.

Beverly Hills police aided the FBI investigation into the alleged attack. Assistant U.S. Attorney Lindsey Greer Dotson and federal trial attorney Michael J. Songer are prosecuting the case.

City Launches #ReThinkBHTap Campaign

The City of Beverly Hills has launched its #ReThinkBHTap campaign to educate residents about the benefits of tap water in their homes.

The city ensures that its tap water is safe for residents to drink by undergoing a monitoring process to verify that its water meets or exceeds applicable water quality standards. Each year, the city releases a Water Quality Report that examines this process, outlining any constituents found in its water such as chemicals, microscopic organisms and radioactive materials – many which are naturally occurring. Historically, the city has met all U.S. EPA and State drinking water health standards each year, as reported in the annual Consumer Confidence Report. This year's Consumer Confidence Report is currently being prepared and will be available by July 1.

“Our Public Works Department puts in an enormous amount of effort to ensure we continue to deliver clean tap water so that our community as well as the environment remains healthy for the future,” said Beverly Hills Mayor Robert Wunderlich. “It's imperative we do all that we can to utilize this valuable resource in a sustainable manner so that our planet can continue to thrive.”

Throughout the year, the city will host a variety of educational presentations, workshops, social media campaigns and more to explain the benefits of tap water and dispel any myths.

To learn more and view the city's Water Quality Report from previous years, visit beverlyhills.org/bhtap.

CRUSADING ATTORNEY

Beverly Hills Native Nathan Hochman Mounts a Campaign for California Attorney General

By Ani Gasparyan

Former Assistant Attorney General of the U.S. Justice Department's Tax Division Nathan Hochman has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for California Attorney General in 2022.

What made you want to run for Attorney General?

What made me want to run for Attorney General was the desire and passion to serve others. It's something that I've been doing my whole life. It's something that my parents did their whole lives. To the extent that I'm able, through the state Attorney General job, to meaningfully impact other's lives in a positive way by sharing my ideas and energy. To do so, it would be one of the highest callings and greatest honors that I could aspire to.

If you are elected, what would you hope to accomplish in the role?

My number one focus would be ensuring public safety and justice for the people of California. Right now, the agenda that the current establishment has— in Sacramento, San Francisco [and] Los Angeles — is an agenda that is focused more on defunding the police, treating the police as our enemies, and not focusing on victims and the harm and damage they're suffering. I believe that that is an overcorrection or an overswing of the pendulum.

I believe that my goal would be to reestablish both the balance to criminal justice issues and to establish independence for the Office of Attorney General. The current establishment has been run, in all phases, by one party for years. They control the state legislature, they control the governor's office, they control every statewide position.

And I believe that better ideas come from the competition of ideas. When you have just one party controlling all levers of government, ideas get played out like the ones currently being played out in the criminal justice realm that are flawed and result in public safety being compromised.

Anne Marie Schubert, a former Sacramento District Attorney, has also announced that she is seeking the Republican nomination. Were you surprised she decided to run?

No, I wasn't surprised to see her enter the race because she had said before she was looking at the race. I welcome her to the race. Her qualifications and experience, in part, is just another testament as to why newly-minted Attorney General

Rob Bonta is not, in our collective views, up for the task of being Attorney General for the state.

What do you see being the key issues in this race?

The number one issue will be the issue of criminal justice because it's an issue that permeates most other issues. Whether it's someone having their car broken into, their house broken into, their identity stolen, whether or not they're being shot at, their buildings are being not cared for. The issues of criminal justice and public safety permeate every community up and down the State of California. So I believe that that will be the central issue the voters will look at and compare to very significantly different approaches.

The [approach] of Attorney General Rob

Bonta, who again advocates the policies of the [District Attorneys George] Gascon and [Chesa] Boudin — which is a far left agenda focused on defunding the police, treating the police as our enemies and focusing on defendants rather than victims — versus what I believe is a much more balanced approach. [One] that looks at public safety through the lens of putting the people who need to be in prison, who constitute threats to our public safety in prison, and looking towards policies of rehabilitation, restoration, and a path back from lives of crimes to lives

“Where I differ with Mr. Bonta is that his focus is expanding to cases that actually threaten our public safety and doing it in a way that does not respect victims’ suffering and the damage that people have caused to victims. You have to balance the two and his balance is completely off” of productivity as the balanced approach.

Can you elaborate on what you mean by “rehabilitation”?

If someone commits, for instance, certain nonviolent offenses and there are ways that instead of putting them in jail you can create conditions of punishment that allow them to perform community service rather than being incarcerated. That allows them to get back to their jobs, earning a living for their families, and pay back any restitution or damages they have caused.

I think that the ability to pay back to society, in something other than going to jail, is appropriate in certain cases. Where I differ with Mr. Bonta is that his focus is expanding to cases that actually threaten our public safety and doing it in a way that does not respect victims’ suffering and the damage that people have caused to victims. You have to balance the two and his balance is completely off.

You grew up in Beverly Hills and graduated from Beverly High in 1981. Tell us about that.

I was very fortunate to grow up in Beverly Hills. It, at the time, [was] one of the best school systems in the nation. I believe the high school was rated as one of the top public high schools in the entire nation at the time. It gave me a tremendous education, gave me opportunity, as well as a commitment that has been lifelong to public service and to remain curious and learning and becoming a lifelong learner. I only wish that the public education that I received could be received by everyone.

[Councilmember] John [Mirisch] was [editor of] the school paper [Highlights]. At the time, I was president of the student body. I was very fortunate to be surrounded by tremendous individuals — men and women — who wanted to do something with their life. Whether it was in medicine, science, law, business, the arts.

In my class was Dr. Paul Natterson, who recently was the head of St John's Hospital. In my class was Jon Turtletaub. These are people who graduated with me. [Turtletaub] is one of the premier directors in Hollywood. In my class [were] Jon Brooks and Michael Fries, two sort of titans of business. In my class [were] Elizabeth Claman, Daryn Kagan, and Claudia Cowan, who have gone on to have tremendous careers in TV. Steven Katz is one of the head lawyers of the [Los Angeles] District Attorney's office. Richard Schwartz — he is one of the leaders in the new media world.

I was fortunate to be surrounded by such incredible people, who sort of kept pushing me to be better, to work harder and to do what I could to make the most of myself.

Your mother, Harriet Hochman, was one of the founders of the Beverly Hills Education Foundation. Can you tell us about her and her role in the school district?

My mom is a force of nature. She sees a problem and immediately jumps into action, gathers a team around her, leads that team, and finds solutions. She has been an incredible role model. I've always been in awe of her.

Equally, my late father [Bruce Hochman]. He was my mother's match in all ways. He was a leader in his profession. He was one of the preeminent tax lawyers in the United States. He was the head, as my mother was, of the Jewish Federation here in Los Angeles. The United Jewish Federation, the ADL, United Way and a whole number of other charitable and community based organizations.

They each instilled in me the Jewish notion of tzedakah, which is defined as charity but more appropriately defined as justice. And the idea of tikkun olam, which is the need to repair the world. They really believed in the idea that you basically help one person, it's as if you're helping the entire world. Very powerful role models.

What campaign events do you have coming up?

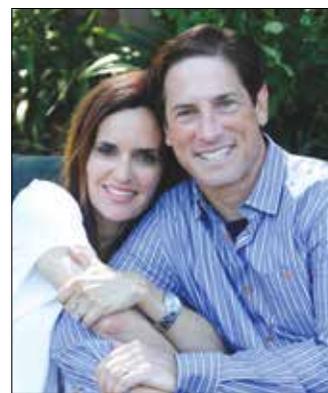

We're in the process of setting that all up now. We're dealing with COVID protocol issues in different counties throughout the state.

The different types of meetings will hopefully be starting up in May. [The events] will be advertised on my website, which is nathanhochman.com.

California's voters are predominately registered as Democrats. Why do you think a Republican should have a chance at the role?

I think that, for this particular job, what people are interested in are your qualifications, experience, whether or not you will be independent, and have independent ideas from the ideas that currently exist and for the most part are failing.

As far as qualifications and experience go, I believe that I have served in all aspects of the courtroom. I've worked for a judge. I've been a federal prosecutor, I ran the United States Department of Justice's Tax Division. I've been a defense attorney. I've represented individuals and organizations, asserting their constitutional rights. And I've even represented victims. I believe those qualifications and experience give me a perspective that's unique amongst the people running for the job.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: PARVIZ ILLOULIAN AKA PERRY ILLOULIAN CASE NO. 21STPB03885

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the lost WILL or estate, or both of PARVIZ ILLOULIAN AKA PERRY ILLOULIAN. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by JERRY ILLOULIAN AND JASON D. ILLOULIAN in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that JERRY ILLOULIAN AND JASON D. ILLOULIAN be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's lost WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The lost WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 05/27/21 at 8:30AM in Dept. 29 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.
