"Thursday's Planning Commission Meeting"

On behalf of a significant number of members of the Horace Mann Elementary School community, we strongly oppose the proposed eight-story, 79-unit development directly across the street from our school and are deeply alarmed by the magnitude of this project and the impact it could have on our students, teachers and overall school. (A photo for the proposed project is at right).

A project of this scale simply does not belong immediately adjacent to an elementary school serving approximately 600 students. Years of demolition and construction would raise serious concerns involving traffic and pedestrian safety, disruption to classroom learning and, most importantly, air quality and the health and well-being of our children. These are not minor inconveniences that can simply be mitigated away when hundreds of young children are attending school directly across the street.

We are equally concerned about the project's sheer scale and visual impact on the surrounding Robertson Boulevard residential and business district. An 85-foot-tall, eight-story building of this size is dramatically out of scale with the surrounding neighborhood, and its location directly across from an elementary school makes the proposal even more troubling.

Families of Horace Mann unequivocally oppose this project as proposed and urges the Planning Commission to reject it. The health, safety and educational environment of our students must take precedence over a development of this magnitude. We intend to make our concerns heard at every stage of this process and will vigorously oppose a project that we believe is completely inappropriate for this location and poses unacceptable risks to our school community.

City Council Set to Consider Traffic Calming Recommendations for South Linden Drive

The City Council is expected to consider a Traffic and Parking Commission recommendation concerning proposed left-turn restrictions from eastbound Olympic Boulevard onto South Linden Drive.

The recommendation calls for denying the Neighborhood Traffic Calming Program application.

On Tuesday, City Council Liaisons Rebecca Pynoos and Les Friedman agreed with the recommendation to deny the turn restriction because it could shift traffic onto other streets. They instead suggested looking into other solutions, such as more enforcement and potentially adding speed humps or reduced speed limits.

The application was submitted by residents of the 300 block of South Linden Drive, seeking to prevent the left turn from 7-10 a.m. and 3-7 p.m. during the week.

The commission unanimously recommended against the restriction after receiving 43 public comments. Twelve supported the proposal, and 31 opposed it.

The application received support from 70% of households on the 200 and 300 blocks of South Linden Drive.

The item is scheduled for the Oct. 20 City Council study session.

Planning Commission Expected to Discuss Robertson Boulevard Development

The Planning Commission is expected to discuss Thursday a proposed eight-story, 79-unit mixed-use development at 177-195 South Robertson Boulevard.

The project includes 12 deed-restricted affordable units, and approximately 12,187 square feet of ground-floor commercial space.

The site is located across from Horace Mann School.

confidence to pursue it,” said Board of Education President Judy Manouchehri. “This Board invested in college counseling because personal guidance can change the trajectory of a student’s life. Our students are pursuing more opportunities, with the number of four-year college applications up 37% and a UC admission rate that increased to 67.8% in 2025 compared to some of our competitor schools like Harvard-Westlake at 55.2% or Laguna Beach High School at 63.7%, BHHS is up 9.5 percentage points from 2022. Behind those numbers are students whose futures are opening up. Our responsibility is to make sure every student has the support to take that next step.”

We Have Had Enough of Putative Board of Education President for Life-Judith Manouchehri

The number of highly respected community leaders who have expressed the notion that “We.Have.Had.Enough” of the Judy Manouchehri-led dysfunctional trio of Board of Education members is astonishing to me and, in my memory, unprecedented.

Ten City elected officials including seven former BHUSD Board of Education Presidents, three former City Mayors and a former three term City Treasurer, have published an open letter to all City residents. The letter sets forth in detail the reasons that they have had enough of the dysfunctional trio and advocated the election of Jackie Kruger and Kimberly Lifschitz.

The letter is signed by Myra Demeter, PhD, Mark Eggerman, Eliot Finkel, Nancy Krasne, Myra Lurie, Virginia Maas, Noah Margo, John Millan, Lillian Raffel, Alissa Roston, and Bob Wunderlich.

These leaders observe:

“This election is critical for the future of both BHUSD and our entire community...our schools need leadership focused on education, transparency, and fiscal responsibility rather than bullying, blatantly breaking the rules and the political agendas of the current board majority.

“Under current leadership, district governance has deteriorated into litigation, closed-session rule changes, and toxic culture.”

It goes on to explain the impact of the work of the dysfunctional trio as “academic decline”, “fiscal mismanagement”, and allegations of unequal treatment of minority students, and harassment, assaults and insults of students, teachers and staff leading to multiple lawsuits.

The ten community leaders further observe that:

“This election is critical for the future of both BHUSD and our entire community. Two open seats are up for grabs, and our schools need leadership focused on education, transparency, and fiscal responsibility rather than bullying, blatantly breaking the rules and the political agendas of the current board majority.”

Accordingly, they recommend:

“Jackie Kruger and Kim Lifschitz are the leaders we need now!!”

I recommend that you read the entire letter and carefully consider the factual analysis that they have presented.

Former Mayor Julian Gold has expressed similar views.

“The current school board is appalling. Their lack of civility to each other and to the public is disgusting and it reflects very poorly on the District and our community. It is hardly the example that we want to set for our kids.

“We need change. There are three candidates who could effect that change: Jared Gonzales, Jackie Kruger and Kimberly Lifschitz. My pick is Jared and either of the other two. I encourage you to pick two of these three candidates.”

Then there are the views of the current members of the City Council.

They have been extremely circumspect.

Certainly not one of them to my knowledge supports Ms. Manouchehri’s quest for re-election. For example, I asked Councilmember Sharona Nazarian whether she supported or endorsed any candidate. Her unambiguous answer: “NO”.

However, in the public sector, actions often speak more clearly and eloquently than words. So, let’s have a quick look at Council’s actions

Historically, through the Joint Powers Agreement (JPA), the City funds in excess of 10% of the District’s budget. Over the years payments by the City to the District have increased. There have been no material decreases in recent decades as far as I could tell.

Until now.

For the most recently completed fiscal year, 2025-26, the JPA payment was $14,500,000. The recently negotiated JPA for the next three years provides for reductions of $750,000 per year to $13,750,000 in 2026-27, to $13,000,000 in 2027-28 and to $12,250,000 in 2028-29.

Over three years, the JPA will provide cumulatively $4,500,000 less ($750,000 + $1,500,000 + $2,250,000) than had these reductions not been imposed.

In what I regard as a face-saving claim, the District leadership has pointed out that it is taking over the City’s pre-school operations but there is no reason to believe that these will prove sufficiently profitable to offset the unprecedented $4,500,000 in reductions.

While the Council has not expressed specifically that these reductions are due to dissatisfaction with BHUSD’s management and direction, it is fair to infer that the reductions are NOT a ringing endorsement.

I have previously explained that I do not support the re-election of Ms. Manouchehri. I was sufficiently troubled by Ms. Manouchehri’s disregard for the Board’s Bylaws requiring rotation of board officers that I served as counsel, on a pro bono basis, for Board Member Dr. Amanda Stern and Lisa Rubel when the four sets of lawyers representing the District and three Board members, including Ms. Manouchehri, took their depositions.

Next week I will express my own opinions about who I intend to vote for and why.

CANDIDATES MAKE THEIR CASE AT FORUM

Board of Education Election is Nov. 3

By Danielle Berjikian

All five Board of Education candidates made their voices heard at Monday’s candidate forum.

Jared Gonzales

The candidates are Jackie Kruger, Kimberly Lifschitz, incumbent Judy Manouchehri, Jared Gonzales and David Cienfuegos.

Cienfuegos, a father of three BHUSD students and an attorney, said he wants to bring his professional experience to the board.

David Cienfuegos

“For me, it’s all about academics. It’s about purposeful technology. It’s about preparing students for what is probably the fastest changing environment we have ever experienced in human history,” Cienfuegos said. Kruger, a Beverly High graduate and attorney, said her connection to the community motivated her candidacy, emphasizing the need of maintaining strong schools for families.

“I love the city. I care about the city, and that’s why I’m ready for the school board,” Krueger said.

Gonzales, a middle school math teacher who teaches at Yavneh Hebrew Academy, said his priorities include academics, safety, mental health and transparency.

Judy Manouchehri

Jackie Kruger

Gonzales said. Manouchehri highlighted her time on the board and the district’s modernization and academic efforts, as well as recent increases in test scores.

“I wanted to put this whole district on a trajectory of excellence,” Manouchehri said.

Lifschitz, the parent of a Horace Mann Elementary student in special education, said her experience advocating for her son has shaped her interest in serving on the board, emphasizing the need to address the needs of all students.

Kimberly Lifschitz

“I don’t think it should be run like a private school as much as it should be run like the best public school district in the country,” Lifschitz said.

The election will fill two seats on the Board of Education. Board member Rachelle Marcus is not seeking reelection after serving two terms. The election is Nov. 3.

and voter engagement event on October 17 at Roxbury Park. Organizers state the event is a nonpartisan event open to all.

Organizers said, “Our message is simple: Voting Is Your Superpower. We want people to leave energized, informed and ready to make their voices heard at the ballot box.”

The rally will focus on helping all eligible voters to make a plan to cast their vote in the Nov. 3 general election.

OBITUARIES

Debra Ruth Judelson, MD, FACC, FACP 1951 – 2026

Beverly Hills cardiologist, commissioner, and community builder Dr. Debra R. Judelson, who for 35 years practiced cardiology on North Camden Drive and spent nearly as long making Beverly Hills a healthier and safer place to live, died on September 28, 2026 in Westborough, Massachusetts . She was 74.

Debra and her husband, AJ Willmer, arrived in Beverly Hills in 1981, fresh from her cardiology fellowship at Kaiser Los Angeles. They had lived in Cambridge, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, and did not at first realize, as AJ later put it, that they had moved to a small town. Debra figured it out quickly. Shortly after she settled in the southeast part of the city in 1983, a neighbor knocked on her door to warn that a hotel was going up at the end of the street. That weekend she walked the block collecting signatures, and permit parking was in place before the Le Meridien — now the SLS — opened its doors. When she moved two blocks away, she promptly did it again.

That was the pattern of her Beverly Hills life: see a problem, organize the neighbors, fix it. “I wouldn’t call myself an activist,” she said. “I am an active type of person.”

From 1988 to 1993 she served on the city’s Livable Streets committee, pushing for speed humps and traffic calming to make residential blocks “kinder and gentler.” In the 1990s, when Beverly Hills passed and then retracted a restaurant smoking ban, she testified before the City of Los Angeles in support of its ordinance; Los Angeles passed it, and Beverly Hills put its own back. She served on the board of The Maple Counseling Center and as president of Beverly Hills CPR, where she championed the idea that every business should have a defibrillator within reach. She raised the money for the city’s first public defibrillator and donated it to the City — “probably the thing I’m very proud of as a cardiologist,” she said. “To actually bring it to our community and make it something that now all businesses feel they need to have.”

The 1994 Northridge earthquake made her a lifelong evangelist for preparedness. She kept water, sneakers, a change of clothes, and medications in the trunk of her car, and realized she needed to know her neighbors: who had a gas-powered saw, who was bedbound, who used a ventilator. When Mayor Jimmy Delshad and the City Council created the Health and Safety Commission in November 2007 as part of a plan “to be the smartest and safest City in America,” she was one of its seven inaugural members.. She chaired the commission in 2011–2012, taking neighborhood watch gatherings out to the streets with police and fire, creating a community leadership award, pressing the City to build a registry of residents with special needs, and lobbying to put health messages on the city’s radio station at 1500 AM and short public-health videos on BHTV10. The highlight of her term, she said, was the community disaster summit she organized at City Hall on April 30, 2012 — “Preparing Our Community: Seeking Solutions and Sharing Strengths” — which brought schools, hotels, houses of worship, medical offices, and businesses together to share their emergency plans.

“The networking was fantastic.” Asked whether she would be the third physician on the City Council, she answered: “Slim or none.”

Her day job was at 414 North Camden Drive, where she joined the Cardiovascular Medical Group of Southern California in 1981, became Senior Partner in 1991, and in 1996 founded the Women’s Heart Institute. With admitting privileges at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, she was named repeatedly to Castle Connolly’s America’s Top Doctors and twice to The Hollywood Reporter’s list of Hollywood’s top cardiologists. New patients got an hour-long interview and a six-page questionnaire before any test. “You’ve got to ask people the right questions and be pushy about getting the answers,” she said. She was an early convert to answering patients’ emails from home at night — “without it interrupting my dinner” — and retired from practice in 2016.

Beyond the city limits she was a national figure: 81st President of the American Medical Women’s Association, creator of the “train the trainer” program that taught 17,000 primary-care physicians to recognize heart disease in women, a guest of The Oprah Winfrey Show and Good Morning America, an author of every AHA/ACC guideline on cardiovascular prevention in women from 1999 to 2011, and, for more than a decade, chair of the Women’s Health Policy Council of the Los Angeles County Office of Women’s Health. The National Institutes of Health named her a “Local Legend” of medicine in 2005, on the nomination of Congressman Brad Sherman, and AMWA gave her its Elizabeth Blackwell Award in 2007. In 2005 the Israel Cancer Research Fund honored her with its Women of Action award at the Beverly Hills Hotel, alongside Debbie Allen, and in 2002 the American Heart Association presented her its Excellence in Women’s Cardiovascular Education award at a Los Angeles gala with a heart-healthy menu she would have approved of.

Beverly Hills was a family enterprise. Because Debra worked long hours, AJ walked their daughters to Horace Mann and volunteered in the classrooms; the 1989 teachers’ strike propelled him from the PTA to the Board of Education, where he served from 1991 to 1997. Debra watched the meetings on television. “His meeting days were my days for taking care of things,” she said. AJ went on to serve on the city’s Technology Committee and as President of the Rotary Club of Beverly Hills in 2012–2013, with Debra at his side. The couple were generous Democratic donors — “I believe you need to put your money where your mouth is” — and lent their names to deserving campaigns of friends and neighbors in Beverly Hills. Their Beverly Hills Weekly cover stories, hers in 2011 (Issue #618) and his in 2012, told the same story from both sides: AJ, as a freshman tried to crash the MIT women’s dorm in 1971 and the junior at the front desk who swore at him. “He noticed me,” she said, “and the rest is history.”

She grew up in Patchogue, New York, graduated from MIT in 1973 and Harvard Medical School in 1976, and trained in internal medicine and cardiology at Kaiser Foundation Hospitals in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Dr. Judelson is survived by her husband AJ Willmer (together for 54 years); her daughters, Dejah Judelson MD, a vascular surgeon at UMass Memorial Health in Worcester, Massachusetts, and Anjuli Willmer, both MIT alumnae and both graduates of Beverly Hills schools; her grandchildren Dexton, Daphne, Darcy, Bowie and Edie, and her sisters, Dena Rockwell and Judith Davies. She was predeceased by her parents, Morton and Elizabeth Judelson, and her brother, Michael.

A memorial will be held in Massachusetts on November 8. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations to the MIT Debra R. Judelson (1973) Memorial Fund at <https://giving.mit.edu/debra-judelson>.

There are homes that simply offer a place to live, and then there are homes that change the way you feel the moment you arrive. Tucked within one of the Hollywood Hills’ most enchanting enclaves, this private retreat strikes a rare balance of architecture, nature, and effortless California living. Inspired by mid-century design with a distinctly modern soul, the residence unfolds through thoughtfully connected spaces filled with natural light, warm wood floors, and curated finishes. Open living, dining, and kitchen spaces flow seamlessly outdoors, embracing the quintessential Southern California lifestyle. A bedroom and full bath on each level offer flexibility and privacy, while multiple terraces and garden escapes create an effortless connection to nature. Morning coffee among the trees. Dinner beneath glowing café lights. A quiet afternoon with a book as the breeze moves through the leaves. Crowning it all is an extraordinary private rooftop retreat, where sweeping views stretch across the Hollywood Hills toward the glittering city skyline. From sunset entertaining to quiet evenings beneath the stars, every moment feels distinctly Los Angeles.

A GRAND SINGLE-STORY ETATE IN ENCINO

4623 HAYVENHURST AVE | AVAILABLE FOR 3,295,000

Jennifer Okhovat
& ASSOCIATES

An exceptional opportunity to reimagine a residence of remarkable proportions in one of Encino's most coveted neighborhoods. Set behind gates on an expansive, flat lot of nearly half an acre, this single-level home offers a rare combination of scale, volume, and flexibility. A sweeping circular-style driveway provides an impressive sense of arrival, generous off-street parking, and access to the 3-car garage. High ceilings, generously scaled rooms, 5 bedrooms, 6 bathrooms, and sprawling living spaces all on one level create an incredible foundation for a thoughtful cosmetic transformation. The expansive grounds offer privacy, space, and tremendous potential to create a resort-like environment, while the property's scale, single-story configuration, and large lot present an exciting canvas for an end user, designer, developer, or investor. Adjacent to the Jackson Family Estate and moments from the best of Ventura Boulevard, this distinctive property is ready for its next chapter and the opportunity to create something extraordinary in the heart of Encino.
