According to Lieutenant Giovanni Trejo, the suspects fled on foot to an awaiting vehicle. Detectives are currently investigating this matter.

City Council Discusses Campaign Disclosure Regulations

At their Jan. 4 Study Session the City Council discussed campaign disclosure requirements for ballot measure committees.

According to the staff report, since 2010 Beverly Hills has had an ordinance that covered campaign disclosure requirements for ballot measure committees, which are committees formed to support or oppose initiatives. The legislation made it so that ballot measure committees must disclose in their advertisements who their "top contributors" were.

Top contributors are contributors who donate more than $10,000.

In 2018, the State legislature adopted the DISCLOSE (Democracy is Strengthened by Casting Light on Spending in Elections) act. This incorporated many of the City's requirements and provided additional detail in its regulations. It also contains updated requirements to conform to new advertising forms and technology.

The regulations would apply to any committee other than political party committees and candidate-controlled committees. The proposed ordinance would also apply its disclosure requirements to independently funded committees, including political action committees and will bring its requirements in line with the DIS-CLOSE act. This would make it so that committees have one set of rules to abide by so that a different audio message or font is not required by local and state law.

Through incorporation of the DIS-CLOSE act, the proposed ordinance would also capture funds that are laundered through a separate organization

The DISCLOSE act also details specific rules for advertising on radio and television, print advertising, and public facing internet websites, including and text messages and social media. There are rules regarding background color, contrast with text, size of disclosure, length of time of disclosure for shorter or longer radio commercials and other details that were not covered in the 2010 Beverly Hills ordinance.

The definition of "advertising" would also change.

Under the proposed ordinance advertising that requires disclosures would not include a campaign button smaller than 10 inches in diameter; a bumper sticker smaller than 60 square inches; or a small tangible promotional item, such as a pen, pin, or key chain, upon which the disclosure required cannot be conveniently printed or displayed. It would also not include sky writing or wearing apparel or communications Advertising previously consisted of communication other than personal communication between individuals.

For local elections, the threshold for triggering disclosures will remain lower and continue to be the same as they were in 2010. State law requires a contribution of $50,000 or more to be disclosed; the proposed ordinance requires any contribution of $10,000 or more to be disclosed.

There was some discussion on whether to keep the amount for contributions for local elections at $1,000 rather than $10,000

"I completely support disclosure in any way we can disclose people who donate money. My issue is the practicality of it. Kind of also what the Mayor was saying too. If part of it is every person who gives $1,000 has to be listed on every document that candidate does, I just don't think it's reasonable," Vice Mayor Lili Bosse said.

This discussion will be brought back to the City Council for further discussion before it is put on the consent calendar for approval.

City Council Discusses Final Draft Design Standards for Connect Beverly Hills

At their Tuesday Study Session the City Council was presented with a report regarding the final draft design standards for Connect Beverly Hills: Meet Me on Wilshire and La Cienega.

The Design Standards incorporate numerous bicycle, pedestrian and transit policies that were adopted in the Complete Streets Plan.

In May of 2020, the City launched Connect Beverly Hills to design new street standards to create connected and welcoming corridors so that future Metro Purple Line subway riders will immediately recognize it as Beverly Hills when they emerge from the two stations.

At the Aug. 18, 2020, City Council Study Session meeting, the City Council requested that the Traffic and Parking Commission serve as the Project Advisory Committee (PAC).

The purpose of the PAC was to review input received from stakeholders, delve into specific issues that surface during outreach events and make recommendations to the Council on project direction, design concepts and plans.

The PAC had six meetings over the course of the project. At those meetings the PAC discussed: project introduction, review of PAC role and project vision; review of key outreach takeaways and project approach; feedback on initial draft infrastructure proposals; feedback on aesthetic options for design standards; feedback on Draft Streetscape Plan and Design Standards; and review of the Draft Plan and recommendation on adoption.

The design standards recommend the types and styles of sidewalk amenities, such as seating, transit shelters and pedestrian scale lighting. They contain the specifications and vendors of amenities, as well as guidelines for placing them on the street.

"The majority of stakeholders that participated in the engagement process indicated they would like to see streetscape amenities with an organic feel, so the Final Draft Design Standards include features that mimic textures, patterns, and colors found in nature; incorporate sustainability elements; and align with the City's elegant and classic garden style," according to the staff report.

If approved by City Council, the design standards will be used to guide the designs for restoration of the areas affected by development projects.

Rent Stabilization Commission Approve Resolution for Relocation

At their Jan. 5 meeting the Rent Stabilization Commission approved a resolution in regards to relocation fee amounts that will be recommended to the City Council for approval.

At their Dec. 1 meeting the Commission established the recommendations as follows: the base relocation fee shall be three times the median monthly rent for the same sized unit, based on the number of bedrooms; an additional $1,000 for moving expenses shall be added to the base relocation fee; and an additional $2,000 shall be added to the base relocation fee for those households that include a minor, senior, or disabled person.

The commission also established a reduction in relocation fees for "Mom and Pop" owners as follows: a "Mom and Pop" landlord is defined as a landlord who owns no more than four multifamily dwelling units and a single-family dwelling, all of which are located in Beverly Hills, provided that a "Mom and Pop" landlord shall not include a real estate investment trust, a corporation, a limited liability company in which at least one member is controlled by a corporation, or a partnership in which at least one partner is controlled by a corporation; reduce the base relocation fee required to be paid by a "Mom and Pop" landlord who recovers the possession of an apartment unit for use and occupancy by the landlord or the landlord's children, spouse, or parents by 25% for tenants with a tenancy of less than 10 years and by 15% for tenants with a tenancy of 10 years or more; and require a landlord who pays a reduced relocation fee as a "Mom and Pop" landlord to declare under penalty of perjury, that the landlord qualifies as a "Mom and Pop" landlord. sustainability in the community.

The platform is meant to be an evolving document that will be amended each year by the City Council.

Other areas of interest include: supporting local control, such as legislation that

Legislative Lobby Committee Discusses 2022 Legislative Platform

At their Jan. 10 meeting the Legislative Lobby Committee discussed the City's legislative platform for 2022.

Each year, the City establishes a platform, which embodies legislative priorities and themes for the upcoming year. This platform provides direction for City staff and legislative advocates as they try to secure initiatives locally as well as at the state level and nationally.

The objective of the platform is to outline the City's position on legislative matters and serve as the foundation for the City to support or oppose various local, state, and federal legislation. This platform also outlines policy statements that will allow legislative lobbyists and City staff to respond and influence legislation.

The following items are the primary legislative focus for the City: supporting legislation in regards to local control with community self-determination; supporting legislation that focuses on addressing mental health issues and; supporting

Low Turnout for Communist Protest

On Jan. 6 a protest was held outside of the Beverly Hills Civic Center at approximately 1:00 p.m. by a group that called themselves the "New Communist USA party."

The group sent out an eblast promoting a protest in regards to the Jan. 6 capital riot

"On the anniversary of the January 6 fascist coup attempt, the revcoms will march to announce they are recruiting forces for an actual revolution to overthrow the system that has given rise to Donald Trump's fascist Republican Party," the eblast said.

According to BHPD Lieutenant Giovanni Trejo, there were no more than 20 people in attendance and no arrests or significant problems were reported.

City Council Approves Resolution Regarding Private Displays

At their Tuesday meeting the City Council approved a resolution regarding the Frieze Sculpture Garden Beverly Hills, to be exempt from the regulations regarding private displays and structures as City art.

Originally, Frieze proposed between around 15 art pieces to be installed in Beverly Gardens Park from the start of "Frieze Week in Beverly Hills" until May 2022. The placement of these sculptures will be in various parcels of Beverly Gardens Park, from Alpine Drive to Walden Drive, as well as from Carmelita Avenue to Whittier Drive.

In previous public/private partnerships, where the programming is open and free to residents and the public, host organizations have included local sponsors to offset costs. Previous examples include BritWeek which featured The Maybourne as sponsors of the Car Rally, and Rodeo Drive Committee hosting the Concours d'Elegance Father's Day Car Show with sponsor O'Gara Coach.

Based on previous regulations, private structures within the City's public parks may not be temporarily installed. However, the City Council adopted a resolution that allows for any art to be installed for this co-hosted Frieze Week in Beverly Hills including the Frieze Sculpture Garden Beverly Hills to be exempt from the regulations regarding private displays and structures as the art is public art due to the co-sponsorship by the City. The installation of these sculptures as City art and be regulated by a City Special Events permit.

There is no additional cost to the City because Frieze is responsible for managing all sponsorship and installation of the sculpture garden with the various galleries

"ON THE EDGE"

Longtime Beverly Hills Resident Joan Agajanian Quinn Discusses her new Art Exhibit

By Danielle Berjikian

Joan Agajanian Quinn has been a Beverly Hills resident for over 50 years. Joan, with her late husband, attorney John J. Quinn, and twin daughters Jennifer and Amanda, have been a supporter of the arts for over 60 years, particularly Southern California Contemporary Art. Quinn was the recipient of the 2017 Ellis Island Medal of Honor. She's served on the board of The California Film Commission, the California Arts Council, Cedars-Sinai Hospital Arts Council, and Trustee of the Armenian Museum of America. She has also served on the Arts and Culture Commission and Architectural Commission.

Tell us about your art collection On the Edge: Los Angeles Art 1970s-1990s from the Joan and Jack Quinn Family Collection at the Bakersfield Museum of Art.

On the Edge is a selection of paintings that my husband and I have collected or accumulated over the past 50 years. It's really not a collection so much of the art world but a collection of our artist friends and most of them were California artists. Basically, it focuses on Southern California art and people that Jack and I knew.

You have developed friendships with renowned artists like Andy Warhol and David Hockney. Tell us about that.

That was another part of our lives. Andy Warhol was a great friend. I was the West Coast editor of Interview magazine and before he made me the West Coast editor we were friends socially. The one thing we really had in common besides art and our friends was collecting jewelry. We were very competitive. When I was in New York we would go up and down Madison Avenue where he would try to get advertisements for Interview and he would be passing out his Interview magazine to the different businesses on Madison Avenue. And when we would go into a jewelry shack we would see things that we both liked. We were both collecting watches and 1940s style jewelry. We would go in and we would see something we both liked and ask 'what it was?' 'How much was it?' Who made it?' And we'd both be very interested. I would think 'I'll come back and see if I can buy that.' And when I would come back to see if I could buy the piece they would say 'no, Andy has already put a hold on it.' He was very clever when we were in discussion. He would find a way to say 'hold that for me.'

We used to go on 42nd street to this one dealer named Larry Ford. We both were the competition and Larry knew that both of us wanted things. Andy bought a lot of junky things too, in bulk. Like class rings and copies of things he had in his own collection.

And David [Hockney] we met in London in the 70s. We became friends when he moved here. He had a group of friends in London: Allen Jones, Tony Donaldson, Andrew Logan, and Duggie Fields. David was one of our friends in England and when he moved here we became closer, and we've been great friends ever since. The one thing that I love is that when David came he had 82 portraits that were shown at the County Museum of Art. I was his number 16 and the first woman. We thought he was going to stop at 20 or 30 and he went on to paint 80. It was a great show.

How did you choose the Bakersfield Art Museum for your collection?

The one thing about Bakersfield that I really love about the museum is that it is a small, 60's-like building and our collection takes up the whole museum. The reason I wanted to do it, the reason we decided as a family is because it's a great education tool.

How did you get all the art to Bakersfield?

We had a professional mover and it was blanket wrapped and crated. They have a great staff [at Bakersfield] they installed it so beautifully. They installed it like it was on the walls in my house. Where we would buy a piece and the artist would come in and put it on the wall. And then another friend of his would come and [bring] another piece that we bought. And it's like they're all in conversation with each other on the wall, that's the way it is in Bakersfield. They all have a connection to each other.

The first is a room with Peter Alexander close to a Billy Al Bengston and they were great friends. And right across from the Bengston is a Kienholz. Of course, we saw Kienholz in Berlin and spent time with him there. Billy was a friend of Kienholz early on in their careers. And on the opposite side is a John Altoon.

Joan Quinn

John Altoon was also a friend of Billy's, and he was someone we knew when my children were born. He came over to the house because he's Armenian and I'm Armenian. We had a series of parties where we invited a lot of artists and we mixed the group with legal people, people from the law, judges, clients of Jacks, fellow lawyers. We kind of mixed all these people together when we first moved into Beverly Hills over 50 years ago. John came over and when he saw that the caterers were Armenian and we were serving an Armenian meal he was totally enthralled and spent half of the time with us in the kitchen with the caterers because he was so happy to be connected to his Armenian heritage.

Also, on the wall, there is an Ed Moses who was friends with Altoon and thought Altoon was a great painter. And across from Ed Moses are two drawings by Ken Price, who was also a friend of his. So, it's like this community. Each wall speaks like a community of friends, and artists, and people that we knew and how they were connected to each other.

Bob Graham's work is in the next room. Bob was the godfather to my twins. We've all been close in that personal way. And Jack was very close to these guys. They were guys, guys. It was not a time for women painters. It was a totally different world in the 60s, 70s, 80s. You know, they were 'the guys' and we just accepted them as 'the guys'. And they adored my husband. They relied on him a lot because they knew they could come to him with any kind of problem.

"I want people to see that the art that they buy moves them. They have to be moved and they have to know that they can live with it and love it on their walls"

And he usually could solve it for them. He was more true to those people because they were our friends.

Your late husband Jack Quinn who was an attorney would provide legal assistance to artists who needed help for a variety of reasons, tell us about that.

They all came to him with their personal problems. Sometimes they could be solved by legal terms but sometimes they could be solved by just a listening ear. Sometimes it was monetary, sometimes they needed to borrow money. It was a lot of different things like that.

You were the Society Editor of Hearst's Los Angeles Herald Examiner, tell us about that.

I loved that job. We were in big competition with the LA Times. They had a big staff and our staff was me, my editor, and we had a runner who would do some research for me. I would go out, I knew the city very well because I am a native and I love Los Angeles. We lived in Beverly Hills forever, so I always knew the back door to the Beverly Wilshire, how to get in there. And where to park for the Hilton. Wherever I needed to go I knew the shortcuts where I can get out, get in, cover the party, take my photograph, and maybe go on to somebody's house. We were beating the Times because [I] was covering maybe three or four social events and they only covered one. It was great. I loved that job a lot.

What do you want people to take away from this exhibit?

I hope that they'll learn that you don't buy huge paintings that are supposed to be increasing in price. You don't buy art as an investment. We never bought art as an investment. We never bought anything we thought was going to be good for ourselves. What we wanted was something that would help the artist [and] help his career path. I want people to see that the art that they buy moves them. They have to be moved and they have to know that they can live with it and love it on their walls.

The exhibit will run until April 2. The museum is located at 1930 R St, Bakersfield, CA. Hours are Tuesday - Saturday: 10:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Visit https://www.bmoa.org/current for more information.

"NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid on a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of the outstanding lien that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 844-477-7869, or visit this internet Web site www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case T.S.# 85621. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the sched-uled sale." For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bid-der," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (844) 477-7869, or visit this internet website www.STOXPOSTING.com, using the file number assigned to this case 85621 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid; by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code; so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.

FORMATION OBTAINED WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE. "NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid on a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of the outstanding lien that may exist on this property by contacting the county record-er's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 844-477-7869, or visit this internet Web site www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case T.S.# 83483. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify post-ponement information is to attend the scheduled sale." For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (844) 477-7869, or visit this internet website www.STOXPOSTING.com, using the file number assigned to this case 83483 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid; by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code; so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase.
